FARMERS' BANK CASE AGAINST COL. MUNRO.

Six Parties Were Committed for Trial—Two More Cases are Being Heard this Afternoon.

Toronto, Feb. 22.—"Col. Munro's case will be speedily finished up," said Assistant Crown Attorney Monahan, to-day, discussing appearance of the late president of the Farmers' Bank before County Judge Winchester, tomorrow morning, on a charge of signing false returns to the government. All that crown proposes to do is to prove that the false returns' signature is that of Col. Munro.

Elected Vice-President.

At Toronto, on Tuesday, the associated boards of trade was organized and H. W. Richardson, of this city, was elected to the position of second vice-president. The delegates from Kingston at this meeting were Mr. Richardson, Francis King and W. F. Nickle.

"Transportation by water is six times as cheap as by rail," said Mr. Richardson. From two cents to two and a half cents per bushel on grain could be saved in carrying charges by deepening the Welland canal.

William White, Detroit, Mich., fifty-four years old, who came recently from Wingham, Ont., was found dead in his room. The gas was turned on full force, and everything in connection with the affair points to suicide.

Exhibition at Toronto.

That Kingston junior team will make them all step, and just to show the Toronto public how good they are, it would not be a bad idea if an exhibition game was arranged between them and an all-star team, at Mutual street rink.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

The Game Friday Night.

Things will be running high here, Friday night, when Oshawa comes to play the return game with Frontenacs. The Frontenacs should easily double the score on their own ice. They did not get going until the latter part of the game and then they commenced to walk away with their opponents.

Scottish Thrift.

"It would take probably many generations of adversity to train Canadians into the far-seeing habits of my people," once observed a Canadian of Scotch birth. "I remember a case of a Scotchwoman who had been promised a new bonnet by a lady. Before she undertook the purchase of the lady called and asked the good woman: 'Would you rather have a felt or a straw bonnet, Mrs. Carmichael?'"

Mr. Arnold and American Lady.

Matthew Arnold was sitting in his study one morning when the visitor showed in an American lady, and a small boy. The lady said, "Glad to make your acquaintance, Mr. Arnold, I have often heard of you. No, don't trouble to speak, sir! I know how valuable your time is." Then turning to the boy she said: "This is him, Lenny, the leading critic and poet. Somewhat fleshier than we had been led to expect!"—The Atlantic Monthly.

LITTLE WOOD MOVED

THE COUNTRY SAW MILLS RECEIVE VERY FEW LOGS.

Yarker, Feb. 21.—The saw mills in the country have as yet not received many logs, owing to farmers not being able to work in the swamps, and very little wood is being moved for the same reason. The Benjamin Manufacturing company has advanced the price of hub timber to seven dollars a cord.

The Benjamin Manufacturing company has bought the stone store warehouse and hall from Mrs. John Ewart, for additions to the wheel factory. John Watt has purchased the stock and fixtures and will receive the appointment of postmaster for Yarker. The youngest son of Myles Carroll is very ill and not expected to recover. Grippa has been very severe in this section, and between that and the measles, very few have escaped illness.

Mrs. William Connolly entertained the choir of the Methodist church to an oyster supper. Stanley Benn sold his stock of horses and cattle and farm implements, and will locate in Alberta. John Galbraith will sell his farm implements and stock, and will go to British Columbia.

Wearin' of the Green.

Chicago News. Lester Loneragan was playing Judo Trull, in "Eagle's Nest," in Toronto, on St. Patrick's night, when Orangemen in that town are under cover. When Jack disguises as Dandy Dick the part calls for an orange sash, and upon Loneragan's appearance thus decorated there arose a tumult of hisses, cat-calls and jeers. For a time it looked as if Loneragan impeded and the actor's safety seemed in danger. But he had anticipated trouble and wore under the orange sash another sash of green. At the instant of greatest excitement Loneragan ripped off the offending sash and revealed the green. Jeers turned to cheers and hisses to approving shouts but it was a case of playing with fire.

Oh, Those Scotch Sundays!

A western paper says: A despatch from Edinburgh states that "it is with obvious pain that the churches complain that the people of Scotland are losing their habit of church-going." Perhaps the present attitude of Scotland got such an overdose of churchgoing in their youth that they consider it ought to last till death. The wretched Sundays of our own boyhood back in Scotland still fill us with horror whenever we happen to recall them. In addition to being compelled to go to the kirk twice and often three times on the Sunday, we had to fill in between-times memorizing paraphrases, psalms, hymns and the shorter catechism, all on a diet of cold mutton.
