

DAIRY NEEDS

Delegation Heard by Sir Richard Cartwright.

GOVERNMENT IS ALIVE

TO THE IMPORTANCE OF DAIRY INDUSTRY

In the House, Sir A. B. Aylesworth Told What Was Done at Washington Regarding Fisheries Treaty—A New Match Bill.

Special to the Whig.

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—Sir A. Aylesworth, minister of justice, yesterday afternoon, told the house what was done at Washington lately regarding the fisheries treaty, going into details. Sir Alan denied that there had been any important concessions to America, but conservative members tried to find some.

There was considerable talk on Hon. F. Oliver's immigration act, and in the evening Hon. Mackenzie King, minister of labor, discussed the new bill he is introducing relative to the manufacture of matches.

Sir Richard Cartwright heard a delegation of dairymen who asked that the government grant them protection to the same extent as that accorded the western wheat growers. The delegation also asked that legislation be enacted whereby five cents or ten per cent of each shipment of cheese should be weighed in one lot, instead of each box of cheese separately, and that the actual weight be given instead of the up beam, with one-quarter or one-half pound, as is the custom. The delegation believed that by this method an honest average would be obtained, and that the dairymen would receive their just returns. Owing to the wrongs in the weighing of cheese and butter in Montreal the delegation asked that the government appoint an official weigher, who will weigh all cheese and butter, instead of the present weigher who is an appointee of the Montreal Produce Merchants' Association.

Sir Richard Cartwright, in response said the matter brought before him was one which lay more in the province of Hon. Sydney Fisher, minister of agriculture, and he regretted that Mr. Fisher was not present, but an important meeting kept him in Quebec.

The government, said Sir Richard, was fully alive to the importance of the dairying industry in Canada. It looked to see it expand and realized there was much room for it. The North-West, he said, was in many places especially adapted for dairying in view of its being in parts a great cattle country. Then there was another big reason why the government wanted to pay particular attention to the dairying interests, that reason being the conserving of the resources of the dominion.

"I am not a farmer," said Sir Richard, "but I have come in touch with many farmers, and I believe that no one thing has secured more to preserve the fertility of the soil than the dairy interest. Places almost sterilized by undue repetition of crops have been put right again by the dairy system."

Fifty thousand dollars were subscribed towards financing an immediate corrective campaign in the states and Canada.

THE BISHOP FORBIDS

ISSUING MARRIAGE LICENSES TO DIVORCED PERSONS

And to a Man With His Deceased Wife's Sister—The Chancellor of the Diocese Has Been Issuing These Licenses.

New York, Jan. 20.—The Tribune's London correspondent cables: No little stir has been occasioned in church circles by a remarkable letter from the Bishop of London expressing his strong disapproval of the action of the chancellor of the diocese in issuing licenses for the marriage of divorced persons or of a man with his deceased wife's sister. The issue of such licenses, though in accordance with the civil law, has never received the sanction of the church, and the bishop maintains that it is contrary to the practice and custom of the diocese.

So strongly does he feel on the subject that he forbids all licenses in his name without his previous consent in writing.

THE ULSTER YARNS

INVESTIGATION PROVES THAT NOTHING IS GOING ON.

Many Have Firearms, But no Weapons are Being Imported and No Preparations Made.

London, Jan. 20.—The reports that Ulster is arming against home rule which were recently given prominence in many newspapers, in reports to the Daily Mail, itself a nationalist organ, as the result of a special investigation. It says that no arms are being imported openly or surreptitiously into Ulster, nor are any arrangements for such importations discoverable. Neither the police nor customs officials confirm the reports. It is a fact that firearms, including discarded police rifles, are widely owned by the populace in Ulster, and many of the people carry revolvers. This is well known to the government and police. There are no restrictions of the sale or distribution of firearms anywhere in Ireland. Many local nationalist leaders profess ignorance of arming. On the other hand some speak mysteriously about precautions and preparations against home rule, but on the whole, although the agitation is active, the leaders seem to be relying on passive resistance. Doubtless rioting is likely in the near future, such as Belfast and Londonderry, but nothing of the sort has been organized.

FLEET PLANS

Sir Richard Cartwright Speaks in Senate.

TO BE TWELVE SHIPS

THE WAY THEY ARE TO BE ASSIGNED.

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—In the senate, yesterday, Senator Landry elicited from Sir Richard Cartwright information on several matters of public interest. Sir Richard said that the plans from which the Canadian cruisers and destroyers would be built have been received from England, and that the naval programme called for the construction of four second-class cruisers of the Bristol class and six destroyers of the improved river class. In addition to these there was the Niobe and the Rainbow. To the Pacific would be assigned two Bristols, which would together carry a complement of 742 officers and men, and the Rainbow, with 273 officers and men. On the Atlantic there would be two Bristols, with 742 officers and men; six destroyers, with a total complement of 576 officers and men, and the Niobe, with 705 officers and men. The Niobe and Rainbow are now being used entirely as training ships, but eventually they will be used as parent ships for destroyer fleets, and as such will be fighting units.

Senator Landry was further told that the present parliament would by statute expire on December 3rd, 1913. There was power to dissolve parliament before that date, and Hon. Mr. Brodeur was within the law of the land in making the statement that the general election would take place in 1912.

INTEREST IN FORESTRY.

The Sessions at Quebec are Largely Attended.

Quebec, Jan. 20.—Interest in the work of the Forestry Association shows no abatement. The sessions are largely attended and the discussions following the reading of the various papers show an intimate knowledge of forestry problems. At the very outset of the convention it was suggested that the association should adopt as its motto "do something." With this object of accomplishing something definite, the association has tried to crystallize into resolutions the substance of the various papers and the discussions following the addresses. The papers have been by trained men, and have been brimful of practical, helpful information and suggestions. Altogether the convention has been a happy combination of educationists, forestry experts, lumbermen, legislators, and representatives of the transportation companies. Their views do not always coincide, but a common practical working basis has been found, which invariably meets the situation.
