WHAT CAN I DO FOR MY SKIN-TORTURED BABY?

Is the Despairing Cry of Thousands of Mothers. A Scotchwoman Tells How Her Child was Cured.

"What can I do for my skin-tortured baby? How many worried, worried mothers, whose children are suffering with eczema, tetter or other torturing, disgusting humors, have asked themselves this question through neglect or improper treatment."

Such mothers, who have witnessed their children's suffering and who have undergone the most desperate and expensive anxiety which they alone can realize, will understand the gratitude that prompted this letter from Mrs. John Evans, of Victoria St. Inverurie, Scotland, and will read it with increased interest.

"I use Cuticura Soap steadily for my baby's skin. She had the eczema when she was three months old. She was in so much pain that she would not eat. We never thought she would get over it. We sat up nights and day for about a month, expecting every minute to see her die. The doctor gave me an ointment to rub her with but it did her no good. My mother was home from America and she told me to try Cuticura Ointment and to wash her with Cuticura soap. There was a great difference when I used the first box. I used three boxes of Cuticura Ointment and she was quite cured. She has the purest skin and is the fattest baby now. She is a miracle, the doctor declares. I am glad to tell anybody about it."

And that the success of the Cuticura Remedies is not confined to the treatment of eczema, is amply proven by Mrs. M. A. Scherwin, 674 Springwells Ave., Detroit, Mich., who writes: "When my little Vivian was about six months old, her papa had a boil on his forehead. At that time the child was covered with prickly heat and I suppose in scratching it her eyes became inflamed. For it broke out in boils, one after another. She had about fifty in all and I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which cured her of them entirely. We do not think any one can praise Cuticura Remedies too highly."

That mothers may test the efficacy and economy of the Cuticura Remedies for themselves, the Police Drug and Chem. Corp., 132 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass., will send free on application a generous trial box of Cuticura Ointment, sufficient to afford immediate relief in the most distressing forms of eczema, itching, and scalings of the skin and scalp. Under the influence of Cuticura Ointment, the itching and burning stop, the child falls into a refreshing sleep, the mother rests, and for the first time, perhaps, in many weeks, she has a distracted household. The Cuticura Remedies are sold by druggists everywhere.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE RUGBY TEAM AT WORK.

"Bill" McCammon Will Captain the Team—Lajoie Still Leads Cobb in Batting—General Notes on Sport.

The Collegiate Institute rugby team is getting into shape very slowly. The boys have only had two or three good practices this season, but this has been sufficient to show that they still have good stuff to draw from. Big "Bill" McCammon will captain the team and the boys are expecting him to do as good service as Hazlett did last year.

ships affected, to give grants to the college. He would like to see the non-resident pupils retained if at all possible.

Ignore the Demands. Mr. Meek suggested that the board ignore the demands of the government for the present, and go ahead and trust to luck—this as a matter of temporary expediency.

The small property owners would not vote for large expenditures. Mr. Meek suggested further that the county council be asked for a grant to the college. The people affected by the situation should go to the county council and show it the conditions, and get a grant to cover contingencies.

Theory or high ideals could not work in this matter. The question was one of business and common sense. Mr. Meek moved this amendment to the management committee report, seconded by Mr. Bennett.

That notice be sent by circular to the parents of non-resident pupils in the institute that they can only be continued in the classes on condition that the county council meet the cost of educating the non-residents in the city, the suggestion being made that the parents make a presentation to the council at the November session for immediate action to this effect; the question of higher fees, etc., to be reconsidered as soon as the county council has adjourned and its record is before the board.

Mr. Elliott stated that the non-resident question was before other boards of education as well as Kingston. Frontenac schools were complaining of non-residents coming in and getting tuition below cost. He held that the non-residents should pay a rate that would meet both maintenance and tuition. At present the citizens were paying $1,100 in order to allow county pupils to come in and crowd the college. The county of Frontenac treated the board very shabbily in 1896 and 1897 with regard to what it was asked to pay. Mr. Elliott could not see that there was any narrowness or short-sightedness on the part of the management committee. It was not the duty of the board to provide for the county pupils. Let the county demand high school education of their council.

Mr. Anglin thought it would be a disgrace to Kingston to turn out non-residents from the college. Rather should non-residents be encouraged to come here.

Mr. Bennett pointed out that even if the non-resident pupils were excluded, the question of overcrowding would only temporarily be solved. A wing would sooner or later have to be added to the institute building. He advocated the parents of non-residents asking the county council by petition to relieve them of assessment for the Sydenham high school, which cannot give accommodation, so that they can pay to the Kingston Collegiate. Surrounding townships had no interest in the Sydenham high school, and yet they were paying towards it. For temporary relief, Mr. Bennett advocated moving the commercial class out of the college to another building, and getting an additional teacher for it.

Mr. Lambert could not see that the exclusion of the non-resident pupils would relieve the situation very much, according to the inspector's report, the use of the assembly room was criticized, so that further improvement would have to be made. He suggested that some one should approach the county council, and give it a chance to take some action before the board excluded the county pupils.

Mr. Kilpatrick said he had come to the conclusion that the board's business was first to look after the city's children. He favored raising the non-residents' fees or getting a grant from the county council. The fact that county pupils were attending the Kingston college showed that the county council was not looking after the Frontenac pupils.

Mr. Macnee held that the first thing to be considered was with regard to the city pupils. If the non-resident pupils were not there, the congestion would be relieved, and the city pupils would receive a better education.

Replying to Mr. Roughton, Principal Slier said that the removal of the non-resident pupils would certainly, for the present, remove the overcrowding. In reply to Mr. Lambert, the principal said that the removal of the commercial class to another building would, to a certain extent, relieve the overcrowding, but there were other matters in connection with this that would have to be considered.

Mr. Meek declared that if the county council, at its November session, ignored the above request, he would go in for putting out the non-resident pupils or raising their fees to the highest point required.

Mr. Elliott said he did not expect county council to do anything. Representatives of the back townships that were not interested would hardly favor a grant for the benefit of pupils of the front.

Mr. Meek's amendment to the management report was adopted.

Mr. Bennett presented a motion to give authority to the management committee to engage another collegiate teacher, but accepted the suggestion that the matter first be referred to that committee for report.

New Walk for Central School. Central school building needs a new walk around it, and last evening the property committee recommended to the Board of Education that it be empowered to call for tenders for a concrete pavement, estimated to cost $400, and that they should raise the money by devaluating. The board adopted the recommendation.
