STORIES OF PARIS COURTS.

Barristers and Sleepy Judge—Arguments in Murder Cases.

The centenary of the Paris bar, recently celebrated at the Palais de Justice, has recalled numerous anecdotes which are going the rounds on the humors of the law courts.

Among others it is told how a well-known lawyer, M. Alon Rousseau, was pleading a rather tiresome case and noticed that the judges were paying no attention to him, said: "As the president is falling asleep I suspend my speech." But the judge had just woken up and cried: "And I suspend you from practicing for six months."

Nothing daunted, the lawyer retorted: "Well, I suspend myself for ever and ever," and gathering up his brief and cap he left the court and never appeared again.

A Paris barrister, M. Clerly, however, was more vigorous. Seeing that the president and the assessors were all asleep, he stopped, and dealing a tremendous blow on the desk in front of him that woke everybody up with a start, he cried: "Yesterday at this same hour I was saying—" and the whole bench rubbed their eyes and asked each other if they had really slept through twenty-four hours.

The same counsel was pleading at Versailles on a cold day and remarked that the judge were all turning more and more around toward a stove that gave out a welcome heat. "The tribunal behind which I have the honor of speaking," brought them all "right about face" at once.

On another occasion the judge asked him to cut his speech short, as the court had made up its mind. Assuming the air of a childlike native, M. Clerly retorted: "Me right, you good judges, him innocent," and sat down.

Though not intended humorously, the celebrated criminal advocate Maître Henri Robert made a hit the other day when defending the matricide Wache de Roo. He produced an act of renunciation signed by the prisoner of all benefit from the will of the mother he had murdered and added to the jury: "So if you acquit him he will go forth miserable and poor, perhaps to Madagascar, to repent of an act which he may have committed in a moment of thoughtlessness!"

And the verdict of the jury was typical. They found that he had committed murder, but that he had not killed his mother, although the unfortunate lady was the only person who had been killed. This was in order to save the prisoner from ten years' penal servitude, which is the minimum penalty for parricide, whereas manslaughter with extenuating circumstances can be let off with more confinement.

France is beyond doubt the country where murder can be committed with the least fear of serious consequences provided that any sentimental element can be introduced. In the case of Wache de Roo he cried and sobbed piteously during the whole proceedings and swooned when being interrogated, but it was noticed that as soon as the sentence was passed he seemed to recover his self-possession altogether. It is not in theatres alone that the most excellent comedies are often to be seen.

ECZEMA AND WHAT IS DONE TO CURE IT

Desperate Efforts, Disheartening Failures and Final Success.

Eczeema is a skin affliction to which men and women alike are subject, from the first to the last day of their existence. It may occur as a single tiny spot, appearing and disappearing with each change in general health or present only at certain seasons; at the other extreme, the whole body may be involved in a torturing eruption. The latter condition may gradually arise through the neglect or improper treatment of lesser troubles or an apparently healthy skin may, in a single day, become a mass of eczeema.

On another occasion the judge asked him to cut his speech short, as the court had made up its mind. Assuming the air of a childlike native, M. Clerly retorted: "Me right, you good judges, him innocent," and sat down.

QUEEN MARY'S CROWN.

Her Majesty Has Not Yet Selected it for the Coronation.

Queen Mary has not yet selected the design for her crown for the coronation. As queen consort, a crown has to be specially made for her, as the state crown is worn by the king.

Only a certain latitude of choice is allowed the queen. She may decide on the shape with regard to the curving of the arches and their number; that is all. The crown must consist of a circle of diamonds resting on a narrow ornate border, a cap of crimson velvet, four crosses and four diamond fleur-de-lis as in the state crown. The diamonds will be set in platinum, but the pose of the hoops can be suggested by any crown of any period the queen prefers, whether of Hanoverian, Stuart, Tudor or Plantagenet.

In the state crown there are four arches surmounted by a cross. Queen Alexandra chose to have eight hoops, after the fashion of the crown of James I, instead of four, and the arches were not so raised.

The present state crown was made from jewels taken from old crowns and other ornaments at the command of Queen Victoria. It has now, in addition to one large ruby, one large broad shaped sapphire, sixteen sapphires, eleven emeralds, four rubies, 1,363 brilliant diamonds, 1,273 rose diamonds, 147 table diamonds, four drop shaped pearls and 273 pearls with the smaller of the Cullinan diamonds inset.

The city artist had tramped over fields and meadows without finding a cow suitable for a model. At last he sighted a and looking animal with a shaggy hide and protruding ribs. However, it was the only cow available, and he tried to strike a bargain with its owner.

"How much will you charge to sketch your cow?" he inquired.

"Dinner charging $1.50 a day," drawled the rustic.

"Dollar and a half a day? Great Scott! Don't you consider it rather dear for such a model as that?"

The owner stood in deep meditation.

