

WILL OBJECT

To the United States New Marine Policy

TWO SALES OF LAND

YIELD HUDSON BAY COMPANY OVER $10,000,000.

High Duty Placed on Steel Rails for Re-rolling Railway Rails—Death at Ottawa of Charles A. Gough, Controller of Currency.

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—The Canadian authorities propose to make a protest to the Washington government against the new marine policy of requiring masters, mates and marine engineers holding United States certificates to reside in that country. Naturalization has always been necessary, but recently residence has been demanded as a condition of securing a license. A large number of holders of United States licenses living in Canada will be seriously affected and the government will doubtless take action in their behalf.

The death occurred, Wednesday morning, of Charles A. Gough, controller of currency. The deceased, who was a native of England, entered the department of finance at the age of nineteen, and was appointed controller six months ago.

It is reported that Hudson Bay Company has made two sales of land which will yield $10,000,000 to $11,000,000. One buyer bought 500,000 acres, another 200,000.

An order-in-council has been passed placing on steel rails used for re-rolling railway rails, weighing not less than fifty-five pounds per yard, a duty of $7 a ton, instead of the ad valorem duty of twenty-five per cent, which had been collected in the past. The reason given for this action, which coincides with the expiry of the bounties on iron and steel, is that a plant has been established in Canada capable of re-rolling those rails in considerable quantities. The duty on steel rails proper is $7 a ton.

Prof. M. Cumming, secretary of the Nova Scotia department of agriculture and principal of the Agricultural College at Truro, N.S., will be one of the judges of horses at the horse show, to be held at Lansdowne park, here, this month.

BEEN RECOVERED

RELICS FROM THE MAINE AT HAVANA.

Some Human Remains Recovered: Also Shells and Other Articles—An External Explosion.

Havana, Jan. 5.—The first human remains from the wreck of the old battleship Maine were brought to the surface, to-day, by a dredge. They consisted of two ribs and some small bones, apparently bones of the hand, and they were carefully placed in a special receptacle to await the recovery of other parts.

The dredge also brought up some three-inch shells, a large quantity of coal and a portion of the coal bunkers, lying apart from the ship, which is considered as possibly confirmatory of the theory of an external explosion under the bunkers. This, however, cannot be verified without a further examination of the wreck. The work on the bulk is continuing without interruption, the men having expressed willingness to await the settlement of the question of overdue pay and other grievances.

Record for Divorces.

Detroit, Jan. 5.—One divorce suit in every five marriages is the unenviable record of Wayne county for 1910, and practically all of these were applied for in Detroit courts. The record is one which the county officials say has never been equalled in any state in the union. During the year 5,600 marriage licenses were issued, and 8,425 divorce suits were filed. This brings the average up to a trifle more than one divorce to each five marriages.

$40,000 Fines for Rebating.

Philadelphia, Jan. 5.—Judge Holland in the United States district court inflicted fines of $10,000 each on the Philadelphia and Reading railway, the Lehigh Valley Railroad company and the Bethlehem Steel company, charged with unlawful rebating. The defendants will appeal.

Talks with the Advertising Man

"A GOOD 5 PER CENT. INVESTMENT"

I know two young men who three years ago started in the men's furnishings business in a busy little Ontario city.

They could not get a location on the best business street in the city, so they took one about three blocks from the "busy corner."

They realized that the handicap of a poor location must be overcome by advertising. They must bring the people to the store, since they could not take the store to the people.

Newspaper advertising of a vigorous style was decided upon as the solution of the problem.

The business has been a success. Five per cent. of the total sales was decided upon as the amount they could afford to spend in advertising, and the business grew so satisfactorily that the third year their sales were more than three times those of the first year.

They turn their stock three times a year, which is pretty good for a men's furnishings business.

In their advertisements they always have something fresh; they are always interesting, and one of the newspapers carrying their advertising has, according to its proprietor, increased its circulation 1,000 copies a day, because it contained this store's advertisements.

You couldn't get much better proof that people like to read advertisements.

Since these young men started in business they have kept a record of all the births in the city, and once a month they send a picture post card to every child on the list, which now has about 2,000 names. This has undoubtedly increased their popularity.

But they attribute their success to their decision to spend 5 per cent. of their sales in newspaper advertising, and to the fact that they have made good use of the space they have bought. An equally important factor is that they have given value.

Good value and good advertising will bring success to any well-managed business.

