WIND STORM SEVERE

VESSELS COMPELLED TO KEEP IN SNUG HARBOR.

Work at M.T. Co's. Elevator Had to be Suspended—No Serious Damage Has as Yet Been Reported—Marine Notes of Interest.

One of the worst gales of the season struck this port last night, but so far as can be learned, at present, there was no serious damage. The storm drums were put out, and the vessels left in snug harbor.

The steamer Sowards cleared for Oswego, ready yesterday afternoon, but it is believed that she arrived at her destination before the storm set in.

The steamer Turot Court arrived at the M. T. Co's elevator, at one o'clock on Saturday morning, in the midst of the heavy storm. She has 68,000 barrels of wheat for transhipment into barges, but today the weather was so rough that the elevator could not be operated, and as a result, the steamer will be detained at this port.

"The wind was terrible all night," said a marine man, this morning, "but we have not heard of any mishaps. All the small vessels which were in port did not venture out."

The steamer Glenmount and Kilmount are due to arrive at the M. T. Co's elevator, from Fort William, with grain, Monday noon.

The steamer Prince, which discharged grain at the elevator of the Forwards' Co., Ltd., cleared for Ogdensburg.

The steamship Mary Louise is in port, from Rideau canal ports. The steamer Alexandria was at Volger's wharf, Friday night, with heavy load of freight from Montreal.

The steamship Navajo arrived in port from Gananoque, on the way to Charlotte, and is held up by the storm.

The schooner J. B. Locke was in danger at Crawford's wharf last night. She pounded vigorously, and began to leak. Fortunately the wind changed to the south-west, and saved her from further trouble.

At Swift's wharf: The steamer Wahcondah, of Hamilton, loaded at Swift's on her way up, to-day; steamer Brockville, down and up, to-day; Rideau King, from Westport; this evening; Belleville, up to-night; steamer Dundurn down Sunday morning; Britannic down to-day.

The schooner Marshall, loading coal and stone, at the penitentiary, cleared for Toronto, Thursday night.

The steamer Wahcondah arrived from Montreal, and is at Howe Island, loading pressed hay for Fort William.

THE ORPHANS' HOME THEY MELT AT CAFE THE DAY'S EPISODES

ANNUAL MEETING HELD IN ST. GEORGE'S HALL.

There are Seventy-four Children in the Home—A Cash Balance Reported—Addresses Given by Several City Clergymen.

The annual meeting of the Orphans' Home was held in St. George's Hall, Friday afternoon. The children marched to the hall under the guidance of Superintendent Smeaton. His meeting was opened with prayer by Dean Bidwell. Mayor Cooper occupied the chair.

The children, under the leadership of Miss Emma Wilder, sang a chorus which was much enjoyed. Mayor Cooper commended the management of the home for the good work being done, and said that the time it required a great deal of planning to make all comfortable.

Seventy-four children were within the home at the close of September being the end of the fiscal year. Thirty-five children were adopted by desirable homes during the past year. The health of the children has been good, no contagious diseases being reported.

Reports were received from the different offices connected with the institution. Mrs. A. P. Chown, reported that the home had been full most of the time, and that part of the year it required a great deal of planning to make all comfortable.

A JEWELLER ARRESTED BY A LOCAL NOTES AND THINGS IN GENERAL.

Sham Detective. Clever Scheme by Which He Was Robbed of Sum of $3,400 at Marsailles.

Marsailles, Oct. 22.—A very clever piece of thieving was carried out with complete success at Marsailles yesterday.

A man called at the office of a well-known shipowner, whom he had casually met at a cafe some days ago, and told him that he knew of some jewels worth at least $30,000 which were to be sold for $3,400.

The shipowner took of the matter to a jeweler named Girard, and the two agreed to find the money and share the profits.

M. Girard then went alone to see a man named Rolland, who had the jewels and was staying at the Hotel des Alpes. Rolland showed him the jewels, which M. Girard placed in his pocket after handing over the $3,400.

At that moment two men walked into the room, declared themselves to be detectives, took the jewels from Girard and arrested him and Rolland. Girard was taken by one man to the palace of justice and told to wait on a bench by which a gendarme was standing. The other man took charge of Rolland.

After waiting some time on the bench Girard asked the gendarme when the detective was coming back or when he was to appear before the magistrate. The gendarme replied that the man who had left him sitting there had merely asked him the money was out. Then Girard realized that he had been robbed of $3,400.

