THE COUNTY COUNCIL
CONSIDERED THE HIGH SCHOOL QUESTION.

Address by Three Inspectors and Two Queen's Professors — The Problem is Very Difficult of Solution.

The Frontenac council met in special session on Wednesday afternoon and Thursday, to consider the county high school question, which has been the subject of much discussion during the past few months. R. H. Cowley, provincial inspector of continuation schools, was present and gave the council information concerning the establishment of a continuation school, which has been suggested for Sharbot Lake.

The problem before the council is a difficult one, on account of the divergent interests of sections of the county and the solution is difficult. The council has all possible information by experts who comprised three Ontario inspectors and two Queen's University professors.

At the Thursday morning session, Councillor Baiden moved, seconded by Councillor Calvin, that the clerk be authorized to notify the board of education of Kingston, that the council is willing to make arrangements for the admission of county pupils to the city Collegiate Institute, under clause 1 of section 35 of the high school act.

Inspector Cowley explained to the council what the section of the act meant. The city board would first require to notify the council that the collegiate is open to county pupils. When that is done, the provisions of the act come into force. So far, the city board has never given such notice. If the board accepts the council's offer, county pupils would be admitted to the collegiate at the same fees as paid in Sydenham high school.

Then, at the end of the year, the county council would pay four-fifths of the cost of maintenance of county pupils in the Collegiate Institute.

Councillor Calvin stated that the chief question before the council was with regard to the front pupils, who were to be turned out of the city collegiate at the end of June. It was necessary for the council to act at once, and try and make some agreement with the city board for the education of the high school pupils of the south of the county who cannot be accommodated in Sydenham High School.

Councillor Rankin urged upon the council the necessity of taking action without further delay. What was suggested in the motion of Councillor Baiden might not be accepted by the board of education because to accommodate the sixty-six county pupils the city would have to erect a wing at a cost of $20,000 or $25,000.

Inspector M. R. Reid gave some starting information concerning the school conditions in North Frontenac, which was not receiving the attention it should.

Out of the fifty teachers, there were forty-four who had only temporary certificates to teach. Sixteen of them had never attended high school. Only one of the fifty had ever attended a teachers' training school. The only hope of securing teachers for the north was to educate them in a continuation school at Sharbot Lake.

Inspector W. Spankie told the council that the efficiency of Sydenham high school would be the best economy.

Maintain that school as it should be, was his advice. Dr. Spankie advised the council to remit to the parents of those who wanted to send their children to Kingston their share of the taxes which they pay for the maintenance of the county high school at Sydenham. The amount remitted, he declared, would never be missed by the Sydenham school. He said the county council could well afford to give a grant of $200 towards a continuation school at Sharbot Lake. The Ontario government grant would be $645. The back townships could grant $100, with $900, two teachers could be secured. As to the erection of a school, he would leave that to Reeve Thomson, of Sharbot Lake.

Dean Ellis, of Queen's department of education, formerly principal of the Kingston Collegiate Institute, was called upon and he impressed upon the council the advisability of giving every aid in the education of the youth of Frontenac. He saw no reason why an arrangement should not be made with the city board for the education of the pupils of the front townships.

Dean Ellis disagreed with Dr. Spankie's suggestion to remit to the parents sending their children to the Collegiate Institute their share of the county school taxes.

Prof. S. W. Hyde, of Queen's University, was also called upon. The continuation school, he said, was a magnificent growth of Ontario's educational system, and he advised the county to do everything possible to give the children of the north county a chance to secure a preliminary high school education.

Councillor Rogers held that the government should pay larger grants to the rural schools. The grants to higher education were too much out of proportion to those to the common schools.

Councillor Thomson declared that the council should adopt Inspector Reid's recommendation to place a continuation school at Sharbot Lake.

Councillor Stewart opposed granting any of the county taxes to the Kingston Collegiate Institute, and advocated adding two more rooms to the Sydenham high school.

Councillor Kennedy wanted to know where Bedford would stand in the proposed scheme. Its pupils went to the Leeds high school, and it would be paying taxes both to the Kingston Collegiate Institute and the Sydenham high school.

Councillor Cronk said the pupils of his township went to Belleville high school.

Councillor Baiden said that the residents around Sydenham had had a pretty good innings at cheap education. The other parts of the county should now be given consideration.

Councillor Salmon pointed out that it would be necessary to fix a limit of county pupils to attend the city collegiate, or there would be a rush to the city, to the injury of the Sydenham school. He advocated putting the Sydenham school in good shape.

Councillors Foley and Godkin moved an adjournment till 2 p.m., to give the members a chance to consider the motion of Councillor Baiden. Councillor Foley thought the matter could better be arranged by a caucus. The adjournment motion was carried.

