The Army of Constipation

Is Growing Smaller Every Day.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are responsible—they not only give relief—they permanently cure Constipation. Millions use them for Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Sallow Skin. Small Pill, Small Dose, Small Price. Genuine man bear Signature.

Crop of Potatoes.

The season has been favorable for clover seed, and general results have been satisfactory, there being only a few complaints of mildew.

Regarding potatoes, the report of the Ontario department hardly agrees with that of the Dominion. The Ontario department reports a large average yield with many returns speaking of excellent quality. Still the crop as a whole is reported even by the Ontario department as below that of last year.

Turnips have done better than expected, and there will be a fair yield, while a good crop of mangels of excellent quality is reported.

Fall pastures have been all that could be desired, and where pastures have not been overstocked, grazing animals are in fine condition for the winter. The milk flow has also been well maintained by excellent fall pastures. Butter production has gained upon cheese, and condensed milk factories in Oxford district, and the shipping of cream over the border along the St. Lawrence has also helped to lessen the cheese production of the province.

Help has been scarce, especially in the case of experienced and capable men.

Fall plowing is well advanced, and there appears to be a general assurance of a sufficiency of all classes of fodder for winter.

Poultry for Winter Laying.

A writer in the American Agriculturist says that for winter layers he places clover first and cabbage second as a green ration. He prefers the second crop to the first crop of clover, as the stalks are not so hard and dry. Clover for poultry should be cut into about one-quarter inch lengths, fed with the morning mash, and boiling water should be applied to it before feeding, to freshen it.

The American Agriculturist, basing its statement on reports received from all sections of the United States, says the American turkey crop this year will be about normal. While last spring was not altogether favorable for young turkeys the outlook is still for about the usual supply of matured birds this fall.

Rest the Horses' Feet.

Every farm horse should, if possible, be allowed to go without his shoes at least two or three months every year, in the opinion of the Horseman. In fact, it is hardly necessary to shoe a horse on the farm unless he is to go on the hard roads or work on the hard soil, where he is required to do much heavy pulling. Without shoes a horse's hoof will grow out, regain its natural shape, which is always more or less changed by continuous shoeing.

Many city horses with hoofs bound and cracked, and otherwise injured, have been taken to a farm, shoes pulled off, and turned out to pasture and thoroughly cured within six months. In fact the farmers around the large cities used to find in this class of animal a cheap supply, many of which turned out to be first-class horses, showing that all that was needed was rest on Mother Earth without shoeing.

Pattening Poultry.

A man who has made a success of fattening poultry, writing in the American Agriculturist, says the ration which gave the largest and most economical gains was made up of equal parts of weight of corn meal, ground hulls of oats, ground hulls of barley and beef scrap. To this was added twice its weight in buttermilk. No water was given. The amount of well-sour milk in place of the buttermilk gave nearly equal results. This ration gave better results when mixed and allowed to stand twelve hours before feeding. The birds were fed twice daily, as much as they would clean up in twenty minutes. The high rate of fattening poultry seems, he said, to rest with the feeder's ability to rest when the fowls have had almost enough, but would like one or two more mouthfuls. When that time is reached, the food should be removed at once. It is better to underfeed a fowl than to overfeed. If fowls are

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Gardiner, Maine.—"I have been a great sufferer from organic troubles and severe female weakness. A doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but I could not bear to think of it. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after three months' use of it—Mrs. E. A. WILLIAMS, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 28, Gardiner, Me.—No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial. This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and renewer of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female life, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial. Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Tips For Farmers

BY UNCLE JOSE.

The November bulletin of the Ontario Department of Agriculture says that a number of the department's correspondents speak of the quality of this year's crop of fall wheat as being the best in years, while others say the crop is less plump than usual owing to dry weather at time of filling. This year's spring wheat is fully up to the standard in every respect. An increased acreage of fall wheat has been sown, and as favorable conditions prevailed at time of seeding and since, the crop is looking most promising. In fact, some fear it may have too much top before entering the winter.

The year's barley crop was generally promising, but oats were rather short in the straw, although the heads were well filled with grain of good weight, and where the crop was not knocked down by rain storms just before cutting, there is an unusually good yield. Losses suffered not only from drought and green aphid, but the weevil was reported in several localities. Correspondents of the department are hardly as enthusiastic as they were a year ago over mixed grain, difficulty being reported in getting the various grains to ripen together. Others still point to greater production from a combination of Mandchouri barley and Da-jeney oats. Although the spring was unfavorable for corn the fall was ideal, and the term "splendid" is frequently used by correspondents in describing the result.

Beans are a medium crop, those put in late being caught by rainy weather at harvest. Some buckwheat was injured by early frosts, and was also damaged by rain at time of cutting. Still the crop generally is excellent, both as to yield and quality.

Farm Notes.

The son of a New York farmer recently graduated from a course in electrical engineering, says Farm Stock and Home. When he came home he concluded that the little brook running through the farm ought to go to work for father. He built a mill dam and a little power house, in which were installed dynamo and motors. At present the brook, which a year ago ran noiselessly through the meadows, furnishes electric light for the house and barn, heat for the winter months, and power for the cream separator, churn and other small machinery about the place.

Co-operative production is better than most profitable than co-operative selling, for the reason that in production the money saved goes entirely to the producer, while in selling the ultimate result is a division of profits between seller and buyer. Organization for either end is practical and timely, but that which concerns itself first of all with reducing the cost of operation will return the largest profits to its followers.—Farm, Stock and Home.

