QUEEN'S BEAT M'GILL

IN OVERTIME BY SIX GOALS TO FIVE.

Greg George Scored the Winning Goal—McGill Scored Twice in Succession at the Start—Half-Time Score Was Three to Two.

That perfect piece of mechanism here toge known as the McGill hockey team, at the covered rink, Friday night, was wrecked quite beyond repair and with the last sad rites has been relegated to the scrap heap for the season of 1911. Queen's defeated McGill 6 goals to 5.

It was again found necessary to resort to prolonged play in order to decide the issue. When full time was declared, the honors were five all, and it was only after nine minutes of the most strenuous hockey that Greg George landed the winning goal for Queen's and incidentally received the hope for championship honors.

Trimble to the tall timbers for handing out the "going down" sign to Cassels. The youthful looking propensities of McKinnon afforded the referee a three-minute vacation and McGill were playing seven men to Queen's five. The easterners availed themselves of their opportunity and slamed in two in short order. McGill, 5; Queen's, 4.

Violent insanity seemed to seize the supporters of the red and white. There were but seven short minutes of playing remaining. Queen's, with their full quota again on the playing surface, found the McGill citadel time and again, with the accuracy of sharpshooters, but Woodvatt, the custodian of the nets, brushed their shots aside, apparently with ease.

In the overtime period the wearers of the tri-colors came back strong and checked their opponents' woe. McGill, 6; Queen's, 5. The last goal was disputed by the McGill team but McGill cannot possibly make claim to a contrary decision than the ruling of last night. Greg George shot from in front of the goal and the puck striking the bar at the back of the goal again rebounded into play. The goal judge, who was a McGill student, immediately raised the flag declaring that Queen's had scored. Referee Sutherland inquired if the goal had been scored and the goal judge replied in the affirmative, so the full responsibility was with the McGill man. The point claimed by the McGill team was that the puck striking the back bar did not count, that it had to strike the net. This claim is, however, quite baseless, as the back bar is included in the goal area.

URGED ON MINISTERS

IMPROVEMENTS FOR THE KINGSTON HARBOR.

Deputation Placed Case Clearly and Strongly Before the Ministers—Some of the Party Held up by Snow Storm.

The deputation, consisting of Ald. Carson, Fraser, Elliott and Kent, and Mr. Farrell, who left, Wednesday noon, for Ottawa, to interview the government regarding improvements to Kingston harbor, arrived in Ottawa the same evening, but the balance of the deputation were not so fortunate, as they experienced a rough time of it in getting to the capital, only arriving there at 4 p.m. Wednesday, after being some seven hours late, owing to the heavy snow storm.

As the appointment with the minister was arranged for twelve o'clock the advance portion of the deputation had to proceed (without the rear guard, headed by his worship the mayor). The deputation was introduced by Hon. William Hart, Ald. Elliott and J. M. Farrell laid the city's request strongly and clearly before the minister, who was favorably impressed with the claims of Kingston, and did not hesitate to say so, assuring the deputation that he would take pleasure in bringing the matter before his colleagues in the cabinet.

After the arrival of the other members of the committee they were introduced to Sir Richard Cartwright who received his Kingston friends very kindly, and took a keen interest in all matters laid before him. Further detailed information will be forwarded by Sir Richard. The committee was also introduced by Mr. Hart, to Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways and canals who went carefully over the plans in the possession of the committee. He assured the deputation that when the Hon. William Pugsley submitted the matter to council he would not be found opposing the application of Kingston so long as it was reasonable and required. The committee regretted the absence from Ottawa of Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia and defence, who was snowbound in the maritime provinces and would not arrive in Ottawa until Saturday. It was finally arranged with Mr. Hart that he would secure an appointment early next week, with the honorable gentlemen when a small deputation will wait on him.

The committee had a second interview with Hon. Mr. Pugsley and his deputy, in the evening, to further press Kingston's claims, when Mr. Farrell presented the written application of the city and the Marine Association, which was endorsed by his worship the mayor. The members of the deputation will be pleased with the results of their visit, and are profuse in their thanks for the attention and kindness shown them by Hon. William Hart, who never left them from the time of arrival to their departure. The deputation arrived home Friday afternoon. They were snowbound in Ottawa, for some time. It is said they in his anxiety to reach Ottawa, in time, the mayor got out and shovelled snow, in order to help the train out. City Engineer Craig, who was also with the snowbound party, helped in the shovelling. Three locomotives were on the train when it arrived in Ottawa.

