TO ADD FALSE SIDES TO STEAMER WOLFE ISLANDER IN THE SPRING

The Steel Tender for lengthening the Boat Was Far Too High—The Addition of False Sides Will Allow the Boat to Carry 150 More Passengers. The Wolfe Island council, when it opened the tenders for the enlarging of the steamer Wolfe Islander, found that the one for the iron work necessary for the lengthening of the boat was $1,300 more than the estimate. Where about $5,000 had been estimated as a conservative figure, the tender received called for $6,300. This was considered altogether too high, and the result is that the Wolfe Islander will not be lengthened the fifteen feet proposed. She will have false sides added, and this enlargement will enable the inspector of hulls to give her a passenger-carrying capacity of 325, instead of 175, as at present. With an additional fifteen feet of deck-room, she would have a passenger limit of 372, but the great benefit from the lengthening would be in freight carrying, which would be far greater. The council has decided to add false sides to the steamer and put in an electric light plant. This work will cost about $3,000, and will likely be done in the early spring, in the Davis dry dock.

Notes About Vessels. The steel frame work for Capt. Foster's new steamer 16 run from Smith's Falls to Kingston, will arrive, this week, from Toronto and will be set up in the Davis shipyard. The steamer Wolfe Islander went up to Simcoe and Amherst Islands, yesterday afternoon, and this morning, she brought down a boatload of passengers to do their Christmas shopping. The harbor was frozen all the way across, this morning. Last night was very still, and the ice froze very in all probability be good skating on the harbor on Christmas, which will mean a big loss of business for the rinks.

Open to the Cape. It is fully expected now, that the harbor will be open now until after the Christmas holidays. There is no ice on the Cape Vincent run, and the steamer Pierpont is making good time. A big rush of passengers is looked for, during the holidays. Quite a number from this district go over the border, to spend Yuletide holidays. Best's List for Ladies. Kodak, $5 to $20. BARKING OF A DOG

NO DOUBT SAVED LIFE OF GEORGE F. HORN. Was Found by Police Constable Lyng on Sidewalk Partly Covered Over With Snow—He Would Have Perished in a Very Short Time. A dog barking probably saved the life of an elderly man, named George F. Horn, on Tuesday night. The man was under the influence of liquor, and fell on the sidewalk, near Crothers' biscuit factory, on Wellington street, at a late hour. Snow was falling fast at the time. He fell face downwards, and it was indeed a wonder that he did not suffocate. Constable Downey was on his rounds, in that vicinity, and heard a dog barking. He investigated, and found Horn lying on the sidewalk with the dog close at his side. He was then taken to the police station.

Horn was bareheaded, his hat lying a short distance from him, on the sidewalk. He had no gloves on his hands and if he had not been discovered at the time he was, the chances are that he would have perished. His head and shoulders were covered with snow. Constable Downey was given quite a shock when he came across the man, in the snow, and at first was under the impression that he was dead. As soon as he got hold of him, he could hear a groan, and then he knew that he was alive. The man was in a very bad shape, and the constable had to call a cab to take him to the lock-up.

Horn had $11 on his person when searched at the police station, and so had ample funds to pay for his freedom, in the police court, this morning, when the magistrate imposed a fine of $1 and costs, or ten days. The dog was the hero of the story, as had the canine not barked, the constable would not have seen the man. The dog knew that all was not right, and wanted to make an alarm, so as to get some one to go to the scene.
