Dropsy—
Given up by Doctor

"I had dropsy, and was told by my family physician that there was no chance for me. My family also gave me up. My limbs and body were swollen one-third larger than natural, water collected around my heart and I had to be propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy until I was entirely cured. This was in 1902, and I am now able to do any kind of work on my farm. My cure was certainly marvelous."

L. TURLEY CURD,
Wilmore, Ky.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been wonderfully successful in relieving heart trouble. Its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles is a great factor in assisting nature to overcome heart weakness.

CRIMINALLY STUPID

TO SELFISHLY OBSTRUCT HIGHER EDUCATION.

A. W. Haycock Writes From England Concerning the Kingston Collegiate Institute Non-Resident Pupil Question.

Writing to the Whig from 66 Oxney Road, Rusholme, Manchester, England, A. W. Haycock says: "I notice in your issue of the 22nd ult. that the management committee of the Board of Education has decided that the non-resident students are no longer to be allowed the benefits of secondary education at the Kingston Collegiate Institute. I also note in the editorial notes of the same issue that this decision has your approval for the feeble reason that it does not represent a very profitable investment."

Now, the farmers of the county of Frontenac may not pay taxes directly to this city of Kingston, but they do indirectly. Because taxes are paid indirectly in no way alter the reality of the payment. The city of Kingston, and in fact, all the cities of Canada, are living on the energies of the rural producers, who not only pay for the larger share of the general expenses of Canada, but also pay directly to townships, from which they receive no benefit in the shape of the higher prices they are forced to pay for Canadian manufactured goods, occasionally by protection. The cities have always exacted tribute from the farmers, and the farmers of Frontenac, generally, or possibly through ignorance, have generally voted for the policy of protection.

My point is that the farmers of Frontenac are indirectly being taxed to support the Kingston Collegiate Institute. Because education is under municipal and provincial control, not alter or nullify my argument, and I hope that this exhibition of civil selfishness, ingratitude and insolence will, to a certain extent, open the eyes of the farmers to the fact that they are getting painfully small returns from heavy indirect taxation.

You say that less than a dozen county pupils remain in the city over night board. In St. Catharines, I would very much like to know what difference that makes. If they live so near Kingston surely they and their parents do most of their shopping in Kingston. What would the business people of Kingston do without the trade with farmers? Imagine the predicament of your paper without a county circulation directly in subscriptions and indirectly in advertisements framed to catch the farmer's eye and to secure his patronage. I can well imagine the cry, the wall that would sound if the farmers boycotted Kingston merchants. Boycotting, by the way, is a most effective method of retaliation. The Turkish boycott of Austrian goods brought Austria to terms, when all things pointed to an European war.

Again, looking at this matter from a less material standpoint, do you think that Kingston will have any occasion for pride in the fact that a large percentage of these non-resident students, whose parents cannot afford to send them elsewhere, will be denied the advantages of collegiate education?

No obstacle should be placed in the path of those who desire a secondary education. It is criminally stupid to selfishly obstruct or discourage higher education. It virtually means a premium on ignorance. If the cities refuse to open the doors of their educational institutions to those from rural districts, then the farmers must insist on a more complete and adequate system of national education. The youth of Canada are the trustees of Canada's future and every restriction on popular education is a mortgage on Canada's posterity.

WINDSOR CASTLE RENOVATED.

Workmen Preparing it For the King's Return.

London, Oct. 18.—An army of workmen is engaged at Windsor castle, making preparations for the king and queen to take up their residence there shortly. A large amount of painting, decorating and cleaning work is being carried out, and some of the royal apartments are being thoroughly renovated.

The nurseries at the top of Victoria tower have been prepared for the royal children and present a charming appearance. The nurseries are close to the apartments of the king and queen, and from the windows beautiful views are obtained of Windsor park, the long walk, and the royal golf links.

The green, white and crimson drawing rooms, overlooking the east terrace, the grand corridor, which is 520 feet in length, the grand reception room, and the state dining-room are all being redecorated, and the castle will present a magnificent appearance when the court comes into residence. The king has already caused to be added to the treasures of the castle several interesting objects, including two magnificent egyptian vases by Queen Henrietta Maria. These have been placed near her portrait in the Vandyke room.