A by-law was presented, on Wednesday afternoon, by Councillor Taylor, giving the reeves of Kingston, Pittsburg, Portland, Storrington and Lehigh authority to purchase necessary machinery for the good roads system in the county.

George A. Stewart, of Pittsburg, was appointed trustee of Sydenham high school, to succeed the late Edward Milton.

On Thursday morning, Prof. Alexander Laird, president of the Children's Aid Society, introduced J. C. McConachie, the new agent of the society, who is doing both city and county work. Mr. McConachie spoke briefly of the work he has already done in connection with unfortunate children in Frontenac. He asked that the county council furnish him with an office in the court house, so that he could keep in close touch with the heating county system. The matter was referred to the property committee.

Councillor Baiden amended his resolution to allow high schools hereabouts to enjoy the right to admit pupils according to the terms of the act. The resolution was adopted.

Snake Ankle Bracelet.
The latest thing in jewellery, so the authorities tell us, is the snake ankle bracelet. This is a bracelet in the form of a snake which fits the ankle to perfection. The ladies who wear them wear short skirts and low shoes so that they may be observed. This idea has got no farther than Paris, where it originated.

City Property Needs.
The city property committee met on Wednesday afternoon and adopted an estimate for the year's work. It was decided to ask the finance committee for $8,000. Of this amount $4,200 is for installing a heating plant in the north-east wing of the city buildings. Repairs to the roof and the walls of the city buildings are required.

Ex-Mayor Couper's Portrait.
The oil portrait of Ex-Mayor Couper, which is to be presented to the city council to be given a place in the city hall, is the portrait of past mayors of Kingston, in Kirkpatrick's art store. The portrait was done by Mrs. Compton, Barrie street, and reflects great credit upon that clever Kingston artist.

Taking No Part.
The Kingston liberal executive is not making any recommendation in connection with the appointment of a successor to Lieut. F. J. Hennessy, as quartermaster of the Royal Military College. The appointment is one that the militia department alone has to do with, it being a matter of internal arrangement.

NOMINATED AS BENCHER.
Honor Conferred Upon John McIntyre, K.C.

One of the best attended meetings of the Frontenac Law Association was held on Wednesday. It was regarded as the best attended meeting held in many years.

The matter before the members was that of the selection of John McIntyre, as a bencher, for the Law Association, of Upper Canada. It was announced that Mr. McIntyre had been nominated as a bencher by the leading barriesters in Toronto, and the local association was asked to endorse the nomination, and this was carried by a unanimous vote. The election will take place some time later on. The honor is a high one, and Mr. McIntyre is worthy of it.

FOR CAPE VINCENT ROUTE.
The Steamer Newsboy Will Likely be Secured.

In all probability, the steamer Newsboy, which has been in commission at Duluth, will be secured by the Thousand Island and River St. Lawrence Steamboat company, for their Cape Vincent route, to fill the place of the steamer Ottawa, which was destroyed by fire. W. J. Douglass, the general manager, and the chief engineer, James Gillie, have just returned from a trip to Duluth, where they had the opportunity of inspecting the vessel, and they were very much impressed with it. The Newsboy is about the same size as the steamer New Island Wanderer, and, at Duluth, it is regarded as a fine vessel by all marine men. It is looked upon as most suitable for the Cape run. Negotiations are on foot, but it has not yet been definitely settled whether the vessel will be purchased.

IN AWFUL CONDITION.
The Thoroughfares are Dirty and Dangerous.

The streets are now in about the worst condition yet this spring. Although the weather has been sufficiently soft for the past week to enable the merchants to get the snow and ice off the walks, yet no attempt has been made to get the principal thoroughfares in decent condition for pedestrians to traverse it, with any degree of safety. Some of the dugouts in different places are a disgrace to the merchants along whose store fronts they happen to be. Some have dug out a spot in front of the door and left the rest with the result that a drop is left, which is very dangerous.

Kingstonian on Stage.
An old Kingston boy, in the person of "Ike" Oliver, has a part in the "Goddess of Liberty," which was given at the Grand last night. Mr. Oliver is a son of Capt. Isaac Oliver, who will be remembered by all marine men. He removed from this city to Ogdensburg some years ago, and has been on the stage for about six years and has made good. In the "Goddess of Liberty" he takes the role of Lord Jack's tailor and last night he made quite a hit. Mr. Oliver was very glad of having the opportunity of paying a visit to his old home.

Well, Well, Well.
According to all accounts there are some girls out at Hatter's Bay who are regular "kissing bugs." A well-known Kingstonian had occasion to go out to Hatter's Bay on Wednesday afternoon and when standing in front of the penitentiary waiting for a street car a girl came up to him, put her arms around his neck and gave him a kiss—the kind that the girls from the bay alone are able to give. A number of young fellows were standing nearby but the girl did not go the rounds.

Move Slowly.
