Now for Ice Boating.

Now that the ice is here to stay, hose who are interested in ice-boatng will be hauling out their crafts and getting them in shape for the winter's sport. The ice is quite smooth having frozen on a calm night. There is quite a lot of snow on the ice present time, which will make it dif ficult for the boats to make headway. A great deal of interest is taken around here in this sport and thece are several fine boats belonging to residents of the city. Some regard this sport as being rather dangerous, but one does not realize how exhibitating it is until one is lying beneath th Tapping sails and listening to runners gliding rapidly over the frozen
