

SAME TERMS

To Be Given Other Countries as United States

IN REGARD TO TRADE

IF THE RECIPROcity AGREEMENT PASSES.

Hon. W. S. Fielding Replies to Dr. Reid—Members Read Resolutions and Letters For and Against Reciprocity to the House.

Special to the Whig.

Ottawa, Feb. 24.—Several hours were taken up by members on both sides of the House of Commons, yesterday afternoon, in reading resolutions and letters from their different constituencies expressing views for and against reciprocity.

The opposition members who read resolutions opposing it were: E. G. Porter, M.P., Belleville; A. S. Goodwin, Kootenay, B.C.; W. S. Middleboro, Owen Sound; S. Henderson, Halifax; Martin Burrell, Yale-Cariboo; G. H. Bradburn, Selkirk; Dr. Reid, Grenville.

Those on the liberal side who read resolutions in favor of reciprocity were: W. E. Knowles, Moose Jaw; B. Law, Yarmouth, N.S.; Hon. William Paterson, minister of customs.

The following question on the order paper, asked by Dr. Reid, of Grenville, caused considerable discussion: If the proposed arrangement of the tariff with the United States is passed, will the following countries be allowed to import goods into Canada on same terms as allowed the United States, viz.: Argentine Republic, Austria, Hungary, Bolivia, Colombia, Denmark, Japan, Norway, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and Venezuela?

Dr. Reid said he had received an answer from Mr. Fielding, but it was entirely evasive. He wanted yes or no to it. After considerable wrangling, between Dr. Reid and the minister, R. L. Borden interrupted and said it was very important that the country should receive a straightforward answer.

Mr. Fielding finally said that the countries named would be allowed the same privilege as the United States with regard to articles on the free list, if this reciprocity agreement went through.

Dr. Clarke, Red Deer, Alta., resumed the debate and declared that he was an ardent free trader. He did not believe that reciprocity with the United States would tend to increase the cost of living in Canada, and he hoped the agreement would go through.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved that from this date to the end of the session, government orders on Monday will have precedence immediately after questions to be put by members. He also moved that on Wednesday next there would be no sitting of the house, that day being a holiday, and from then on the house would sit every Wednesday evening.

During the temporary absence of the groom the to be best man stepped up, proposed and was accepted, with the result that the wedding was held on schedule time, but without the original bridegroom.

NOVA SCOTIA LEGISLATURE.

An Extension of the I.C.R. Towards Canso.

Halifax, Feb. 24.—The Nova Scotia legislature opened yesterday afternoon. The speech of Gov. MacGregor, referred to the death of King Edward and Gov. Fraser, and the loyalty of the province was pledged. Reference was made to the proposed legislation to improve the highways of the province, and for this a large sum of money is proposed to be borrowed. This will be in line with an announcement made last summer by Attorney-General McLean. A railway from Halifax towards the Strait of Canso has for many years been asked for by the people of that section of the province. The speech made no definite announcement regarding this, but it is understood that the government has positively defined policy, the main feature of which is that the road of about 150 miles, will be built as a branch of the I.C.R. by the federal government, assisted by a large subsidy from the legislature.

The general elections will be held soon after the house rises. This will be the fifth session of this legislature.

A CASUAL GLANCE.

READING A NEWSPAPER CLEARS UP A MYSTERY.

The Publication of the Death of a Wealthy Lumberman Brings a Fortune to His Deserted Wife and Daughter.

Nemah, Wis., Feb. 24.—A casual glance at a newspaper cleared a mystery of twenty-one years' standing for Mrs. Keyfus Sindahl, of this city, and incidentally brought her an estate of $30,000.

Mrs. Sindahl was the daughter of J. P. Lena, formerly of Nemah, who disappeared twenty-one years ago, leaving her and her mother with no means of support. They searched for years, but could find no trace of him. He had had no trouble at home, which strengthened a belief of foul play.

Recently a wealthy lumberman was killed by a falling tree at Black Duck, Minn., and in his pocket were memoranda referring to his home city. An account of the matter was published and Mrs. Sindahl enquired and had no difficulty in establishing her relationship with the dead man.

