COMMANDMENTS OBEYED

By Those Who Buy Goods Away From Home.

Modern Grocer. The ten commandments revamped and revised, which if obeyed, would lessen the purges of the Catalogue House shareholders, is cleverly laid out in the following list of "rules," or "commandments." They are designed to "correct the conduct of those who are now patronizing this class of merchant in preference to their local merchants."

1. You shall sell your farm produce for cash wherever you can, but not to us; we do not buy from you.

2. You shall believe our statements in preference to your local merchant, who has been your life-long friend, and buy all you need from us, because we want to be good to you although we are not personally acquainted with you.

3. You shall send the money in advance to give us a chance to get the goods from the factory with your money; meanwhile you will have to wait patiently for a few weeks, because that is our business method.

4. You shall apply to your nearest city to aid you in building good roads so that you may conveniently get the goods that you buy from us, from the depot for we do not build country roads.

5. You shall buy church bells and interior church fixtures from us and forward the money in advance, for that is our business method.

6. You shall collect from the business men in your community as much money as you can, for although we earn more money from you than they do, it is against our rules to donate money for building country churches.

7. You shall buy your tools from us and be your own mechanic, in order to drive the mechanics from your vicinity, for we wish it so.

8. You shall induce your neighbor to buy everything from us, as we need the money.

9. You shall have the mechanics that repair the goods you buy of us, book the bill, so you can send the money for their labor to us for new goods.

10. You shall, in case of accident, sickness or need, apply to your local dealer for credit, as we do not know you.
