An Appeal to Wives

No more terrible affliction can come to any home than the excessive use of intoxicants by husband or son. Think of the money wasted in drink which is needed in the home to purchase food and clothing. If you have a drinking husband or son, give him ORLINE. We are so sure that ORLINE will do what is claimed for it, that if after a trial no benefits are derived from it, we will refund the money.

ORLINE is prepared in two forms, No. 1, secret treatment, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in any food or drink. ORLINE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. ORLINE costs only $1.00 a box. Write for Free ORLINE Booklet (mailed in plain sealed envelope) to ORLINE CO., 367 Ontario Building, Washington, D.C. ORLINE is recommended and is for sale in this city by G. W. Mahood, cor. Bagot and Princess Streets.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN QUIT.

Cornwall Council Refused Grants to Brigade.

Cornwall, Ont., March 8.—After forty years' voluntary service Cornwall's volunteer fire brigade, at a meeting held last night, decided to resign. For several years they have been seeking remuneration from the town council, and last summer they asked for grants of $200 to the chief and $700 to the brigade, also new uniforms for twenty men. The council declined, and the brigade gave notice that unless some arrangement was made by March 1st they would resign. The council is considering the organization of a semi-volunteer brigade, several members of which would be paid by the corporation.

Cremation Idea Wins.

Berlin, March 8.—The Prussian government laid before the diet yesterday a bill legalizing cremation. This denotes a complete change in the attitude of the government, which has been interpellated on the subject repeatedly in the last twenty years and has always opposed the suggestion.

WOMAN IS RELEASED

MRS. ANNIE ROBINSON IS OUT ON PAROLE.

Returned to Her Home in Sudbury on Friday Noon—Husband is Still in Penitentiary Serving Term of Twenty-eight Years For Terrible Crime.

Mrs. Annie Robinson, of Sudbury, who, in October, 1908, was sentenced to be hanged for causing the death of children of her daughter, and whose sentence was afterwards commuted to life imprisonment, was allowed out of the penitentiary, Friday morning, on parole. She returned to her home in Sudbury on the noon train.

James Robinson, the husband, is at present serving a term of twenty-eight years, he being found guilty of being implicated in the awful crime, and having also been found guilty of committing a serious offence on the complaint of two of his daughters. The case caused a great deal of comment at the time.

Robinson entered the penitentiary on November 2nd, 1909. He is now fifty-four years of age, and should be living to serve all his time, he will be eighty-one years of age, when he comes out. Mrs. Robinson is a woman of nearly fifty years of age. She is in fairly good health, but the trouble she has gone through has weighed very heavily upon her. It will be remembered that at the time of the trial Mrs. Robinson stated she had killed the children in an attempt to cover up the disgrace for the members of the family. Her case caused widespread sympathy, and it was due to the influence brought to bear that she was saved from the gallows. After she was removed to the penitentiary, petitions were sent to the justice department, asking that she be allowed her liberty, and now at last they have been acted upon.

Robinson, according to all reports, was unconcerned about his term in the penitentiary, and at the time of his removal here was credited with making a statement to the effect that he did not care if he went to the penitentiary for fifty years, so long as he did not go to the gallows.

The officials who brought him down to the penitentiary stated that he did not appear to care an iota about his sentence. While in jail at Sudbury, Robinson signed a petition calling for leniency in the case of his wife. Women all over the province took up the case of Mrs. Robinson, believing that she was not to blame in the matter, praying that leniency might be shown her.

WOMAN RETURNS HOME.

Mrs. Mamie Hamilton is Back in Malone.

Malone, N.Y., March 8.—Mrs. Mamie Hamilton, wife of Joseph Hamilton, who disappeared from her home last August, leaving her husband and two children, a boy of six and a girl of nine, returned on a New York Central train, telegraphing her husband from Utica to meet her, which he did.

She went to Ogdensburg, at the time she left, it is said, then to Prescott, Ont., and to Fort William, Ont., ending up at Duluth, Minn. She does not say why she left, but seems much pleased to get home, saying she enjoyed the novelty of seeing the world and is happy to be back with her family. Her husband knew nothing of her whereabouts until receiving the telegram and is pleased to have his wife back again.

