ONLY CITY PUPILS

Trustee Anglin said this had been a very hard winter, and referred to the fact that the local dealers had almost sold out their entire stock.
In reply to a question put by Trustee Elliott, the inspector stated that the school was ordinarily overheated.
The committee will endeavor to curtail the expenditure for the coal at this school.

It was decided to withdraw the clause in the report, regarding an expenditure for some repairs to Cataract school.
Regarding the Collegiate Institute, Principal Sliter reported that the library had been allowed to "run down," and that more than $75 would be required to operate it. The new regulations called for each pupil to read four books. Supplementary reading was a new movement set forth by the department of education.
It was agreed, on a vote of twelve to three, to make the estimate asked from the council for the collegiate, $14,300 instead of $15,000. The vote was as follows:
Yeas—Trustees Anglin, Chown, Craig, Elliott, Farrell, Lambert, Lockett, Lyons, Macnee, Meek, McLean, Richardson—12.
Nays—Trustees Henderson, Walkem, Wallace—3.

The amount asked for the collegiate library will be increased from $75 to $125.

The School Question.
At this juncture the school question was taken up, and Trustee Meek moved the resolution already given, which was passed.
Trustee Meek said that he wished to go on record in the matter. It was time some action was taken, as the matter had been before the board for some time.

Principal Sliter said that at the present time, the attendance at the collegiate was small, and one reason for this was due to the fact that the entrance class last year, was smaller than usual. It would be somewhat difficult to give an exact estimate of the capacity of the school. The government would consider the school overcrowded, if there were more than thirty-five pupils to each teacher. About four hundred could be accommodated comfortably.

Trustee Richardson said that the board had given the county pupils every consideration.
Trustee Elliott was in favor of having Trustee Meek's resolution sent to the management committee, in order that a special sum might be decided upon to charge pupils who might be accepted. He considered that it would be a great hardship on some people, if the board decided that they should not be allowed to attend the school. There were parents living out of the city about three miles, who were quite willing to pay any amount to get their children in the school. He felt that there were a number who might very easily be accommodated. The members of the management committee could take the matter into their consideration. It would certainly be a hardship on a few of the families living in the immediate vicinity of Kingston, should they be barred from the school. He was not losing sight of the fact that the first claim upon the board was to take care of the city pupils, but felt that others who could be accommodated, should be given a chance.
Trustee Richardson said the board could not, in dealing with the matter, make fish of one and flesh of the other. If the board had not the room, no action could be taken. There was no responsibility resting on the board.

Trustee Meek said he would be in favor of allowing the matter to go to the management committee but for one reason, in that it would give the county council another chance to deal with the matter. The council had refused to take up the matter, and it was high time that the board gave the council some notice, and show the members of the council what action they were taking.

Trustee Macnee favored Trustee Meek's resolution. He believed it was time the board should take some definite action.
The board had a communication from the county council, now in session, regarding the matter, and it was read by the secretary. The communication simply notified the board that the council was willing to make arrangements with the board, for the admittance of county pupils to the collegiate, or any high school.
Trustee Lambert said a report showed that a few pupils could be accommodated, and he could not vote for the resolution.
Trustee Anglin said the situation was a dangerous one. He was of the opinion that it would not be wise to exclude the pupils, say within a radius of ten miles of the city. He believed the county was willing to meet the board in a reasonable manner. As he understood the matter, there was a war between the representatives of the north and south, in the council. He would favor Trustee Elliott's suggestion to have the resolution referred to the management committee. He believed that the difficulty could be settled if more time was given. It should not be rushed through.
Trustee Lockett said that from all the information he had been able to secure, he as a new member of the board, could not vote for the resolution. He considered that in the carrying of such a resolution, the board would be taking a backward step. These were days of progress, and no door should be shut to those wishing to come into the city. He felt sure that the difficulty could be overcome.
Trustee Anglin moved in amendment that Trustee Meek's resolution be referred to the management committee, and this was seconded by Trustee Lockett.