The father had made a will, leaving all his property to his daughter, and made matters doubly certain by taking out deeds in her name. The mother is still living and makes her home with her daughter here.

Asked to explain the reason for the elimination, John Denton-Pender, of the committee, said that the books were regarded as objectionable on account of "their extreme lack of refinement and also because they were written in American, and extremely vulgar American at that." Expulsion of Two Who Tampered With Funds.

Montreal, Feb. 24.—The corporation of McGill University has unanimously decided after a careful and somewhat protracted investigation, that no distinction should be made in the treatment meted A. R. The Liberals Forced the House in Regard to the Matter—Fight to Make the Matter a Provincial Affair.

Toronto, Feb. 24.—A provincial standard in milk was the point around which the discussion upon the new milk bill raged for two hours in the legislature, yesterday afternoon. The right to make the regulation of milk a provincial matter and not one for every municipality in Ontario to deal with independently was led by Hon. A. G. Mackay, and while the leader of the opposition failed to convince the government of the desirability of amending the bill, his convincing arguments won the silent approval of a number of government members.

The fight has not been given up, and when the bill comes up for a third reading the liberal leader will divide the house.

The clause which precipitated the discussion was that which provides that "The council of every municipality is hereby authorized to enact by-laws regulating the granting of licenses to producers and to vendors to sell milk, and shall have power to refuse or cancel such licenses," and that "No person shall sell milk in any municipality where such by-laws are in force without first obtaining a license therefor."

These two sections, together with a later one, which gives every municipality the right to appoint inspectors to enter premises, no matter where located, of every person producing milk for sale in the municipality for which he is inspector, were given considerable attention by Hon. A. G. Mackay. He described the confusion which would result from the power given municipalities to pass by-laws regulating milk produced outside its boundaries, and declared that numberless standards of milk would be fixed. A farmer who shipped milk to four or five municipalities would have to take out a license for each one and be subject to the standards fixed by each municipality. He might have to produce several standards of milk. The department of agriculture with its staff of experts should, Hon. Mr. Mackay contended, set the standards and fix the regulations under which milk should be produced.

Daniel Reed, of South Westworth, Valentine Stock, of South Perth, J. C. Elliott, of West Middlesex, and Mr. McEwing, of West Wellington, also fought for the provincial standard, and G. W. Neely, East Middlesex, agreed with their position, while W. K. McNaught, North Toronto, one of the milk commission, himself was with them on the main point of contention. The bill was carried through committee without any amendment of importance, but when Hon. Mr. Mackay asked whether it would come back, and the prime minister replied that it would be put through "that," said Mr. Mackay, "the house will be divided on it on the third reading."

Tremendous seas were pounding over her, and the masts and funnels had been swept overboard. There was great relief when it was definitely ascertained that the vessel was the old French warship.

MULTIPLICITY OF STANDARDS THREATENED.

CHARGE OF SENATOR

THAT TOO MUCH MONEY IS SPENT ON MILITIA.

A Discussion in Senate on Appointment of Military Officers—A Statement by Sir Richard Cartwright.

Ottawa, Feb. 24.—"Militia expenditure has increased from a million and a half to almost seven millions since the present government came into power. The naval and militia estimates now amount to twenty-two and a half millions, or a fifth of the total estimates. It is time a halt was called. Canada has been spending too much in brass buttons and gold braid, an expenditure which brings forward in this country a set of snobs who sneer at civilians at such functions as the governor-general's reception."

The senate chamber was the place whence came this deliverance. It was Senator Cloran who uttered it. The remark was provoked by a discussion concerning the appointment of military officers.

Senator Lougheed had drawn attention to the appointment of a Mr. Dickie to the colony of 78th Regiment of Nova Scotia. Mayor Burnside, second in command, should have received the appointment, but Sir Frederick Borden had told Senator Ross that Mayor Burnside had not been appointed simply because he "was a Tory."

Sir Richard Cartwright said that he had first been decided to disband it. Every officer of the regiment had then petitioned for the appointment of Mr. Dickie to the command.