"It may be, stranger," he pondered, "but you look like a decent sort of a chap. Suppose you give me $2 an' you can have the whole blamed cow!"—Chicago News.

Every housewife who uses flour must be interested in ROBIN HOOD "the flour that is different."
You hear it makes a bigger loaf, that the loaf is sweeter-flavored, more nutritious, more easily assimilated than bread made with other flours.
We can tell you why ROBIN HOOD Flour makes that kind of a loaf, but what ought to interest you more than "why it does" is that "it does."

An Encouraging Message
I have a message of hope and good cheer, of encouragement and inspiration to every suffering woman. I have endured the torture due to female troubles and the consequent despondency and mental agony almost to the point of despair, and I have been restored from this condition to a state of vigorous health, and to the happy, exhilarating frame of mind which accompanies physical well being. This change has been brought about through the use of ORANGE LILY.
In addition I have had the privilege and pleasure of inducing multitudes of other suffering women to give ORANGE LILY a trial, and have received thousands of enthusiastic acknowledgments of the blessings it has brought to them. The following is a sample:
Truro, N. S., April 5, 1909.
Dear Mrs. Currah.—Your very kind letter was received yesterday. In reply to your question about my health, I am thankful to say that I am very well. As I have never given you a statement of my case you may be interested in it.
For several years I have suffered untold agony. This suffering was continuous, but I would have violent attacks every few weeks, each attack lasting several days. The first Sunday in November, I felt the pain increasing and so did not go to prayers. The rest of the family did go, and soon after the forcing down pains seized me and I had to remain on the floor until their return. I was in great pain all night and was very sick for a whole week.
Then Mrs. L. came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine. I got my husband to send for it right away, as I was too sick to write a note. (My doctor could do nothing for me.) I have used 5 boxes of ORANGE LILY, have had three months of good rest, and am now well, never better in my life. I have not had the old pains since. I often ask my husband if it is myself that is going around and doing my own work. I can scarcely believe it. It brings tears of joy to my eyes. I could shout it to all the world. I cannot speak enough in its praise.
Receiving, as I do, dozens of such reports each day, I feel impelled to make known to my suffering sisters the merits of ORANGE LILY. It differs from other so-called remedies in that it is not taken internally. It is a strictly local treatment, and is applied directly to the affected organs. Its curative elements are absorbed into the congested tissues, expelling the stagnant foreign matter which has been irritating the membrane and depressing the secret and a growth of feeling of physical and mental relief is noticeable almost from the start. It is a positive, scientific remedy, and even if you use no more than the Free Trial treatment you will be very materially benefited.
FREE TRIAL OFFER
I want every reader of this who suffers in any way from painful monthly periods, irregularities, leucorrhoea, inflammation or congestion of the womb, pains in the back, etc., to send me their addresses, and I will forward at once, without charge, 10 days' treatment. If your case is not far advanced it may entirely cure you, and in any event it will do you much good. I am so anxious to make this statement, and so positive that it is true, that I trust every sufferer who reads this notice will take advantage of my offer and get cured at home, without a doctor's bill. Address, enclosing 2 stamps, 10c each, FRANCES E. CURRAN, Wigan, ENGLAND.

Salvador's BEER
THE FAMOUS NATIONAL DRINK
There's a story behind "Salvador" beer—Canada's most famous brew—that carries us back to the year 1651
The Grand Duke Ferdinand, the Bavarian monarch of that period, established the most famous cloister brewery on the Neckerberg Mountain, near Munich, and appointed Father Sale the chief brewmaster.
The product of the royal brewery was first known as "Father Sale's Beer," until the more convenient title of "Salvador" was adopted, about a century later.
For over 150 years "Salvador" was brewed under the patronage of the Bavarian royal family. In 1890, Franz X. Zacher acquired control of the cloister brewery and purchased the secret formula of the royal brew.
From that day to this the formula and sole European rights have been the most jealously guarded inheritance of the famous brewer's family.
The rich, mellow flavor of "Salvador" is only attained by a special brewing process, and if the output of the cloister brewery was great enough the people of Bavaria would drink no other beer.
Mr. Lothar Reinhardt completed his extensive studies of German brewing in this famous cloister brewery, where he secured the secret formula and process for brewing "Salvador." He has the sole right under the Canadian Government Copyright and Letters Patent to manufacture this famous brew.
Reinhardt's "Salvador" has become "The National Drink by a rigorous adherence to every detail of the original process devised by Father Sale in 1651.
Compared with all other brews, "Salvador" beer is worth a dollar a drop, yet it costs no more than just ordinary beer.
Every pint of "Salvador" is brewed in good for at least six months before bottling.
"Salvador" is not only a pure, sparkling and refreshing brew; it also possesses tonic qualities which make it the beer par excellence for family use.
Always order "Salvador" if you want the best beer brewed.
