

SIFTON KICKS

Against the Reciprocity Agreement.

HE DENOUNCED IT

IN A STRONG SPEECH IN COMMONS.

He Said if He Did Not Oppose It, His Self-Respect Would Be Endangered—More Information Required.

Special to the Whig. Ottawa, March 1.—In the House of Commons, yesterday afternoon, Hon. Clifford Sifton, leader of the Liberal government, and chairman of the conservation commission, kicked over the traces on reciprocity. In cold-blooded fashion, Mr. Sifton denounced reciprocity in no undiluted language. It was a great, important question, and one not to be dealt with in a trifling or foolish manner. He was out and out opposed to the pending pact between Canada and the United States and he said that his opinion was not spasmodic or one that had been suddenly formed. It was a big question, and one that warranted any man, if he be a true Canadian, in taking a firm stand.

"I am opposed to it, because should I not, my self-respect would be endangered." Mr. Sifton severely criticized the ministers of finance and customs, for not giving to the house and the people more detailed information on the matter. If they have the information they certainly did not bring it down, nor did they argue on the merits of the question. He declared that reciprocity with Uncle Sam had not been a question submitted to the people during the past three general elections, in 1900, 1904, 1908, and there was no constitutional warrant to disturb our present fiscal policy without consulting the people.

"It is a constitutional question and I do not believe that anything has so shocked the people of Canada as the whole history of this," (Conservative cheer). "To think," he continued, "that four or five men should take unto themselves the power to reverse the traditional policy of Canada, which has worked out so profitably ever since 1857, would undoubtedly be a great mistake."

"It would hardly be advisable to increase the British preference at the present time," said Mr. Sifton. He went over the list of articles that the agreement proposed to put on the free list and almost everyone he pointed out where the general election in 1904, in Canada. To stop sending agricultural products to Great Britain and send them to the United States, who only a few years ago, brandished a club over our heads, would indeed be a serious matter. How long would this trade agreement last with the United States? "I do not know, the government does not know, nobody knows."

"We are putting our heads into a noose," Mr. Sifton shouted, amid loud conservative cheers. "Our farm products in every province will be dominated by those of the United States, and the favored nation treaties, and the whole tendency is to induce Canadian farmers to ship their products to the United States, yet this government, on the other hand, has been spending millions of dollars to establish extensive farming throughout the dominion. How ridiculous and absurd. This pact will surely mean dislocation and disturbance of business all over Canada and a great loss to many of the large industries."

He ventured to say that the big packing interests of Canada would be wiped out. "There is no more chance for them to stand up against the big United States trusts than I have for my life if this building should fall upon me."

With regard to any change on our pulp and paper, Canada should sit down and wait. The provincial regulations on these articles are good and if the government allows this agreement to go through, the United States government will have the power to put an abrogation on our provincial regulations.

He declared that the price of wheat would be lowered instead of increased, and it would give United States control of our wheat market, making the great North-West the back door of Chicago. It places the products of the Canadian on a free trade basis and in time it will compel Canada to submit to commercial union with Uncle Sam. (Conservative cheer.)

"I cannot conceive of what the government was thinking when they even considered such a proposition. If ever they made a monumental error and got it wrong, it was then," he said. "The government has been flaunting before the people the binding of all the provinces together more closely. This will not bind them, but separate them. British Columbia will be annexed in trade to Oregon and California; the North-West to the states immediately south of them; Ontario and Quebec to New York state; and the maritime provinces to the New England states. What a national policy that is!" he declared.

It was interesting to note several of the liberal members applauding Hon. Mr. Sifton during his speech. They were: Mr. German (Welland), Lloyd Harris (Barnford), and other liberal back benches.

Hon. Sydney Fisher, who followed.

declared that the arrangement was a wise one and reflected great credit upon the government. The opposition cheered Mr. Sifton because he agreed with their views, but he said: "If I agreed with them I suppose they would cheer me also, but because I do not cheer me."

CANADIAN GIRL DEPORTED.

Taken Into United States by James Agnew.

