INDEPENDENCE OF THE PRESS.

Our contemporary, the Standard, is realizing what all newspapers have felt when they manifested their independence. It is made the subject of many jibes and sneers from the conservative papers. It has come out in support of the reciprocity agreement. It has been reasonable in its treatment of the subject. It may have been more outspoken than the Ottawa Journal and the Ottawa Citizen, whose political faith cannot be questioned, but it has not been more vigorous. The Whig knows what it is to be misunderstood and misrepresented. It has exercised its judgment on certain occasions, and discussed some subjects in an independent and conscientious way. It has suffered from the caustic criticisms of self-constituted judges, and superiors. The day may come when the Canadian press will be allowed some freedom of thought without the rebuffs which the party now administer. All over Canada, at the present time, there is a distinct division among the people on the question of reciprocity. In parliament the parties may line up as usual, but outside the house liberals and conservatives are acting as the spirit moves them. A journalist should be able to speak as he feels without calling down upon himself the condemnation which no partisan tribunal has a right to pass.

THE POWER SITUATION.

More than five months ago the Seymour Power company approached the city council with a definite offer to supply power at the rate of $25 per horse power. Negotiations ensued, which resulted in the power company and the council arriving pretty nearly at an agreement.

The chairman of the light committee quite properly consulted with Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission, and was advised by him to wait and see what the Hydro-Electric Commission could do for Kingston. Acting on Mr. Beck's advice the chairman of the light committee convened a meeting of representatives of all the municipalities in the neighborhood. This meeting took place at Brockville, nearly three months ago, and was attended by Mr. Southam, chief engineer of the Hydro-Electric Commission. On Mr. Southam's advice an application by the municipalities was made to the Hydro-Electric Commission for rates at which power would be supplied. A request was duly made by the municipalities assembled, but up to date no information or quotation can be procured from the Hydro-Electric Commission.

Ald. Elliott and the members of the light committee have, subsequently, on several occasions, applied to the Hydro-Electric Commission for advice, but without result. It is apparent that while the Hydro-Electric Commission may be of benefit to Western Ontario, very little can be expected of it in the east. If Kingston is to secure cheap power during the present year it will be necessary for the light committee to take some active steps in the immediate future, for it will take many months to build a power line to Kingston.

If the Seymour Power company's proposition promises to be a good one, and the Hydro-Electric Commission can do nothing, why not consider the proposition without further delay?

REQUEST TO THE COUNCIL.

It is understood that a request will be made to the city council at their meeting this evening, on behalf of the Board of Education, and to the end that a sum may be granted for a new school without the delay and expense of a plebiscite. The relations between a board of education and a council are somewhat peculiar. Trustees are elected by the ratepayers for public school purposes. High school trustees are appointed by the council. Here there is a joint board, and whatever money it requires for school purposes must be provided by the council, when the demand therefor is in reason. When it is not in reason, in the opinion of the aldermen, it may be referred to the people.

It is a question, however, whether this reference can be made until the Board of Education has been notified and had an opportunity, if need be, to revise its figures. When the Board of Education last discussed the money question with the finance committee it was stated that the $40,000 was not required for the new school. The architect had estimated that it would cost $27,000—that is a duplicate of Frontenac school with some modifications—and there had to be sufficient for the site and the furniture. These might call for $6,000 or $7,000. What did the board propose to do with the balance of the $40,000? Two of the old schools had to be reconstructed, and the work would cost considerable. Of course it might not be undertaken this year, and if not the money for it would not be asked.

It is a consideration of all these facts that suggests that the aldermen and the trustees may get their heads together and save the cost of a poll of $4 votes, which would cost about $500. The city has not a dollar to waste in any way. If the council is willing to concede that the new school is absolutely necessary, that it must be built for present emergencies, and is the first act towards putting some of the old schools in sanitary condition, it will grant the $35,000 now suggested. It may, of course, exact a statement as to the manner in which money is going to be applied, and it may receive the assurance that the expensive site of Division Street has been abandoned. It is in this site that has prejudiced both council and people against the new school.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The United States budget of appropriations calls for an expenditure next year of $140,000,000. Of this sum $45,000,000 goes into the Panama canal. The democrats will have the time of their lives retrenching when they come into power.

The latest is that 2,500,000 will perish in China for lack of bread in the famine district. Add to this the mortality from the pneumonic plague and the outlook is appalling. What is the Christian world doing to relieve this awful condition?

A. W. Smithers, chairman of the G.T.R. board, in London, endorses the reciprocity agreement, and thinks that eventually it must mean a great deal for America's commercial success. This opinion and Sir Daniel Mann's ought to offset Sir William Mackenzie's and Sir William Vanlone's.

The chairman of the Toronto school board is charged with having used his position for business purposes. He has sued the Saturday Night for libel. But the libel suit will not relieve the board of the enquiry it should make into the case. Public men must walk very straight nowadays.

MONDAY MORNING WEDDING.

Miss Doras A. Blaney Weds V. J. Sullivan, Winnipeg.

