AT THE POLICE COURT

MARRIED MAN'S STRONG PLEA FOR A CHANCE

He Was Arrested on a Charge of Being Drunk and Begging on the Street—He Will Return to His Home at Utica, N.Y.—A Pair of Drunks.

"I'm a married man, with a family, for God's sake, give me a chance." This rather dramatic speech came from John Walsh, unknown in this city, but who claims to belong to Utica, N.Y., when he was arraigned before Magistrate Farrie, in police court, this morning, on a charge of being drunk, and also with begging on the street. The police picked him up, during the night, as he was tapping people on the shoulder, and asking for money. The money he derived went to purchase strong drink.

Walsh was almost in tears, when he faced the magistrate, and put great emphasis on the fact that he had a wife and family to care for. "He would do anything, if only given a chance, and he promised the court that he would make for home. He will go via the Cape, and if he keeps away, the charge against him will be allowed to drop. He left the court after saying, "God bless you, your worship."

There were two drunks in the rest of the line-up. One was fined $2 and costs, or twenty days, and the other was given a chance, as it was the first time he had ever been before the police court.

The old song which says something about "the morning after, the night before," would well illustrate their case. They were a sorrowful looking pair, and both vowed that they would never fall into the hands of the police, again. This is what they all say, but then, it is to be hoped that they will be able to carry out their promise.

"This is my first time, and my last," said the one, and "never again," the other was heard to remark.

Constable "Harry" Filson rounded up the pair, about 11 o'clock last night, on Ontario street. They were very drunk, and in spite of the fact that it was a very bright, moonlight night, they could not navigate. To handle two men, who are very drunk, is no easy task, and the constable had to secure aid. He took one of the men, and Constable Craig and Armstrong took charge of the other. One of the men was in a terrible

TO DALLAS B. SMITH, MICA WORKS MANAGER

Friends Gave Him a Gold-Mounted Cigarette Case—Mr. Smith is a Popular Young Alabama Man.

On Thursday evening a pleasant little affair took place in the Collierville hotel, where Dallas B. Smith, of Oneika, Alabama, manager of the Richardson mica manufacturing plant in this city, was the guest of a number of his local friends who treated him to a dinner and presented him with a handsome gold-mounted cigarette case, which was suitably engraved. Mr. Smith was quite taken by surprise and scarcely knew what to say to his Canadian friends who have become warmly attached to him during his short stay here. He expressed his grateful thanks to them for their continued kindness and for their gift. Mr. Smith has travelled over the whole North and South American continent, and can here three months ago to inaugurate the mica plant for the Richardson mines. He is a war veteran, having served in the Philippines, and has the rank of captain. He likes Kingston very much and would like to live here permanently, if it were possible. Mr. Smith leaves for his Alabama home next Sunday to spend the holidays but expects to return early in January.

Mable a Presentation.

Rev. J. D. Boyd, pastor of Zion Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Boyd, were invited on Thursday to dinner at Mrs. Joseph Bews', Chestnut street, and later were given a surprise, being tendered an appreciative address and a purse of gold. The house, during the evening, soon filled up with members of the congregation, and after a happy hour, Prof. Morrison read the address and Mrs. Bews made the presentation. The address spoke of the self denying labors of the pastor and his wife; of the good influence they exerted in the church, always standing for good citizenship and the best in morals and religion. They took pride in having as a pastor who had the courage of his convictions and hoped the expression of good will and sincere appreciation would give him new inspiration to carry on his work. The couple were wished all happiness both at this Christmastide and for all time to come. Afterwards refreshments were served, followed by singing and brief remarks by leaders in Zion church work.

A FIRE IN WILLIAMSVILLE.

Three Horses Were Used on the Fire Engine.

At 11:27 o'clock this morning, the fire brigade received an alarm from Williamsville, and found that a blaze had broken out in the frame house, No. 844 Princess street, occupied by Cecil Blakey. The water pipes were being thawed, out, and the woodwork in the cellar caught fire. Practically no damage was done.

On this occasion, the brigade used three horses on a fire engine. Unfortunately, the department has not yet secured the extra horse that is required, and so the chief had to send out and engage one for this morning, when he found that the engine had to be hauled to Williamsville. It is likely that a suitable horse will be purchased before the end of the year.

A Quiet Marriage.

Very quietly on Wednesday evening, at the home of Mrs. George R. Webster, Huron street, Toronto, the marriage took place of her daughter, Muriel Woodfield, to Thomas A. Richardson, son of Alexander Richardson, of Grand Valley. The bride, given away by her cousin, C. W. Garner, wore a beautiful robe of white liberty satin, veiled in chiffon and lace. Orange blossoms fastened her veil of tulle and her flowers were white roses and lilies. Miss Isabella Somerville, the niece of the bride, attended her as flower girl. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Daniel Strachan, the wedding music being played by Miss Grace Fletcher. On departing for New York, Mrs. Richardson wore a brown dress with velvet toque to match, and Persian lamb furs. They will reside in Montreal.

Died in Rochester, N.Y.

Miss Mary A. Hardy, formerly of Kingston, died at her home, 123 Wilder street, Rochester, N.Y., on Dec. 10th, after an illness of four days. She is survived by her niece, J. Abbie Crimmins, two nephews, Alphonse P. Crimmins and Edward B. Hardy, all of Rochester, N.Y. The funeral took place Monday morning, from St. Patrick's cathedral, where a solemn high mass was sung by Rev. Father Henry. Interment was at Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Will Run for Reeve.

It was announced, today, that R. J. Baiden would again be a candidate for reeve of Portmouth, and his many friends are confident that he will be returned.
