HE IS A LIBERAL

AND HELD A SEAT IN PARLIAMENT BEFORE.

He Went Under at the Last General Election—He Now Succeeds Sir W. S. Robson, the New Attorney-General—Countess as a Monk—Babies Born Drunk.

London, Oct. 28.—Russell Rea, liberal, was elected at the by-election in South Shields, over R. E. L. Vaughan Williams, by a majority of 3,019. The vote was: Rea, 7,929; Williams, 4,910.

The by-election in South Shields was rendered necessary by the elevation to the bench of Sir W. S. Robson, attorney-general. The riding has been strongly liberal for many years. Mr. Rea, the newly elected member, sat for Gloucester from 1900 until the last general election when he was defeated by Henry Terrell. He is the founder and senior partner of the firm of R. & J. H. Rea, shipowners and merchants.

Babies Born Drunk.

London, Oct. 28.—A doctor, speaking at a Band of Hope gathering at Salford, referred to the influence of women imbibing upon their children. "Quite recently," he said, "I was told of the case of a female laborer who had had nineteen children, of whom fourteen had died, and her husband declared that some of the deceased babies smelled very strongly of rum. The five living children were born before she became so drunk. Dr. Salway has told me that formerly working in the slums of Edinburgh and York, he attended the birth of children, who were born drunk. 'Afterwards the child of the alcoholic mother gets alcohol if she nurses it.'"

Countess Passes as Monk.

London, Oct. 28.—A St. Petersburg correspondent states that a woman of great beauty, the Countess Kimmiska, has just been arrested after passing eighteen years as a nun in the monastery of Solowietz, where she was known as Sister Anissa. The countess, who is now about forty years of age, was the heroine of a much-discussed love affair, the Morning Leader states. A duel fought between her lover and her husband ended fatally for the latter, who was a member of the aristocracy, retired to the monastery at Solowietz. The countess, unable to bear the separation, disguised, and to be near her lover, gained access to the convent, and lived there unsuspected during all the eighteen years.

WAR TO THE KNIFE

Against Special Privilege abuses in Portugal.

Lisbon, Oct. 28.—Jose Relvas, minister of finance, in an interview, declared that he was appalled at the corruption of the old regime, which his investigation is revealing. For the future, he said, it would be war to the knife against special privilege abuses. It was almost unnecessary to say that all the old government employees would be dismissed. The king's civil list of $800,000, the minister added, would be replaced by a modest presidential salary. Taxes on necessities would be reduced and those on luxuries increased. The richer classes, who hitherto have been evading taxes, will be closely watched. In conclusion, Relvas expressed the opinion that the separation of the church and state would be accomplished within a month.

TRIED TO ESCAPE

FROM ASYLUM IN BALLOON—ATTEMPT BY DARING INMATE.

Manufactured Gas Bag Out of Scraps of Silk From Tailor Shop—Ascent Was in Vain.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 28.—An original way of escape was attempted Sunday by a patient at the Pennsylvania state insane asylum, in Dixmont. The patient, who endeavored to fly away from the institution in a balloon which had required the nights of many months to make from pieces of silk he had fished gradually from the tailor shop.

Henri Dupre, an aeronaut, who had been injured by falling from a balloon several years ago, and later became insane, since his incarceration had worked as a nurse in the hospital. Sunday he had begged off from attending church, saying he was feeling ill. When every one else was at the church services the man (Dupre) took the ride "balloon" from the hiding place to the roof of the hospital. He connected a gas pipe with the balloon and filled it. Dupre hung to a trapeze made of a broomstick, and with a razor cut the guy ropes. As he had hoped, the bag rose easily. A guard in the yard of the institution gave the first alarm, which broke up the church services. Several guards had aimed repeating rifles at the balloon. Probably one hundred feet up and almost stationary, Dupre was suspended. He was sitting on his broomstick and waving at the crowd below. "Ha, ha, I'm flying away, monseigneur; why don't you catch me?" he shouted. Unfortunately for Dupre, there were several air currents, and for more than a minute the crude balloon slowly spun around, never passing beyond the walls. Officials of the institution marvelled at the strange affair, which was of many colors. It was about fifteen feet in diameter and very ragged at the seams. Finally the head guard went to the hospital roof. "Let the air out of that and come down or we'll shoot!" he cried. Dupre was becoming flustered at his failure to soar higher. In about three minutes the balloon was much lower. It was dropping slowly. When the balloon reached the ground two guards seized Dupre and hurried him to a cell.

