

THE SPORT REVIEW

WHAT LOU MARSH THINKS OF THE FRONTENACS.

Regiopolls Defaulted a City League Game—Frontenacs Do Not Play Again Till the 18th—Other Hockey News.

Lou Marsh, in the Toronto Star, says: "Belleville, with only 'Crow' Comolly, 'Shinny' Brown, and Bowen, of last year's team; only provided an exercise gallop for the champions. The Kingstons, on the contrary, are chain lightning from goal to centre ice. 'Jim' Sutherland has them in grand shape, and his little megaphone roars, 'Speed! Speed! More speed!' all night. They work together like a well-oiled machine, and tend strictly to business all the way. The two new men on the team, Boyer at left wing and McCann at cover, are both of the Frontenac calibre. In fact, McCann looks like a real find. He is big, strong, and very fast. The others are even better than before. Davidson has a rare turn of speed, and Millan and Brouse and Hunt are always boring in on the nets. Marchand in goal hasn't much to do, but he did it well."

World's Amateur Junior Champions. Says James T. Sutherland, of the Kingston Frontenacs in the Toronto Star: "We are world junior amateur champions, and don't you forget it. We won the O.H.A. title, then beat the Intercollegiate winners, and took 'Chaucer' Elliott's Quebec champions into camp. Now if anyone thinks that we're not the cocks of the walk, just let 'em trot down to Kingston and we'll prove it."

Regiopolls Defaulted. The opening days of the City Hockey League was ushered in by a blinding snow storm. This, however, did not prevent the plucky Portsmouth juniors from journeying in from Hatters' Bay when the appointed time came they were ready to do battle. Regiopolls, however, did not put in an appearance, due to the condition of the weather. The game was awarded, by default, to Portsmouth. The team from Hatters' Bay is quite a husky aggregation, and confident that they could have put it over the college boys in a trish.

K.B.C. Hockey Team. The Kingston Business College has at last found that it is an impossible thing to build a skating rink after the ground has frozen, and, accordingly, they have abandoned the project, and will in future do their practising on the local rinks. Tuesday afternoon, in the snow storm, the students had a practice on the Stadium rink. It is doubtful if the K.B.C.'s will be as strong this season as they were last. The team is not composed of as husky men as were in the line-up last winter.

At Curling Rink. The three sheets of ice were in use at the curling rink last night, but the games were only between picked teams. The games in the special series, arranged for, will be continued, to-night. The cold spell, of last night, was welcomed by the curlers, as it was the means of making the ice much harder. While the games, last night, were not in the special series, there was a great deal of interest, and some good sport.

Curling is a very popular sport in Kingston now, and last night the games attracted quite a few spectators.

Junior Frontenacs' Games. The Junior Frontenacs do not have another league game until January 18th, when they play the return game with Belleville here. They then go to Picton on the 20th, to play the team there, and will play the return game here on the 25th, this winding up the first round for this district.

A Swift Event. There will be a grand opening of the hockey season on the Palace rink on Thursday evening with a clash between the Granites and the Irishmen. It will be a swift event.

Sprained His Ankle. Yesterday, W. A. Newlands, water-works collector, slipped and fell on the icy pavement, at the corner of Montross and Princess streets, while on his way to the city buildings, and sprained his ankle. He will be confined to his home for several days.

Two Bright Little Girls. Started to school last August. One preferred the "old reliable" Pizman (yes, it's an advt., but read on), and the other took the Thirty-Day Short-hand at the Moon College. The latter, Miss Frances Wyndham, of 108 Wells street, has been employed by Eyre & Bond, solicitors, room 328 Confederation Life Building, for over two months, and her friend is still studying Pizman. That this same friend has since engaged another of our graduates, speaks volumes for the quality of Moon College thirty-day stenographers. Catalogue upon request. HOME FROM ABROAD

PROF. JOHN WATSON AT GLASGOW UNIVERSITY.

Delivered Gifford Lectures at University—Refers to the Work at This Great Seat of Learning—Political Atmosphere Charged With Electricity.

Prof. John Watson, vice-president of Queen's University, has returned from his trip to Scotland. Although in the fall of the year, the weather was quite rough, for a sea voyage. Dr. Watson enjoyed his trip very much, and returned in good health, well able to take up his work at the university.