Ogdensburg, N.Y., March 1.—Ruby Montgomery, the Canadian girl, who figured as the chief witness in the case against James Agnew, who was sentenced at Albany, last week, by Judge Ray to serve thirteen months at Atlanta, was deported to Prescott by Immigrant Inspector Conroy. At Prescott the child was placed in the custody of her father who took her back to his home in Kemptville. Ruby fled from Kemptville last fall at the solicitation of Agnew, who furnished her with money to come to Prescott, where he met her and brought her over the river to this city. Her father traced her to Ogdensburg and put the case in the hands of the police. Agnew's arrest followed Agnew was first charged with bringing the girl here for immoral purposes, but in the United States court the charge was changed to one of bringing an alien into this country without a certificate.

The shooting was the climax of an election row.

WARN AMBASSADORS

THAT THEY ARE NOT TO GIVE ASSISTANCE.

In Reciprocity Negotiations—Unionist Criticism of Hon. James Bryce Over Canadian Affairs.

London, March 1.—The unionist attack upon the part which Hon. James Bryce had in the Canadian-United States reciprocity treaty was renewed in the House of Commons, yesterday.

Sir Edward Grey, to whom the critics directed their inquiries, gave the British ambassador's course the same respectful support which it received recently from Mr. Asquith.

The tariff reformers wished the foreign office to instruct the ambassadors of Great Britain at other capitals not to assist similar negotiations. This the foreign secretary flatly refused to promise. He said that the assistance given by British ambassadors to the Canadian ministers in recent years had been both useful and acceptable. In the reciprocity proceedings at Washington the action of Mr. Bryce had been, he believed, beneficial both to Canada and the United States because in communicating with the Canadian representatives and the American officials, he had kept British interests in view.

Sir Edward added that in recent years the Canadian government, on frequent occasions, had expressed itself grateful for the help that Mr. Bryce had given them at Washington, that it had come to be regarded as a matter of course that when the ministers of the dominion went to Washington they would receive the aid of the British diplomat.

ARBITRATION SYSTEM ROT.

Denounced as Tomfoolery by Chairman Mabee.

Toronto, March 1.—At a meeting of the Board of Railway Commissioners, Chairman Mabee used uncomplimentary language regarding the arbitration system, when arbitration was suggested in connection with one application. "If ever there was a piece of tomfoolery in the world," said he, "it is a board of arbitration. Any one man can give a better adjustment in half an hour than all the arbitrators and witnesses can in six weeks."

DRESSES ON $10 A YEAR.

Aged Woman of Grooton, Mass., Tells How She Does It.

Boston, March 1.—That $16 a year is enough for a woman to dress well on is the seemingly absurd assertion of Mrs. Mary W. Shattuck, seventy-six years old, of Grooton, Mass. She says she has dressed well on $10 a year for fifty-three years. Moreover, Mrs. Shattuck has long been admitted to be an exceedingly well attired, neatly gowned woman.

Mrs. Shattuck furnishes this detailed account of her wardrobe and how she has managed to live for fifty-three years, since the day she became a bride, on an average sum of $10 a year: Black satin muff and stole, three bonnets, two shawls, black broadcloth cloak, lined with black satin; thin every-day coat for summer and winter wear, one best black corded silk dress, two white waists, four wrappers, one pair white kid and one pair black silk life gloves, two pairs of rubbers, three pairs hand knitted stockings, four pairs of summer stockings and other necessary clothing.

FIGHT WITH ARROWS

INDIANS RESORTED TO ANCIENT WEAPONS

In Battle With Whites—Squaws Were Also in the Fight—A War Dance Followed.

Reno, March 1.—Details of the fight between a party of Shoshone Indians and the Nevada state police, in which eight of the Indians and one of their squaws were killed, have reached this city from Tuscarora.

The squaws were armed with only bows and arrows. A steel-tipped arrow struck one of the deputies in the breast, inflicting a painful wound. It probably was the first time in many years that bows and arrows have figured in an Indian fight.

Led by Skinnk Pascal, an Indian trader, the pursuers sighted the Shoshones, moving in single file. Pascal was sent ahead to talk to the band. When, within 100 yards, "Indian Mike" the leader, raised his rifle and fired. Skinnk Pascal dropped from his horse unharmed and fired twice. Indian Mike fell and crawled to some bushes, where he later was found dead.

