CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

DEFINED BY A LECTURER FROM BOSTON.

Who Spoke in Ontario Hall on Monday Evening—W. F. Nickle, K.C., Presided—Objections to the Science Were Dealt With.

Christian Science or Divine Science may be defined in brief as the knowledge of, or truth about, God and His universe, including man—the science or knowledge of God's unchanging law and its fulfillment; or, I may say, it is the science or true knowledge of Christianity." Thus spoke Clarence C. Eaton, C.S.B., member of the board of trustees of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, to a select audience in Ontario hall, Monday evening, W. F. Nickle, K.C., presided and introduced the speaker.

Mr. Eaton said Christian Science was not the name for a new or improved religion, but rather is the most appropriate designation given by Rev. Mary Baker Eddy, to the system of divine metaphysics which she, after an exhaustive study of the scriptures, formulated. He dwelt for some time on the gradual working out of this new thought in the founder's mind, claiming that it was the reclamation of the saving gospel of love. He started from the beginning, in 1836, when the faith was first formally given to the world by Mrs. Eddy, how, the following year, she published a book setting forth the teachings and doctrine of the faith in its true light. Although Mr. Eaton defined in his first utterance the sum and total of the whole thing, which she put in a nutshell, he dealt more elaborately with it, going into the depths of the belief.

Later on, in his address, the speaker said, "Objection is frequently made to the practice of healing bodily infirmities by spiritual means, on the ground that the age of miracles has passed and gone for aye. He touched on the fact that Jesus in his teaching required healing as well as preaching. When Christ was here upon earth, he did not go about giving pills to people to cure them. The question is, How did Jesus accomplish his healing work? The seventh chapter of the Gospel of Mark throws light upon this much discussed question. He declared unto them that 'nothing is impossible to him that believeth.' In fact, to him, can defile him; but the things which come out of him, those are the things that defile the man."

In the course of his remarks the speaker declared that Christian Science healing was not mesmeric. He emphatically denied that Christian Science was in any way the resemblance of faith healing, mental suggestion or hypnotism or spiritualism and even what is called mental science. It is emphatically the antipode of anything bordering on those things. Efforts have been made to show that Christ was a magnetic healer, but without avail. In concluding he said Christian Science restricted its endeavors to practice of the healing of physical efforts entirely Jesus repeatedly demonstrated that his Christianity was sufficient for every need. His sermon on the mount deals with every sort of experience, and therein God is represented as equal to every emergency.

SPOKE ON LIVE SUBJECTS.

Queen Street Church Young Men's Club Social.

The Young Men's Club of Queen Street Methodist church held the first of a series of social evenings in the parlors of the church, Monday evening. A feature of the evening was a number of short talks by the members of the club, on such subjects as: "Why does not Kingston have paved streets?"; "Which, in your opinion, is the better, one or three-year terms for aldermen?"; "What do you think of the hobble skirt?"; "Which is preferable, local option or prohibition?"; "Why is the toast to the ladies always responded to by an unmarried man?"; "What is your opinion regarding the removal of the ladies' hats at gatherings of the church?"; "What do you think of the delivery of the speeches. The idea was to fulfil the motto of the club to be ready in any emergency to be able to speak. A number of ladies were also present, and were given a cordial invitation to become members of the club. Ever since Mrs. Squire went away a couple of years ago the boys have felt that they should have a few ladies connected with their organization. The evening was brought to a close by serving refreshments by the committee appointed.

William McFedeerige and John Shea added much to the enjoyment of the evening, by contributing recitations and solos which were well received.

MISSIONARY MEETING

Of the Presbyterian Women's Home Society.

The November meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Home Missionary Society was held, on Monday afternoon, at four o'clock, in Queen's University, about forty-three members being present. The meeting was presided over by Miss Macfarlane and John Shea added much to the enjoyment of the evening, by contributing recitations and solos which were well received.

Miss Macfarlane read a very comprehensive paper on mission work in British Columbia. Though there is much need of work to be done out west, Miss Macfarlane made appeal to the women present not to neglect the needs of our own city and the immediate vicinity.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

Member of "Prohibited List" Had to Pay a Fine.

"Some person put a bottle in my pocket," was the explanation given the magistrate, in police court, Tuesday morning, by Edward Holder, when he was accused of being drunk, when a member of the "prohibited list." The magistrate looked upon it as an unlikely story, however, and imposed a fine of $20 and costs, or one month in jail. Holder told the court that he could not imagine how the liquor had found its way into his pocket. He wanted time to pay, but the magistrate would not consent.

John McKee, a stranger in the city, said he was on a holiday. His holiday might have been O.K. but for the bottle of whiskey he secured. He informed the girls were still smoking and engaged in conversation of an unpleasant nature.

Rev. Mr. Bourke said he brought this matter before the meeting in order to show that some action was necessary to keep boys and girls off the street.

WHAT A MINISTER OBSERVED.

Found Little Girls Smoking Cigarettes on Street.

During some discussion at the Kingston Relief Association meeting on Monday afternoon, in regard to the training of the young, Rev. T. E. Bourke drew the attention of the members to a case which came under his notice a few evenings ago. They were speaking about the proposed action to have young boys and girls off the street at a reasonable hour at night.

