Own Real Estate

Besides being profitable there is something fascinating about it. You admit that, yet you curb your desire to own some yourself.

Perhaps you think there are no more opportunities such as were offered our grandfathers. This is a grave mistake.

We can prove it by showing you properties which you can buy for small sums. In a few years you can realize the profits on them if you buy now.

We can arrange it so you can make payments to suit your convenience. Call or write if you can't call, and we will give you interesting and valuable information.

The report of social committee showed that two large banquets, an Irishman's tea, and directors' tea had been served very successfully by the auxiliary during the last four weeks. After due consideration the report of the meeting was found to be almost unanimous that the annual thankoffering be held in March.

CRY FOR MORE MEN

TO GO FORTH INTO THE MISSION FIELDS.

A Laymen's Mission Movement Banquet Held at Sydenham Street Methodist Church Friday Evening.

Friday evening marked a red-letter event in the history of the Kingston Methodist district. It was the occasion of a Laymen's Missionary banquet in the lecture hall of Sydenham street church. About 150 men from city and rural congregations partook of a sumptuous repast provided by the Woman's Association.

Abraham Shaw was chairman. Rev. Mr. Sine, Gananoque, offered prayer. Rev. J. T. Pitcher, Gananoque, chairman of the Kingston district, was the first speaker. He rejoiced in the missionary revival taking place in all the churches. One thing which he regretted in the Methodist church was the small number of our young men volunteering for the ministry. The chief reason for this was the passing of the class-meeting, where the young were taught to pray and testify. We have the preachers, but we have to import a great many.

The next speaker was Mr. Arnold Toronto, secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement of the Methodist church in Canada. In an eloquent address he pointed out the importance of grasping the opportunity of evangelizing the world within this generation. Seventy per cent. of our gifts goes to the home field. Thousands were coming to our country, a vast majority settling in the west, miles from churches, and forgetting all about the God and His Book. While he believed we lived in the fairest land on the globe, it did not reach our own people our nation, which was to be, would be a hindrance to the world, instead of being a blessing. Mr. Arnold, in accounting for the other thirty per cent. of the gifts, reviewed the wonderful change in the foreign field within the last ten years. The advance of Japan and China in education, etc., was noted, and the crises which Turkey, India, Arabia and South America were passing through. The world was ready for a great forward movement, and ten years would decide its spiritual destiny. Was the church going to carry out the command of the Master?

Mr. O'Flynn, K.C., of Belleville, was the next speaker, and in a stirring address, struck the patriotic note. He traced the history of our nation, the British nation from the earliest Anglo-Saxon times. The position of our country was clearly stated, and (as Mr. Arnold said) now is the hour to do what God intended in laying out the foundation of a Christian nation. The West needs men and money, and if we get the men interested at home, the money will be forthcoming.

A resolution was moved by Dr. Anglin, seconded by T. F. Harrison, that the gathering should pledge itself to pray for the men on the field, and increase its offering by the duplex system for missions, and it was unanimously carried.

A vote of thanks to the ladies, for their share in the evening's gathering, was moved by J. M. Hughes, and seconded by R. F. Greenlee. H. W. Richardson responded for the ladies. Mr. Anderson moved a vote of thanks to the speakers, which was seconded by F. G. Ettinger and supported by F. B. Anglin.

A helpful discussion on missionary work was taken part in by Revs. Dr. Ryckman, Neal and Selery, and Messrs. O'Flynn and Harrison.

British Money in Canada.
Mr. Paish, the editor of the London Statist, has prepared a remarkable statement which shows that the new Canadian issues of capital made in London last year were of the value of $165,550,000, which makes a total for the last three years of $505,650,000. This compares with $130,000,000 for Australia in the same three years, $105,750,000 for Mexico; $149,000,000 for Brazil; $280,000,000 for Argentina and $370,000,000 for the United States, where Mr. Paish says England has been placing capital from the days of Queen Elizabeth.

Mr. Paish estimates that $1,665,000,000 of British capital is now placed in Canada, and new supplies are flowing in at the rate of over $150,000,000 a year, or, including the invisible capital—that is, capital privately supplied for loans on mortgage, the purchase of land for the conduct of private business, etc.—the amount is probably nearly $200,000,000 a year.
