"THE BEST BY TEST." TRY THEM

Learn Bell, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Finnigan, Colborne street, passed away, on Monday morning, following an attack of typhoid fever. Death occurred in the general hospital.

A meeting of the light, heat and power committee was called for this afternoon, in connection with the street lighting question, at the request of Ald. Rigney, chairman of the light and power committee.

GOING TO TORONTO

TO DISCUSS POWER QUESTION WITH HON. ADAM BECK.

Ald. Elliott and Manager Folger will go up to-night to meet Mr. Beck to-morrow—Draft Contract From Seymour Power Company Arrives.

On Saturday afternoon, Ald. Elliott, chairman of the light, heat and power committee, received a telegram from Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric commission, saying that he would be pleased to have Ald. Elliott and Manager Folger go to Toronto on Tuesday, and he would discuss with them the power question for the eastern district. In view of the offer of the Seymour company, of power supply to Kingston, the light, heat and power committee is desirous of finding out what terms the Hydro-Electric commission would make with Kingston for power from the vicinity of Morrisburg. The committee wrote the commission about the matter, and Mr. Beck thinks it would be best to discuss the question with representatives of the Kingston plant, as a better understanding would be arrived at than if a mere communication was sent.

The draft contract from the Seymour company has arrived, but before it is gone into the committee will wait the offer of the Hydro-Electric commission, which practically all the members of the committee think could give the city better terms than the Seymour company offers. The contract submitted by the Seymour company provides that the city must keep up and in readiness for immediate action its light and power plant, upon which it will be necessary to expend a good deal of money. When the company's representatives first met the committee, its expert stated that this would not be necessary, as the company proposed to give the city a power service that would not require the keeping up of its plant. The company would pay for power supplied by the city in case of a breakdown in the company's line.

Another point in the draft contract is that the power will be supplied the city at the company's sub-station, and not at the city's plant. As to charges the company intimates that the rate will be twenty-five cents a horse power, and that the basis for the month will be on the peak that the indicator holds for five minutes. This is not a satisfactory condition, so committee members say. Some of the committee go so far as to say that the offer of the Seymour company is no better than the conditions the city now enjoys, and that there is no likelihood of the contract being recommended to the city council.

WATER SUPPLY STILL BAD. It is Still Necessary to Boil Drinking Water.

Householders should take warning that the city water supply is still contaminated, and that if they wish to escape any chance of typhoid, they should drink nothing but boiled or well-heated water. At a meeting, Dr. Williamson, the medical health officer, reported that the water supply still showed marked contamination. Samples of Friday were decidedly bad, and the water was unfit for drinking without being boiled. Examination of samples at the mouth of the intake pipe is being made to-day. It is clearly evident that the intake pipe is still leaking, notwithstanding the repairs made to it, and that the sooner the inner portion of the pipe is replaced, the better for the city. In the meantime, further repairs will have to be made to the leaky joints, or chemicals used to purify the water supply at the pumping station.

A Young Man Injured.

A young man, who carried too great a load of the "O Be Joyful," came to grief on Princess street, Saturday afternoon. He was going down Princess street, gesticulating wildly, and when near the corner of Montreal street, he stepped on a slippery grate and fell, his cheek coming in contact with the sharp corner of the iron. He endeavored to get up and fell again, cutting his face in another part. He was assisted to his feet, and taken to the Windsor hotel, where his injuries were dressed. He received two bad cuts on his face which bled profusely.

Clearing Tracks of Stone.

To-day, city corporation employees were busy scraping the loose stone off the street railway tracks on Princess street, from Barrie to King streets. The freezing of the roadways, before the new sheeting of stone had a chance to solidify, caused the loose material around the tracks to be knocked about, and put the cars in danger of being derailed, especially at night. All the loose stone must be cleared away.

Death of Former Kingstonian.

Word has been received in the city of the death of a former Kingstonian, in the person of Miss Daisy Flanagan, daughter of the late Patrick Flanagan, who passed away at her home, in Niagara Falls, N.Y. Deceased lived in Kingston until a few years ago, and was well known here.

Was Further Remanded.

In the police court, this morning, the only case was that of a young man, arrested recently, on a charge of being drunk, and who was committed to Rockwood asylum. It appears that the authorities at this institution will not admit the man, and so it is likely that arrangements will be made to have him enter some other institution.

Mendelssohn Concert.

Do not forget Mendelssohn concert, Sydenham street Methodist church, to-night, eight o'clock. Admission 10c.

Mrs. Gay Bryant, aged ninety-one years, died in Brockville on Friday. She was a life-long Methodist. Eight children survive.

Miss Cooke gave an organ recital from seven o'clock to eight in the auditorium, after which the concert programme began. Princess street and Bethel friends assisted the local choir. Miss Wilder and Miss Cooke being the accompanists.

A Sunday Evening Fire.

At 7:08 o'clock, last evening, the firemen at the upper station received a telephone message saying that the chimney of the store occupied by James Reid & Sons was on fire. The hook and ladder were sent to the scene and soon had the blaze extinguished. For a long time, persons who were watching the flame could not tell whether it was the Orpheum or Reid's that was on fire. The flames had been working for some time before being discovered.