How Judge Decided Whether Costume Fitted.

London, Oct. 18.—A judge at Wellingtonborough, who was hearing a case against a dressmaker, admitted that he was unable to decide whether the costume, the cause of the action, fitted or not. He therefore ordered all the women in the court-room to form a jury and adjudge the matter. He ruled in accordance with their verdict.

Glad of $500,000 Fine.

The eldest son of the Swiss engineer, Herr Brandt, who constructed the Simpson tunnel and died a millionaire in 1908, was pleased and surprised to find that the Zurich authorities had fined him $500,000, because his father had not declared in his will that he possessed $300,000 worth of property in Russia. The young man was unaware of the will, and will gladly pay the huge fine, as he gains half a million sterling by the transaction.

AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY.

So Thinks at Least One Travelling Man.

I would as soon think of starting out without my medicine books and grip as to start out on a trip without a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in my valise, said a traveling man who represents St. Louis hardware house. "Why? Because I have to put up at all kinds of hotels and boarding houses. I have to eat good, bad and indifferent food at all hours of the day and night and I don't believe any man's stomach will stand that sort of thing without protest, any way I know mine won't. It has to have something to break the fall and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the crutch I fall back on."

My friends often "josh" me about it, tell me I'm an easy mark for patent medicine hucksters, that advertised medicines are humbug, etc., and I notice that they are nearly always complaining of their aches and pains and poor digestion, while I can stand most any old kind of fare and feel good and ready for my work when it comes my turn. I believe I owe my good digestion and sound health to the daily, regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, year in and year out, and all the "joshing" in the world will never convince me to the contrary.

I used to have heartburn about three or four times a week and after standing for this for four or five years I began to look around for a crutch and found it when my doctor told me the best investment I could make would be a fifty cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I have invested about fifty cents a month for them ever since and when I stop to think that that is what I spend every day for cigars, I feel like shaking hands with myself for I can keep my stomach and digestion in first class order for fifty cents a month. I don't care for any better life insurance.

My druggist tells me they are the most popular of all stomach medicines and that they have maintained their popularity and success because they do as advertised. They bring in results, and results are what count in a patent medicine as much as in selling hardware.

SHELDON'S STEALINGS.

From a Million and a Half to Two Million Dollars.

Montreal, Oct. 19.—Efforts are being made to locate C. D. Sheldon, but so far without result. The liquidators are engaged on his books, which show about 5,000 clients. Some people who have followed the Sheldon story have been inclined to discredit the statement that Sheldon got away with a large amount of money, said to be in the neighborhood of $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. There are plenty of indications, however, that the amount given is by no means exaggerated.

The cash book now in the hands of the liquidators shows that Sheldon took in cash and checks between October 1908 and October 1910, $1,500,000. If Sheldon could take in this amount of money during the ten days that he was in the constant fire of the newspapers, what could he not have done when, there was no such obstacle to his operations? Private detective agencies have been employed to run the man down and bring him to justice.

BULLOCK AT LARGE IN INN.

Besides Bar, Jugglers Landlord and Dog's Den.

London, Oct. 18.—Three bullocks, which were being driven through Maidenhead, yesterday, became unmanageable, and one of them in a fright bolted up a yard into the sitting room of the Maiden's Head public house in High street.

Mrs. Skene, wife of the landlord, was in the room, and she seized a chair in the hope of being able to frighten the animal away. The bullock refused to go, and Mrs. Skene hurried out. The bullock, after doing considerable damage in the room, walked into the saloon bar, where Mr. Skene was.

Before the latter could escape, the bullock had punted him to the bar. He was gored before he was able to escape into High street. The bullock broke a number of cups, glasses and bottles, and then, jumping right over the bar, walked into the street. He was captured in a meadow at North End. Mr. Skene's wound is six inches long, and he is confined to bed.

TORONTO BREAD CASE.

Each Baker May Make as Salts Himself.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—"I have come to the conclusion that the magistrate was wrong and his conviction must be quashed, without costs."

This is Judge Morson's concluding paragraph in his judgment on the bread appeal case, handed down. It was an appeal by the Nasmith Co., Ltd., from a decision of Police Magistrate Kingsford, convicting them of selling ten loaves of bread weighing twenty-four ounces or forty-eight ounces, and in a weight exceeding twelve ounces, contrary to the bread laws of the city.

