ONLY CITY PUPILS

TO BE ALLOWED TO ATTEND THE COLLEGIATE.

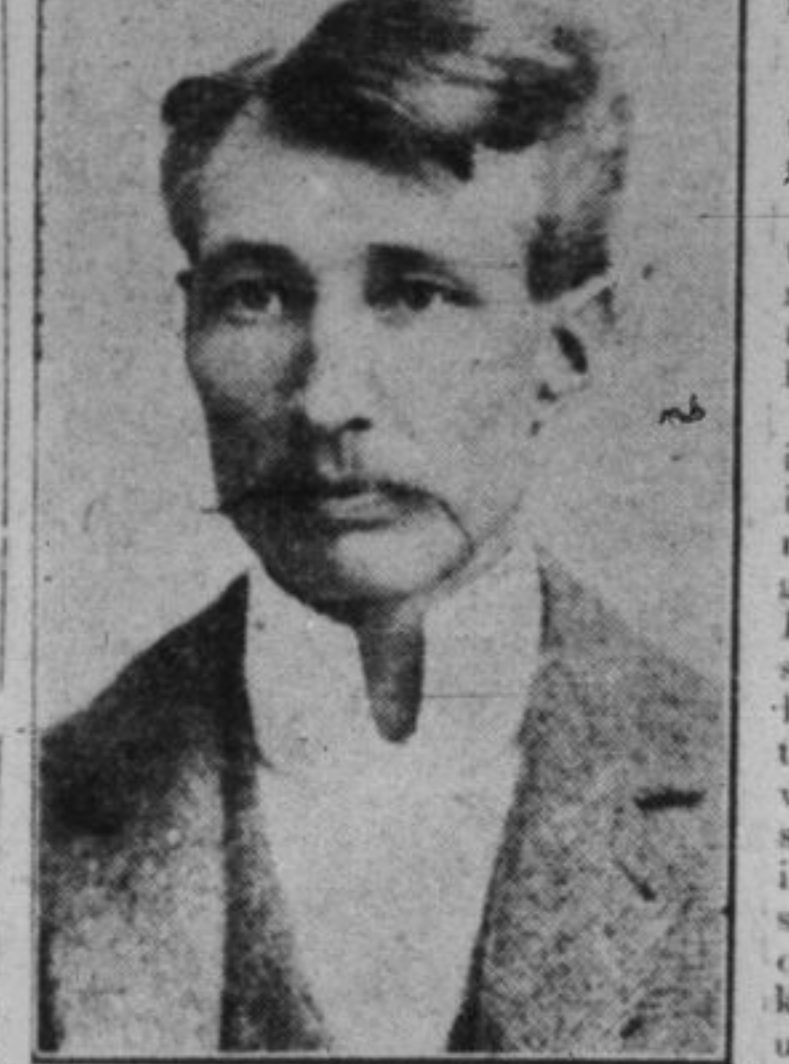

Board of Education Passed Resolution After Great Deal of Discussion—Estimates for the Year Presented—Reports of Committees.

"That while the board of education is desirous of giving the non-resident pupils every consideration, it will be forced, for lack of accommodation, to confine the attendance at the Collegiate Institute to residents of the city."

"That the board does not see its way clear to ask the city council to provide the funds with which to erect an addition to the institution at present, and the only way to avoid overcrowding is to exclude non-residents."

"It is therefore resolved, that only city pupils or those having residence in the city, within the meaning of the law, be admitted to the institute, and its classes after the June term."

By a vote of eight to seven, the board of education, at its session, on Thursday night, passed the above resolution, which was moved by Trustee Meek, and seconded by Trustee Richardson. There was quite a lengthy debate on the question, which has caused a great deal of discussion since the issue was first introduced.

W. J. RENTON, CHAIRMAN.

Chairman Renton presided at the meeting, and the other members present were Trustees Wallace, Craig, F. Anglin, Lockett, MacLean, Lyons, Macnee, Richardson, Metcalfe, Chown, Bennett, Langbert, Elliott, Donaldson, Walkem, Henderson, Meek and Farrell.

The meeting was a rather lengthy one, as the estimates were under consideration and passed upon.

At the opening of the meeting, the request of Principal Jordan, for leave of absence on the afternoon of the 13th, inst., was granted. The reports of committees were then received and adopted without any change.

Reports of Committees.

