ARM WAS FRACTURED

W. F. KELLY MET WITH SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Missed Hold on Rail When He was About to Board a Train—Suffered a Bad Shaking Up—Was Removed to Hotel Dieu.

As the result of an accident he met with on Friday, William F. Kelly, the well-known oil dealer, is laid up, at the Hotel Dieu, with a fractured arm, and is also suffering from a severe shaking up. He is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. Kelly was a passenger on a C.P.R. train, returning from Ottawa, where he had been on business. It appears that when the train made a stop at a station, the other side of Sharbot Lake, he had just finished eating his lunch, in the dining car, and instead of walking through the car to the day coach, he got out on to the platform, and then walked to the car. When he went to grasp the rail of the car, he slipped his hold and fell, with the result that his right arm was fractured at the shoulder joint. He was nearest the car, and at Sharbot Lake he was attended by Dr. Coutlee, and upon the arrival of the train in Kingston, he was removed to the Hotel Dieu, where Drs. Mylks and Hanley reduced the fracture.

Told in Twilight

Mrs. George Cliff, "Park Villa," Barrie street, afforded a pleasant afternoon to a large number of her friends, when she entertained at tea, on Wednesday, at her pretty home. The decorations in the reception room were very tastefully arranged, and the tea room was made most attractive by Killarney roses, employed in its appointments. The hostess received in a lovely gown of satin striped mauve and black, with large bow of mauve satin at the edge of the train. The bodice which was empire in the back had kimono sleeves and was finished with bands of mauve and silver, and a handsome bugle ornament. The dainty yoke was of deep red net. Mrs. H. H. Wormwith, Mrs. John Nicolle, Mrs. S. R. Bailey, Mrs. L. W. Gill and Mrs. John Gaskin assisted Mrs. Cliff in entertaining the guests in the drawing room. Mrs. A. F. Chown, and Mrs. R. H. Toye poured tea and coffee at a polished mahogany table, laid with a Chiny lace centre piece and doilies and central with a mirror on which was arranged a handsome cut glass bowl full of Killarney roses and maiden hair fern. Tall roses of lilies-of-the-valley stood at each corner of the table. Mrs. R. E. Sparks served the ice, and among others helping were Mrs. J. P. Sparks, Miss Adelle Toye, Miss Mabel Mosk, Miss Mabel Milo, Miss Olive Boyd, Miss Hazel Massie, Miss Florence Williamson, Miss Marjorie McMahon, Mrs. Jean Gaskin and Miss Jessie Dickson. Master Courtland Elliott opened the front door and little Miss Crawford ushered the guests into the drawing room. The affair was practically a leavetaking for many of Mrs. Cliff's friends, as she will be so busy from now till the time she goes west that she will not be able to receive or pay visits. She and Mr. Cliff will be very greatly missed when they leave us.

Mrs. George McKay, Stuart street, was hostess at a particularly bright and pleasant tea on Thursday afternoon in the drawing room. In the tea room the polished table was arranged with a lace centre piece, and a large bowl of pink roses, and lighted by softly shaded candles. Mrs. John McKay poured coffee and Mrs. H. B. R. Craig poured tea, and Mrs. Richard Waldron cut the ice, assisted by Mrs. Charles Low, Miss Etta Callaghan, Miss Florrie Stewart and Miss Helen Uglow. The guests included Mrs. William Hart, Mrs. Holloway Wadell, Mrs. Edward Steady, Mrs. J. Walton, Mrs. Hugh Nickle, Miss Marion Redden, Mrs. J. W. Rigney, Mrs. Harcourt Callaghan, Mrs. Gordon Melks, Mrs. McCallum, St. Catharines; Mrs. R. H. Partridge, Mrs. Jeremy Taylor, Mrs. Stafford Kirkpatrick, Miss Josephine and Agnes Browne, Miss Frances Sullivan, Miss Nan Patterson, Miss Susie Arden, Miss Kate Smellie, Miss Jessie Dickson, Miss Edith Young, Miss Lilla Callaghan, Miss McKeon and Miss Mabel Dalton.