Trustee Farrell supported the resolution. In the passing of it, the county residents would see that they were face to face with an issue.
Trustee Henderson also favored the resolution. He believed that in the passing of the resolution the matter would be brought to a head.
Trustee Elliott said he understood that the case had not been put before the county council by the inspector, who was in the city making an investigation in just the same way as it had been put to the board. He was not in favor of taking in all the pupils, but if there was a delay, an agreement might be reached.

Trustee Richardson remarked that the question was an old one, and that these had been too much delay. Trustee Henderson said the case had been put before the county council in just the same way as it had been given to the board. There was very strong objection from the representatives from the back country, and there was very little hope of securing a grant.

Trustee Anglin was of the opinion that the schools would suffer if the pupils of the county were refused admittance. Time should be given for a settlement.

Trustee Meek said he was in sympathy with the county people, but he felt that the only way to help them would be in the putting through of his resolution.

The amendment of Trustee Anglin, to have the resolution of Trustee Meek sent to the management committee was then voted upon, and resulted in a tie, 8-8, on the chairman's vote, as follows:
Yeas—Trustees Anglin, Chown, Elliott, Lambert, Lockett, Lyons, McLean, Wallace—8.
Nays—Chairman Renton, Trustees Craig, Farrell, Henderson, Macnee, Meek, Richardson, Walkem—8.

On the vote being taken on the original motion, Trustee Elliott declined to vote on it.

The motion to adopt Trustee Meek's resolution was then carried by a vote of 8 to 7.

Yeas—Chairman Renton, Trustees Craig, Farrell, Henderson, Macnee, Meek, Richardson, Walkem—8.
Nays—Trustees Anglin, Chown, Lambert, Lockett, Lyons, McLean, Wallace—7.

The report of the inspector, J. Russell Stewart, showed the following for February: On roll, 2,174; decrease of six from $10; enrolled in kindergarten, 155; total average attendance, 1,859; decrease of 93 from last year. The attendance had been seriously affected by the prevalence of mumps and the inclement weather.
Principal Sliter reported: On roll, 389; average attendance, 351. The highest number in attendance is always in October, and from that time on to the end of the term there is always a decrease. Principal Sliter urged the board to appropriate $125 for addition to the library.

REV. T. E. BURKE CRITICIZED
By Orange Grand Master on Home Rule Question.

About 100 Orangemen sat down to a banquet in the lodge rooms last evening after the regular session. The banquet was given as a reception to eight candidates who were admitted to the lodge and to the grand worshipful master of Ontario, East, James Berney, and grand secretary, F. M. Clark, Belleville.

Worshipful Brother W. J. Saunders said he had been called upon to act the part of chairman in the unavoidable absence of Dr. A. W. Richardson. He asked the gathering to rise and drink with him the toast of "The King."
The next toast was to "The Tribunal Council." The toastmaster said they were not always fortunate in securing a speaker that could handle this subject properly, but they were fortunate in having the guest of the evening to respond to it. Mr. Berney described in brief his recent trip to Ireland last July to the great gathering of lodges which was held in Belfast and told of the signal honors heaped upon him there and the grand sights which he saw. He then spoke of Orangemen, and told of the bloody struggles which marked the persecution of the Protestants by the Roman Catholic people in years gone by.

Mr. Berney attacked strongly the lecture delivered by Rev. T. E. Bourke, B.D., in Brook Street Methodist church on his return from Ireland. The statement which he attacked most was that the people one and all were in favor of home rule. Mr. Bourke had said that during his stay on the other side of the Atlantic he had never heard anyone declare themselves against home rule. Mr. Berney said Mr. Bourke either did not know what he was talking about or else he was misrepresenting things. He could go to Ireland and find scores who were against home rule and very bitter, too. When Mr. Berney's lengthy address was finished a few other toasts were proposed and responded to, and the gathering broke up at a later hour.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is the Most Largely Imitated Medicine in the Country.

What to give the children for croup, and colds is the problem mothers now have to solve. Most of them finally decide on Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and make it a rule to always have some in the house.