Rev. Mr. Bourke said that he was paying a call and on the street he came across two girls, perhaps about fourteen years of age, and both were puffing away at a cigarette, and indulging in conversation which was very unpleasant to listen to. The reverend gentleman had occasion to stay at a home for about an hour and when he came out on the street again the girls were still smoking and engaged in conversation of an unpleasant nature.

Rev. Mr. Bourke said he brought this matter before the meeting in order to show that some action was necessary to keep boys and girls off the street.

Two men, gathered in by the police, today, will be charged with drunkenness, in the police court, to-morrow.

The City Liable for Repair.

Mayor Couper secured from the city solicitor an opinion as to the right of the city to make repairs to the roadbed of streets traversed by the street railway. The solicitor stated that the city may do any act necessary to discharge its obligation on the agreement, such as laying down the street in accordance with the usual custom of street repair by the city. If the city fails in its duty to repair and by reason of non-repair persons lawfully traversing the streets are injured, the city is liable in damages.

Two men, gathered in by the police, today, will be charged with drunkenness, in the police court, to-morrow.

IN CHAPEL OF HOUSE OF PROVIDENCE.

Three Young Ladies Received the Religious Habit—Ten Sisters Pronounced Their Final Vows—Archbishop Gauthier Officiated.

At 7.30 a.m., Tuesday, Feast of St. Cecilia, Archbishop Gauthier officiated at an inspiring ceremony in the chapel of the House of Providence, where three young ladies received the religious habit, and ten sisters pronounced their final vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience. After the ceremony proper, his grace celebrated mass, assisted by Rev. Father Connolly, Trenton, and Rev. Father J. McDonald, of the Palace. Other clergy present were Rev. Father Hanley, Duffins, Halligan and Fitz-Henry. The musical programme was of a very high order.

Wonderland's Good Show.

A high-class show, such as is at Wonderland for the first part of the week, is really worth the dime the management was forced to charge on account of the high salaries the artists receive. Johns and Johns, black and white comedians, received all the applause they deserved, and created many a laugh. Collins and Lallele, in their singing, talking, dancing and contortion work, are a show all by themselves. This is a high salary act that does not strike houses the size of Wonderland very often.

Will Examine Toronto Lights.

While in Toronto interviewing Hon. Adam Beck, with reference to Hydro-Electric power for Kingston, Ald. Elliott and Manager Folger will examine the new Tungsten lights just installed along some of the business thoroughfares of the Queen city, and which are said to be the greatest thing in street lighting in commission. It is pretty certain that some Tungsten lights will be installed in Kingston when the street lighting plant is improved next year.

A Lawyer and a Will.

IS AT WORK AGAIN.

The Dog Poisoner Busy in the West End.

According to a complaint made to the Whig, to-day, the dog poisoner is very busy again in that district. Yesterday, so it is alleged, a resident lost a fine dog, as the result of poison having been set out for him, and the owner is going around with a big stick, looking for the guilty party or parties. It was stated that a clue had been secured, and that as soon as the evidence could be secured, there would be a police court case.

"I have been living out in that district for three years," said one resident to the Whig, to-day, "and during that time no less than twenty dogs have met death, and I am almost certain that it has all been the work of a dog poisoner."

Deseronto Man Fined Heavily by Capt. Hunter.

Instead of the whitefish, McWain was fined $50 for attempting to ship the fish. McWain is a fish buyer at Deseronto, and shipped a box of whitefish through Toronto. Henry Watson, fish and game covener at the Union Station, saw the box and grew suspicious. He opened it and found, packed with the whitefish, a fine, large, longe. The fish was confiscated, as it is against the law to sell or ship game fish. An information was laid against McWain, and Capt. A. T. Hunter tried the case at Deseronto and imposed a fine of $50 and costs.

THE GEORGE WILL CASE.

The George Will case will not be heard until the spring assize court sits here. The plaintiff's statement of claim has not yet been filed. It is thought that some kind of a settlement may be made with the son of the deceased before the case comes to trial. When the matter came before Judge Price, last summer, the latter advised that the parties get together and make some provision for the son, who would be entirely cut off unless there was a will.

On account of T. Lambert withdrawing his tender for the supply of winter pea jackets for the firemen this fine and light committee will have to meet again to award another contract. This will mean a delay of two weeks and it will be good and late when the firemen receive their winter clothing.

Purification in Operation.

Yesterday afternoon the system of treating the water supply at the pump house with chlorine of lime was put in operation and the water that the people are now drinking is being purified in a very simple manner. Tests of samples will reveal whether the water is rendered free of contamination by the process.

"Re-Form" Arch Support

The term Flat Foot is used not only to indicate an aggravated form of the disease, breaking down or depression of the arch of the foot, but also when there is a tendency in the arch weakening which is correctly diagnosed as Flat Foot.

The person may have a high instep arch, and yet suffer seriously from the early stage of Flat Foot. The cause is that the foot muscles and the ligaments and tissue membranes become strained or weakened to a degree that unfit it for carrying the body's weight. The RE-FORM Arch Support at this time is recommended, as it is arched sufficiently high to uphold the instep arch until these ligaments and muscles become normal and active to perform their natural functions.

RE-FORM Arch Support also reforms a depressed arch; or when the foot is in a more advanced stage of flat foot. It is correctly shaped after German Silver, the side slots have drilled openings at their exterior plate used, which prevents breaking under soon and also gives the spring nature required.

In addition to wearing a RE-FORM Arch Support, treatment is advisable as the muscles quickly relax and soon become normally healthful.