Judge Morson says: "The material facts are not in dispute. The evidence shows clearly that the bread sold by the appellants was small bread as made by them, the mode of baking being by putting the dough in pans in detached portions, but which became attached to the process of baking, in such a manner as to be easily detached and sold separately. The prosecution admitted that there could have been no offence if the loaves had been sold detached. The only question which remains, therefore, is whether under the act, as it now stands, small bread as made by the Nasmith company is not small bread if sold joined together. The act has not defined what small bread is. It is, therefore, left entirely to each baker to make whatever kind of small bread he likes, as long as it does not exceed twelve ounces in weight."

POOR DEMAND FOR TONNAGE.

Contracts for Grain at Record Low Prices.

Fort William, Ont., Oct. 19.—If the demand for export grain does not strengthen during the next few days, dozens of Canadians and American vessels will be tied up for the winter or until the demand for tonnage improves. Where during many former years at this time two cents a bushel to Buffalo was freely offered, and the rate late in the season was three cents a bushel, only one cent is offered between Buffalo and Montreal, and several contracts were made at seven-eighths of a cent a bushel, the lowest on record. Canadian vessel men in port, to-day, as their lines do not carry for cargoes at that price, especially in the fall. Already they say a number of boats are being held in the east, pending an improved export movement. An unusually early closing is anticipated in view of the fact that the prospective grain date will hardly warrant the extremely high insurance, demanded in December by underwriters. American captains predict a pronounced slump in the ore movement early next month, and that part of the Canadian west dependent on Cleveland and Buffalo coal should be well supplied by the middle of next month.

CANADIAN ROCKIES PRAISED.

Future Playground of World, Says Climber.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—The Alps have been the playground of Europe, but the Canadian Rockies will be the playground of the world. This tribute, came from Dr. T. A. Longstaff, the noted British explorer, and the world's first authority on mountain climbing, addressing the members of the Canadian Club. Dr. Longstaff spent the greater part of the past summer exploring the Canadian Rockies, the Alps and the Caucasus, but even with the memory of the magnificent beauties of the mountains of the old world, he did not qualify his admiration of the Canadian Rockies.

He greatly regretted that the Canadian government had not made the Rockies more accessible to the people. They lacked trails and accommodation except in the case of a few peaks. The future of the mountains as a playground was so important that the Canadian government ought to make the peaks more accessible by the construction of trails and shelters.

SMUGGLING OF OPIUM.

Customs Authorities Will Try and Stamp It Out.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—The dominion customs authorities will shortly inaugurate a stiff campaign against the smuggling of opium. One of the departments stated, to-day, that the opium sent to Toronto and Montreal from Vancouver was forwarded on to New York, and the big eastern cities special carriers, who make a business of taking a certain number of tins at a time. The traffic is said to be well organized, but the recent seizures will put it out of business for a time.

Ontario Still Leads.

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—The report of the superintendent of immigration for the year ending March 31st, 1910, shows that Ontario still leads on the number of immigrants received, with Alberta a close second.

The returns by provinces is as follows—Ontario, 46,129; Alberta, 42,509; British Columbia, 30,532; Saskatchewan, 29,218; Quebec, 28,524; Manitoba, 21,049; Maritime Provinces, 19,764. American immigration flowed mainly to Saskatchewan and Alberta. Ontario received 10,500 immigrants from the United States, and Quebec about the same number. Nearly two-thirds of the British Columbian immigration is from the United States.

Woman Smuggler Fined.

New York, Oct. 19.—Mrs. Mayne McKenna, of Chicago, pleaded guilty to the charge of smuggling before Judge Hand, in the United States court, to-day, and was fined $1,000. The court also ordered $1,000 worth of Parisian goods that she attempted to bring in without payment of duties seized.

A Memorial Fountain.

St. Thomas, Oct. 19.—A drinking fountain, erected to the memory of the late Jabel Robinson, M.P., has been taken over from the contractor by his heirs. The fountain, which is an ornate and useful one, bears in front a handsome bronze tablet, bearing the inscription: "In memory of Jabel Robinson, 1831-1907."