Prof. Watson went over to Scotland to give a special series of lectures in order to secure some information relative to these lectures, a Whig representative called on the professor, last evening, and he very kindly gave out some interesting information. "These lectures are known as the Gifford lectures," said Prof. Watson. "In the past, they have been given at Glasgow University, by such distinguished men as Max Muller, and the late Principal Caird, and for a number of years, master of Balliol College, Oxford. The audiences for these lectures are of popular character, consisting of professors in the university, clergymen, and for the most part, of the general public. Each lecturer is appointed for two successive years, and gives from twelve to fourteen lectures in each course. The subject is mandated by Lord Gifford, is natural philosophy, and the lectures are assumed to bear more or less directly upon that topic."

Prof. Watson stated that his lectures for this season were mainly of an historical character, preparatory to the second course, which will be reconstructed. Speaking of Glasgow University, Prof. Watson stated that it was very much the same as Queen's in these days, although naturally, on a somewhat more extensive scale. There were about 150 teachers, as well as professors and assistants. One very interesting feature is an annual staff dinner, which gives an opportunity to all the teachers to make one another's acquaintance, and this helps to draw together the various members of the staff. Prof. Watson remarked that this course of lectures was a most interesting feature. "During my stay, the political atmosphere was highly charged with electricity," said Prof. Watson, in conclusion. "I had the pleasure of hearing Premier Asquith, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Lloyd George speak. On my voyage home, on the Allan steamer Tunisian, the saloon passengers were largely composed of Edward Terry's dramatic company, who will give an entertainment in Kingston, on January 25th. Mr. Terry is a very interesting old gentleman, who has travelled nearly all over the world. At home, he is a justice of the peace, and is also head of what is known as the Actors' Church Union, an association intended to look after the spiritual wants of the actors, especially of the younger actresses."

The Snow Was Welcomed. Yesterday's snow storm was welcome to those who have to do with driving, in spite of the fact that there was plenty of snow previously. Monday's thaw left the roads in a terrible condition, full of pitch holes, and in a great many places roads are cut away in other places the water was several inches deep. The soft, fleecy snow which fell to the depth of about four inches, soaked up the water and filled in the spare places.

Stop the Snowballing. Citizens are protesting against the practice of snowballing people on their way to church Sunday evenings. The one place in particular which seems to be the favorite hangout of snowballers, is at the corner of Princess and Clergy streets, where people going to St. Andrew's, Queen and Sydenham street churches are annoyed. Last Sunday evening a citizen says there were a dozen young men stationed on this corner who were amusing themselves in this way. On Monday evening the same man said this practice should be stopped and that the police should act.

Native of Napane. Mrs. William Robb, wife of Montreal's most respected city treasurer, passed quietly away, on Monday. The deceased lady had been an invalid for several years, and for the past three weeks her death had been hourly expected. Mrs. Robb was born in Napane, Ont., her maiden name being Marjorie Ballantyne. She was married to Mr. Robb fifty years ago last April.

To Consider a Call. A meeting of the Kingston presbytery, will be held in Belleville, on January 9th, at 2 p.m. to take action in regard to a call sent from the Presbyterian church, in Napane, to Rev. A. E. Howard, of Peoria, Ill. Dr. Howard was for a short time, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Kempsville, succeeding Rev. Mr. Chisholm, who formerly lived in Kingston.

Travellers Again on Road. Travelling-salesmen are again out on the road after an enforced vacation of about two weeks. Owing to the rush at Christmas, they are not able to do any business with merchants, consequently they spend their time around the warehouses replenishing their samples and getting things ready for the next year's work.

Forced to Cease Singing. Miss Grace Mitchell, the young soprano soloist of Princess street Methodist church, has been ordered to take a rest for some time, on account of her throat. At the present time her voice is not affected, but her throat is in bad condition. Her many friends will hope to see her soon in her accustomed place.

Dance at Catarauqui. A party of young people from the city went to Catarauqui Tuesday night and gave a dance in the hall of the village. McAuley's orchestra furnished music for the merry dancers until an early hour Wednesday morning, when the happy-bunch came back to town.

"PLEASE DON'T SWEAR."

Please Don't Swear There May be a Gentleman Present.

"Please don't swear. There may be a gentleman present." This seems to be a very peculiar form of a request, but it seems to be having more effect on the rowdy boys where it has been displayed than the old one of "No Swearing Allowed." A western Y.M.C.A. has displayed this sign prominently throughout the building, and they say that it has reduced swearing to a marked degree. One will say that swearing among Y.M.C.A. boys would hardly be expected, but nevertheless one must stop and realize that Y.M.C.A. boys are not by any means angels. They are only ordinary boys, and a great many ordinary boys think it is mainly to swear just a little.

CIVIC CHAIRMANSHIPS.

The Old Heads Will Likely be Chosen Again.

