THE COUNTY COUNCIL

COMPLETES NOVEMBER SESSION BUSINESS.

Grants $150 to the Children's Aid Society—Resolution Passed Regarding Death of James Keeley, Sydenham's High School Trustee.

The county council completed its business of the November session, Saturday morning, and, after passing a resolution, expressing appreciation of the able services rendered during the year by Warden Thomson, who made a capable presiding officer, it adjourned until January.

At the Friday afternoon session, Councillors Hamilton and Pawcett moved that a certain "pauper floater" be assumed as a county charge at the city refuge, and that hereafter no pauper be admitted as a county charge without a township card of identification.

There was some discussion on the question of these "pauper floaters." Councillor Foley said that there should be an investigation into each case and find out if a township was not responsible for his keep. Councillors Trousdale and Gordon were of like opinion.

The result was that Councillor Hamilton's motion was lost. It was decided to keep the man as a county charge until an investigation could be made as to what township was responsible for his keep.

On motion of Councillors Truscott and Rankin, the council placed on record its deep regret over the death of James Keeley, of Railton, for many years a trustee of Sydenham High School, and interested in all matters pertaining to the interest of the county.

An application was received from James Waller, of Kingston township, asking for a free peddler's license, in view of having lost the use of an arm and having been ill a long time. On motion of Councillor Purdy, the request of Mr. Waller was granted.

The Good Roads committee recommended that Mr. Carruthers be granted $25 to reimburse him for the loss of a horse, which broke its leg while at work on the good roads system, and that the amount be paid by the five townships interested in the good road system. It was also recommended that the good roads superintendent get the caboose and contents insured against loss by fire. Adopted.

J. B. Walker, K.C., local master in chancery, applied for a typewriting machine. Councillor Rankin, secured a letter from the county solicitor, stating that the master was entitled to an office, light, fuel, stationery and furniture, but he did not think that a typewriter came under the head of "stationery and furniture." In view of this, the council decided not to grant the master's request.

The council passed a motion by Councillor Rankin, seconded by Councillor Gordon, giving a grant of $150 to the Children's Aid Society.

The Roads and Bridges committee recommended that Buck Lake bridge be examined by the committee, which be given power to act. Adopted.

A recommendation of the Property committee to grant a bonus of $50 to W. J. Smyth, turnkey of the jail, for services in making tile, was adopted.

At the Saturday morning session, Thomas D. Mianes was re-appointed auditor at $150 a year.

On motion of Councillors Foley and Gordon, the council recommended N. W. Fleming, Cataract, as county constable, in succession to R. W. Smith, resigned. This is only a recommendation and not an appointment.

The finance committee recommended that the jail matron's salary be twenty-five dollars a month, beginning January 1st, 1911, or an increase of $60 a year; also that A. K. Kirkpatrick be paid $200 on account of maps of the county, the balance to be paid when the maps are completed.

Adopted. Councillor Clerk Bradshaw reported regarding the poor old man, whom the county council had temporarily accepted as a charge at the city refuge. He is seventy-nine years of age, and has not been two years in any one township for many years past. He, therefore, will continue as a county charge.

On motion of Councillors Salmon and Truscott, the warden was requested to vacate the chair, which was taken by Councillor Calvin.

The warden and the clerk were instructed to sign a petition to the Ontario government, showing that $11,819.66 had been expended during 1910 on the good roads system, and asking for a grant of one-third of this amount as provided by statute.

Councillor Rankin moved a vote of thanks to Warden Thomson for his impartial manner in which he had presided over the council's deliberations during the year. Mr. Thomson's name, he said, would go down into county history as one of the best wardens Frontenac has ever had. Councillor Rankin seconded the motion. Councillor Trousdale said he had the pleasure of sitting under nine or ten wardens, and he declared that he had seen no warden who had been more impartial or who had looked after the county interest better. The resolution was carried unanimously. Councillor Calvin in tendering the vote of thanks stated that Thomson had been warden of the first council in years that had the courage to raise the county rate in order to secure enough money to run the affairs of the county. The people would eventually see that the council had done a wise thing in doing as it did.

Warden Thomson thanked the council for its vote of appreciation, and hoped that the friendship formed by all the council members would long continue.

The council then adjourned, sine die, on motion of Councillors Hamilton and Rankin.

CITY AND VICINITY.

He Returns to Kingston.

Kingstonian Married.
The marriage took place, at Ogdensburg, N.Y., on November 13th, of Miss Catherine Cutler of that place, and Thomas Graves, fireman on the steamer America. They will likely take up their residence in Kingston for the winter.

Died at Hospital.
The death occurred, at the general hospital, shortly before three o'clock, Friday afternoon, of John Anderson, formerly a butcher, for many years, in this city. He had only been ill in the hospital a few days. He was fifty years of age. His wife died some years ago. He has a family.

Kingston Township Hockey.
It is understood that the junior hockey league, which was formed in Kingston township, last year, cannot get sufficient support to reorganize. Much interest was taken in the game last season, and if the various clubs would get together, there should be no difficulty in getting the sport-lovers to take as much interest as last year.

Death at Ardoch.
At his home, George Weber, sr., one of the oldest and most respected residents of Ardoch passed peacefully to rest, early Thursday morning, Oct. 19th, 1910. Deceased in his eighty-eighth year, was born in Germany and came to Canada fifty-six years ago. A widow, three sons and two daughters survive to mourn his loss. The funeral services were conducted at St. Killian's church, by Rev. Father Powell.

The picture being in twelve colors, the tones of the original are faithfully reproduced.

A Tribute to Queen's.
The selection of George J. McKay, B.Sc., a science graduate of Queen's university, by the Canadian Mining Institute, in response to the request of the London institution of Mining and Metallurgy, for a man worthy of a scholarship, which carries with it provision for special employment in some of the world's greatest mining companies, was a great tribute to the Kingston university for Mr. McKay was selected as the most capable college graduate.

Kathleen Parlow in Copenhagen.
The following is a translation of a notice that appeared in the Copenhagen paper: "Kathleen Parlow, the Canadian violinist, gave a concert, last night, for the musical society. She was greeted with great applause, wreaths of laurel, and many calls. Dr. Talkman, president of the society, spoke in honor of the young lady and Dr. Trieb called for cheers. The audience rose en masse and cried 'Huzah.' Kathleen Parlow thanked by playing the minuet of Beethoven."

Mrs Parlow appears in Grant hall on December 5th.