ENJOYING A HOAX

"DESERTED MOTHER" WAS A POOR CAT. Irish Unionist Press Stirred by Dreadful Tale From Belfast, But "Human Interest" is Lacking.

London, Jan. 4.—England is being enjoying a hoax perpetrated on the unionist press by a practical joker of Belfast, where there is a great deal of mixed marriages.

The joker wrote a letter telling of a poor mother who, the victim of an unwholesome union and abandoned by her natural protector, was despoiled of her offspring by a member of an Irish secret society. He went on to say that the mother, however, was not destitute, being provided for by a respected elder of the Presbyterian church.

Correspondents were despatched foot to Belfast where Herbert Pym, the author of the letter, admitted that the only basis for the story was the fact that a gardener's cat had kittens, and that the latter were drowned. The Late Miss Minnie Heaney. The death of Miss Minnie Isabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Heaney, of Joyceville, who was called away on Thursday last, in her twentieth year, removed a young lady who was very popular in the neighborhood in which she had lived all her life, and the news of her death was learned with regret by her large circle of friends. She had been in poor health for a long time. Besides her father and mother, she leaves two sisters, one of whom is Miss Sarah Heaney, of the C.M.B.A. office, Kingston, and two brothers. The funeral will take place Sunday, at St. Barnaby's church, Brewer's Mills, of which the deceased was a member, and on Monday morning a solemn requiem mass will be sung for the repose of her soul. J. McAuley, of this city, will conduct the funeral.

How to Cure a Cold. Prouse's Laxative Quinine Tablets, will break up a cold in a day, stop the headache and allay the fever, 25c. box, Prouse's Drug Store.

The Y.M.C.A. will conduct their regular service at the Orpheum theatre on Sunday evening at 7.30. Prof. Dyde will be the speaker, and F. G. Lockett will take the chair. Under the caption, "An appeal to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the one man who can save Canada," the Montreal Star comes out to-day with a sensational plea against the proposed canal. Getting insured is a measure of safety adopted by every far-seeing man. Secure your policy of McCann. When it comes to debt paying there are many that are extremely apathetic.

TENDERED A FAREWELL.

Robert Shannon, Ex-County Councillor, Was Remembered. There was a big time, in the town hall, at Sunbury, on Friday night, the occasion being a farewell tendered to Robert Shannon, ex-county councillor, and Mrs. Shannon, who are leaving in the spring, much to the regret of their host of friends, to reside in Saskatchewan. Hugh Moreland was chairman of the evening, and ably looked after his duties. Addresses were given by Joseph L. Haycock, Dr. Edwards, M.P., Rev. Mr. Shortt, the altar man and George Gillespie, the latter also favoring with a fine solo.

A pleasant feature of the evening, was the presentation of a gold watch to both Mr. and Mrs. Shannon. The gifts were accompanied by an address, which was read by Christopher Langwith. While very sorry to see them leave their midst, Mr. and Mrs. Shannon carry with them, to their new home in the west, the best wishes of their friends. It is their hope that they will be spared to enjoy many more years of happiness.

The home of Mrs. James William Powell, Earl street, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding, Thursday morning, when Miss Esther Isabella (Essie), was married to Mr. Charles T. Peeling, B.Sc., of Oshawa. Rev. Mr. Selley officiating. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. H. J. Powell, looked very pretty in her simple gown of white crepe de chine, trimmed with embroidered chiffon, edged with satin, giving the tunic effect. She wore a tulle veil, held in place with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of cream roses. Her going-away dress was brown, with hat to match, and mink furs. At daybreak, the expected reinforcements for the federal forces in Juarez, had not arrived, and the situation looked bad for defending forces. Insurrection soldiers in mountains nearby, are in strong force, well-trained, armed with long toms and machine guns, and well able to withstand a long battle. Refugees continued to flock over the border, and it is quite probable that only a bluff will be put up at defence. The situation is critical for President Diaz. The success which has attended Mr. Tuguehaff's visit here has induced him to remain another week. Mr. Tuguehaff is the inventor of the celebrated invisible paragon.
