

FRATERNAL PRESCRIPTION

FOR NERVOUS WRECKS.

(From "Medical Reports.")

Thousands of men, nervous wrecks have found the following "fraternal prescription" a blessing and a boon. Such men lack aggressiveness, they are timid, nervous, easily discouraged, lacking in self-esteem and confidence. They suffer from cold extremities, thin watery blood, nervousness, sleeplessness, frightful dreams, trembling hands and limbs, unsteady gait and an absolute inability to perform the ordinary natural and rational acts or duties such as any healthy normal man can.

SOCIALIST CANDIDATES FAIL

Philip Snowden on Their Defeat in the British Contest.

In an article on the general election appearing in the current issue of the Christian Commonwealth, Philip Snowden, M.P., writes: "The success of the labor party candidates stands out in striking contrast to the failure of the independent socialist candidates. There is something pathetic in the failure of Mr. Hyndham. The pathos of his unrelieved record of failure is increased by the obvious inability of himself and his following to realize the reasons for their lack of success. If they would try to understand something of the working of those laws of evolution of which they talk so much but know so little they might become something other than painful objects of political ineptitude. Their ideas and methods are utterly alien to British traditions and British sentiments. 'The workers are, neither stupid nor unconscious.' They can and do, as the success of the labor party shows, respond to an appeal which is made to them in a practical and reasonable way. There is no opening in England for a socialism 'made in Germany.' Socialism must adapt itself to the history, the traditions, the peculiar social and industrial conditions of each country. This Mr. Hyndham and his friends have never realized."
