GOSPEL OF CHRIST

WAS FOR EVERY AGE, COUNTRY AND CONDITION.

Made No Direct Pronouncement on Social Questions of His Day. But Left Two Commands to Solve Social Problems of All Time—A Gift Service.

The Dean of Ontario preached the third of his sermons to students in St. George's cathedral, on Sunday, last, "Who made me a judge or divider over you?" Socialism frequently brought the charge that neither Christ, the church nor the Bible dealt directly with social problems. True, for social problems ever change in all countries, and Christ's teaching, His interpretation of the moral law, were for all time, all races, all conditions. He dealt with the individual, seeking to regenerate him that he might live the Christ life and so, in his selfishness, solve the problem of his own day and generation. Christ left but two plain rules, the keeping of which would answer the social question before ever it is propounded and these rules are: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, with all thy heart, and thy neighbor as thyself.

The children's gift service, in the afternoon, was largely attended, the dean addressing the youthful congregation on the text, "Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'" During the singing of a hymn the children went up two and two to the chancel steps, laying their little gifts at the feet of the clergy. The service throughout the day were thoroughly in keeping with the spirit of the closing of the Advent season, when the joyful note is "Hark! the glad sound the Saviour comes," and the teaching of the day, in sermon as well as prayers and hymns, the glad assurance that the world is growing better as year by year the memory is kept of Him Who "comes the broken heart to bind, the bleeding soul to cure, and with the treasures of His grace to bless the humble poor."

Chalmers Musical Service.
In Chalmers church, on Sunday evening, a Christmas musical service was held. The choir rendered several fine numbers. The soloists were Miss Jessie Reid, Miss Hazel Massie, Miss Florence McLeod and Mr. Deconet. Rev. Prof. Alexander Laird conducted the service, and spoke briefly on the words of Carlyle: "All deep things are song." He said that our fathers would not have regarded the service as proper, but yet such a service was most helpful for Carlyle spoke truly when he said that "all deep things are song."

Passed With Honors.
"Bert" Menzies, passed the junior examinations of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, with first-class honors. Mr. Menzies was formerly a clerk in Hong's drug store, in well-known here, and his many friends will be glad to learn of his success. His home is at Carleton Place.

Date Creams. 15c. Walnut Chocolates, 15c. J. Crawford.
The Cape Vincent, N.Y., Earle, in its last issue, put on a Christmas cover of American design, the same as some Canadian papers have issued. What a howl the New Yorkers would have made if a Canadian cover with the Union Jack in it had been used across the border.

If you cannot afford to eat the best chocolates try Fry's 30c. 35. J. Crawford.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

Case Against Mrs. Greer Heard on Monday Morning.

Considerable time was taken, in police court, Monday morning, in the hearing of the case of Mrs. Jane Greer, who was arrested on a charge of securing her daughter for immoral purposes. After all the evidence had been taken, the magistrate said that there was sufficient evidence to place the accused on trial, but that the evidence was unsatisfactory, in that it was not clearly shown if the charge had been laid within the proper time. However, he had secured enough evidence to show the kind of a life the woman had been living, and gave her some good advice.

Mrs. Greer pleaded "not guilty," and D. A. Givens appeared on her behalf. A witness who was called lived in the same building as Mrs. Greer, and he alleged that he overheard a conversation in which Mrs. Greer promised to bring her daughter to the city, and she said that she afterwards did come. Mrs. Greer denied writing to her daughter. She admitted to the magistrate that she could not read or write.

A young man pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly, and was fined $5 and costs, or twenty days. As he was gathered in on Sunday, the magistrate, as usual, asked him where he had secured his liquor. He said that he got his liquor from a man, giving his name, but mentioned no hotel.

To-night Murray Mackey Co.

In announcing the coming of the Murray-Mackey company, it is sufficient to arouse the interest of the majority of theatre-goers. For the past ten years this company has been one of the favorite attractions playing Canadian territory, and it is just to say that their patrons have never been disappointed, as the management have never failed to fulfil all promises.

The attraction this season comes well recommended. The scenic equipment has been greatly increased and is now the best and best ever seen by this company. The cast is headed by a well-known dramatic actor, J. M. Donavin and the versatile young actress, Florence J. Murray, assisted by high salaried and experienced actors. They open a week's engagement at the Grand, to-night, presenting "Why He Divorced Her." There will be a change of bill every night. To-morrow night, "St. Elmo" will be presented.

Produced "The Nativity."

In Sydenham Street Methodist church, on Sunday evening, the choir gave a cantata, "The Nativity," and did it exceptionally well. Solo parts were taken by Mrs. Small, Miss Laird, and Harold Angrove. Mrs. Small sang, "Rejoice Greatly," from the "Messiah," a very difficult solo, which was given with remarkable ease and fluency. Rev. Thomas Neal preached, and the church was crowded. Prof. James Small presided at the organ. The choir gave a magnificent rendering of the cantata, and great credit is due to all concerned. The male voice choruses were especially fine.

Gift From Queen's Students.

Before leaving for their various homes to spend the Christmas holidays the student boarders who were lodging with Mrs. R. Piddion, Elm street, presented her with an abundant set of kitchen utensils as an appreciation of her kindness to them while they were beneath her roof. Mrs. Piddion was agreeably surprised and thanked the boys in a manner which made them feel that any kindness which had been shown them on her part was meant for the brightening of their lives while they were away from home.

Letter From Dennis Jordan.

Police Constable Samuel Arnie, today, received a letter from Dennis Jordan, who is studying at Sunderland, Durham, England, in which was enclosed a piece of the late queen's diamond jubilee ribbon. Mr. Jordan speaks of the excitement over the elections in the old country, and says "the rush held by Queen's every year is not in it with the excitement over these elections. He is in good health, and enjoying his stay in the old land."

Heavy British Mail.

The British mail that was delivered from the post office, this morning, was the largest ever received in Kingston. It was nearly twice as large as a year ago. Even the postmaster's own office was piled with some of its contents. Kingston is indeed in need of more post office space, and it is to be hoped that the extension that was promised two years ago will go up this coming year.

Must Remove the Snow.

Constable Arnie notified the merchants that they must have the snow removed from the roofs of the stores. Owing to the mild weather, the snow and ice keeps on the move, with the result that it becomes very dangerous for people passing, and as a result, the police are taking the necessary precautions and asking the shopkeepers to have the work done properly.

Last Meeting of City Council.

This evening, the city council will hold its last meeting of the year. There is not a great deal of business to be done, but it will take a couple of hours to get through with what there is. The places for holding the municipal elections, on January 2nd, have to be named.

Turkeys are Turkeys.

Christmas is near at hand, and turkeys are turkeys. On Saturday they sold at 15c. to 20c. per lb., and this is pretty high. There appears to be no chance whatever of the price being down. All over the province the price of turkeys is high.

Skating Club Saturday.

The members of the Kingston Skating Club, had their first skating of the season, on Saturday, at the covered rink. There was a fair attendance, and the outing was a most enjoyable one. The ice was in good condition.