The police made inquiries at the Hotel des Alpes, but the man calling himself Rolland had only taken his room a few hours before M. Girard called on him and had not since been seen, nor have the two "detectives."

THE JUDGE COLLAPSED

After He Had Given Out a Life Sentence. Spokane, Wash., Oct. 22.—Almost immediately after he had sentenced Alexander David Minor, alias Charles D. Howell, formerly postmaster and deputy sheriff at Havre, Mont., to imprisonment for life at hard labor in the federal penitentiary for robbery, Judge Edward Whitson, of the United States district court in Spokane, collapsed from a stroke of paralysis on the right side of the body. The attending physicians say he will recover.

Judge Whitson, who practised his profession at North Yakima and other parts of Washington for thirty years, was appointed to the federal bench in March, 1905, and has presided at every case of importance in this district the last five years.

Minor was convicted last September on a charge of robbing a mail car on the Great Northern railway between Bonanza Ferry, Idaho, and Spokane in April, 1909. The robbery was one of the boldest ever committed in this part of the northwest. Just how much was the amount stolen by Minor is not known, but it is believed to have been more than $10,000. Minor worked alone.

Carrying a satchel, upon which was marked the name of Bennett, a postal inspector, Minor boarded the mail car at Bonanza Ferry. His familiarity with the details of the work took away every suspicion, and when the train started the robber drove John Nystrum, a mail clerk, into a locker, where he tied and gagged him. M. Stumps, another clerk, was tied to a chair. Minor then rifled the registered mail and escaped as the train pulled into Spokane.

He was arrested in Seattle last spring on the charge of robbing an express office and subsequently confessed robbing the mail car. At the crime was committed before the federal parole law became effective. Minor will remain in prison for life at Leavenworth, Kan., or Atlanta, Ga.

MOONSHINERS' REVENGE

Taken Man Who Arrested Them on Mountains. Lovington, Va., Oct. 22.—A mob of mountaineers, enraged because John Moore, a convicted murderer, had attempted to escape the electric chair by fastening his crime on "moonshiners," moved the jail here, yesterday, took Moore from his cell, and carried him off to the mountains. His fate is unknown. Moore was convicted, Saturday, of poisoning Frank Howell with strychnine, administered in whiskey, in order that he might marry the victim's wife.

In defending himself in court, he claimed that Howell had been poisoned by moonshiners, in revenge for testimony once given by the former to federal officers, and which resulted in a series of raids and arrests.

At Mount Chesney.

Mount Chesney, Oct. 21.—A number from here attended a husking, as at G. Stoness, about sixty being present husking a thousand bushels of corn. Some of Mount Chesney's young men attended a dance in the city, Wednesday evening. An inmate of Woodstock asylum has been reported to be wandering through the vicinity. The people will be relieved when he is taken into custody. The friends of Mrs. George Draper, are pleased to learn of her recovery, after being ill a number of weeks. T. O'Brien and E. J. Ward McFarvey spent Sunday in the city. Miss Nellie Patterson is the guest of the Misses Fowler; Miss Lily Smith, at George Thompson's; James Carey and Mrs. Ryan, Kingston; at G. P. Patterson's; Mrs. E. Vair and Mr. Vair, Sr., and Patrick Fowler and daughter Annie, of Pittsburgh; at M. Fowler's; J. Kane, at J. Fowler's; H. Blacklock, at G. Patterson's; Doree McCabane, at H. Blacklock's; J. Reid, Anshurst Island; at J. Brown's; E. Prentiss, at James McFarvey's; Mrs. Rounds, at H. C. Rowley's; Miss Elta M. Fowler, has returned, after visiting friends in the city.

Prevost, Brock Street. Has received his fall goods consisting of broad, serge and cheviot for suits, also overcoats for his order department.

At Bicknell's Corners. Bicknell's Corners, Oct. 22.—The harvest is nearly all their potatoes. Some report a good crop and others are a very poor crop. Miss Leona Robinson spent a day recently with her sister, Mrs. Percy Scott. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Simmons spent Sunday the guests of his sister, Mrs. V. Jackson, Bethel. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Porce, Wilton, spent Monday with A. Kimberley. Miss M. O'Mara spent a day recently at Bethel. Miss Jeanie Davidson, Wilton, visited her uncle, A. Boulton, on Thursday.

Typhoid Cases in City. Nine or ten cases of typhoid fever have been reported to the medical health officer so far this month, as a result of the contaminated water. A few more are expected to develop before the month ends. If people will drink only boiled water until the water works intake pipe is fixed, there will be no more cases.