The probability is that at least three of last year's chairmen of civic committees will be chosen again to fill the duties they so ably performed in 1910. It is recognized that Ald. Carson will again be chairman of the water works, Ald. Elliott, of light, heat and power, and Ald. Rigney, of fire and light. The other two important committees are those of property and works, and for these Ald. Toye, Hoag, Hasty and Bailey are available. Each of the board has been chairman of the board of works. Neither of the latter two carries particularly for a chairmanship, so the probability is that Ald. Toye and Hoag will be chosen. Ald. McCann will likely again be made chairman of the industries committee, while Ald. Kent will be made chairman of the committee of parks. The mayor-elect will, of course, be chairman of finance.

SHELTERED THREE STRANGERS.

Hard Luck Faced Them in the City.

Three "strangers" in the city, were given shelter at the police station, on Tuesday night. The men arrived in the city, yesterday, from the west, and were looking for work. In their search they could not find employment, and as their funds were very low, they decided to seek shelter at the station, over night, and to save what little money they had, by paying for their meals. The weather last night, made the men wonder what had become of their summer's wages. The men continued their search for work, to-day.

Lively For His Age.

Writing from Thessalon, Ont., under date of Dec. 28th last, D. Haight says: "I find that my paper has about run out again. Please send it for another year. I am very sorry my friend, Mr. Pense, is gone. He was a grand man. The British Whig and I started in the same year (1898). I am now in my seventy-eighth year (Jan. 3rd), and will not likely want it much longer. Here is your dollar, send on the paper, and the Whig extends the heartiest of congratulations to Mr. Haight, and hopes that he will enjoy reading the Whig till we both pass the century mark."

Will Affect Mariners Here. The refusal of the United States Bureau of Naturalization to grant marine licenses to United States citizens resident in Canada will affect a wide variety of mariners in Kingston and vicinity. Captains, engineers, etc., who will have to move across the border line and take up residence in Uncle Sam's domain. Some local mariners who sail on upper lake vessels spend part of the winter here, but are practically residents of the United States, as they live over there most of the year.

They Are Interested. Among those interested in the formation of a Kingston Old Boys' Association in Kingston are: James Reid, William R. Lamb, Alfred E. Dean, Dr. C. C. Chadwick, Dr. David Kennedy, R. J. Melroy, Robert S. Tomkins, Harry L. Middleton, Donald McMillan, Patrick J. Howland, David McCann, Bernard Howland, Dr. A. E. Stewart, Joseph W. Melroy, Johnson H. Melroy, Frank W. Jackson, Charles W. Mills.

Bishop Offers Prize. Bishop Fa'lon has announced that he will give a prize of $100 to the pupil in the diocese making the highest marks at the entrance examinations next year, and will also give prizes to every pupil in the London Separate Schools passing the entrance examinations next year.

An Indian Chief Dead. William J. W. Hill, of the township of Tyendinaga Reservation, died at his home, on Christmas day, aged seventy-eight years. He was a descendant of the celebrated chief, Capt. Joseph Brant, well known in Canadian history, also from whom the township derived its name.

Roy Knudsen, manager of the Wright aviation exhibition troupe, has made the assertion that Archbishop Hoxsey, killed on Saturday, died from heart disease, while 2,600 feet in the air.

DESIRE FOR REVIVAL

REV. F. H. SPROULE DEALS WITH THE SUBJECT.

Some Prefer the Old-fashioned Revival and Others the Revival of Deeper and Broader Conviction of Christian Service.

The second union service of the week of prayer was held in the First Baptist church on Tuesday evening, Rev. D. Laing presiding. The address, "What Constitutes a Revival?" was given by Rev. F. H. Sproule, who spoke of the general desire for a revival in Kingston among those who were the real workers in the church. While there might be some difference of opinion as to the type of revival, he said that many would desire the old-fashioned evangelistic campaign, in which men began to think of getting ready for heaven, while others desire a revival, the basis of which is a deeper, broader conviction of Christian service.

The reasons for this preference, as given by the speaker, were, first, the great lack of the conception of responsibility in church members, second, the failure of any attempt at intelligently planning Christian activities, illustrated both by the Methodism and Protestantism of the city. The speaker claimed that there were no distinctive principles, and but few whims, to longer keep the Christian bodies, there represented, from organic and real union, and continued separation was almost criminal. The conclusion arrived at was that proper respect for Jesus and his teaching would lead the men of today to consecration to the service of God, with true ideals of citizenship and responsibility.

RETURNING TO ITALY.

Five Italians Passed Through to Naples.