When they saw that their leader had fallen the remainder of the band fled two miles down the canon. Then the Indians made a stand and executed a "war dance." The officers dismounted and surrounded the Indians, Hogle, an officer, was killed as he left cover. With only two bucks armed with rifles and two squaws and several children using bows and arrows against a score of white men, the fight was soon over.

HANGMAN'S DUTIES.

Toronto, March 1.—Donald James Rafferty, better known as Rad-life, the official executioner, was buried, yesterday, in Humbervale cemetery.

Rev. J. D. Morrow conducted the service. In his address he referred to the position held by Mr. Rafferty in life rather pointedly. He said he did not condemn him any more than he condemned those who gave the sentence of death. Nor did he condemn the judge who gave the sentence of death any more than the men who made the laws. Nor the men who made the laws any more than those who put the men there.

Of Government From Bars and Race Tracks.

LEGISLATION CALLS

FOR TURNING OVER PART OF RECEIPTS.

Sum of $100,000 Will be Added to Ontario's Revenue From Bars—Railways, Express Companies and Race Tracks Will Pay More.

Toronto, March 1.—Two of the most important measures the members of the legislature have had before them in several years were introduced, yesterday afternoon. Both are revenue-producing bills and both will probably meet with a storm of opposition when their contents are opposed and their probable effect realized.

The recent work that license inspectors throughout the province carried on in securing returns of bar earnings was explained when Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary, briefly outlined the government bill, which the province will receive five per cent. on all bar sales over forty dollars a day. The provincial secretary admitted that the bill was a departure from the principle hitherto followed, but was justified in view of the increased value of licenses as the result of the spread of the dry districts.

Hon. Mr. Hanna announced that the government had enlarged the scope of the veto with respect to licenses, making it apply all over the province. He introduced a bill designed to prevent druggists from abusing their privileges, by providing that a chemist's certificate becomes void upon a second conviction for breach of the license act.

The other bill was introduced by Hon. Mr. Matheson. Its principal provision calls for the imposing of a tax of two cents on every $100 or fraction thereof of the par value of every transfer of stock, bonds, or debenture stock. The tax will be a hard blow to small lot speculation in cheap mining issues. The other taxes are an increase in the mileage tax on double-tracking of large railway systems, a more than doubling of the mileage tax on express companies and a tax on all race tracks.

The new revenue act is expected to add to the provincial treasury considerably over one hundred thousand dollars. The added revenue from the doubled tax on railway mileage, which applies only to double-tracking, is estimated at $22,000. The express companies will be called upon to pay $200 instead of $20 for every mile over which they operate, an aggregate increase of some $40,000, while the new tax upon race tracks of $200 a day for the seven-day meets and smaller taxes on the smaller meets will mean an addition of $15,000. The provincial treasury is not prepared to estimate the return on a stock transfers owing to the difficulty in gathering figures of stock sales, but it is expected to produce almost the largest revenue increase.

ROBBED AND MURDERED

Red Tie Starts Fashion.

Washington, March 1.—The president may not be conscious of it, but he has made red neckties popular. A few days ago Mr. Taft blossomed out in a crimson tie of the gayest hue. He exhibited a great deal of it across his ample bosom, and a visitor to the inner office of the White House escaped the fine impression he made.

Now they are all talking red neckwear at the White House, and the official callers are preparing to fall in line.

Working Their Heads Off.

Rochester, N.Y., March 1.—The citizens of Rochester are already working their heads off, figuratively speaking, in their efforts to entertain the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which will be held here from August 21st to 26th. Mayor Hiram H. Edgerton asked to name the general committee, has selected sixty-five of the representative men of the city to aid in making arrangements for the affair.

Strike of Painters.

Chicago, March 1.—All the morning papers of this city, came out, this morning, with four pages only, owing to all three papers being set in one office, the Journal, because the printers on Hearst papers, the American and Examiner, are having trouble with the printers about the size of the columns. President Lynch, of the Typographical Union, is expected here to try to settle matters. He is said to have condemned the strike.

One Way of Looking at It.

New York, March 1.—Milton S. Guterman, a wealthy lawyer, whose seventeen-year-old daughter, Edith Louise, married Thomas C. Rigney, an elevator boy, to-day declared that the wedding was an elopement.

