HAD SEARCH FOR FIRE

FIREMEN HAD TWO RUNS LAST NIGHT.

Slight Damage at the Tin Shop of Elmer Lawrenson on Division Street—Fire Mystery at a Building off Wellington Street.

It is very seldom that the firemen, after receiving a call, have to search for the fire. But such was the case, last night, with the local firefighters.

While the men were at the tin shop of Elmer Lawrenson, 133 Division Street, early last night, a resident of Earl Street, near Wellington, telephoned that there was a fire in that neighborhood.

FOR ALL WASTE PAPER. Local Firms Send it Back to Paper Mills.

How to get rid of waste paper around the stores and factories is quite a proposition to some, but there are a few places in the city where there is a system which does not bring about much trouble, and which is giving much satisfaction.

There is being used a press, just like a hay press, and all the waste paper around the stores and factories is placed into it and pressed into large bales, and then it is shipped back to the paper mills.

At N. C. Polson & Co's establishment, Ontario street, one of these paper presses was recently installed, and it is giving good service.

This firm received daily a great many papers, and if it did not, have this system, it would be quite a problem to dispose of all the paper which would accumulate.

HORSES ARE NEGLECTED. One Cause for a Great Many Runaways.

A great many runaways occur, in Kingston, and one reason for it is that horses are not given the care that they should receive.

There is a by-law which states that they must not be left on the street without being securely tied, but every day one can see horses left standing, without anyone in charge, and it is a great wonder that there are not more accidents.

In the cold weather, horses are very restless on the street, more so in the winter than any other time of the year, and, therefore, they should be given every care.

When the weather is so cold blankets should be left on the horses, but some drivers do not even give the poor animals this much consideration.

Constable Arnie, officer for the Humane Society, has been giving the matter considerable attention. The local society is doing all it can to look after the welfare of dumb animals, and it should have the hearty support of all the drivers in the city.

TOLL HOUSE SOLD. Relics of the Storrington Road Disposed Of.

On Monday afternoon Reeve A. M. Rankin, of Kingston township, acting under authority of the county council, sold the two old toll houses on the Kingston-Storrington road by auction.

The one just beyond Kingston Junction was purchased by T. Hogan, and John Campbell for $49, and the one at Hickey's Corners was secured by R. H. Fair and George Draper for $51.

The houses will be removed as soon as possible and then there will be no toll gate marks remaining in Frontenac.

A STARTLING DEED. Robbed House and Scattered Live Coals About.

While Edward Draper and family, Point Road, Pittsburgh township, were away from home on Saturday, some one entered the house and stole a number of tools.

Before departing, the intruders scattered live coals from the coal stove, over the floor. Holes were burned in over thirty places, and had the family not returned in the nick of time, fire would have destroyed their home.

As it was, about $50 worth of damage was done. The dwelling was insured, and W. H. Godwin has settled the claim for the above-mentioned amount.

Made Good Showing. Holland Bros., of Kingston, made a good showing at the Gananoque Poultry show.

They entered twenty-two birds and won on Langhans, first and second, cock; first and second hen; first and second cockerel; first and second pullet.

On White Plymouth Rocks, first and second cock; second and third hen; first and second cockerel; first and second pullet. Black Cochin Bantams, first on cock; first on hen; first on cockerel; first and third on pullets.

They also secured three special prizes. Division Court Cases. Division court was held here this morning, by Judge Madden, of Napanee.

There were only a few cases for hearing. The earnings for the Grand Trunk railway for the third week in January show an increase of $53,323 over the same week of last year.

Charles R. Hooper, the well-known financier, is "agin the government," in the matter of reciprocity. Might's directory which will be published this week puts the population of Toronto at 424,057.