STAND ACCUSED

C.N.R. BLAMED FOR THE FIRES IN MINNESOTA.

Eight Prosecutions Pending Against Railway for Combustible Materials on Right of Way.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 28.—The Canadian Northern railway is held responsible for the fire that destroyed Beaudette, in a report made to General C. C. Andrews, formerly commissioner, by George Chapin, of St. Paul, and Frank Curtis, of Roosevelt.

The report says there is sufficient evidence to show that the fire was started by the railway on the Canadian side during the latter part of July. It worked south to the north branch of the Beaudette river, and north to Rainy river, covering about eight square miles. It burned up to the west side of the town of Beaudette, and lay smouldering until October 2nd, when it was fanned by a terrific wind and led to disaster. About the same time fire was set on the right-of-way just east of Winter Road river. This fire worked east three miles, and about two miles back on each side of the track, which it connected with the fire which was started on the Beaudette side of the river.

Eight prosecutions against the C.N.R. for allowing combustible material on the right-of-way are now pending in the district court of Beltrami county. The company is fighting the constitutionality of the law. If the state wins in these cases, the forestry department plans to bring action against the C.N.R. for sixteen other fires, alleged to have been started since July.

The loss from recent fires is estimated by agents of the forestry commission at about five million dollars.

A BIG COLLECTION

GIFT OF ANIMALS TO HIS MAJESTY

To Mark the Year of the Coronation—King George Has Approved the Scheme, and Collection Will be Exhibited at Zoo.

London, Oct. 28.—As one means of marking the coronation year it is intended to form a collection of wild animals of South Africa, with a view to presenting them to the king. His majesty has approved the scheme, and has announced that he will exhibit the collection in London, through the Zoological Society, next summer. Imperial committees have been formed to make arrangements in Cape Colony, Natal, the Orange Free State, the Transvaal and Rhodesia, and the respective governments are providing facilities for the transport and housing of the animals.

In response to a request from Lord Gladstone and Mr. Munts, Major Stenson Hamilton, who was formerly game warden in the Transvaal, has been dispatched by the Zoological Society in order to advise an assistant. Major Hamilton is now in South Africa and a first consignment of the collection has already arrived in London, and is on exhibition at the Zoological gardens.

It consists of a pair of giant bustards (Eupodotis kori), the four Fanaw of the Dutch colonists, the largest and fiercest of living bustards; a Stanley crane (Anthropoides paradisea), and a black-crowned harrier eagle (Circus pectoralis), new to the London collection. These were presented by Dr. Louis Feringy, director of the South African museum, and secretary to the Cape committee, and were conveyed to England free of charge by the kindness of the Union-Castle line. It is not expected that the bulk of the collection will be ready for inspection by the Duke of Connaught on his approaching visit but will be brought to the Zoological gardens in the spring of 1911, and exhibited throughout the summer as the king's South African collection.

MANY OFFERS

Are Made to Marry Ethel Le Neve.

SIXTEEN PROPOSE

CRIPPEN, TOO, SENT HIS LOVE TO HER

By His Counsel, With Whom He Chatted as to His Chance of Appeal—No Pictures Are Like the Girl—Offers to go on Stage and Write for the Press.

London, Oct. 28.—Since her acquittal on the charge of being an accessory after the fact to the murder of Mrs. Crippen, Ethel Le Neve has been in the country under the protection of Arthur Newton, Dr. Crippen's counsel. Newton has been swamped with offers for Miss Le Neve's services from music hall, beauty doctors and others. He has received for her sixteen offers of marriage. These offers, all of which are signed and unquestionably genuine, illustrate the odd effect of notoriety upon comparatively degenerate minds.

Miss Le Neve has also been offered $1,000 for the first statement of her life with Crippen. This offer came from a London paper, but she is holding out for more money.