A correspondent, writing in Rural New Yorker some little time ago, said he once attempted to plow up a field of alfalfa, but found instead of killing out the plant he got a good stand of alfalfa. This leads another correspondent of the same journal, writing from Nevada, to say that the best way to make alfalfa grow is to plow, disc, harrow and otherwise try to exterminate it. He says it is a common practice for farmers in his section to double disk their alfalfa each spring in order to make it grow well, and he says that one plowing, if not too strenuously carried out, will have the same effect.

Ask Yourself These Questions

And Find Out if You Have Kidney Disorders—Also Make This Test.

Have you pains in the back over the kidneys?
 Have you urinary disorders?
 Do you suffer from severe headaches, dizziness or defective eyesight?
 Is it; skin dry and harsh?
 Are you failing in health and strength and suffering from rheumatic pains or swelling of the limbs?
 These are a few of the symptoms of kidney disease, and here is the test.

If the urine after standing for twenty-four hours is cloudy, milky or has particles floating about in it, or if there is a sediment in the bottom of the vessel, your kidneys are diseased. There is no time to lose in beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. Delay means the development of Bright's disease, and you do not want to take any chances with that. Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills will help you more quickly than any treatment you can obtain, and that is one reason why they are so successful and popular.

Mr. W. H. Mosher, South Augusta, Greenville county, Ont., writes:—"I used Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills and firmly believe there is no medicine to equal them. I was troubled for years with kidney disease, and this treatment has cured me. When I began the use of these pills I could only walk from my bed to a chair. Now I can go to the field, and work like any other man. Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills are an excellent medicine." This statement is certified to by the Rev. E. H. Emery, Baptist minister, of Brockville, Ont.

END STOMACH MISERY.

Gas, Indigestion, Dyspepsia and All Stomach Distress Go in Five Minutes.

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from Indigestion, Dyspepsia or out-of-order Stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking some Diapiesin.

If your stomach is lacking in digestive power, why not help the stomach to do its work, not with drastic drugs, but a re-enforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work for the stomach.

People with weak stomachs should take a little Diapiesin occasionally, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, sour rising, gas on stomach or belching of undigested food, headaches, dizziness, or sick stomach, and, besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved in five minutes after taking a little Diapiesin.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin now, and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. They freshen you and make you feel like life is worth living.

overfed, they "go stale" and refuse to eat well, and so fail to make good gains.

Worked a Good Game

And Got Even With a Matrimonial Bureau.

London Argonaut.

The matrimonial advertisement flourishes exceedingly in America newspapers, to the shameful profit of those who desire in a husband.

Having exhausted various other devices for obtaining money he had not earned, an ingenious Sicilian named Marullo turned his attention to the matrimonial advertisements, which appear in most Italian newspapers, entering into correspondence with forty or fifty ladies of various nationalities to whom he represented himself as answering all the requirements which they desired in a husband.

When he had thus become rather nimbly engaged, he borrowed a little money and started on a tour of Italy, Germany and France, in order to visit his prospective fiancées and ascertain the details of their marriage. Needless to say that from each fiancée he carried away something, either in valuable presents or money to invest, or for the furnishing of their future home. He then returned to his native town, leaving the bride-elect to prepare their trousseau; but shortly afterwards they were one and all plunged into the depths of woe by receiving a printed notice, purporting to be from the father of their native country, announcing the sad news of the sudden death of his son, who was thus unfortunately prevented from fulfilling his matrimonial engagement.

A Dictionary.

"These reactionaries," said Lewis Fisher, the progressive mayor of Galveston, in a recent address, "remind me of old Hiram Conway, the miller of Iowa."

"Hiram prided himself on being conservative, and he ground his flour in the old-fashioned way between millstones."

"A brick young chap brought a sack of wheat to the mill on morning and he then returned to his native town, leaving the bride-elect to prepare their trousseau; but shortly afterwards they were one and all plunged into the depths of woe by receiving a printed notice, purporting to be from the father of their native country, announcing the sad news of the sudden death of his son, who was thus unfortunately prevented from fulfilling his matrimonial engagement."

A Unique Complaint.

The house committee of the New York club recently received this unique complaint:

"I have the honor to inform you that I lunched at the club this afternoon and had as my guests three gentlemen, all well-known gourmets. Among the other things an omelet was served. It contained only three flies. As an old member of the club, jealous of its reputation, I naturally found this very embarrassing, as, in order to make an equitable division of the omelet, it was necessary either to divide a fly—no nice bit of carving, as you must concede—or forego a fly myself. I beg to suggest that in the future, when an omelet is served for four persons, it should be either with (a) four flies, or (b) no flies at all."

One Kind of Anonymity.

Booker T. Washington, at the National Negro Business League's convention in New York last month, praised the modesty of the anonymous giver.

"But, of course," he added, with a smile, "the kind of anonymity I don't include the kind—common enough among philanthropists—that Deacon Brown, of Loachapoka, favored."

Loachapoka is a little place not far from Tuskegee. Deacon Brown arose in the church there one Sunday morning to read a list of subscribers to the missionary fund. He began:

"The Rev. Calhoun Travers, $10; Brother Stephen Paget, $5; Sister Phoebe Rice, $7; anonymous donor, myself, $6."
