HAD TO PAY FINE

AN INTERESTING CASE IN POLICE COURT.

William Kelly Hit a Man Named Drapeau, Who, He Claimed, Had Been Annoying Him.

In police court, Wednesday morning, William Kelly was found guilty of having struck Stanley Drapeau on Princess street, Tuesday evening, and was fined $10 and costs, or fifteen days in jail. He was also bound over to keep the peace. Kelly was also charged by the police with disorderly conduct on the street.

Constable Arnel said that about 8:20 o'clock, last night, he was on Princess street. When between McLaughlin's store and the Grand Opera House, he noticed Kelly strike at Drapeau, and he then put him under arrest.

Drapeau told of Kelly striking him on the side of the head, and knocking his hat off. When he was in the act of picking up his hat he said that Kelly struck him again. Another witness who was called corroborated the complainant's evidence.

City Solicitor McIntyre appeared for Drapeau, and Kelly conducted his own case. He stoutly denied the charge. He told the magistrate that he had been given a great deal of trouble by Drapeau and other parties, and last night, when he passed Drapeau, who was with a couple of ladies, some remark was passed about him. Owing to the fact that many people were passing at the time, he could not hear just what had been said. He tried to pass Drapeau, but was pushed off by the ladies, and ready to defend himself, as he feared that Drapeau would strike him.

Drapeau denied having made any remark to Kelly, and also stated that no other member of his party made any such remark. The magistrate said that he could see through the trouble, and imposed the penalty mentioned. Kelly wanted to have Drapeau bound over to keep the peace, and the magistrate told him that if the necessary evidence could be secured, he could have him bound over, but at present there was nothing to show that Drapeau had been misconducting himself.

SERGEANTS' MESS SMOKER.

A Fine Event at Tete De Pont Barracks.

The sergeants' mess of the R.C.H.A. held the first smoker of the season in the mess room on Tuesday evening. About 200 were present and enjoyed themselves immensely. The concert is regarded by those who were present as being the most successful ever held at the barracks. A glance at the names of those who participated is proof that it was first-class. Late in the evening several artists from the theatricians joined the gathering and were entertained by the staff. Among those who gave solos were: Sgt. Harter, Mr. Cross, N. O'Connor, Mr. Martinelli, S. M. Bailey, Charles Harvey and Sgt. Oulette. Mr. Marchand and R. R. F. Harvey gave several pianoforte solos, which were much appreciated. Saxophone solos were given by Bandsman Marriott, in the absence of Mr. Hunt. Corp. Connolly gave two very fine clarinet solos. "Billy" McFledge scored a hit with "Casey's Revenge" and "Casey At The Bat." Sgt. Horton delighted the audience with his rendition of "Something Silly," and "Something Silly." Bandsman Truman, with his violin solos, was also good. Lieut.-Col. Strangar sang several solos, and Sgt. Harter introduced the Oriental mystery, "Beta," which mystified his hearers. The very excellent programme was arranged by Q.M.S. Brown, Sgt. Harter and Sgt. Smith, and reflects great credit on them. S. M. O'Grady acted as chairman in a capable manner.