A pretty event was quietly solemnized at seven o'clock, in St. James' chapel, when Rev. Father Hagley united in marriage Doras A., eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Blaney, of this city, and Vincent J. Sullivan, of the firm of Sullivan & Rodgers, Winnipeg, and son of Mrs. M. E. Sullivan, Loughboro. The bride looked very smart in a travelling suit of navy broadcloth, with navy silk blouse and hat of panne gray velvet, with ostrich trimmings.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy young couple, who were unattended, drove to the bride's parents, where, with the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, they partook of a sumptuous repast.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan left at noon for eastern parts and on their return they will spend a short while visiting friends in the city and the surrounding county, after which they will proceed to Winnipeg to reside. The bride and groom are both well-known and their popularity was attested by the many beautiful and costly presents which they received.

LEAPS OF SUICIDES.

Owners of sixteen downtown office buildings having rotundas more than three storeys in height were ordered by the building department to stretch screens across the second floor opening to protect those on the main floor from being struck by persons making suicidal leaps.

PLEDGE OF OFFICERS

"AND THE WOMAN SHALL BE NAMELESS."

Captain of U.S. Fourth Infantry Dismissed From Service—Entered Stateroom of Brother Officer's Wife.

Leavenworth, Kan., Feb. 27.—"And the woman shall be nameless." This is the pledge of all officers, who were in any way connected with the court-martial, which tried Capt. Guy B. Smith, of the 4th Infantry, a West Pointer from Michigan and the son of a brigadier-general. The court recommended the dismissal of the captain from the service and the president has approved the finding of the court.

The formal charge was of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. It is generally accepted that the trouble involving Capt. Smith broke while the 4th Infantry was returning on a transport from the Philippines. Three days before the boat reached San Francisco, the captain was arrested.

It is said in garrison gossip that the basis of the charges against the captain was that he entered the wrong stateroom on the trans-Pacific voyage, and found it occupied by the wife of a brother officer. Capt. Smith has a wife and son five years old.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Kingston Wants the Best Lamps for Its Streets.

Kingston, Feb. 25.—(To The Editor): The light plant committee seem to be having some difficulty in deciding which of the two luminous arc lamps to purchase for our streets. Any citizen taking the trouble to visit the corners of Queen and King and Ontario and Queen streets, where the lamps are burning, and have been since the official test, will have no difficulty in determining which is the best in so far as illumination is concerned. It is true that the tender of one of the competing companies exceeds that of the other by something over $2,000; nevertheless the committee ought to take into consideration that price should not be altogether the deciding point. This is true in regard to electrical apparatus perhaps more than any other.

The writer has looked very carefully into the lamp question and finds that apart from the greater brilliancy of the more expensive arc lamp the upkeep is less, and ample proof can be secured of this statement.

If the city of Montreal, after a most thorough investigation into the merits of the different luminous arcs, placed an order for more than 2,500 lamps similar to one of those now being tested on our streets, there should be no difficulty for the light and power committee to make a selection. We want the best.—JAMES HALLIDAY.

Want Drains at Junction.

Kingston, Feb. 27.—(To The Editor): I see in the columns of the British Whig that the council is going to extend the water mains to the lower G.T.R. station, and compel the people to take the water whether they want it or not. I was always under the impression that the only way that people could be compelled to take water is to make the property holder put in sanitary improvements.

What we want down here are proper drains and not cess pools. There are cess pools down here which have never been cleaned out since they were put in.

I would like to ask the council where all the fever was—if it was in the city or at the lower station? We have had pure water at the lower station, and no fever, while there has been impure water for Kingston city twice in six months.—A RATEPAYER.

Found Dying in Snow.

Holleford, Feb. 25.—The people of this vicinity received a shock on Wednesday, of last week, when they heard of the death of Jeremiah Babcock, an old and respected resident. Mr. Babcock went to the woods to work on Tuesday morning, and not returning for dinner a search was made, and found he was lying in the snow, having had a paralytic stroke. Pneumonia set in, and he died next morning. The remains were placed in Verona vault on Friday last, the service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Pierce, in Verona Methodist church. The deceased leaves a widow and three daughters, all of whom are married.

In Dread of Something

You Can Scarcely Tell What—It May be Hysteria, Insanity, Nervous Collapse.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

When the nervous system breaks down you are in constant dread of something terrible about to happen. Physical suffering cannot be compared to the mental agonies of the nervous wreck who fears that his mind may give way or that his body may be paralyzed.

In this condition you must suffer alone for friends cannot understand or sympathize with you. They tell you to cheer up or that it is only imagination.

You can only throw off this depression when the nerve cells are restored to health by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Your digestive system has failed to supply proper nourishment to the nerves and you are compelled to seek aid from other sources.

It will take some patience and persistent treatment, but there is no way by which you can so certainly restore health and vigor as by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The best time to restore the nervous system is long before such a critical condition is reached. Such symptoms as sleeplessness, headaches, nervous indigestion, muscular weakness, loss of energy, failure of memory and power of concentration, irritability and discouragement tell of a failure of the nervous system and warn you of the approach of serious trouble.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.
