THE PAROLE SYSTEM

W. P. ARCHIBALD TELLS OF ITS RESULTS.

Public Opinion is Satisfied Only When Everything Possible is Done for the Convict—Penitentiary System is Good.

W. P. Archibald, Canadian parole officer, is here in connection with penitentiary business. In speaking with a Whig representative, this morning, he said: "We satisfy human sentiments or public opinion of our age only when everything is done within a possibility for the convict, while he is under the custody of the law, and from the penitentiary view-point there can be little honest criticism of the construction, the administrations of the institutions, or of the general treatment of the criminals under their care. Trades of various kinds are taught the inmates, the moral welfare of the prisoner is well guarded by the enforcement of a strong and helpful discipline, giving the prisoner a practical lesson in self-control, while the chaplains devote themselves exclusively to the spiritual needs of the inmates, all working in harmony for their general uplift and betterment.

"The man, while remaining a criminal, is a constant menace to society, also the life and property of the individual; he is a tremendous burden upon the resources of the state financially and ethically. He is an abiding heartache to anyone with a feeling of pity, or an inspiration for the nobility and progress of humanity. The criminal is not an isolated fibre, but a condition of life closely interwoven with all that goes to make our complex social fabric. He is not an isolated, but an associated factor. He is more than a relic from past ages. He is not a mere reversion to a primitive type of humanity, but an actual, if very imperfect, member of our present day society.

"We realize that in making substantial progress in human affairs, we must avoid the gloomy pathways of pessimism, intolerance, uncharity and ignorance on the one hand, and the visionary, crude and untimely projects of sentimental enthusiasts on the other, and with abiding faith in God and a steadfast faith in human possibilities, do with humility, patience and fidelity the work of duty to-day. By the doing of duty daily, we may indeed kindle fires that will burn for centuries and brighten the skies of time.

"As one of the strongest factors in the reconstruction of the criminal, the parole system has, since its inception, proven without a doubt to be the most effective agency, adopted yet in Canada, and the tabulated statement of the figures by the commissioners of Dominion Police and Colonel Sherwood, setting forth the facts in connection with its operation, without comment, or the expression of any sentiment, while hundreds who are now enjoying their full liberty, having found their social footing and good citizenship through this system, are thousands of trusts, banks, etc. honestly and conscientiously administered; that for every house plundered by burglars, there are thousands of our homes where no invader has ever entered; that for every dollar lost to forgery there are untold millions of good commercial paper passing through the regular channels of trade in our Dominion yearly.

"On the whole, social environment and public opinion are so ostracized by crime and driven from their cover where they have to resort to stealth to be practised. Never before in the history of the world have life and property and all legal rights been more securely protected against a lawless invasion than at the present time, especially in this time of the British empire which we in Canada are privileged to comprise a component part. We are units of the empire when law and order are regarded as essential to life, and we feel justly proud of our system of government giving freedom and protection to every citizen living within the law, and cementing together the people of a mighty nation under the banner of the "Union Jack," which stands over us where for righteousness and truth. After all, Canada's highest assets are its men and their qualities.

How They Do It Elsewhere.

A former Kingstonian has sent to the Whig a copy of the Yonkers, N. Y., Statesman, of date Nov. 15th, containing report of the regular meeting of the common council of that city. Accompanying the paper was a letter containing the following very apt remark:

"As I sat here to-night and glanced over the enclosed newspaper I got to laughing when I compared the way they do things here to that in Kingston. I thought of you and I want you to read the page I have marked, which shows that the city council here brought up and adopted, in one night, a bond issue of $225,000, this in a city of eighty thousand. They do this very often. In Kingston they would never get so far as to think of such a thing, and if they did it would take 100 years to decide to adopt it."

A Talented Elocutionist.

Miss Barbara Tennant, the talented young English elocutionist, who opens her tour of Canada in the Grand Opera House, here, on Tuesday, Dec. 6th, was in the city yesterday, accompanied by her husband, and in the afternoon, in the concert given at the city buildings, before a select number, she gave a short recital to demonstrate her emotional powers. Those present were delighted with her magnificent rendering of her different selections. Her range is stupendous, taking in the delightfully simple as well as the highly dramatic.

