GEORGE SMITH DEAD

HE WAS A MINING EXPERT OF EXPERIENCE.

He Was a Native of Kingston Township and Had Spent Years in California, Where he Acquired Wealth. One of Kingston's best known mining experts passed away at an early hour, Thursday morning, when George Smith passed into the great beyond after a very short illness. Deceased had been confined to the house for a few days past with an attack of peritonitis and this brought about his death.

The late George Smith was born near Marvale and spent his boyhood days there. When quite a young man he went to California and was there for ten years. While there he was engaged as a mining expert and was regarded as one of the best authorities on minerals. He came back here about twenty-five years ago and had resided in the city during that time.

He was of a very quiet and reserved disposition and a fine Christian character. He was a Presbyterian in religion, an attendant of Chalmers church. He was a conservative in politics. Deceased was unmarried and leaves to mourn his loss one sister, Annie E., at home, and several nieces and nephews. The funeral will take place from the family residence, to Catarqui cemetery, Saturday afternoon.

REVIVAL AT COOKE'S.

Missionary From India Spoke Last Evening.

The attendance at the evangelistic meetings in Cooke's church for the past two weeks has been considerably better than in the past. Despite the fact that last evening was prayer-meeting night in all the churches, the attendance was remarkably good. The interest all through the meetings has been well sustained. The address was delivered by Rev. Dr. Buchanan, of India. His theme was, "Let this mind be in you which was also in Jesus Christ." In the opinion of the speaker, it is not easy for the natural man to have the Christ-like mind as his ideas and ideals are so contrary to the spirit of Christ. Selfishness, love of vain-glory, pride, ambition, appetite and passion are all opposed to Christ, and yet we must have the Christ-like mind if we are to be either useful or happy in this world and promoted to glory in the next. In the after-most, brief address given by William Anderson, D. A. Shaw and F. G. Lockett. The meeting this evening will be addressed by Rev. J. D. Boyd, of Zion Presbyterian church.

THROWN FROM HIS HORSE.

Batterman Had Exciting Time, But Escaped Injury.

A member of the battery was thrown from his horse, on Wednesday afternoon, and had a remarkable escape from being seriously hurt. The accident occurred while some of the men were out jumping hurdles, practicing for military sports. While the horse was about to go over the hurdle, the animal stumbled, and the rider fell right, but the driver's foot became caught in the stirrup, and the animal galloped off, leaving the man in a very dangerous condition. And it was only by great presence of mind that he was able to save himself from being seriously injured. Throwing up his hands into the air, he was in this way, able to keep himself clear of the ground, and giving an alarm, some of his comrades soon noticed his dangerous position, and immediately came to his rescue. He was not injured, but the accident was a most thrilling one for him and one which he will not soon forget. His escape from serious injury, if not death, was miraculous.

ICE CASE IN COURT.

Witnesses Heard and an Adjournment Made.

At the police court, Thursday morning, the St. Lawrence Ice company was charged with an infraction of the board of health regulations, of delivering ice intended only for cooling purposes for domestic use. J. McEl, Mowat appeared on behalf of the company, and entered a plea of "not guilty." John Gleason, ice dealer, Constable Craig, H. P. Small, manager of the company, and W. Pillar, were the witnesses called to testify. It was necessary to have the driver of the rig in question, present, an adjournment was made for a week. It appears that the company have one shed where they store the ice that is used for cooling purposes only, and it is alleged that they violated the regulations, in having delivered for domestic purposes what should only have been used for cooling. Donald McIntyre is conducting the case for the prosecution.

The Famous Glasgow Choir.

"We never heard the Choir singing better than on Saturday evening, and in view alike of the directing taste which governs it, and the undying beauty of its performance, the Glasgow Select Choir is a local musical possession of which Glasgow, not to say Scotland, may feel justly proud."—Glasgow Daily Mail. City Hall, Tuesday evening. Plan at Uplow's.

Basketball at the Y.M.C.A.

A start was made in basketball, at the Y.M.C.A. last night, when a few of the members turned out on the floor. It is hoped to have the games going in full swing soon, and basketball promises to be just as popular as ever. The association has plenty of good material, and with the necessary training should be heard from this winter.

A Main Street Wonder.

An apple tree on Main street is causing a great deal of wonderment to the residents. There is something strange in the fact that the tree is both blossoming and bearing fruit at the same time. On one side of the tree are great clusters of blossoms, while on the other side are red and ripe apples. People in the vicinity think there is something uncanny about the tree. They think that this strange tree is a forerunner of some thing that will come to pass soon.

GENERAL DELIGHT Over the Selection of Archbishop Gauthier. It is rumored in Ottawa that Archbishop Gauthier's coming to Ottawa will make important changes in Ontario, reducing Kingston to a bishopric and also affecting the Peterboro bishopric. A dispatch from Ottawa says the official announcement of the appointment of Archbishop Gauthier, of Kingston diocese, gives general satisfaction there. The opposition voiced by the local French daily is not shared by the general French population of Ottawa. The appointment is hailed with great satisfaction by English-speaking Roman Catholics. There are some heart burnings among French-Canadians who would have liked to see a French-Canadian get the appointment. Mgr. Routhier, administrator since Archbishop Duhamel's death, said, "I cannot say when Archbishop Gauthier will get here. There are about 150 priests in this diocese, but when the ceremony here will take place I do not know. The last ceremony of that kind was when the late Archbishop Duhamel was consecrated in 1886." A long distance message to the archbishop's palace, at Kingston, this afternoon, elicited the reply: "It will take his grace, at least, a month to wind up his business here, and it will be that long or possibly nearly two months before he can go to Ottawa." There is the very liveliest speculation in Ottawa as to the rumored changes in the diocese. It is asserted that the bounds of the Ottawa diocese are to be enlarged to take in Kingston and Peterboro and that a bishop to be connected with the Montreal arch-diocese will be stationed at Hull. MILLINERY OPENING. Attractive Exhibit in George Mills & Co's. New Store. Notwithstanding yesterday's threatening weather, George Mills & Co's millinery and suit opening, in their new store, was well attended and almost everything displayed came in for a full share of well-merited praise. The millinery section was specially attractive and abounded in the very newest and most original creations of the milliner's art. "Modest prices and no 'hate alike'" is the motto that has been adopted in this department, and applies, we understand, to the comparatively inexpensive tailored headgear as well as the more costly pattern and picture hats. The display of silk and lace dresses was also greatly admired and many ladies who have experienced difficulty in securing the services of dressmakers just when required, will, doubtless, appreciate being able to select gowns of this character at a very moderate cost and without the disappointments and annoyances that frequently accompany the selection and making-up of piece goods.