Death of J. E. Proctor, Brighton.

Brighton, March 8.—In the death of John E. Proctor here to-day, at the age of eighty-seven, Brighton loses her oldest citizen. Mr. Proctor was for years a justice of the peace. Twenty-five years ago Mr. Proctor owned a number of schooners which were known at all Lake Ontario ports. He is survived by Mrs. Proctor, two sons and four daughters.

Farmers Bank Cases.

Toronto, March 8.—When the Farmers' bank cases were called this morning Crown Attorney Corley announced adjournments till the seventh instant.

Rolls butter, 25c. lb. J. Crawford.

Max Aitken, the Canadian, speaking at Ashton, England, said that the cunning and greed of Canada's southern neighbors was strong, but that the Canadian nationality was stronger.

WIFE'S SPIRIT CALLED.

Tried to Join Her by Taking Morphine.

Sharon, Pa., March 8.—Claiming to have seen the vision of his dead wife, and being commanded by her to join her in her celestial home, Samuel Schwartz, aged seventy-two, tried to carry out her request by taking morphine. He was unconscious when found, but was revived. Schwartz said his wife's spirit summoned him, and Schwartz expressing doubt as to whether he could get to heaven, the spirit told him it could be fixed. Then he begged off for a day to settle his accounts. This being granted, he tried suicide.

MARRIED NINTH HUSBAND.

Several of the Departed Committed Suicide.

Evanville, Ind., March 8.—Polly Ann Weed, seventy years of age, and wealthy, yesterday, married her ninth husband, Harry Strodes. She was married when a young woman to James West, and with each recurring death or divorce of subsequent husband, has retaken his name. The first marriage took place fifty-two years ago at Newburgh, near here. Weed died as did the three following husbands, two by suicide. Strodes is a well-to-do farmer, who was recently left a widower.

Variations of Love.

Winning Post.

Info a telegraph office in an eastern town there recently came a much-agitated young woman. She wrote upon one telegraph blank, 'I am in love,' wrote a second, which she treated in the same manner, and at last a third. This she handed to the operator, requesting in a trembling voice, that he 'hurry it up.'

The operator obeyed instructions, and when the young woman had gone he read the two messages which she had torn in halves.

The first was: "All is over. I never wish to see you again."

The second read: "Do not write or try to see me at present."

And the third ran: "Can you take the next train? Please answer."

His Experiment.

New York Press.

When the first shipment of frozen eggs arrived from Australia their extreme hardness astonished the brokers. One man, calling at a broker's office, was amazed to see him taking aim at the wall with an egg.

"What the dickens are you at?" he said.

But the broker let drive, the only result being a slight dent in the wall. The thing being explained, the man took a couple of the eggs, put them in his pocket, and left to startle his wife. Arriving home, he waited till the family was assembled for dinner, and then banged an egg at the new dodo.

But the smile quickly faded from his face. The egg had thawed!

A Golf Rule.

London Chronicle.

A story is told of two old antagonists who met on a Scotch golf course every Saturday afternoon. On one occasion, when they were all "square" at the seventeenth, and the loser of the previous week had just played his third in the shape of a nice approach to the green, the last week's winner came up to the ball with grim purpose. He had an easy pick to the green, but a number of young lambs were unconsciously browsing along the edge.

Indian Threw a Bomb.

Calcutta, March 8.—A bomb, evidently intended to end the activities of Superintendent Denham, of the criminal investigation department of the local police, was thrown at his motor car, in the centre of the city, yesterday. It failed to explode, and the thrower, a native youth, was arrested. It happened that Denham was not in the car, which was occupied by a public works official.

Will Press the Bill.

Ottawa, March 8.—It is stated by a member of the cabinet that the government would press the reciprocity bill in the Canadian parliament notwithstanding the attitude of the United States congress. There had been a rumor that Sir Wilfrid Laurier might delay matters if requested to do so by President Taft.

Leasing Apple Orchards.

Stratroy, March 8.—Agents have been going through Adelaide, Labo and Williams townships of Madeline county, endeavoring to lease the apple orchards for a term of years. They have met with good success, many leases being drawn up and signed on a basis of $20 an acre a year.