NONE IN 2015

Babies Will be Completely Extinct Then

A HORRID OUTLOOK

TO DISAPPEAR FROM THE UNITED STATES.

This is the Mathematical Conclusion of Walter F. Wilcox, a Professor of Cornell University—Race Suicide is Very Prevalent, He Says.

St. Louis, Jan. 5.—There will be no children in the United States over five years of age in the year 2015. Babies, accordingly, will have disappeared from this country as early as 2015.

This is the mathematical conclusion of Walter F. Wilcox, professor of political economy, and statistics of Cornell University, after exhaustive study and comparison of birthrates during the last century. Dr. Wilcox addressed the American Scientific Association to-day on the subject.

The only hope of seeing babies in the United States after 2020, according to Professor Wilcox's calculations is by importing them from France, France, he says, will continue to have babies eighty years after the United States has quit. But this condition is to come about, Professor Wilcox says, only if "the proportion of decrease in the number of children to the number of women of marriageable age is continued uninterrupted for another 110 years."

"There is proportionately more race suicide in the United States than in France," said Professor Wilcox. "The proportion of children under five years of age to women between the ages of fifteen and forty-nine years in the United States in 1900 was only 5 per cent. of what it was in 1810. The birth rate in France in 1900 was 69 per cent. of what it was in 1810."

Addressing the Sociological Association of sociology at the University of New York, George Elliot Howard, professor of braskia, declared the state should honor motherhood by endowing mothers.

LIBEL SUIT DISMISSED.

New York World Wins Out in Famous Indictment.

Washington, Jan. 5.—By unanimous decision the supreme court of the United States, decided that the federal government could not maintain the so-called "Panama canal libel suit" against the Press Publishing company, publishers of the New York World, in the federal courts of New York. In so holding, the court affirmed the decision of the circuit court of the United States for the southern district of New York, which had quashed the famous indictment.

In effect, the decision was that the federal court had no jurisdiction over the alleged offense, because the case might have been brought in a state court.

In effect, the alleged libel was the publication of articles stating that Charles P. Taft, Douglas Robinson and William Nelson Cromwell, with J. Pierpont Morgan and others, obtained control of the Panama canal route for about $13,000,000, and, by the cooperation of Theodore Roosevelt, then president of the U. S., and brother-in-law of Mr. Robinson, and President William H. Taft, then secretary of war, were enabled to effect the sale of the Panama canal route to the United States at a profit of $36,000,000.

MONUMENT TO MOISANT

Of Granite and Bronze on Spot Where He Fell.

New Orleans, Jan. 5.—The memory of John R. Moisant will be perpetuated in a monument of granite and bronze to be erected in the marshes near Harahan at the spot where he fell to his death, on Saturday, from a Blériot monoplane.

Tentative plans for the movement to erect the monument are in the hands of Crawford H. Ellis, chairman of the citizens' committee, which had charge of the recent aviation meet here. Mr. Ellis said he felt sure contributions to this monument would come from every section of the United States, Europe, and Central America.

Families Wedded Each Other.

Quebec, Jan. 5.—A very rare case of relationship was noticed, yesterday, at the celebration of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moran, of St. Marie de Labarre. Among the guests were eight of the old couple's children, who are married to eight children of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rheume. The consequence is that there was never so great a gathering of cousins in the parish.

Inquiry Into Farmers' Bank.

Milton, Ont., Jan. 5.—A petition, largely signed by farmer shareholders of the wrecked Farmers' Bank, is in circulation in the counties of Halton and Oxford, as well as in other districts where Farmers' Bank stock is held, asking for the appointment of a royal commission to investigate the affairs of the Farmers' Bank since its incorporation.

Died From Burns.

Sherbrooke, Que., Jan. 5.—Joseph Chartrand, of Lake Megantic, died in the hospital here as the result of burns. He was alone in the house and started a fire with coal oil. The flames caught his clothing and he was soon a mass of flames. His wife and son arriving were badly burned in trying to put out the fire.

THE CHURCH HAS PUT UP STRONG OPPOSITION

To Erect a Thoroughly Modern Home for Grand Opera—The Main Promoter is Harry Higgins of Hotel Reitz.

Montreal, Jan. 5.—It is understood here that, despite the vigorous opposition of the Catholic church, Episcopalian lodge of French Free Masons has been re-organized and three hundred prominent citizens of Montreal have made application for membership.

