OPPOSES ANY GRANT

BY THE COUNTY TO THE KINGSTON COLLEGIATE.

The County Council Votes Down a Proposal to Petition the Legislature, to Allow Counties to Make Grants to Outside High Schools.

The county council, on Friday morning, dealt with the high school question, and by a vote of twelve to five decided not to petition the Ontario government to allow county councils to give grants to high schools outside their own municipal boundaries, which county pupils might attend. The vote means that the council is opposed to giving any grant to the Kingston Collegiate Institute.

The matter was introduced by Councillor Donaldson, who moved that the question of increased accommodation for the Sydenham High School be left over till the June session. This motion was objected to as the report of the committee on the matter had not been dealt with.

Councillors Baiden and Fawcett moved that the report of the committee which waited upon the city board of education regarding the attendance of county pupils at the Kingston Collegiate Institute be adopted. This report recommended that further conference be held by a committee with the city board, and that the council petition the Ontario legislature to pass a law whereby county councils might make grants to high schools and collegiate institutes outside county limits, and which county pupils attend.

Councillor Truscott, stated that J. S. Gallagher, M.P.P., had intimated that if the county council showed that it intended to do something to improve conditions at the Sydenham High School, the educational department would see that the school was protected with regard to government grant.

Councillor Rankin said that the front townships were the heavy taxpayers, and had to be considered. They wanted the right given the county college to make a grant to the city collegiate for county pupils. Let Sydenham High School be enlarged, but give other portions of the county consideration.

Councillor Baiden said it would be absurd to build to the Sydenham High School for the sixty-seven front township pupils, who would never go there for the Kingston Collegiate Institute was right at their door. The council had to deal with the county educational question in a broader manner than was being shown by some of the councillors.

Councillor Salmond pointed out that unless there was special legislation, the county could not establish a continuation school at Sharbot Lake. Councillor Stewart moved in amendment to Councillor Baiden's motion that the recommendation of the committee as to legislation be rejected. He claimed that the recommendation opened too large a question.

Councillor Foley said the whole question revolved itself into this: Can Frontenac afford to give grants to three high schools? He claimed it could not, and therefore, was of opinion that Frontenac should confine itself to the Sydenham school.

Councillor Thomson said that if there was to be only the high school, put it right in Kingston, on the court house grounds. Sydenham was side tracked as far as railway accommodation was considered. Everybody could get to Kingston. He favored more secondary schools for the county. Sharbot Lake needed one very much.

Councillor Fawcett asked what the county council intended to do with the sixty-seven county pupils who would be refused admission to the Kingston Collegiate Institute. It had a duty to perform.

Councillor Baiden declared that the fact that the pupils of the county were going all over the district to different high schools was clear proof that Sydenham high school was no supplying the needs of the county.

Councillor Truscott intimated that shortly the train service to Sydenham would be improved.

The amendment of Councillor Stewart was carried on this vote.

Yeas—Warden Miller, and Councillors Salmond, Kennedy, Godkin, Foley, Reid, Cronk, Thomson, Rogers, Stewart, Donaldson, Taylor—12.

Nays—Councillors Calvin, Rankin, Truscott, Baiden, Fawcett—5.

At the Friday morning session petitions were read from ratepayers of Bedford, Barrie and Clarendon and Miller townships, asking that a continuation school be established at Sharbot Lake.

A. J. Macdonell, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, applied for the county's money account for 1911.

Councillors Reid and Godkin moved that the county's account be given to the Bank of Montreal. Councillor Kennedy wanted the matter referred to the finance committee. Councillor Calvin thought that all the banks should be given a chance to make the council an offer.

Councillor Salmond pointed out that at the last session of the council of 1910, the county's account had been transferred to the Bank of Toronto. The vote was unanimous on the matter. Hence, Councillor Salmond said that he did not want "to take back water" in the matter. Let the account remain, this year, with the Bank of Toronto.

Councillor Donaldson raised the question as to the responsibility of the treasurer, who was bonded. Councillor Cronk said that the treasurer would simply notify the guarantee company of any change in the bank account, and if that company was satisfied, then all right.

