FIGHT IN A CHURCH

A RIOTOUS MEETING OF MONTREAL CATHOLICS

Over Freemason Accusation—Mr. Lemieux Charges Mr. Franco With Being a Member of Emancipation Lodge.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—A riotous meeting took place last night at St. Jean Baptiste church as a result of a lecture given by A. J. Lemieux on the recent famous Emancipation Freemason Lodge troubles, in which he tried to explain how he secured the papers which figured in the affair. In the course of his address Mr. Lemieux accused Gastave Franco of being a member of the lodge, and as soon as he did this the latter jumped up and demanded that he adduce proofs. Franco got his answer when a number of Lemieux's supporters piled on him and started in to punch and kick him, a regular melee ensuing. Franco's supporters were not slow to answer, and for five or ten minutes the church hall was a regular Doneybrook Fair. Cure Anclair tried to secure order, but failed, and the fistful contest went merrily on. Calls were sent to the police, but they failed to respond, and when the fighters got tired the cure dismissed the meeting. Little damage was done save a few black eyes and bruises, while the women, who were in the majority, were badly frightened. When the cure dismissed the meeting Mr. Franco called a counter demonstration in the street, which, however, was orderly, the frosty air cooling off the ardor of the pugilists.

The clerical agitation against the French Free Masons in Montreal has brought about the downfall of the branch of the Grand Orient Lodge here, and the charter of Emancipation Lodge has been returned to Paris. The lodge had a stormy career, as its tentacles led to strong opposition from the church, and some of its members at various times made exposures which brought disaster upon the roof. So great was the trouble over the lodge that the late Consul-General Kotlovsky, of France, was recalled through connection with it. The trouble lately led to a civic investigation, which proved illegal, but raised such a storm that the lodge was finally broken up.

MARGARET ANGLIN.

Reports of Her Ill-Health Much Exaggerated.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—In a personal letter received by the dramatic editor of a local evening paper from Louis Nethersole, of New York, manager of Miss Margaret Anglin, who was reported to have taken seriously ill while playing in "The Awakening of Helena Ritchie," and in danger of a permanent breakdown, Mr. Nethersole states that the reports have been very much exaggerated. "The whole fact is that Miss Anglin has just concluded a long and tiresome tour of over sixty weeks," Mr. Nethersole writes, "and she is now taking a well-earned rest in Chicago and has seized the opportunity to have a slight operation on one of her tonsils. There is no possible reason why Miss Anglin should not, very soon be in normal health again."

PARIS TO BRUSSELS FLIGHT.

Legagneux Took Passenger on Remarkable Journey.

Paris, Nov. 14.—M. Legagneux, the French aviator, made a most remarkable flight with a passenger, yesterday, from Paris to Brussels in the competition for the $20,000 prize offered by the Automobile Club. Legagneux was favored by a south wind and covered the 275 kilometers (170 miles), at an average speed of more than sixty-five miles an hour. His total time for the distance was three hours and sixteen minutes, including two twenty-minute stops for gasoline at Compiègne and Bayet.

He intends to return by aeroplane to Paris, to-day, if the weather permits.

On October 17th, Wynmalen, the Dutch aviator, and Legagneux flew from Paris to Brussels, each with a passenger, in an attempt to win the Automobile Club's prize, which provides for a return flight. Wynmalen made the round trip, but Legagneux was forced to abandon it owing to an accident to his machine. Wynmalen covered the distance to Brussels in five hours and thirty-eight minutes, while Legagneux's time was five hours, twenty-seven minutes, fifty minutes and twenty-seven seconds.

STOPPED SHORT.

Taking Tonics, and Built up on Right Food.

The mistake is frequently made of trying to build up a worn-out nervous system on so-called tonic-drugs.

New material from which to rebuild wasted nerve cells is what should be supplied, and this can be obtained only from proper food.

"Two years ago I found myself on the verge of a complete nervous collapse, due to overwork and study, and to illness in the family," writes a Wisconsin young mother.

"My friends became alarmed because I grew pale and thin and could not sleep nights. I took various tonics prescribed by physicians, but their effects wore off shortly after I stopped taking them. My food did not seem to nourish me and I gained no flesh nor blood."

"Reading of Grape-Nuts I determined to stop the tonics and see what a change of diet would do. I ate Grape-Nuts four times a day, with cream and drank milk, and to bed early after eating a dish of Grape-Nuts."

"In about two weeks I was sleeping soundly. In a short time I gained twenty pounds in weight and felt like a different woman. My little daughter, whom I was obliged to keep out of school last spring on account of chronic catarrh, has changed from a thin, pale, nervous child to a rosy healthy girl and has gone back to school this fall."

"Grape-Nuts and fresh air were the only agents used to accomplish the happy results."

STUDENTS' PARADE

WAS THE BEST IN HISTORY OF QUEEN'S.

It Was Not so Large as Usual But Its Quality Was Higher—The Students Were Addressed by Principal Gordon.

Queen's students' parade, held Saturday evening, is pronounced by all as having been the most successful event of its kind in the history of the university. The parade was not quite as large as those of previous seasons but what was absent in quantity was adequately present in quality. The various faculties spared neither means nor money in their endeavor to excel. Novelties of all descriptions were introduced and perhaps the most from science hall are deserving of special mention for their elaborate efforts in this direction. Every branch of their avocations assayed. Floats representing the blast furnace, aeroplanes, the steam drill, etc., equipped with elaborate electrical apparatus were especially good. Medicine was a strong competitor for first honor, their representation of the operating room could not have been better. The masquerades of the many individuals on foot were decidedly amusing. The freshmen and sophomores of all faculties turned out well.

The route of the procession was lined with people and the various thoroughfares were a blaze of light during the passing. Everything went without accident, and the event was brought to a happy conclusion by a brilliant speech by Dr. Gordon from the balcony of Principal's House.

HOMESTEAD FRAUDS.

Men Who Have Proved More Than One Claim.

Tisdale, Sask., Nov. 14.—The official inquiry held here under instructions of the department of the interior has revealed apparently grave irregularities in several cases where men have filed and proved upon three or four homesteads in different parts of the country, when entitled to only one filing.

William J. Boyd admitted that since 1878 he has proved upon four homesteads in the provinces of New Brunswick and Tisdale. He claimed he had never been made to take the oath when filing or proving up, although his evidence as to this was contradicted by the officials who had received his applications.

J. N. F. Boyd failed to appear to answer a similar charge, but evidence was taken showing that he had proved upon four different places in the same districts as W. J. Boyd.

Samuel J. Boyd apparently turned the trick in three districts, Neepawa, Dauphin and Tisdale.

Jacob J. Catlers proved on three times, at Arden, Man., Dauphin and Tisdale. Just what action is to be taken by the department is not known.