"It was just a case of two young people in love with each other," said Guterman. "It is true that Tom is a poor boy, but a whole lot of good men have started out as poor boys."

BANISHES JILTING GIRL.

Orders Her to Return Money to an Admiring.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 1.—Because her eyes are admittedly more beautiful than any eyes Conshohocken has ever seen and because she could not make them behave, a magisterial edict enforced the banishment from that Philadelphia suburb of the presence of Miss Marie Delmore.

Miss Delmore is about twenty-one years old, and for a couple of years has been ravaging the hearts of the marriageable young men. One of her admirers was Michael Brunst, who declares that after a tentative agreement to wed had been reached he handed the girl his savings of $300 to buy a trousseau. Her affection for Brunst cooled. The magistrate decided that Miss Delmore didn't want the case returned to the Montgomery county courts for trial she must return to Brunst all that remained of the $300 and agree to leave Conshohocken at once.

DISGRACE TO THE NATION.

Ministers Protest Against Mormon Pictures on Plate Battleship.

New York, March 1.—The Presbyterian Ministers' association of New York and vicinity adopted resolutions against the proposed presentation of a silver service to the U. S. battleship Utah as the gift of the state of Utah. "This service," continues the resolution, "bearing the portrait of Brigham Young and a picture of the Mormon Temple at Salt Lake City, will dishonor the state of Utah, and be a disgrace to the nation if it is accepted. The insolence of any proposal calls for immediate and emphatic resentment. The insignia of any church has no place on the service of a United States ship, and the insignia of the Mormon church so placed is an insult to the Christian people of the whole country."

FOR BEING PROFANE.

Demands Damages Because Agent Swore While Selling Ticket.

Great Falls, Mont., March 1.—Ticket agents of the North-Western are aroused over a suit filed by Gertrude Hatch against the Great Northern Railroad company to recover $2,000 damages because of language she asserts an agent used when selling her a ticket to St. Paul, Minn., recently.

It is likely that the case will be fought stubbornly, as it is the first in the North-West turning on the use of profanity by employees before patrons of a public service corporation.

POISONED CHILDREN.

Woman Forced Them to Drink Solution of Lye.

Rochester, N.Y., March 1.—When George Lutz returned from work to his home, at 122 Cady street, he found his two children—North, four and a half years of age, and Mary, two and a half years of age—and his wife in the throes of potash poisoning. The woman had forced the children to drink a solution of lye and had taken it herself. The woman is in the general hospital and little hope is given for her recovery. Anger because of a chiding was the cause of the deed.

MANITOBA'S BUDGET

SURPLUS IS OVER SIX HUNDRED THOUSAND.

The Government Telephones a Success—The Revenue This Year From 'Phones Will be $1,300,000.

Winnipeg, March 1.—Hon. Hugh Armstrong, provincial treasurer, presented the budget statement in the legislature yesterday, announcing a surplus of $612,380.22. The total revenue was $3,847,320.58. He referred to the high financial standing of the province's stock, now selling at the record price of 103. The telephone system, he added, is a growing asset to the province, and gave a surplus of $110,000. The revenue this year from telephones he put at $1,300,000. He stated that the system has had a wonderful growth since taken over by the government; the long-distance lines had increased sixty-three per cent., and the rural lines had increased over 300 per cent., the number of rural subscribers jumping from 1,523 to 7,030.

UNITED STATES OPINIONS

On the Speech of Hon. Clifford Sifton.

Washington, March 1.—All big United States papers deal with Hon. Clifford Sifton's break-away as nothing extraordinary, but there is a feeling among members of congress that it makes the acceptance of the pact by the Canadian parliament not quite so sure. There is a rumor here that in order to force the senate's vote on the bill, meats and flour will be added to the free list. This can be done of course, without reference to Canada. Friends of the measure say that Taft has been given assurance of enough votes to carry it through the senate.

To Bring Settlers.

Ottawa, March 1.—In the House of Commons, Mr. Wilson, of Lennox, asked the government how much had been spent in England and in the states on immigration. Hon. Frank Oliver answered that $232,347 had been spent in the states during the past year and $245,577 in England.
