Are the life savers of the Gas industry. The real fact seems to be that the many advantages obtained by the use of Gas for lighting and cooking are at the present time better understood than they were a quarter of a century ago, which accounts for the rapid development in the newly populated areas. Everywhere Gas appears to be gaining a permanent foothold. The fact is "Once tried always used,"

Without keen, sensitive, well nourished nerves, such a man would be an object of pity, and not the brilliant success he is. All men should have well-nourished nerves, but if the blood and vital organs do not supply the chemical or substance known as nerve fluid, then the waste of the nerves is not renewed daily and hourly as it should be. The nerves become exhausted, giving rise to such symptoms as trembling hands and limbs, cold feet and hands, melancholia, hysteria, timidity, nervousness, sleepless-Haymarket. It is said that W. A.
