

MEN ARE SAFE

America II Landed in Northern Quebec.

A WORLD'S RECORD

MADE FOR A SUSTAINED BALLOON FLIGHT.

The Search is Over and Ended Well—Telegrams Reached New York From Chicoutimi—The Balloon Covered Approximately 1,350 Miles.

New York, Oct. 27.—News. Alan H. Hawley, and Augustus Post, the aeronauts in the balloon America II, for which search had been prosecuted in the Canadian wilds, are safe and well, and have established a new world's record for sustained balloon flight.

The Perkins message ran: "Landed in wilderness, week ago, fifty miles north of Chicoutimi. Both well.—Alan."

The Perkins message ran: "Landed Peribonka river, north Lake Chologana, 19th. All well; returning.—Hawley, Post."

With the receipt of the telegrams ended a search which had come to be regarded by many as almost hopeless, and one in which the governments of both Canada and the United States were indirectly participating.

In addition to the emissaries sent by the Aero Club of St. Louis, by the Aero Club of America, and by William Hawley, the United States revenue cutter service, the signal corps of the United States army, the Hudson Bay company of Canada, and other agencies were scouring the great lakes and making preparations for entering the almost impenetrable Canadian forests.

Clifford B. Harmon, the wealthy amateur aeronaut and aviator of New York, offered $5,000 to any one finding the balloon, and this offer was increased, last night, by subscription to more than $7,000.

Leaving for Quebec. Chicoutimi, Que., Oct. 27.—Capt. Allan N. Hawley, and Augustus Post, aeronauts, who in the racing balloon America II, landed on a mountain, some fifty-eight miles north of Chicoutimi a week ago, yesterday, after establishing a new world's record for distance and who did not reach civilization until yesterday, left Chicoutimi for Quebec at eight o'clock this morning.

The aeronauts are due to arrive in Quebec at seven o'clock to-night. Both are well notwithstanding the hardships they underwent in the trackless wilds of north Quebec. They have received many messages of congratulation on winning the big international balloon race from St. Louis, and incidentally the James Gordon Bennett cup for the greatest distance travelled which is estimated at about 1,300 miles.

ELEPHANT SAVES 1,000.

Swam Out and Rescued Pilgrims From Being Drowned.

London, Oct. 27.—How an intelligent elephant saved a thousand lives is told in a Calcutta despatch. Near the town of Sorori, on the Ganges, thousands of Hindu pilgrims were on camped on the river banks preparing to bathe in celebration of a religious festival when there was a sudden rise in the volume of water and 300 of the pilgrims were carried away and drowned.

An elephant, which belonged to a certain Jung Bahadur, swam repeatedly out to the distressed pilgrims, with ropes attached to his trappings. The people clung to the ropes and were thus landed safely. The rescued numbered over a thousand.

HID IN PARTITION.

Rats Lag Away Ten Pounds of Fish.

Batavia, N.Y., Oct. 27.—Edward A. Friedley and American Express Agent Bates do business side by side on Jacobson street. They each smelled a peculiar odor in their respective places on Sunday, and tried in vain to locate its origin. Finally a hole in the partition between the two places was noticed, and it was also noticed that the odor there was especially strong. A carpenter was procured, who tore away some of the partition, and about ten pounds of bullheads were found there. They were part of a consignment to a local marketman, and were in the office over night. Bates had conveyed them in the baskets they were in into the wall.

THE MATE THE MAN

TOOK A YEAR TO FIND OUT THIEF.

But Halifax Detective Tracked Down Sailorman Who Spent More Than He Got in Salary.

Halifax, Oct. 27.—Detective Frank Hanrahan arrived in Halifax, last night, with Elijah McLeod, of Sand Point, Shelburne county, in custody, charged with larceny of $878 from the schooner Etta Vaughan, in November, 1909. McLeod was the mate on the schooner and was suspected by the detective at the time, but the captain ridiculed the idea. The detective, however, asked the captain to keep tabs on the money that the suspect would spend. This was done religiously, and when his vessel has been in several ports since, including Boston and New York, watch was kept up. His total income as mate was about $200 a year and since last November he spent considerably more than that. The denunciation of the bills took the Bank of Montreal. The critical moment arrived on Sunday last, when Hanrahan received a wire that the accused had in his possession Bank of Montreal bills. Arrest and confession resulted.

HIS CURE FOR BLINDNESS.

Drove a Tack Into Blind Man's Skull.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 27.—William Williams, a negro, is in jail charged with swindling on account of the peculiar cure for blindness which he devised. His remedy consisted in driving a tack into the base portion of a blind negro's skull and charging $2.50 for the operation. Robert Ward, the victim, told the police court judge that the tack process was not very painful, but that Williams' manner of taking the $2.50 "hurt considerably."

FIRE DESTROYS HOUSE.

Adams House Was Important Rendezvous Century Ago.

Smith's Falls, Ont., Oct. 27.—An interesting history is connected with the Adams house, which was burned at Smith's Falls, near here. The house, which was originally built by the late Abel Adams, was the oldest on the island, and was a popular hotel during the building of the Rideau canal. This well-known hotel was also the home of the Freemasons of Oxford township for upwards of a century. Many years ago there used to assemble within its historic walls representatives of the Freemasons of the Blue Lodge, Mark Masons, and a chapter under the sanction of the Royal Arch Grand Encampment on the registry of the grand lodge of Ireland. Interesting records of these lodges are preserved among the archives of its successor, Mount Zion lodge, of Kemptonville, No. 28. These records include all manner of working tools, regalia, books, records and manuscripts. There is also the book of constitutions, date of 1789, a lodge Bible of even greater antiquity, and the old lodge charter made out in Latin under the authority of the grand lodge of Ireland. The Adams house was a prominent rendezvous for the leading politicians of this part of the country, in the early days, and there many a political caucus was held. The house at the time it was burned was occupied by William Young and family. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

WHAT IT LOOKS LIKE.

