THINGS THEATRICAL

NOTES ON PLAYS, PLAYERS AND PLAYHOUSES.

Paris Interested in "Le Miracle"—New York is Crying Out for More Playwrights.

Robert Brouet is appearing in vaudeville in "A Couple of Cocktails." Mrs. Langtry will this month appear in a sketch at the London Hippodrome. Theodore Roberts and Orrin Johnson will appear in "To Serve the Cross."

More new playwrights and fewer actors seems to be New York's cry just at present. Lew Fields' latest musical play, "The Hen Pecks," began its career in Albany, Thursday.

Maud Allan is to be seen next month in London in some new dances with music by Debussy.

William Faversham will present his latest success, "The Fay," in London, England, next spring. Lehar's opera, "The Count of Luxembourg," will be the next production by George Edwards at Daly's.

"Navy Blue," in which Clifton Crawford is soon to appear, is a touch-up version of his former "Captain Carless."

George Grossmith, jr., and Edward Payne have been amusing London with a burlesque of the dancing of Pavlova and Mordkin.

"Our World," with Doris Keane and Vincent Serrano in the east, was a new play which Frank McKee produced in Atlantic City last week.

The Shuberts are suing David Belasco for $450,000, in connection with the business methods of the manager of David Belasco and Blanche Bates.

George Alexander will next week produce his new A. E. W. Mason play entitled, "The Witness for the Defense."

Geraud du Maurier's next play at Wyndham's with the provisional title, "Mr. Jarvis," is a drama of political intrigue in the reign of good Queen Anne.

"Sine," by Henri Lavedan, in which Otis Skinner appeared last week in New York, is declared to be a nondescript mixture of romance and farce, dealing with the lost Dauphin.

The new piece due at the London Gayety next month is based by George Grossmith on "L'Amorceur," by the author of the "Littles of studio and street, which made the early fame of Yvette Guilbert.

Chicago on Monday saw the premiere of "The Warning," the new play by Arthur Jerome Eddy, who wrote "The Great John Ganton." George Fawcett, Josephine Victor, and Virginia Kline are in the cast.

Paris is manifesting much interest in "Le Miracle," the new five-act opera by MM. Gheusi and Miranne, with a score by Georges Hue. The opera is a compromise between modern lyric drama and the old classic methods of Meyerbeer. The music is in a measure suggestive of Wagner's "Rienzi."

By way of South America, Paris has imported a new dance which apparently is destined to become extremely popular. It is called the "Argentine Tango." Its rhythm is described as a "catwalk played adagio. There is a slow, languorous melody that is particularly fascinating. French society is reported to be "going wild" over it.

"Le Vieil Homme," a play by Georges de Porto-Riche which was written more than ten years ago, has just been produced with success at the Renaissance Theatre, Paris. Porto-Riche is the author of "Amouruse," "Le Passe," and other plays, but nothing of his has been presented for several years. The author received a tumultuous greeting when called before the curtain.

"The Balkan Princess," which ran for a considerable period at the Prince of Wales theatre, London, has, from all accounts, "got over" in this country, having been produced by the Messrs. Shubert in New Haven and thence transferred to Boston. Miss Louise Gunning sings the title role, and her support includes Robert Warwick, Herbert Cortell, May Roley and Joseph W. Herbert.

Under the patronage of Prince and Princess August Wilhelm of Prussia, two American artists appeared with success recently in Berlin. They were Mrs. Francis MacLean, the soprano prima donna of the Berlin Royal Opera, and Miss Myrtle Evelyn, the gifted pianist of Chicago. The musical was held in the saloon of the Reichstag building.

A dispatch from Rome states that Mascagni has performed his new opera, "Ysobel," on the piano. This was at his recital for the benefit of prominent Americans in Rome. Among those present were John W. Garrett, the American Charge d'Affaires, other members of the embassy staff, Miss Allen of New Orleans, Mrs. Josse Benedict Carter, the wife of the Director of the American classical school who is now returning in Boston, and others.

Carrying His Own Fly Paper. A seat near the radiator was the only one vacant in the waiting-room of the Union depot when an old man came in carrying several packages. He laid all his bundles beside the seat, then he picked up one, a long square package, and looked about in perplexity.

"I don't dare get this near those steam pipes," he explained to the usher. "You see, it's fly paper, and the directions say to keep in a cool place."

"I got it to take with me to Mexico. I wasn't sure I could get any there, and I wanted to be prepared. Flies bother me, and I like to sweat my share of them."

Youth hops one inch sideways and thinks it has leapt a mile ahead.

VELVET THE FASHIONABLE AFTERNOON FABRIC.