Death of a Glenvale Lady.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Rhoda Bennington took place from the residence of her nephew, Herbert Orser, Glenvale, Monday morning. Service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Danby. S. C. Orsett had charge of the funeral. The late Mrs. Bennington was the widow of the late Ralph Bennington, and was seventy-nine years of age. Although she had been confined to her bed only three days, she had been ailing for the past two years. Pneumonia was the cause of death. Born in Glenvale, she resided there all her life and seen it grow from a forest to a prosperous farming settlement. For the past five years, she resided with her nephew, Herbert Orser. She was an active member of the Glenvale Methodist church there, and many kind acts done by her will keep her memory green.

Late Mrs. M. Silver.

Reference was made, in the Whig on Saturday, to the sad death of Mrs. Milton Silver, of Albert street. She passed away in the general hospital, on Friday afternoon, after an illness from typhoid fever. Her death is particularly sad, in that her husband is now ill with the same disease. Report says that he is doing as well as can be expected. Besides the husband there are three small children, four brothers, Dr. Philip E. W. Bell, Kingston; Dr. Philip E. Bell, Hyde Park, Ohio; Hiram E. Bell, Hyde Park, Mass.; and John A. Bell, Scott, Sask. and Mrs. O. J. Finnegan, Kingston. Deceased was formerly Miss Minnie Stuart Bell, and was a daughter of the late Alexander Bell, Westbrooke. She was beloved by a large circle of friends, all of whom were grieved to learn of her death. The sympathy of all will be extended to the bereaved. She had been confined to the hospital, for the last few weeks. Her husband was first taken to the hospital, and she followed close afterwards. Of the three children left, the youngest is but one year old. Deceased was a member of Sydenham Street Methodist church, and the funeral services, Monday afternoon, were conducted by Rev. I. W. Neal.

Rev. Dr. MacTavish and Rev. Mr. Neal will take part, next Sunday, in a temperance field day in Toronto.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effective Cure For It. Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to indigestion. The earliest symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headache, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling. There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition. The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do, and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared. According to Dr. Harrison, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Dipspepsin, Aspic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dipspepsin Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but to-day I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dipspepsin Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found fresh appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dipspepsin Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, acid stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

The Intercollegiate Debate.

Resolved, that reciprocity with the United States in natural products and agricultural implements would be in the best interests of Canada. ## FIGHT AGAINST EVIL

BISHOP FARTHING AT ST. GEORGE'S SUNDAY.

Pointed Out That Christians Should Have a Clear Conception of the Faith for Which They are Fighting—Should Know and Understand Christ.

"Fight the good fight of faith," these words, taken from I Timothy, 12, formed the basis for a forceful sermon, in St. George's cathedral, Sunday morning, delivered by Bishop Farthing of Montreal. A very large congregation was present. Bishop Farthing impressed upon his hearers the importance of having a clear conception of the faith for which they are fighting—to know and understand Christ.

Bishop Farthing, before entering into his subject, made reference to his return to his old parish. "It is, indeed, unspeakable pleasure to worship here once more," he said. "Even with all the changes of life, the memories of time spent here, are ever bright and happy, and memories of kind and loving friends who reside here always bring one back to Kingston."

"We have, as Christians, a tremendous fight before us, and in that fight of life, there is no one single man or woman, who desires to play the coward's part, and every one desires to fight against evil, and everyone desires to make the best of it. There is a desire to make the best of this life, and to be factors in the fight."

Along this line of work, the signs were hopeful. There was a desire on the part of the people to do all they could for their fellow Christians, who were not as happy as they were themselves. A tremendous effort was being made to evangelize the masses in our vast centres of population. To-day, we have the cry of evangelizing the world in this generation. In order to carry out this work it was necessary that we have a clear conception of the faith we are fighting for. We must have our belief in concrete form. We could not rally men until we had a belief, in this form. If this were neglected, what would the weak or the ignorant say when we went to them to try and help them. You must give him something which will lift him up, give him new power, and regenerate him. If we are to evangelize the world, in this generation, we must not tell the people that there are many religions, but that there is one; that there are many teachers, but that Christ is the greatest teacher. In order to do the work, we must be clear and definite as to what Christ is. We must have a clear vision of Christ and of what truth is. Christ was the home of Christianity. A person should know a certain thing, and why he knows it. There was great need for broad sympathetic love, and we should understand Christianity if he could not understand who Christ is, and what He is to him.

The bishop of Montreal had a busy day, on Sunday, begun with attendance at the early celebration, at eight o'clock, in St. George's cathedral, and closing with what was practically a reception of many old parishioners in the vestry, after evening service, all glad to see him back. His sermon at this latter service was one of the "practical talks which have made him so highly regarded as a preacher," and was from the text, "Follow Me."

