HURLED INSULT BACK

WHAT GRAND MASTER JAMES BERNEY SAID

At Orange Public Meeting in Smith's Falls—Col. Sam Hughes Spoke of the Sober Kingston Military Camp.

Special to the Whig.

Smith's Falls, March 16.—Kingston is looming up prominently in the doings and sayings at the Orange grand lodge of Eastern Ontario. James Berney, the grandmother, yesterday, in the afternoon, addressed the Orangemen and again at night spoke at a public meeting. At the evening session he scored Father Vaughan for his celebrated "soulless religion utterances" at the Montreal Eucharistic Congress, and remarked: "I am glad to say that from hundreds of Canadian pulpits our faithful Protestant clergy hurled the insult back at him." Mr. Berney also opposed "home rule" very strongly. Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald, Kingston, was also one of the evening speakers.

Col. Sam Hughes referred to the Kingston military camp last summer and remarked that he believed in trusting the boys under him. As a result, they had behaved splendidly, and the chief of police of Kingston has assumed there had never been a military camp at Barriefield at which there was as little drunkenness as at the 1910 one.

To-day the Orangemen are busy on reports, nearly all of a private nature. The chances are they will be in session until two or three in the afternoon of St. Patrick's day.

World's Oldest Ruler.

The world's oldest ruler is popularly supposed to be Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary, who lately celebrated his eightieth birthday. Wrong! Ernest, ruler of Saxe-Altenburg, will pass his eighty-fifth milestone if he lives through the coming summer.

WILL DIVIDE THE HOUSE

When Reciprocity Discussion Comes to an End.

Toronto, March 16.—The last word on reciprocity, so far as the legislature is concerned, will be heard today. The debate, which has continued since last Thursday, reached the final lap shortly before eleven o'clock last night, and this afternoon, following A. E. Tripp, Hon. A. G. MacKay will address the house. The liberal leader will move an amendment to Sir James Whitney's anti-reciprocity resolution, denouncing the hysterical talk of annexation, and confirming the opposition's approval of the agreement. He will probably be followed by the minister, who will speak briefly.

There will be no sensational breaking away from party on either side. The liberals are united in supporting the reciprocity agreement, and the big government majority will be swung into line without trouble, despite rumors that some of the members do not look upon the "anti" resolution with unmixed favor. The only vote that commands particular interest is that of the independent labor member, Allen Studholme. Regardless of the fact that the workingmen in his constituency are said to be opposed to reciprocity, the member for East Hamilton will vote against Sir James and the government.

Mr. Studholme spoke for several hours last night, approving, as a workman, of the agreement. "You may say," he said, "that I will never come back here for taking this stand, but I tell you that if I knew I would never get another vote I would still do it."

For the first time since the debate began the house was treated to an address that was principally straight unanswerable facts. It came from J. Kohler, of Haldimand, a practical cattleman. He spoke from the standpoint of the farmer, and produce market reports showing conclusively the great benefit that would accrue to Canadian cattle and hog raisers by a free entry into the United States cattle markets and their vastly higher prices.

The other speakers, yesterday, were Dr. A. MacKay, North Oxford; Dr. J. Jamieson, South Grey; A. H. Musgrave, North Huron; Samuel Clarke Northumberland, and Evan Fraser Welford.

QUELL REVOLUTION

CONFERENCE TO TAKE PLACE
ON CUBAN SOIL

During Second Week of April—
Reyes to Succeed Diaz—President
Gomez Will Act as Intermediary.

New York, March 16.—A conference to quell the revolution in Mexico is arranged to take place on Cuban soil between Jose x Limantour, Secretary of State Knox, and General Diaz, slated for the second week in April. It is stated positively that President Gomez of Cuba is named as intermediary. It is said he arranged the proposed conference. As a result of the conference it is proposed that General Reyes will consent to run for the presidency of the Diaz government and Madrero followers of Limantour will succeed Enrique C. Rebolledo as minister of foreign affairs.

Secretary Knox is now in Florida and within a few hours' reach of Cuba. General Reyes is in Paris. Reports received by Mexican refugees stated that Reyes is about to leave, ostensibly for Vera Cruz, to answer a message from President Diaz asking him to return home whence he was exiled in 1909, but really to go to Havana for the conference. Limantour is in this city.

STORY ON THE SUN.

NOTED AUTHORITY Says It Will Never be Extinguished.

Every now and then some impressionable individual with a telescope starts his hard-working humanity by coming out with a declaration that the sun is suffering very much from internal troubles, and that some day mankind will be bereft of its heat and its light. However, it always develops later that at the worst the sun is good for another million years and the ordinary individual, who is worried over this year's expenses, goes back to his daily job with a sigh of relief and a wish that somebody would hit the man with the telescope a good whack over the head.

Now Prof. Charles Nordmann, head of the Astronomical Observatory of Paris, has put all the rumors about the sun turning dark outside, the pale of future discussion. Professor Nordmann, who enjoys an international reputation of the highest class, has figured out that the sun will never be extinguished.

He claims that the sun has, first of all, the power to contract himself at the rate of 476 feet each year, and that it will take 8,000,000 years before he can contract so far that he will be too solid to contract for another year's heat and light for our little world. It will even be 30,000 years before the sun contracts enough to look smaller the tiniest bit to an observer with the best of telescopes.

All this sounds reassuring, but Professor Nordmann goes much further and shows that the sun contains an enormous quantity of that most singular element—radium. Radium, claims this astronomer, will continue to heat up the sun indefinitely.

This, then, would prevent the sun from ever becoming dark and cold. Radium throws off spontaneously a mysterious energy that never becomes less, and which can, therefore, indefinitely heat any object near it for all eternity. Needless to say, such a state of affairs is singular, and that it is directly opposed to all former ideas as to the chemical and physical equilibrium of matter.

However, admitting that the most famous scientists of to-day are correct as to this quality in radium, Professor Nordmann declares that the sun, which contains enormous quantities of radium, can never grow cold and dark. Radium is said to be able to heat an amount of water equal in weight to the amount of radium used from the freezing to the boiling point. But the marvelous point is that the radium can keep the water at the boiling point for all eternity. This can heat a ton of water forever, for it supplies perpetual motion if anyone would furnish a steam engine that need never stop.

The only thing in the way is the price, for a ton of radium is worth more than all the money in the world. Still, Professor Nordmann declares that the spectroscopic shows in the sun vast quantities of helium, which comes only from radium. He adds that two grains per ton of radium in the body of the sun would guarantee that the sun would never grow dark or cold.

MARY IN HISTORY.

London Globe.

The name of Mary has played an important part in history. In Scotland the first Royal Marie was the daughter of Duke Arnold of Gueldres, who married James II and afterwards became Queen Regent. Then we have Marie of Lorraine, who married James V, after refusing Henry VIII. Their daughter was the famous Mary, Queen of Scots, the most remarkable and fascinating figure in the whole history of the olden Marys. Then there was Mary Tudor. Henrietta Maria became the ill-fated wife of Charles I. Mary of Modena was the second wife of James II. Mary, the daughter of James II by his first wife, by her marriage with William of Orange invested their joint reign with a glory which is even now undiminished. Since then we have had several princesses named Mary—one the daughter of George II, another of George III, while the mother of our late queen was Mary Louise Victoria. But the most essentially Mary of all Marys in the history of the country is our present beloved queen.
