STAMINA IN MEN

AND HOW TO POSSESS IT.

(From "Man's Maladies.") A prominent physician being asked the question: "What are the things in life a man needs most?" answered, "Physical health, strong nerves, mental efficiency, money and social success." Any man possessing these five attributes is a success. Any man possessing the first three can be a success and have the other two. Possession of a sound body with strong nerves is really the requirement which men need most. Men need stamina, courage, staying qualities, endurance and perseverance but in order to have these qualities the nerves must be strong ies, endurance and perseverance out in order to have these qualities the nerves must be strong and keenly sensitive to every motion. When a man has forebedings, sensations of fear, timdity, accompanied with such ymptoms as trembling hands and limbs, weak voice, nervousbess, sleeplessness, numbness, liziness, heart palpitation, restbesness, forgstfulness, melanholia, wearlness without cause, and many others of a similar naure, it cannot be expected that the will be a success financially, socially or otherwise.

Strong virile magnetism comes are properly nourished in a sound sody. Nature in her wisdom has supplied certain extracts, essences, etc., which, if properly dended, will restore a normal seenness to the nerves so that my man can feel the rich red food surging through his body upplying all the elements necessary to derive the most out of fe in all its various phrases.

For the benefit of those temprarily deficient in nerve trength the following ingredmust can be obtained of any good ruggist and prepared in the rivacy of home. Furchase three three onces of syrup sarsaparilla compound in a six ounce bottle, and one ounce of compound fluid and one ounce of compound fluid. Add one ounce of compound fluid balmwort, shake and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce incture cadomene compound (not cardamom) and one ounce compound essence cardiol. Mix, Shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring. All distressing symptoms will soon vanish and a complete restoration to normal follows.