"Personal Liberty" May Cause Drinker's Death.

St. Louis, Oct. 27.—Prohibitionists are pointing to the case of Louis Drochier as an illustration of one of the results which may be expected from the establishment in Missouri of the sort of "personal liberty" for which the liquor interests are just now so vigorously contending. Drochier is an Algerian Brothers' hospital, suffering from a fractured skull, and it is stated that his condition is very serious. He was injured, according to the police, in a fight with a man named Reimers, with whom he quarrelled, because Reimers refused to buy a can of beer for him. The men had previously been drinking together at a resort across the river, where they went to escape the St. Louis Sunday lid.

A PLEASSED WOMAN

WIFE IS PROUD OF MAN'S SUCCESS AS HIGHWAYMAN.

Robber's Bride Says Husband Always Divided Booty With Her on Retreating Home.

St. Louis, Oct. 27.—With an air that betrayed that she was evidently proud of her husband's success as a highwayman, Mrs. Minnie Rhodus, wife of the "Candy Kid" robber, and a bride of three months, told how, after each hold-up, her husband would tell her of his experiences and give her part of his booty. While telling her story she wept much and at times refused to answer questions put to her. "We were married in St. Louis after a courtship of three days," she said. "He said he was a book-keeper in a foundry and did not want to be a robber until he went to Chicago on July 25th. He said he belonged to a lodge and had to attend the meetings at night."

"One night while we were in Chicago he came home and said that he had robbed a drug store and that all he got was three dollars." He said he tried to rob a man near an alley, but the man refused to be robbed. When the man refused he shot him. He wore a diamond and appeared to have much money. We left Chicago after the shooting and came to St. Louis. It was then that he brought me my first box of candy. One night he told me how a bartender tried to kill him by throwing a billiard cue at him. He also told me how a butcher in St. Louis threw a meat cleaver at him when he had robbed the place. He said the storekeeper who robbed of more than he got from Mrs. Rhodus denies that she ever assisted her husband in a robbery.

VORACIOUS APPETITE

Led to the Identification of a Man.

Brunswick, Me., Oct. 27.—A man's voracious appetite led to his identification when all else failed, even his own memory. As a result, H. C. Day, who escaped from the Maine Insane Hospital on September 8th, was, today returned to that institution. SERVICE OF SILVER

WILL BE PRESENTED BY BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Peat is Now Being Burned in the Government Offices—Willing to Help the Western University at London.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—Admiral Kingmill, Commander Roper and Deputy Minister of Naval Affairs Debarats leave, Monday, for Victoria, British Columbia, to formally receive the Canadian cruiser Rainbow, Canada's new battleship. She will be stationed at Esquimalt. The British Columbia government will present the crew with a service of silver.

In nearly all the government offices peat is now being used for grate fires. It is largely an experiment, and gives very good satisfaction.

The London deputation en route to Ottawa heard that Sir James Whitney is willing to give the Western University $100,000, providing that the citizens raise another $100,000.

Hon. William Tompkins received a telegram, from Victoria, this morning to the effect that the Times office and its new building, now in course of construction, had stamped destruction in the fire, though only after a hard fight to save them. The Times office adjoined the Spencer block.

Another line under consideration by the C.N.R. is that from Ottawa to King Harbor. From the plans so far drawn up this would branch off from the Toronto line about four miles south-west of the capital. The right-of-way has not as yet been bought for this line, but it is expected that options will be taken very shortly on the property.

THREAT AGAINST J. C. EATON.

Alleged "Black Hand" Letter Demands Money or Life.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—The perpetrator of one of the most daring attempts at extortion that the Toronto police have had to deal with in many years was run to earth, yesterday afternoon when James E. McCauley, an amateur "Black Hand" was captured in the Colborne street doorway of the King Edward hotel. McCauley's "Black Hand" threats were directed against John C. Eaton, president of the T. Eaton Co., Limited, and the assistant given to the police by Mr. Eaton in entrapping the man, enabled the police to effect his arrest.

For over two hours detectives lay in hiding in the lavatory of the hotel, waiting until the author of the "Black Hand" letters came to secure a part of his booty. While he was in the trap was sprung. McCauley was followed to the Colborne street entrance, where the detectives pounced upon him, and after a warm struggle got the handcuffs on him.

A remarkable feature of the case is that the two hundred dollars used as a bait has mysteriously disappeared. McCauley, in a confession made to the police two hours after he had been taken to the detective office, said that the excitement attending his capture he had pulled the roll of money from his pocket and dropped it on the ground. So far no trace of it has been found. The bills, however, are all marked, and the numbers are in the possession of the police. It is expected that the man who picked them up realizes what he has got, they will be returned to the department.

McCauley was in police court, this morning, charged with "demanding money, with menaces, without any reasonable or probable cause," from John C. Eaton. His counsel asked for a remand and the case was put over for two weeks. He is a rather good looking young man and does not seem to realize the seriousness of the charge against him.

BOY HAS GOLD EYEBALL.

Makes Optic Hardly Distinguishable From Real.

Philadelphia, Oct. 27.—Gold, for the first time in the history of ophthalmic science, has been substituted for the natural jelly-like substance in which the artificial eye is ordinarily set. In an operation at the Jefferson hospital gold was used to form the eyeball. Then the glass eye or pupil was fitted carefully into the golden ball, with the result that the glass eye has all the appearance of a real eye.

The fixed and stony stare which follows the insertion of a glass eye is replaced with the life and light associated with the sparkling eye of nature. This surgical feat, one of the most difficult of performance known to the practice, is considered by specialists as unique in the annals of marvellous operations.
