The Average Horse.

Everybody knows, says a writer in the March Issue of MacLean's Maga zine, that this world's rewards not even equitably distributed. That is why the world has invented heaven and hell. The people that don't get what they think they ought to get in this world figure-or at least some of them do-that things will be evened up in the next world and that the felow who possesses everything in this life will be accordingly deprived of everything in the world hereafter, except heat and company. But the averige horse has not even this sort of thing to even things up. He has no religion, no domestic interests, no friends, no hopes, no trade union, no propaganda. He has not even the pleasure of a varied diet, such as men have, or of the varied diseases to which men incline. When a man dies it is from one of a thousand causes. When a horse dies, it is one of a few heaves or glanders, or over-work. Parham, March 1 .- Mr and Mrs. Even when he is blind they drive him.

STAMINA IN MEN AND HOW TO POSSESS IT. (From "Man's Maladies.")

A prominent physician being asked the question: "What are the things in life a man needs most?" answered, "Physical health, strong nerves, mental efficiency, money and social success." Any man possessing these five attributes is a success. Any man possessing the first three can be a success and have the other two. Possession of a sound body with strong nerves is really the requirement which men need most. Men need men need most. Men need stamina, courage, staying qualities, endurance and perseverance but in order to have these qualities the nerves must be strong and keenly sensitive to every emotion. When a man has fore-bodings, sensations of fear, timidity, accompanied with such symptoms as trembling hands and limbs, weak voice, nervousness, sleeplessness, numbness, dizziness, heart palpitation, restlessness, forgetfulness, melancholia, weariness without cause, and many others of a similar nature, it cannot be expected that he will be a success financially, socially or otherwise.

Strong virile magnetism comes only to those whose nerves are properly nourished in a sound body. Nature in her wisdom has supplied certain extracts, essupplied certain extracts, essences, etc., which, if properly biended, will restore a normal keenness to the nerves so that any man can feel the rich red blood surging through his body supplying all the elements necessary to derive the most out of life in all its various phrases.

For the benefit of those temporarily deficient in nerve strength the following ingredients can be obtained of any good druggist and prepared in the privacy of home. Purchase three ounces of syrup sarsaparilla privacy of home. Purchase three ounces of syrup sarsaparilla compound in a six ounce bottle. Add one ounce of compound fluid balmwort, shake and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom) and one ounce compound essence cardiol. Mix. Shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring. All distressing symptoms will soon vanish and a complete restoration to normal follows. 127,160; value, $13,874.55; No. pounds