Dispute Over Fence.

Two residents of Alma street, have a dispute on, as regards a line fence, and on Friday, City Engineer, Craig, W. S. Gordon, city assessor, and William McCann, who are on the board of fence viewers, for the city were called to make their award in the case. It is reported that a law suit is likely to result between the parties, before the matter is finally decided.

Came in for Shelter.

Three tramps were the only occupants of the police cells, Friday night. No person is turned away from the station and they were given shelter in the long corridor. One of the men had been in the station two nights, before.

Five teams, Peabody, Tremont, Belleville, Pleton and Port Hope, have entered the Eastern Professional Hockey League.

FOR STREET LIGHTING

NEW LIGHTS WILL BE RECOMMENDED FOR USE.

Fire and Light Committee to Have Conference With Light, Heat and Power Committee—Tender for Coats for the Firemen.

"That the one hundred open arc lights be replaced by one hundred magnatic or illuminous arc lights, and that in addition to this, that we provide increased transformer and control supplies." The foregoing was the recommendation passed by the members of the fire and light committee, at their regular meeting, Friday afternoon, when the question of the lighting of the city streets was up for discussion again. The members, while deciding on this recommendation, also decided to have a conference with the members of the light, heat and power committee, in regard to the matter. The conference will probably be held on Monday afternoon, as the committee is anxious that the recommendation go before the council.

Ald. Rigney, the chairman, presided at the meeting, and the others present were Alds. McCann, Robertson, Bailey, Givens, Superintendent Folger, of the light plant, City Engineer Craig, and Fire Chief Armstrong. The new lights recommended are of the same kind, as recommended by the superintendent of the light plant. All the members of the committee felt that they should be secured, on the opinion of Mr. Folger. The latter has been making an investigation, and has found that these lights have been giving good service. The superintendent read over his report, which has already been published, and various portions of it was discussed.

Chairman Rigney, during the course of the discussion, gave it as his opinion that the one hundred lights were not a sufficient number. He believed that there should be one hundred and fifty lights in the service. The chairman asked Mr. Folger for his opinion on this, and he stated that he believed that the one hundred lights were not a sufficient number.

Ald. McCann said there should be a light on every corner. The chairman pointed out that the committee was in a position to ask for what they wanted; they had no power in the matter of securing it, as the light, heat and power committee had the business of providing the light. In fact, he was of the opinion that the light, heat and power committee should be given the light, heat and power committee, and he hinted that he would ask that this line of business be transferred from his committee.

It was pointed out that the committee had charge of the matter before the council, and that no change had ever been made. The recommendation as given above, was passed by a unanimous vote, the resolution being moved by Ald. Givens.

The awarding of tenders for firemen's coats, caused some discussion. The tender of Thomas Lambert, of Kingston, was to supply the coats at $13.75 each and that of the Crown Tailoring company, of Toronto, was for $11.35 each. Only the two tenders were received.

Chairman Rigney, pointed out that the two firms, in giving their figures, had neglected to comply with the requirements of the by-law, in that they had not sent a certified cheque with the tenders. He said that this part of the agreement must be settled before a tender was awarded, in order that trouble might be avoided. There are four tenders to be made for the department, and when the figures were announced, the members felt rather sorry that some of the other local tailors did not tender for the work, as they would rather have had a local firm get the contract.

Ald. Givens stated that the local firm, that of Thomas Lambert, be given the contract on condition that the certified cheque be given as called for.

Although the figure of the local firm was the highest, Ald. Givens believed that the tender should be left in the city. He believed that there would be better work done on the coats here.

"I would like to see a local man get the contract," said Ald. Rigney, "but I cannot stand to see the committee go down to the pockets of the people in this way." He could not support a policy like that put forth by Ald. Givens. He was very anxious to know if Ald. Givens would take the same action in all such matters.

Ald. Givens said that he would take such action in any matter such as this. He believed that there would be better work done here, and regarded the shop in Toronto as a "sweat shop."

Ald. McCann seconded the motion of Ald. Givens, whereupon Ald. Bailey moved an amendment, to give the contract to the Toronto firm, on the same conditions that the certified cheque be given.

