City Government by Commission-

Cakland, Cal., is among the latest cities to adopt the commission form of government, which it did last month by a vote of three to one. The progressive victory was decisive, and though the consent of the legislature i necessary, no difficulty is anticipated in having the popular verdict carried into effect. The new charter provides for a commission of five members, | hearded by the mayor, establishes the initiative, referendum and recall, limits all franchise grants to thirty-five years, authorizes regulation of rates for public utilities, and reorganizes the municipal civil service. The only elective officers are mayor, auditor, four commissioners and six school directors. In the governing body of five all responsibility will be centred.

A SMART LITTLE PAQUIN SUIT OF NAVY SERGE. The loose box coat and very narrow skirt of the season are well exemplified in this clever little walking costume by Paquin. The cut of the skirt, with a circular top and a deep apron portion sloping downward from the front, is especially interesting. The coat closes in de-breasted fashion under two enormous cord ornaments. Navy blue serge is the material of this costume, and the coat is lined with warm scarlet satin. A touch of skunk fur adds richness, and the big muff of fox fur completes a verychic costume.