The woman of fastidious taste in dress does not don velvet in the morning. Some fabrics are intended only for ceremonious wear, and velvet is assuredly one of these materials. The chic little velvet calling costume pictured is of white, the skirt is broken by a slight drapery effect at the back—a new notion in street costumes—and the little coat, elaborately trimmed with buttons, braid, and fur, is exceedingly smart. The hat is one of the roll-back sailors, which are fashionable just now. The brim facing is black, the top of the hat being trimmed with a band and flat bow of the velvet.

WHAT ROYAL TRIPS COST.

They Have Varied From $25,000 to $1,500,000.

Although King George has traveled more extensively than any other royal personage, his bills have not run into a very large amount. Thus the trip to Australia was estimated at $758,000, which is not a large sum, taking everything into consideration—the chartering of a special steamer for so long a time, the expenses of a naval escort and travelling charges. His little jaunt to Canada a year or two ago was done for the modest figure of $10,000, but the tour to India in 1905 cost a larger sum, although the exact total has never been published, as a good deal of the expenditure came out of the royal purse. Parliament voted $100,000, while the cost of altering the Remora was borne by the naval estimates, and most of the ceremonial charges by India. The total probably came to about a million.

This was not so much as that incurred by King Edward's visit to India as Prince of Wales in 1875. This tour was arranged by Sir Bartle Frere who was kept busy for seven months making all the arrangements. Parliament voted $300,000 for the general expenses, which Sir Bartle said was quite inadequate, as the presents to native princes amounted to nearly that sum, and he asked for $500,000. This was not forthcoming, so he made the best of matters by going to Lord Northbrook, the viceroy, who induced the Indian treasury to grant another $50,000 to the present fund.

People in England thought that the $300,000, together with the $250,000 which came out of the naval estimates, was too much, and there was actually a meeting of protest. Even Mr. Fawcett protested in the house of commons, but public opinion became reconciled when it was seen that the prince was not merely having a holiday at the country's expense. Presents to native princes ate up the nice little sum of $200,000, which was really very small when we consider it was generally estimated that he received gifts worth pretty well $2,000,000, one Maharajah offering him a jewelled sword, while English shopkeepers and manufacturers netted some $1,250,000 out of the presents sent from England. The total cost of the trip was considered over $1,500,000.

Everone remembers the spectacular trip of the Kaiser to the holy land some ten or twelve years ago. As Messrs. Cook arranged that tour the exact cost has not been made public, although it is reported to have amounted to no more than $25,000. But the Kaiser can be lavish when he likes, and his visit to Hohenzollern a year ago cost $175,000, although he was only there one hour.

Royal visits to foreign countries are usually borne by the king's own private purse, although if he engaged in national business he may receive a grant in aid.

Tips For Farmers

BY UNCLE JOSE.

"Pigs is pigs," and prices will still run high. The acquaintance with other breeders is a great advantage. Keep an account with your pigs this year and see just how you come out with them.

It is simply throwing away feed, and so good money, to feed on the ground. Have good, tight feeding floors, enough for all the porkers. Do you know that your pigs need salt as well as your sheep and cattle? They do, and if you do not want them to root give them some lime mixed with their salt. Air slacked lime is the best. Make a flat plank box three feet square and six inches deep for the lime and salt.

Did you ever notice that your pigs would eat the coal ashes they can get? Why not let them have all your ashes? They are worth nothing to you and the pigs need them. The ashes will also help to keep them from rooting. Pigs root after something that their systems crave. A pig needs gritty stuff. Why not let them have such things?—Farm and Dairy.

How are we to improve our dairy herd? It is asked. "The first thing to do is to take one of the short courses in stock judging at the O.A.C., or to attend one of the local short judging courses, and learn what is called for in the dairy animal. Next secure a bull with a well defined milking ancestry—behind him and proceed to build up. Be sure that the bull, besides having a milking ancestry behind him, is not from a cow with a defective udder, because defective udders, like spavins and curbs, are apt to prove hereditary. In looking into the matter of milking record again, do not be satisfied with a cow that has merely made a good record for a week, because these great week records are usually made under high pressure. Look for a cow with a full year's record, or with a record made twice during the same milking period. It is the persistent milker that counts—not one that does a big thing for a short time and then falls off."

United States Production. Notwithstanding the somewhat indifferent methods of agriculture pursued in the United States, production per acre appears to have been increasing of late rather than decreasing. During the ten year period ending with 1905 the average production of corn per acre in the United States declined by 2.3 per cent. In the ten year period ending with '05 the decline was 8.2 per cent. In the ten year period ending with '05, on the other hand, there was an increase of 7.7 per cent., and in the four year period ending with 1909 the increase was 7.1 per cent.