Forty Years for Burglar.

Kansas City, Mo., March 8.—Andy Spaulding, known in police circles as a "daylight robber," yesterday, was sentenced to forty years in prison for robbing a house of jewels valued at $110. Spaulding is forty-five years old. He has spent twenty-five years in prison.

New Principal at Picton.

Picton, March 8.—J. E. Minns, Newmarket, will be the new principal of Picton Collegiate, to replace J. H. Dolan, who goes to Bowmanville as principal of the high school there. Mr. Minns will take up his duties here on April 1st.

More Soldiers Needed.

Springhill Mine, N.S., March 8.—More soldiers, have been requisitioned here to preserve peace among the miners on strike. Feeding runs high and children of men who went back to work have been driven from schools.

NEWS OF THE WORLD

OCCURRENCES RECOUNTED IN BRIEF FORM.

Matters That Interest Everybody—Notes From All Over—Little of Everything Easily Read and Remembered.

Rev. J. Edgar Hill, pastor of St. Andrew's church of Scotland, Montreal, had a paralytic stroke, on Wednesday night.

The Montreal anti-reciprocity league is personally canvassing every voter in the city with the object of discussing the effect of the bill.

At Kincardine, Ont., the death of the Rev. Dr. McDonald, aged seventy-nine years, occurred from pneumonia. He had held many charges in Ontario.

In the Ontario legislature the liberal members joined with P. H. Bowyer, of East Kent, in urging that the tax on railroads be considerably increased.

Percy, the nine-year-old son of Freize Smith, farmer in Morphett, Ont., fell on the prongs of a pitchfork, which entered his eye and nose. He may die.

After an active pastorate of over twenty-eight years, Rev. J. Edgar Hill, pastor of St. Andrew's Church of Scotland, Montreal, was seized with an attack of paralysis while out walking in Dominion square, on Wednesday night.

At Bowmanville, Ont., Luther Brown, aged twenty, and a man named McManus are under arrest with entering the house of Thomas Bradley, in the township of Clarke, last Sunday night and assaulting his wife.

At Woodstock, Ont., Ex-Councillor Buchanan was again placed under arrest at the trial of the Oxford county graft cases when he declined to appear again because of a technicality and told the magistrate to collect bail if he could. The magistrate immediately ordered him taken into custody.

Mrs. John A. Stirling, formerly Clara Taylor, Washington, whose husband, Capt. Stirling, divorced her in March, 1909, will shortly be married to Lord George Hugo Cholmondeley, second son of the Marquis of Cholmondeley, who is twenty-three years old, handsome and a society favorite.

Appropriate.

New York Times.

The kindergarten teacher in a certain Sunday school, who is also a public school teacher, well on in years, announced to her class of little ones that she was very tired and much in need of rest and would not teach them during the summer.

The children's sympathies were aroused and they collected in the class a sum of money to buy their teacher a gift.

One evening the mother of the boy who was the leading spirit in the movement, asked:

"What are you going to buy for your teacher?"

"I'm not quite sure," replied the small boy, "but we saw something in the florist's window, to-day, that we thought she'd like. It was a pillow, all made of white flowers, and right in the middle in purple flowers it said 'At rest.'"

A Way to Exterminate.

Winnipeg Post.

Returned to his native village, which had not moved with the years, it was perhaps natural that he should boast a little. The village pump was still broken, the inn sign had not been repainted, and even the one shop window, from its appearance, had not changed.

"Boys," he said, "in my house in London I've two carriages and a motor car."

"My, my!" exclaimed his hearers.

"And a library," he continued— "containing two thousand books."

"You don't say so?" came a chorus.

"While as for pictures"—he waved his hand airily—"well, my walls are full of Titians."

Classified.

Lippincott's, London.

Upon the recent occasion of the dedication of the court house in an Indiana town, many prominent citizens were called upon for speeches. One of them, more blessed with money and confidence in himself than with education, distinguished himself by the following immortal sentiment, which he delivered with a grand air:

"All mankind," said he, his thumb in his buttonhole, and looking around impressively upon his hearers—"all mankind is divided into two classes, one of whom I am which."

HOW INDIA IS GOVERNED.