The management committee recommended that R. W. Robertson's offer of $50 to be used for prizes in a pupils' writing competition be accepted with thanks, and that $25 be added by the board, so that the Collegiate Institute pupils may be included in the competition.

That additional equipment be purchased for the Collegiate Institute gymnasium, in accordance with the requirements of the education department, at an estimated cost of $200.

That Miss Ida Huggison be appointed to vacancy on the public school teaching staff, under the rules and regulations of the board.

That a set of relief maps be prepared for the public schools at a cost of $125.

That no action be taken on the communication of Mrs. A. Abrams, asking, in effect, that her niece, a pupil in the Collegiate Institute, be rated as a resident. The pupil's parents reside in the county.

The subject of medical inspection has engaged the attention of your committee. It has been decided to request the Medical Health Officer, Dr. Knight and Prof. Laidlaw of the Faculty of Education to confer with your committee with a view to outlining a scheme whereby the school pupils would receive the benefit of medical inspection at as small a cost as possible. The result of the conference will be reported to the board.

The property committee recommended that the offer of James Elder of $25 for the three outbuildings at the Central school, and of Thos. Evans of $10 for the two at Sydenham school, the buildings to be removed and the excavations filled in, be accepted.

That the request of Mrs. Trenhaile, caretaker of Cataragui school, for an increase of salary, be granted, and that she be given an increase of $25. Her present salary is $175.

That the request of the secretary of the Orphans' Home for furniture for the new class-room to be opened in connection with that institution be granted, and that forty-five new single desks be provided by the board, at an estimated cost of $130.

R. Ludlow, caretaker of Victoria school, was sick during the months of January and February and unable to perform his duties for 17 1/2 days. Your committee recommends that the substitute be paid by the board at the rate of $1.50 per day, making a total of $26.25.

The boys' lavatory at the Central school did not afford sufficient urinal accommodation, and the principal made complaint to that effect. Your committee had the accommodation doubled in capacity at a cost of $30.

Wanted to Resign.
Trustee Donaldson wanted to resign from the property committee, owing to the fact that he was not in accord with the other members of the committee regarding the proposed new school. He was opposed to the proposed site for the new school. He expected that Cataragui school would be repaired and put into shape for use before the new school was erected.

Trustee Walkem remarked that Trustee Donaldson should remain on the committee in order to express his views on the school question. There had been no definite policy decided upon as yet.

Trustee Elliott said Trustee Donaldson should not resign simply because he was opposed to something the committee had decided upon. He was not compelled to vote. There was additional work on the committee and he should not sever his connection with it.

The chairman said he hoped Trustee Donaldson would reconsider his action as he wished him to serve on that committee.

The board had no written resignation from Trustee Donaldson, so the matter was allowed to drop, although the trustee emphasized his desire to be dropped off the committee.

Regarding the subject of medical inspection for school children, which is now before the management committee, Trustee Elliott referred to the good which had been accomplished in Hamilton by the adoption of such a system by the board there. Hamilton had a trained nurse who acted under the city medical health officer, and it was found that the parents had been saved a very large amount of money in medical fees as a result. It was shown that such a system was worthy of support and he was glad to know that the committee would take up the matter.

Trustee Meek made strong objection to a recommendation in the property committee's report which recommended an expenditure of $30 for repairs to the lavatory at Central school. He complained on the ground that the committee had no right to spend the money without the sanction of the board.

The recommendation was passed but under protest from Trustee Meek, who held that it was not proper.

Estimates Presented.

The estimates for the year were then presented by the finance committee, through the chairman, Trustee Craig. The report was as follows:

The Public Schools.

The amount asked from the city is the same as that which was received last year, viz., $36,780, the increase in the different departments being largely met by a balance of $870, which came over from 1910.

The increase in teachers' salaries, under the schedule, amounts to $961. No other increases of salaries are reported.

The occasional teaching item shows an increase of $81 to provide for the unusual amount of sickness among the teachers already this year.

The sum of $2,140 for fuel is an increase over 1910 of $196. The new heating system in the Central school will require from 60 to 75 per cent. more coal than the old one, judging from the quantity used this winter up to the present. Of course, the results are better than heretofore.

The water and light items are larger owing to the new sanitary improvements and electric lights having been put into two buildings.

No insurance risks will expire this year.

The general supplies figures have been increased to cover the cost of a set of new relief maps.

With regard to the supplementary reading $150 is about the average annual expenditure.