Lieut.-Col. Meighan, one of Montreal's wealthiest men, admitted to your correspondent, this morning, that a proposal was on foot to erect a thoroughly modern home for grand opera in Montreal. A building that will eclipse everything in Canada will be erected. Harry Higgins, president of the Hotel Reitz, to be erected shortly, is the main promoter of the project.

It is also set forth in the report that although industrial and financial conditions have gradually improved until the city has reached normal opportunities for employment, thousands of families are still away below the normal conditions.

This is accounted for in a statement at R. Fulton Cutting, president of the association, by the increased cost of living and by the slowness with which the poor recover from industrial depression.

"At the beginning of the year," says Mr. Cutting, "it was hoped that improvement in industrial and commercial conditions would lighten the association's task of ministering to the needs of the worthy poor. This hope has been fulfilled only in a small measure. The number of families applying to us for aid during the twelve months ending September 30th, was less than ten per cent. below that of the year before, while the number for whom we were obliged to provide the necessities of life was less than five per cent. below that of 1909."

MORGAN'S TRIUMPH

He Has Had a Foe Put Out of the Way

Washington, N.J., Jan. 5.—The resignation of William Ellis Corey as president of the billion dollar United States Steel corporation is declared by financial leaders to mark the triumph of J. Pierpont Morgan in his fight for complete control of the gigantic corporation. With the elimination of Corey, whose resignation is assumed of acceptance by the board of directors on January 25th, the last vestige of Andrew Carnegie's influence in the affairs of the company, aside from his enormous bond holdings, is wiped out.

HE SOLD HIS VOTE.

Confessed That He Might Die in Peace.

West Fenton, O., Jan. 5.—Fearful lest he might die without having a chance to make his peace on earth, Alexander Fleming, a civil war veteran, who is seriously ill, to-day, sent his grandson to Judge Blair to tell him that for years he had sold his vote. He did not know whether he had been indicted, but he asked that the court act on his case at once, so that if his present illness should prove fatal he might die in peace. The grandson, Jesse Fleming, a first voter, also confessed to having sold his first ballot. Both were disfranchised.

Judge Blair, who ordered a recess of the vote-probing grand jury until next Friday, will make an extra effort in the interim to catch up in the arraignment of men who have been indicted. Over two hundred confessed, yesterday.

DRINK OF DEATH?

AN EXPERT ON POISONS WAS INSANELY JEALOUS.

Strange Dual Tragedy—Young Couple Found Dead in Home of the Bride on the Eve of Her Marriage.

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 5.—A "drink of death," it is believed, instead of the "death kiss," caused the strange double tragedy, the victims of which, Grace Blosser and Charles Edward Twigg, were found dead in the home of the young woman on the eve of her wedding.

"We are completely baffled by this great poison mystery, but are still sure that it was neither a case of accidental double suicide nor of accidental death," State Attorney Robb said. Yesterday he predicted an arrest but finally decided that his evidence was too weak.

It is believed now that the poison was taken in liquid form, but by whom it was administered and the details of the last moments of the two together are as much a mystery as ever. So far the authorities have nothing but theories to work on.

Twigg's mother has given out a statement to the effect that one of her sisters committed suicide several years ago on the eve of her intended marriage, somewhat after the way in which the young man died. The mother said further that Twigg was engaged to Miss Lily Dye, an Indiana girl, until a few months ago. Miss Dye returned the engagement ring with the request that he give it to another should he decide to marry.

There is still a strong belief in Keizer, where Twigg lived, that he caused the girl's death and then took his own life. Twigg was an expert in the use of poisons and that he had been studying government reports regarding the use of potassium cyanide and other deadly drugs, supposedly to be used for spraying purposes in his orchard. He could have easily secured the poison, it is pointed out, without arousing suspicion.

As for the motive of Twigg, should it be shown that he administered the poison, it is said that he had been informed that his bride-elect had recently been seen in the company of her former husband, Maurice Willison. The girl still cared for Willison, it is said, and Twigg was insanely jealous of him.

It is known that Twigg called his bride-to-be on the telephone, saying he wanted to see her—that he had something important to tell her. Rumor says Miss Blosser urged him to tell her the news over the wire and that Twigg refused to do so. Finally she consented to wait for him at her home. He went to her home. Some time afterwards the two were found dead.

During the year 15 new factories were built and 581 made improvements, the total expenditure on the same being $123,000. Eastern Ontario's output of cheese is 97,000,000 pounds.
