HE JILTED HER

And Doctor Slain on Eve of His Marriage

THE GIRL ACCUSED

Dr. Daniel A. Cassella on Floor Dying and Girl Huddled in Corner of Room When Door is Forced Open.

New York, Jan. 31.—Dr. Daniel A. Cassella, a wealthy Genesee physician widely known on the East Side, proprietor of two drug stores and member of many social and charitable societies, was found dying on the floor of the back room of his store, No. 63 Catherine street, yesterday afternoon. There were two bullet wounds in his forehead.

Madeline Baccigalupo, a pretty girl, who was found huddled in a corner of the room when the locked door was burst open, is now in the toms charged with having killed the physician, who died little more than an hour later at Gouverneur hospital.

Dr. Cassella was to have been married this evening to Miss Catherine Hagelstein, daughter of a well-known Fifth avenue photographer, with whom he also made his home since the death two years ago of his first wife, who was another niece of the photographer.

Although testimony taken at the preliminary hearing before Coroner Feinberg later in the day did not definitely establish a cause for the shooting and only circumstantially accused the young girl, friends of the Baccigalupo family declared she was justified because the man, they said, had promised to marry Madeline after the death of his first wife.

She learned unexpectedly in the morning of the wedding. Realizing the disgrace that might come to her, she hid in the back room, and hid her new revolver, had gone to him and demanded that he keep his promise to her; he had refused and then came the tragedy.

A PERILOUS TRIP

Across Ice Floes at Sault Ste. Marie. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Jan. 31.—Leaping from cake to cake of the floating ice floes in the St. Mary's River last night, two men and three women reached shore safely after a thrilling experience. The party was spending the evening fishing in a shanty out on the river, when a fifty-mile gale arose and a great mass of ice was released at the rapids and driven down stream with terrific force.

All around the fishing shanty the ice began to break and the five men and women started for the shore in a race for their lives. Jumping from floe to floe in the darkness, the men took turns in helping the women, and one of the latter fainted from fright and exhaustion.

AVIATOR McCURDY'S STORY

Of His Great Flight Over the Gulf of Mexico. Toronto, Jan. 31.—In Aviator McCurdy's story to the Toronto Star of his flight across the Gulf of Mexico, yesterday, the daring young Canadian says:

"I am seriously impressed with the possibility of ultimately making intercontinental trans-ocean flights by aeroplane."

Describing the sensations of the trip he said the mirage seemed to be partly causing the sea to stand up in front of him. Everything below was blotted out. Two man-eating sharks swam about the aeroplane as it floated.

A NEW CONNECTION.

The Canadian Northern Railway Route Disclosed.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—Kingston, is to have additional railway connection with the capital. To-day, Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways, and Canada approved of the route map of the Canadian Northern railway from Toronto to Ottawa via Chafey's Locks. This means steps that will further advance the capital materially as a railway centre, as it will not be long before there is a direct service to Toronto. The C. N. R. will also build a branch line to Perth.

Six William Mackenzie, president of this railway, expects that the new extension will be finished by the end of the year. Preparations will, at once, be started so that work on construction can begin in the spring.

Starting from Toronto the C. N. R. trains will pass through the following places: Port Hope, Cobourg, Brighton, Trenton, Belleville, Deseronto, Nanawau, Harrowsmith, the Rideau Lakes, Smith's Falls, Richmond, to Ottawa. The company has remaining rights over the Kingston & Pembroke railway and crossing at Harrowsmith will run to the Limestone City. They claim when completed this will be the shortest Ottawa-Kingston service. The new service will also bring Ottawans within a two-hour run of the famed Rideau Lakes, and will mean that Ottawans can visit there often.

ANARCHISTS ROUTED.

New York Police Had a Battle With Them. New York, Jan. 31.—In a battle with policemen more than 1,000 anarchists and sympathizers were put to rout, last night, at Broadway and Leonard street. The anarchists, wild with enthusiasm over a turbulent mass meeting held in the afternoon, were on their way to the Japanese consulate at No. 3 Wall street, to protest against the hanging in Japan of Dr. Denjairo Kotoku, his wife and ten students.

The fight reached its climax when, after Police Capt. Hodgins and the rescued of two stations had charged, ten policemen wrestled with the mob for possession of the red flag which had waved at the head of the procession. A score of men and women were felled with clubs and the butts of revolvers before the policemen captured the flag and arrested five of the marchers.

A TRIP TO HEAVEN

FRANCE GIRL SAYS SHE WILL BE GENTILES' SAVIOUR.

After "Soul Returns From Day's Visit to Heaven" She Talks of Christ—Wants the Exhibition Stopped.

McKeesport, Pa., Jan. 31.—Margaret Shipley, the blind girl who is fasting for eight days by "heaven-sent command" in order to restore her sight, entered on her final night's vigil last night. The watchers at the bedside who spent the day with her told visitors that her soul, which had left her body in heaven, all day returned to her body at night.

Shortly afterward the girl raised her hands and said: "Jesus Christ was the saviour of the Jews; I will be the saviour of the Gentiles." Church-going citizens, scandalized by the visiting thousands who, tramped up the hill in the mud to view the fasting girl, petitioned the McKeesport police to stop the exhibition, but the police after sending a physician to examine the girl and finding she was in no danger of death from weakness, refused to interfere.

The authorities, however, forbade Margaret had arranged to have remain at her bedside day and night until her fast was over, to console her watch longer and send her home for the night. It was discovered that Elma, exalted by Margaret's example, had not tasted food for two days.

To-day is the final day of Margaret's trance. She has promised that after her soul takes its trip to heaven and returns to her body she will wake and look out on the world with seeing eyes for the first time in her life, for she was born blind.

THE HALLS OF QUEEN'S.

In accordance with the recent announcement, Queen's students have procured the services of a first-class boxing instructor, Mr. Cooling, who at one time acted in a similar capacity at Oxford University, will direct the energies of the local students. Queen's are going to make a tremendous effort to retain the intercollegiate championship. It is expected that the tournament in Montreal will be pulled off about the latter part of February, although no definite date has yet been decided upon.

There will be much smoke in the atmosphere of the Arts Society meeting this afternoon. The question of smoking privileges in the club room is to again come up for discussion.

The Levana play to be produced in Convocation hall, to-night, will provide splendid entertainment. All students should attend.

It is said that Queen's defense in the game with McGill, last Friday night, could not have been much improved. George brothers, Lockett and Gilbert all played in sensational style. The forwards failed to check back effectively, and on this account the game was lost. It was in this respect that "Bilby" Dobson was of such value.

CAR WAS IN DANGER

Of Being Derailed—Accident Near Brighton.

A slight accident occurred about a mile and a half this side of Brighton Tuesday morning. The G.T.R. express, which leaves Toronto at 10.30 p.m., and which is due here at 2.50 p.m., was running along about forty miles an hour when a flange on the wheel of the first-class coach next to the engine, came off. The wheel caused the coach to bump a great deal and the passengers became terrified. A brakeman who was on sick leave, but who happened to be riding in this coach, sprang to the door and threw on the emergency brake at once. This stopped the train in a short time.

The accident happened about two o'clock and the passengers were forced to wait for two hours while the remaining coaches were taken back to Brighton and an engine and a first-class coach brought up from Belleville. The train was three hours late in arriving in the city. A traveller said he was not over the shock yet, and dreaded to think what the result would have been had not the brakeman been in the coach at the time.

A number of complaints are being made by those who are driving horses about the condition of the sewers of the city since the rainstorm.