The item for repairs and improvements is increased by $356, because of additional and needed repairs to various schools.

Pupils' supplies will cost more this year owing to the replacing of old text books with new ones.

ALDERMEN RESENT

CHARGES MADE AGAINST SOME OF THEIR NUMBER

In Regard to the Handling of the Cataragui Bridge Question—Vote on the By-law to be Taken on April 4th.

April 4th was the date fixed last evening by the city council for the ratepayers to vote on the by-law to raise $30,000 by debentures for the purchase of Cataragui bridge, and constructing an eighty-foot span in the centre of it. The finance committee recommended the by-law as the best way of dealing with the Ontario Exploration Syndicate, which is constructing a pier and concentrator, for iron shipments from the Wilbur mines, and which agrees to pay $4,000 of the cost of the bridge span, and indemnify the city against any loss through failure to operate, to the extent of $10,000.

Some of the aldermen suggested that the time for voting on the by-law to raise $40,000 for a new public school should be changed to April 14th, but it was decided to let each by-law stand on its merit, lest one should defeat the other.

There was a discussion upon an editorial in yesterday's Standard which criticized the finance committee for the manner in which it had handled the bridge question. The article in question made these references—

"There are two or three members of Kingston's city council who are either fools or knaves.... In any case, they are no longer fit to sit in the city council. They should resign or their resignation should be demanded by the other members of council who were misled by the statements made by these fools or knaves."

Ald. Elliott arose to a question of privilege, when the report of the finance committee was presented, and asked that the objectionable editorial be read by the city clerk. Ald. Elliott declared that this was not the first time the council had been hounded by that newspaper. He claimed that it behooved the press to uphold the council when its members try to do their duty. He could say some nasty things too, if he desired, but he would be sorry to call the writer of the article a fool or a knave. The committee, Ald. Elliott said, had acted quite reasonably in the bridge matter. It had changed its former decision because it was thought to be better to buy the bridge, and any improvements would then be made on city property. The Standard had knocked the city corporation and was making it all the more difficult to pass the by-law. As it was in the interest of the city and of marine to put on a larger span than at first decided upon, there should have been no such article reflecting on the aldermen. Ald. Elliott said he resented most emphatically such motives as the Standard attributed to him as a member of the finance committee.

Ald. Hoag also raised his voice against the Standard editorial. While the finance committee may have made mistakes, he claimed that the motive attributed by the writer of the editorial to the committee were unfair.

Ald. Kent pointed out that though the finance committee was now recommending a different course with reference to the bridge, no harm had been done. The council was just where it was two weeks ago. The agreement had not been signed. He could not see, however, where any mistake had been made.

Ald. Carson declared that the committee had tried to do the best it could. It was wrong for a paper to put a boulder in the way of an industry. The Peterboro Electric works had been lost by that kind of tactics. He pointed out that by putting the bridge in shape, it would be a revenue-maker for the city. The finance committee had to move with haste, or lose the Ontario Exploration company.

Mayor Graham stated that the committee had held five or six special meetings in regard to the matter and had done its utmost to safeguard the interests of the city. It was working overtime, and yet was being knocked. "I'm not a particle sorry for what we did," exclaimed the mayor, who claimed that the $4,000 grant for the syndicate would go a long way towards building the bridge. The committee at first was going to construct only a sixty-foot span but concluded it would be better to do something permanent by making a span of eighty feet. He declared that the committee could have done all it said could be done with a small amount of money, that is to construct a sixty-foot span. The grant from the Dominion government would more than pay the interest on the $30,000. Therefore, there was nothing to lose by adopting the large scheme. Instead of being "knaves and fools," as the Standard declares, the mayor said that the names would apply better to the writer of the editorial. The finance committee acted openly. Why did not the Standard man come out plainly and name the men he calls fools and knaves?

Ald. Ross suggested that no more attention be paid the editorial. Let the matter drop, he said. The mayor's remarks concluded the discussion upon the question.

It was generally thought that the agreement with the Exploration company, passed by the city council, had been signed, but it developed that it had not been, as City Solicitor McIntyre advised the mayor on the matter. Hence the city was not bound in any way. If the people pass the by-law, then the agreement will be signed.

In attendance at the meeting were Mayor Graham and Alds. Bailey, Carson, Couper, Clugston, Elliott, Hanley, Harrison, Hoag, Kent, McCann, McArthur, Rigney and Ross.