In it he urged the congregation to obey the call of the Lord rather than any of the myriad voices of the world. At the close of evening he gave the episcopal blessing. It is noticeable that while his lordship wears, during service, the large, gold, amethyst-studded, Latin cross (one of the gifts made him at his consecration), the cross he wears, daily, upon his heart is the gold St. George's cross, the gift of the clergy of Kingston.

AMOUNT TO BE EXPENDED

On Storrington Road When Tolls are Abolished.

When the Frontenac county council takes over the Storrington toll roads and abolishes the toll gate, it will receive from the Ontario government the sum of $4,293, or one-third of the purchase price. The intention is to expend this $4,293 on the county road system, and when this is done, the county will receive from the government the additional sum of $2,146, or one-half the amount expended for road repairs. The purchase price of the road, viz., $12,580, will be taken care of in twenty annual instalments of $900 each, and when this amount is divided among the five townships interested, each township will scarcely feel the levy. Frontenac, before the end of this year, will be free of road tolls.

CITY COUNCIL THIS EVENING.

Some of the Matters to be Discussed.

The city council meets this evening, and there are a number of important matters to be considered. The council will be asked by the water works committee for authority to replace the igner 200 feet of the intake pipe, in view of the contamination of the water supply and the evident impossibility to make the leaky joints tight. The cub stand question will also likely receive another airing. It is at this meeting that Ald. Harrison will move that the council petition the Ontario legislature to allow the number of aldermen for Kingston to be reduced from twenty-one to fourteen. Ald. Hoag will also move that the legislature be petitioned to repeal the special act of 1906, which allows aldermen in Kingston to be elected for a term of three years, and to provide for the election for the old term of one year. Unless Ald. Hoag's motion carries, that of Ald. Harrison will be impossible, for if the three-year term is continued, it would not work out with fourteen aldermen. Fifteen would be required, and what would have the election of the other alderman? It is pointed out that the scheme would only work if the aldermen were elected by the whole city. As far as can be learned, it is not likely that the council will vote to change the three-year term, which is considered as working quite satisfactorily. The matter was some time ago considered by the board of trade, but that body was divided on the question, and did not make a recommendation to the city council. There will be a full discussion of the question this evening.

WE ALL ARE RESPONSIBLE

In Some Way for Crimes That Are Committed.

Speaking in Chalmers church, last evening, on the penitentiary parole system, which is doing such splendid service, W. P. Archibald, Canadian parole officer, who is here in connection with his work, gave a very thrilling description of some of the scenes which he had witnessed behind prison bars that had moved him to tears, greatly used as he was to scenes of this description. The great truth which Mr. Archibald endeavored to instill into the minds of those present was that they were responsible in a marked degree for their brother's conduct. He said: "There are great forces at work at the present time for the reclaiming and rehabilitating of the fallen ones, and there are also great forces of evil at work seeking their further lowering into degradation. Therefore, I say we are guilty for his behavior. The mere fact that crime exists is a blot on modern society. We are guilty because our laws are lacking, either in the laws of our country or the environment. If we would only carry out the beautiful principles which are set before us in God's word, there would be no possibility of crime. We are guilty because our brother goes astray. Our laws in this country are regarded as very just, though they are severe, but, did you ever see the law unaided by human agency reform a man? No. "It is true that criminals must be punished in order to protect modern society, and time was when the full penalty of the law was enforced, but, happily, now, men are seeing their mistake in treating them thus, and are trying to reform them and give them every chance to reform. Mr. Archibald said that the present time there are between sixteen and seventeen hundred inmates within prison walls from coast to coast, and every inmate is connected in some way or other with someone in the outside world.

Saturday at the Grand.

"This Woman and This Man" was produced at the Grand Opera House Saturday afternoon and evening. The part of the wronged wife was taken by Miss Minnie Victorson and William W. Blair played the deserted husband. Edward P. Sullivan, as the father of the husband, took his part well. Elizabeth Coulter, as David Townsend, the child of Norris Townsend and Thelma Muller, was very natural and won the hearts of the audience. Austin Benedict, as Herman Johnson, the rural character, was one of the bright spots in the play. Arline Hines as Mrs. Ware, the garrulous landlady, was well up to the mark.

Re Fremen's Coats.

In the report of the fire and light committee, in the Whig, on Saturday, Ald. Rigney, the chairman, was given credit for something he did not say. In giving some of the discussion it was stated that he wanted to see a local man get the contract, but as the local tender was the highest, he could not see his way to go down into the pockets of the people in this way. It was Ald. Bailey who said this, and held out for the lowest tender to be accepted, but the name of the contractor accidentally was slipped into the item. Chamois vests. "Gibson's."

Farwell Visit of Sousa.

John Philip Sousa is getting ready for his great round the world tour, which will cover thousands of miles and cost thousands of dollars. It will be a great trip by a great band and a great sum. Sousa's band comes to the Grand Opera House for one concert on Tuesday afternoon only, at two o'clock.

Menthol eucalyptus, peppermint, linseed, licorice, chlorodyne, black currant, borhound, glycerine, licorice, cough drops, perfectly fresh. "Gibson's."