She said, to-day, she never had been photographed, and that none of the alleged pictures of her that have been published were genuine. She certainly looks very little like any of her published pictures. She is slender, with small nose, little eyebrows, a receding chin, rather dark eyes and a shy, retiring, pleasant expression.

Crippen is still confident he will escape the gallows. Arthur Newton had the other talk with Crippen in Pentonville prison, yesterday. Afterwards he said:

"Crippen vehemently protested his innocence and asked me to lodge an appeal against the verdict on the grounds of Chief Justice Alverstone's misdirection to the jury on the question of the identification of the remains found in the cellar at Hilldrop Crescent.

"I interviewed Crippen, who had a order on each side, behind the bars. He was very cheerful and discussed the subject of an appeal with equanimity. He said the judge was prejudiced against him, and feels confident that an independent tribunal will acquit him.

"He told me he was delighted to hear the result of Miss Le Neve's trial, and asked me to convey a message of love to her when I see her."

THE LATE JAMES DICKSON.

He Died From Effects of Bad Burning.

James Dickson, Bagot street, passed away on Thursday night, in the Hotel Dieu, after an illness of about nine weeks from the effects of a burn he received Labor Day. Mr. Dickson was sitting reading in his room with a lamp beside him on the table. He never knew exactly how the accident happened but supposed that he fell asleep and tipped the lamp over. He was horribly burned about the head and neck, especially about the neck. He never fully recovered from the effects of the terrible burning, which ultimately caused his death.

The late James Dickson was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, sixty-nine years ago, and came to this country when but a young man with his parents. He lived in Kingston for the past forty years and for a number of years was employed as a blacksmith in the locomotive works. Deceased was a Baptist in religion and an attendant of the First Baptist church. He was a liberal in politics but really voted for the man he thought best qualified to fill the position. He was a veteran of the Indian mutiny, having served with the Gordon Highlanders in the uprising. About twenty-eight years ago he was connected with the 14th P.W.O.R., being a corporal for some time. He was a jovial man, well liked and respected by all those who knew him and was regarded as an honest and upright workman where he was employed.

Besides his widow he leaves four sons and two daughters to mourn his loss, Frederick, St. Catharines; John, New York; George and David, Kingston; Mrs. Joseph Tittle, Boston, and Miss Jean, at home.

CAUSED SENSATION.

Baker Has Held a Good Reputation.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 28.—The arrest of Luther Baker, as being the man who shot Mrs. Maude Washington, a week ago, has created a great sensation here. Baker, who is a well-known carpenter, has a wife and two children, and, hitherto, has been looked upon as a man of integrity and good character. The woman was a tenant of his. Some time ago, and as a result of trouble with her, about the non-payment of rent, Baker was compelled to eject her from the house. Baker strongly declares his innocence and claims he can prove his whereabouts about the evening of the crime. Chief Mains and Officer Hay, who took the woman's statement will not say further than that the woman declared Baker was her assailant.

Hawley and Post, the famous aeronauts of the America II, record-breaking trip, from St. Louis to Northern Quebec, arrived in this city from Quebec, this morning and left at ten o'clock for New York where they will arrive this evening. During their short stay here they were entertained at breakfast by the officers of the Auto and Aero Club, of Canada at the Place Viger hotel. The two aeronauts were none the worse for their thrilling adventures, the details of which are now well-known. Mr. Post has numerous friends here, having been here three years ago with the Glidden motor party.

Before leaving Canada, Messrs. Hawley and Post sent telegrams to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir James Whitney and Sir Lomer Gouin, thanking them for the steps which they had caused to be instituted looking to the rescue and succor of the balloonists at a time they were thought to be in danger of perishing in the unknown regions of Canada.

The police have taken into custody Joseph Gauthier, the waiter at the Cote St. Paul roundhouse, who served the party with Cecile Michaud, the girl who disappeared in August last, and whose body was only found a few days ago in a Westmont vacant lot. The inquest will resume this afternoon, and the authorities think Gauthier can throw some light on the state of affairs when the girl was last seen, and to make sure that he would be on hand they arrested him.