Mrs. H. R. Duff, Princess street, entertained at a most enjoyable and interesting bridge, on Thursday afternoon. Cards were played at eight tables and the prizes were won by Mrs. D. Phelan and Miss Eleanor Macdonell, Mrs. Campbell Strange and Mrs. Vere Hooper presiding over the tea table, which was centred by a huge bowl of red tulips, Mrs. Jeremy Taylor helped the ice cream. Among the guests were Mrs. J. P. Shine, Mrs. Kenneth Blair, Mrs. T. D. R. Hemming, Mrs. P. C. Stevenson, Mrs. Frank Strange, Mrs. Edwin Loucks, Winnipeg; Mrs. McLeod and her guest, Mrs. Stiles, of Cornwall; Mrs. Cornelius Birmingham, Mrs. Hugh Macpherson, Mrs. D. Phelan, Mrs. H. Wise Man of To-Day

IS NO MORE THAN A FOOL IN GOD'S SIGHT.

Rev. E. L. Rice Speaks About the Foolish Farmer—A More Aggressive Campaign to be Undertaken by the Churches.

The week of special evangelistic services in a hall on the street Methodist church was brought to close on Friday evening. Owing to improved weather conditions, the attendance was somewhat larger than on other evenings during the week. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. D. Laing and Rev. S. Selvery. The speaker for the evening was Rev. E. L. Rice, of the First Congregational church, who took for his text the parable of the rich farmer or the rich fool, Luke xii, 6-20.

The speaker asked his hearers if they regarded this man as Christ has described him, as a fool. Is not God's fool the world's wise man? The preacher thus endeavored to modernize the parable by placing the soul of man in the parable into the body of one of our modern farmers or business men. Such a man to-day would doubtless be regarded as exceedingly wise. If he were proposed for a city councillor, he would be elected by a sweeping majority. It is evident that God's fool is to-day the world's wise man. But in the face of all this, God again reiterates his former judgment, and says, "Thou Fool." We pause to ask ourselves wherein we have gone wrong in an estimate of this man. Like the man himself we had forgotten about the soul. But this God never overlooks. Every man is in reality three men. There is the man as his friend and neighbors see him, the man as he sees himself and the man as God sees him. In his own eyes and in the eyes of his friends and neighbors, the man of the parable was an admirable fellow, but in the eyes of God he was a fool. The question which every man must ask himself is this: What am I in the sight of God? He that makes provision for the probable but no provision for the inevitable is a fool.

At the close of the meeting plans for future work among the churches were discussed. It is believed that in the near future a more aggressive campaign will be carried on in an effort to reach the men of the city.

Oyster Supper at Wolfe Island. Wolfe Island, Jan. 14.—An enjoyable evening was spent here on Monday, Jan. 9th, at an oyster supper given by the members of Circle No. 190, of the Order of Canadian Home Circles.

After the regular meeting of the Circle the lodge room was thrown open and a public installation held. The following officers for 1911 were installed: Past leader, George Friend; leader, William Kemp; vice-leader, Oscar Favoret; secretary, Mrs. David Bustard; treasurer, George Boyd; financial secretary, Herbert Leakey; chairman, Rev. Walter Cox; marshal, Rodney Walker; warden, Mrs. George Friend; guard, M. Wiggins; sentinel, Robert Todd.

The general chaplain, Rev. W. Cox, was then appointed to the chair. He opened the programme with a song and chorus. Readings and recitations followed, the Misses Keyes, Topping and Kenney and Master Austin Friend contributed. Ladies of Wolfe Island are noted for their culinary accomplishments, but on this occasion the members of the Circle excelled themselves in providing for the inner man. The beautifully appointed tables were a feast for the eyes.

After supper the programme was resumed. Recitations were given by the Misses Stella and Mabel Walker, Masters Amos Friend and Earle Kemp. The chairman delighted audience with another song and then called for an address from Brother Walker, organizer of Home Circles, who had come from his home in Port Hope to be present at the gathering. He stated the benefits of the Circle in a few well-chosen words and expressed himself as well pleased with the progress of Circle No. 190, which has added to its numbers twenty-one new members within the past two months. Dr. Spankie followed with a short address and the entertainment closed about midnight with the singing of the National Anthem.

Public Prayer Meeting. That revival interest may be scripturally and vitally increased in the Protestant churches, Bethel church will be open from 2.30 to 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, and from 7.30 to 9 o'clock Monday evening, that all may assemble in concert for prayer at these periods on Monday. Individuals may come and go as they please.