In this medicine are linseed, turpentine, and other well-known ingredients of unmistakable value in the cure of colds. It is pleasant to take, so much so that children delight to use it.

So generally is this great medicine used that several imitations have been put on the market. All alike in name only. They are not made from the same formula, nor do they bear the name of Dr. Chase.

You know what you can expect from the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, but you can not put much faith in an imitation which sells on the reputation of the article it imitates.

On every bottle of the genuine will be found the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author. This is for your protection and for the protection of your children. Be sure to get the genuine, even if it costs a few cents more, 25 cents a bottle, family size, 60 cents; all dealers, or Edmanson, Eata & Co., Toronto.

AT THE GRAND.

Miss Vesta Victoria Delighted a Large Audience.

Miss Vesta Victoria made her debut in Kingston, at the Grand, last night, and delighted a very large audience. That the entertainment was well received was amply shown by the enthusiastic applause which greeted the different members of the company, and at the close everyone had warm words of praise for the show. It was shown that the advance man made no mistake when he announced that Miss Victoria was surrounded with stars, for each number on the programme provided a fine treat. From her large repertoire of popular English and comic novelty songs Miss Victoria selected the very best. It is worthy of note that every number of Miss Victoria's necessitates a change of costume. The character sketches of Frank Bush easily won for him the name of being the world's greatest story-teller. The singing and dancing of Johnny Ford was a special feature and the five musical MacLarens were real good.

The entertainment provided a fine variety, something out of the ordinary, and it made a fine impression with the audience.

"Three Twins"
With its charming melodies, its delightful and almost bewildering ensembles, and its ridiculous complications.

VIRGINIA FORTZ.
As Pepita in "Madame Sherry" at the Grand on Thursday, March 16th.

From Jos. M. Gaites "Three Twins" comes to the Grand Opera House, Tuesday evening, March 14th. Adapted from the laughable and always enjoyable farce "Innoc" this musical comedy will be presented here by the original New York company headed by Clifton Crawford in his impersonation of Tom Stanhope. Joseph Allen as General Stanhope, Tom's father, supplies his fair share of the amusement as the man who, in addition to his dyspepsia is nearly driven insane by his confusion over the "Three Twins." Daisy Leon as Kate Armitage, Tom's sweetheart, has an excellent soprano voice which is heard to good advantage in "Good Night, Sweetheart," and "Cuddle Up a Little Closer." Della Niven as the "weeping" Mrs. Dick Winters is said to move her audiences to uncontrollable laughter; Mayme Gehrue and her eight "Yama Yama" girls dance their way into the hearts of the audience, and Elsie Myrns as the general's ward, Ralph Locke, as Dr. Siegfried Hartman, a nerve specialist, Russell Lennan, Hugh Fay and George Herbert give capital support, and a chorus large in numbers, agreeable in appearance, with well trained and melodious voices complete the ensemble.

"Madame Sherry."
"Every Little Movement Has a Meaning All Its Own" is the newest hit to become epidemic over the country. The air is the theme of "Madame Sherry," a new musical production by Otto Hauerbach and Karl Hoehns, now current at the New Amsterdam Theatre, New York.
"Madame Sherry" will be played here by the New York New Amsterdam Theatre company, on Thursday, March 16th, at the Grand.

Comparison of Railways.
Reports filed with the interstate commerce commission of the United States for the months of December, make possible a comparison of the earnings and expenses of the railroads for the calendar year, 1910 with the calendar year 1909. The total operating revenues increased about $220,000,000, while the operating expenses increased about $216,000,000, leaving an increase in net revenue of but $4,000,000. When this amount of net revenue is reduced to a per mile basis and allowance made for the increased mileage of 1910 over 1909, what appears to be an increase in the net revenue becomes a decrease of about $40 per mile.

If the increase in expenses over one-half was in conducting transportation in which wages were the largest items. The increase in the net earnings of the first half of the year was almost exactly counterbalanced by a decrease in the second half during which the advances in wages were fully effective. It is evident that a prolongation of the conditions of the last six months of 1910 throughout the year 1911 will have a very serious effect upon railway revenue.