Bound for their home in sunny Italy—five Italians, who have been engaged in working on the railways, near Belleville, arrived in the city, on Wednesday morning, and left for New York via Cape Vincent. They will then go direct to Naples. The men do not like the cold winter in Canada and it is the cold weather that is driving them home. They stated that they would likely come out to Canada again next summer. The men have been employed as laborers, and part of their luggage, consisted of the tools they used in their work.

A Kindly Tribute.

Canadian Freeman. While we are always pleased to note the prosperity of our native city, at the same time we deeply regret several losses which the municipality has sustained during the past year. These losses are more sorely tried than others. Of these more sorely tried than others, to include to one who was one of Kingston's most noble citizens, and whose untimely and lamented death on the 7th of last May still re-echoes the message of sorrow which the Freeman received on that sad occasion. We refer to the death of the late E. J. F. Pense, editor and publisher of the British Whig. His demise was a shock to the city and it will be a long time indeed before another personality of equal force of character, energy and kindness of heart, and public spirit, will rise up and fill the vacancy. In the different institutions which his death caused.

The interest in the play "St. Elmo" is not confined to any class or age of men and women. The book has been very popular with the last three generations and the management asserts that it is no unusual thing to see three generations of one family at a performance of it. Readers of fiction recall "St. Elmo" as one of the most beautiful love stories of the language. The character of Edna Earl is undoubtedly as appealing as any in fiction and the generation of "St. Elmo" Murray through her love is a tale of which one never tires. Miss Grace Hays, who dramatized the book last year, has a few liberties with the story and the result is a play that fully satisfies, wholesome and true to the last degree. At the Grand, on Saturday, Jan. 7th, matinee and night.

THE TITLE OF COUNT.

To be Borne by Capt. H. R. V. de Bury in Britain. London Times, Dec. 11th. Last night's Gazette announces that the king has granted to Henry Robert Visart de Bury, Esq., captain in his Majesty's Royal Regiment of Artillery, eldest son and heir of Robert Gonzales de Bury and de Bury, Visart de Bury, Esq., and authority that he and his heirs male of his body in succession (being respectively subjects of his Majesty's realm) upon whom the title of Count de Bury and de Bocarme shall descend may bear and use the said title of count in this country in the manner declared in the letters patent or diploma granted by the Emperor Maria Therese to Louis Francois Visart, and bearing date the 6th day of September, one thousand seven hundred and fifty-three.

Capt. de Bury graduated at the Royal Military College, Kingston, in 1882. He was professor of artillery, as Lieut. colonel, and held military law at the college from 1905 to 1909.

The Harbor Again Frozen Over. Ice has taken in the harbor again and it is the opinion of many that it will remain there for the winter. The ice is frozen to quite a thickness, and a couple of feet of ice will make it safe for crossing. It took during the snow storm, yesterday, and there are a couple of inches of snow on it.

Has Declined Principals. Prof. James Elliott, of Wesley College, Winnipeg, and son-in-law of J. E. Clark, Clergy street, Kingston, has declined the presidency of the Wesleyan Theological College in Montreal. Dr. Elliott was for some time a professor in the Wesleyan College.

COMING TO THE GRAND.

"The Cat and the Fiddle" on Thursday Night.

The offering at the Grand, on Thursday, Jan. 5th, is the newest success in the line of musical extravaganza, "The Cat and the Fiddle." Unlike most musical comedies, which are written in two acts, "The Cat and the Fiddle" has three acts and nineteen gorgeous scenes, brimful of new ideas, novelties, surprises, illusions, transformations, chorus numbers, song hits, etc.

It tells of an imaginative Fairyland and the mystical Island of Eye, which, together with certain earth beings of our own, forms a clever plot in which much original fun and wit is found. There are magical Great Gods and his Consort "Gree," a good fairy, Genie, and her wonderful gigantic cat; there are sprites, elf, gnomes, and faeries among the immortals, while the earth beings include a witty (and a humorous) Irishman, a funny Dutchman, the twin sisters, a hoisterous sea captain and sixty lieutenant and forty others.

Twain Was Caution.

Senator Stewart of Nevada told the story of Mark Twain's early days in Carson City. "At that time," said Senator Stewart, "the humorist had not attained the philosophic calm which comes with college degrees. He was a journalist, and an unorthodox one. In Carson City he boarded at the home of his brother, who was a moral citizen and a Christian. One morning I was the guest of this brother at breakfast. We had just seated ourselves at the table when a voice drewled from the staircase above: "Ha, you read the scripture lesson this morning?" "Yes," was the reply. "Had family prayer?" continued the voice from above. "Yes, Sam," said the host, smiling at me. "Said grace?" "Yes," responded the patient head of the household, this year is to order the removal of the toll gate bars on the Storrington road.