In wheat in the ten year period ending with 1905 the gain in yield per acre was 3.3 per cent., and in the decade ending with 1905 there was a gain of 6.3 per cent. For the four years decade ending with 1905 there was a gain of 9.6 per cent. in production per acre.

These later gains, so far as corn is concerned, have not been in the purely corn states, and in the comparatively new country, but advance has been made as well in Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York.

Stomach Misery Ended. Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn and Sourness go in Five Minutes. Why not get some now—this moment, and forever rid yourself of Stomach trouble and Indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good start, then take Pape's Diaprepin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of Gas or eructations of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and Dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diaprepin costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of Indigestion and Upset Stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take Gas from Stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and, besides, one single dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diaprepin works, your stomach rests—gets itself in order, closes up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from all Stomach Misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to take a little Diaprepin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diaprepin, because you want to become thoroughly cured this time.

Remember, if your stomach feels out of order and uncomfortable now, you can get relief in five minutes.

York. In wheat there has been of late a gain in Maine, New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, South Carolina, Michigan, and others of the older states.

Promoting Agriculture. During the past year G. F. Marsh, a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, was engaged in work as the agricultural representative of the Pennsylvania railroad. Mr. Marsh's work consisted in promoting agricultural improvement along the line of railway with a view of providing more traffic for the line. In connection with this work over two hundred addresses were given at Grange and other meetings in Pennsylvania and nearby states.

As one result of what was done it is expected that 300 more cars of lime will be used this year along the Pennsylvania line. At all stations along the line plots of alfalfa were planted. The success of these demonstrations will mean much for the dairy districts of New York and Pennsylvania, as farmers there had been previously paying $25 and $30 for bran and they now see they can get from four to five tons of alfalfa per acre and that this alfalfa is practically equal in feeding value to bran.

Just in Time. An Arkansas judge had convened court at one of the towns on his circuit, when it was found that no pens, ink or paper had been provided, and upon inquiry it came out that no county funds were available for the purpose.

The judge exclaimed somewhat forcefully, then drew some money from his own pocket. He was about to hand it to the clerk when a visiting lawyer, a high-priced imported article brought on to defend a case of some importance, spoke up in an aside plainly audible over the room.

"Well," with infinite contempt, "I've seen some pretty bad conditions but this—well, this is the limit."

"You are fined $5 for contempt, sir!" thundered the judge. "Hand the mone—to the clerk."

When the eminent lawyer had humbly complied the judge turned to the clerk.

"Now, Mr. Clerk, go out and get what pens, ink and paper the court may need and if there is any change left over you may give it to the gentleman."—Central Law Journal.

The Hatrack Brigand. New York Sun. "I made my first visit since New Year's to one of the Long Acre restaurants last night," said the man who goes everywhere, "and of course the first person I met was the chief of the hatrack brigands."

"Well, Tommy," I asked, "how was New Year's business here?"

"Sure, sir, we had a big crowd; every table taken, and a lot more trvin' to get in, sir."

"But I hear complaints that the New Year crowd was very much piler; big noise, little coin."

"Well, sir, now you mention it, that was a fault. Sure I felt it too. We were busy all night but this hatrack took in $105 less this New Year than last; but still I did pretty well."

"If he did pretty well and was still $105 short of last year I wonder what he'd call really good hatracking."

Alleged "Undesirable Citizen." Watertown Standard. C. H. Mann, a one-armed Canadian, who has been begging on the streets of this city, was arrested, Monday, by Officer John Gilligan and Immigrant Inspector J. A. Conaty, of Ogdensburg, at once notified, and will apply to Washington for a deportation warrant, Mann having crossed over to Cape Vincent from Kingston about two months ago. It is alleged he is an undesirable alien.

CHRONIC CATARRH NOSE AND THROAT

"At the Advice of Friends I Tried Peruna and the Results Have Been Highly Satisfactory."—So Writes Mr. Pilon.

MR. RAOUL PILON, 118 Rue Notre Dame, Lachine, P. Q., Can., writes: "I write you a few words to express to you my satisfaction at being cured."

I was afflicted with catarrh of the throat and nose and suffered much. I was greatly discouraged. I had a bad breath and a bad taste in my mouth in the morning.

"I took treatment for some time without obtaining relief. At the advice of friends I tried the Peruna and the results have been highly satisfactory. At the end of four months I was completely cured."

Neglected catarrh becomes chronic. Having developed into the chronic stage, a longer and more persistent treatment will be required to cure it than if the disease were treated at the onset.

However, Peruna generally brings relief, whether the catarrh is acute or chronic. If you are wise you will keep Peruna on hand and take a few doses at the first appearance of a cold or cough, and thus perhaps save yourself both suffering and expense.

Peruna is recognized the world over as a standard remedy for catarrh. A multitude of people have been benefited by it.