Councillor Reid withdrew his motion, and the matter was referred to the finance committee.

On motion of Councillors Stewart and Cronk, a committee, consisting of Councillors Baiden, Foley, Rankin and Rogers, wait upon the city council and request that the market tolls and forestalling-by-law be abolished.

The salary of John Purdy, high county constable, was fixed at $150, on motion of Councillors Salmond and Foley. Mr. Purdy addressed the council and thanked it for the appointment.

Councillor Thomson stated, after-

WOULD BE NO BENEFIT

H. W. RICHARDSON'S OPINION ON THE TARIFF.

In Regard to Wheat, Barley and Oats Being on Free List—Farmers in North-West Draining Their Land and Not Looking to Future—Need for Education.

"As far as Ontario is concerned I do not think it will be of any benefit."

In this way H. W. Richardson summed up the tariff negotiations this morning with regard to wheat, barley and oats being put on the free list when he was asked for an opinion by the Whig.

Mr. Richardson said that it might be the means of making a better showing in the barley trade in this district, but he even doubted this, as the barley did not amount to very much.

The one point which Mr. Richardson dwelt upon was the fact that the farmers in the north-west were draining their land of all it was possible for them to realize and that in this way, if there was free passage of grain, it would not be good for the country in that everything would be taken off and no thought given to the future, which would be ruinous.

In the true sense of the word the farmers in the north-west were not farmers. They were simply there to take out the money they could get of the land, and to make all the money they could. An effort was made to get the most off the land, but when no attention was given the land for the future he did not class this as farming. In Eastern Ontario the farmers did not pay enough attention to their home interests. Grain kept at home for the feeding of cattle would be more beneficial to the farmers.

Mr. Richardson believes that there is need for the farmers to be educated along these lines, and points out that technical schools for the educating of farmers would be a good thing.

TO HAVE A RECOUNT

Of Ballots in Hinchinbrook Local Option Vote.

Before Judge Price, in chambers, on Friday morning, T. J. Rippey, barrister, on behalf of F. R. Leslie, of Hinchinbrook township, made application for a scrutiny of the ballots cast in the recent local option vote in that township. The petitioner testified that there had been grave irregularities in connection with the vote, and that people had cast ballots who had no right to do so. Local option carried by five votes over the sixty per cent required. Judge Price decided to hold a scrutiny of the ballots on Feb. 9th, at 10 a.m., in chambers at the court house. The petitioner is hopeful that the result of the vote will be changed when the judge counts the ballots.

Tugendhof, of Toronto, inventor of the patent Invisible Ear drum, is in the city, and will give demonstrations at the Windsor hotel on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, at 8 p.m. and evenings, Jan. 28th, 29th and 30th. Persons afflicted with deafness or head noises would do well to see this new invention, which restores hearing in a short time. Prices reasonable.

Carnival Spoiled.

The young people of Glenburnie intended to hold a fancy dress carnival at their rink in the Glen, Friday night, but on account of the rain the event had to be called off. Several people from the city were intending to take in the affair as it is always a function of importance to the people of the surrounding country.

Pupils Had Holiday.

On account of the fact that something went wrong with the furnace, the pupils of the Collegiate Institute had a holiday to-day. The young people were tickled to death. Although it was a stormy day they were glad of the holiday.

Kingston (No. 2.)—Mrs. R. S. Waldron, Miss Millie Ferris, Miss B. Birch, Miss M. Dalton skip—16.

After the games were concluded, the Kingston ladies gave a high tea to the visitors in their cosy room, at the rink, and a most enjoyable time was spent.

Rain Spoiled Skating.

The excellent skating on the bay was spoiled to-day by the snow which fell yesterday and the mist to-day. There are snow hummocks all over the bay and unless the water covers it it will spoil the skating for the remainder of the winter. If it continues to rain long enough and then turns cold the ice will be better than ever. During the past week hundreds have been amusing themselves every afternoon, and evening.

Died at St. John, N.B.

News has been received in the city of the death of Adjutant John Baird, of the Salvation Army, who died at St. John, N.B., on Tuesday, from the effects of an apoplectic stroke.