Asked by the chairman, the fire chief stated that the only trouble in accepting the highest tender was that there would be an overdraft, whereas upon the chairman said that he could not support the motion.

Ald. Robertson said that he had been informed that coats turned out by the local firm had been complained about. If this was the case the matter should be investigated. The chief said that an effort had been made to secure tenders from other local firms, but without success.

Ald. Givens said that he did not think the chief should have anything to say regarding this matter, but the chairman said that he intended to ask the chief for some information on it. If there was anything wrong it should be rectified. He had asked the chief to see the other firms in the city.

The chief told about seeing the members of other firms, but stated that he had not been able to get them to put in a tender.

As regards the coats, they would fit right at the start, but in time would give away, and lose their color. He had no fault to find with his own coat, but the men were continually grumbling.

"And do you think they had reason to grumble?" asked the chairman. The chief said that he believed the men had reason to complain. Asked about the coats turned out by the Toronto firm, the chief stated that he had worn the coats for years, and had found them to be a good fit, and to keep their color well.

The amendment of Ald. Bailey was then put and lost, he alone supporting it. Alds. Givens, Robertson and McCann voting for the motion to give the contract to Thomas Lambert, which was carried.

HAD A FINE TIME

At an Event in Battersea on Friday Night.

The loyal Orange Lodge, of Battersea, held a concert in their hall at Battersea, on Friday evening, and from every point of view was a great success. James Berny, grand master of Ontario East, was present and delivered a very inspiring address on "The Eucharistic Congress and Bilingual Schools." Those who heard Mr. Berny here a couple of weeks ago know how he can speak on these subjects.

Joseph Haywood, ex-M.P.P., occupied the chair in his usual capable manner and spoke for some time on the possibilities of the west. Rev. William Shortt, Battersea, gave a very vigorous talk on "The Duties of Orangemen." It was enthusiastically received. It was expected that "The Laird of Glenburnie" would be present, but owing to illness he was prevented from being there. A very excellent programme given by local people assisted by a few people from the city. A noticeable feature of the programme was the work of some of the school children, to that place, who were very excellently trained by the school teacher. Many remarks were passed by those in the audience of the splendid work done by them.

Miss Maggie and Martha Clark delighted the audience by a piano duet. A vocal solo by William Jones, of the P.A.S.C. Kingston, was well received. William McFriedge, in a monologue and recitation, kept the audience in roars of laughter the whole time. Mrs. William Jones, of the city, played the accompaniments for the performers.

HUMANE SOCIETY WORK.

Inspector Arnel uite Active in This Respect.

Constable Samuel Arnel, who is acting as inspector for the Humane Society, is keeping a watchful eye, for the interests of the society.

While on his rounds, he is on the lookout for drivers who do not keep blankets on horses, which are allowed to stand out, in the cold weather, and is also out with a big stick, after drivers who show cruelty to horses, and who work the poor animals, when they should be in the stable. Yesterday, he came across a lame horse on King street, and had the animal taken off the streets, to receive treatment. He shot a horse, suffering from an incurable disease, and also put a dog out of misery. Drivers who do not take the proper care of their horses, will be summoned to the police court. The society should have the co-operation of every citizen, in their campaign on behalf of dumb animals.

EDITORS DEPORTED.

President Orders Agitators From the Country.

Washington, Nov. 18.—President Estrada, of Nicaragua, has deported four newspaper editors, Senator Gomez, Barreto, Zeldin, and Maldonado-Zelaya, all members of the liberal party, for publishing incendiary articles designed to provoke anti-American demonstrations at Leon. General Estrada announced that he will take measures to maintain order and prevent the publication of articles tending to foment trouble and incite disorders.

Comte Jacques de Lassaps may never fly again. Now that his engagement to Miss Grace Mackenzie, of Toronto, has been announced, he will probably rest on his laurels gained in one year of brilliant aviation work. There was an exciting session of the Montreal stock market, Saturday morning, the liveliest sensation in a good many days. It was a panic of shorts in Quebec railway, and they were driven to cover ten points above the market price. For chopped skin, Almond Cream, "Gibson's."