Most Successfully Administered Dependency in World.

The executive authority in India itself is vested in the governor-general-in-council. The governor-general, or, as he is more generally called, the viceroy, is appointed by the crown, and holds office for five years; this term is sometimes extended. The salary of the viceroy is 250,000 rupees a year. The rupee is now worth 1 shilling and 4 pence, or, roughly, thirty-four cents; the salary amounts, therefore, to about $84,000 a year, but I should be sorry to undertake the job and to pay my expenses out of that sum.

The council of the viceroy consists of six ordinary members besides the commander-in-chief of the army, and they are appointed by the crown, and hold office for five years. This council is enlarged into a legislative council by the addition of sixteen other members appointed by the viceroy under certain restrictions.

Further, India is divided into nine provinces: Bombay, Madras, Bengal, Eastern Bengal, United Provinces, the Punjab, Central Provinces, North-west frontier provinces, and Burma. The governors of Bombay and Madras are the most important officials after the viceroy, and are appointed by the crown, and each carries a salary of $40,000 a year. The governors of Bengal, Eastern Bengal, United Provinces, the Punjab and Burma are appointed by the viceroy with the approval of the crown; the chief commissioners of the central provinces and the agent to the governor-general who governs the north-west frontier provinces are appointed by the viceroy in council. Of these divisions, I visited seven, and in each I was impressed by the enormous amount of work being done, by the conscientious-often I thought too conscientious-way in which it was done, and by the dignity and fearlessness of the men who were doing it. If it were not for the interferences from the India office and the criticism from ignorant politicians who shamefully play India off for votes at home, it would be the most ideally managed, as it is the most successfully administered, dependency in the world.

Parishoner Feared Parson.

Newark Star.

Rev. Henry R. Rose tells the story of a young minister who had only recently taken charge of a small parish in Vermont. He aspired to great things and a larger field, and in hope that his reputation would travel beyond the limits of the village to which he had been sent he threw into his sermons all the force and eloquence at his command.

He was, however, totally unprepared for what was intended for a compliment, but which was put to him in such a way that it left him in doubt as to the real impression he had made.

One Sunday morning, after an especially brilliant effort, he was greeted by the most faithful of audients at all services. Approaching the young minister, she said:

"At, sir, we do enjoy your sermons so much, they are so instructive. Do you believe it, we never knew what sin was until you came to the parish."

"Smell de Mug."

Hans Von Spiger is notorious for the excellent quality of his cider, and he is furthermore notorious for being the meanest, stingiest Dutchman in existence. He was never known to give a living soul one drop of his delicious beverage. Now, at the time of the following occurrence, John B., being on a visit, and hearing of the excellent quality of Hans' cider, rode over to the farm one morning when the following conversation took place:

"Good morning, Hans!"

"Good morning, Zhouis!"

"Hans, you have a fine orchard."

"Yes, yes; good orchard."

"Fine press that of yours."

"Yes, fine press, fine orchard."

"Hans, I hear that your cider is the best in the country?"

"John (to his son), go down and draw us a mug of cider."

John brought up the desired mug, and Hans drained it to the bottom, then, turning round to the astonished B., said, "if you don't believe dat's good cider, smell de mug!"

Out of Sight.

Denver Post.

"Yes," said a travelling man last night, "I was once out of sight of land on the Atlantic ocean twenty-one days."

There was a small-sized crowd sitting around. Another man spoke up.

"On the Pacific ocean one time I didn't see land for twenty-nine days," he said.

A little bald-headed man knocked the ashes from his cigar.

"I started across the Kaw river at Topeka in a skiff once," he said, "and was out of sight of land before I reached the other side."

"Aw, come off," said the man who had told the first tale. "The Kaw isn't more than three hundred feet wide at Topeka."

"I didn't say it was," said the little bald-headed man quietly. "The skiff turned over and I sank twice."

It Made a Difference.

New York Success.

William B. Hildgley, former controller of the currency, said of a certain speculator recently:

"The man is an ingenious as a horse-trader's son who was once unexpectedly called upon by his father to mount a horse and exhibit its paces."

As he mounted he leaned toward his father and said:

"Are you buying or selling?"
