

ELEEING MAN

Arrested Aboard Ship For Murder.

FEAT OF WIRELESS

THE CRIPPEN CASE IS DUPLICATED.

Alleged Murderer a Russian—Fugitive Arrives in New York in Irons—The Story of the Sensational Case.

New York, March 17.—Wireless messages flashed over the Atlantic for three days by the operator on the American liner St. Louis, which docked yesterday led to the arrest on the German liner of a man who is accused of being the leader of a band which, last January, murdered a pawbroker, his wife, cashier and typist, in the little town of Mistowitz, Russia.

The dramatic capture of the accused slayer after he had escaped the dragnet of the Russian detectives has only one parallel in the police annals of the world. It is the case of Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen, the dentist who was recently hanged in London for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore.

The prisoner in the present case is a man named Zogolowski, who, the Russian police say, is a desperate criminal who has served many terms in jail, although he is only twenty-two years old. Another man named Berners, who is suspected of complicity in the murders, is believed to be with him on the liner.

Zogolowski was living in a lodging house in Mistowitz at the time of the crime. He was suspected of the murders, and when he returned home for important papers which he had concealed in his room, the daughter of the boarding house keeper notified the police. A policeman was sent to the house, and when he tried to arrest the suspect Zogolowski shot him and escaped.

Otto Bursdorf, sergeant of police of Berlin, was notified. The sergeant learned that Zogolowski was on the Zeitan. He tried to get into communication with the liner, and, failing, hurried across the channel to England, where he boarded the St. Louis at Southampton. He established communication with many vessels which sighted the Zeitan but until last Wednesday was his efforts rewarded.

A wireless message to the Cunard liner Virginia brought the response that, earlier that day, she had been in wireless conversation with the captain of the Zeitan. A message was relayed to the Zeitan requesting the arrest of Zogolowski. Back came the response that Zogolowski had been arrested and was in irons.

When the St. Louis docked yesterday, Bursdorf by special permit boarded the revenue cut. Bursdorf and went down the bay to meet the incoming liner at quarantine, where he boarded the liner and took the prisoner in charge.

WOMAN DROPS DEAD.

Bandits Get $5,000 by Blowing Safe and Escape.

Geneva, N.Y., March 17.—Three bandits blew open the safe of the Rushville Banking company, at Rushville, and escaped with $5,000. When told of the robbery Mrs. W. J. Jones, wife of the cashier, dropped dead. She had been afflicted with an acute nervous disorder.

The bandits were seen by a man named Barron, a baker, who heard three explosions and looked out of his window. He saw three men leaving the bank with a bag of plunder, but made no attempt to have them captured. They drove away in a rig.

The bank is a private one and was organized in 1904. John Jones, the president, is in Oklahoma, and the cashier has been in charge.

The robbers used nitroglycerin and stole blankets from barns nearby to place over the safe to muffle the sound of the explosions.

KILLED HORSE WITH IRON BAIL.

Sickening Scene in Toronto—Gross Cruelty Punished.

Toronto, March 17.—An appalling case of cruelty to animals was heard in the Thursday afternoon court, when George Hibbert was fined $10 and John Reid $5 for killing a horse with an iron bail. Both men are employees of the Harris Glee factory and the killing took place at the corner of Broadway avenue and Gerrard street last Monday.

"I cautioned them not to touch the horse until I went and got a revolver," said Constable Narney.

The long iron bar with which the deed was done was produced in court and appeared to be a very light instrument for the purpose.

"My instructions were to go down and kill the horse the best way I could," said Hibbert. "The horse was sore and worn out."

THYROID TUMOR OF FISH.

Dr. Gaylord Makes Report on Cancer.

Albany, N.Y., March 17.—Dr. Harry R. Gaylord, director of the New York state laboratory at Buffalo, is a report to State Commissioner of Health Porter, says that a study of the distribution and nature of the so-called thyroid tumor of fish has reached a degree of advancement which makes it clear that this disease is "little short of a menace to fish culture and that it bears without question an important relation to the public health."

"The New York state laboratory," says the report, "has now reached a point where the work of the last thirteen years justifies the erection of an hospital to accommodate 25 or 30 patients for the study of cancer in human beings and the development of methods of treatment."

Dr. Gaylord reports that there were 7,395 deaths in this state from cancer in 1910, an increase of 471 over 1909, while tuberculosis caused 14,047 deaths, an increase of only 99. "These figures," he says, "show that in spite of the increasing population, tuberculosis is practically stationary, while cancer has notably increased."

Golden Wedding Day. Perth, Ont., March 17.—Mr. and Mrs. William G. Taylor, Carleton Place, celebrated their golden wedding on March 17th. They were married in the Presbyterian church at McDonald's Corners on March 12th, 1861, by Rev. J. B. Duncan, Perth. The bride was a daughter of the late J. Donald, one of the Scotch pioneers of 1820.

ORANGEMEN REQUEST

THE AMENDMENT OF THE CRIMINAL CODE

To Prevent Ecclesiastics Interfering in Cases of Mixed Marriages—James Berner to Move Home Rule Resolution in Toronto.

Special to the Whig. Smith's Falls, March 17.—James Berner, Kingston, grandmaster of the grand Orange lodge of Ontario East, will attend the Orange demonstration at Toronto on July 12th. He has accepted an invitation to move the home rule resolution that will be presented that day.

The Orangemen have adopted resolutions advocating amending the criminal code so that ecclesiastics may be unable to interfere in cases of mixed marriages, and have adopted a recommendation of their legislative committee advocating the abolition of bilingual schools. They also decided to continue supporting the work of French evangelization in Quebec province.

The bilingual school resolution that was passed by the Orangemen of Eastern Ontario and referred to the grand Orange lodge of Eastern Ontario here, reads as follows:

"The legislative committee having been unable to prepare a Protestant platform for this grand lodge and there being a possibility that before such a platform can be adopted by the two provincial grand lodges of the province, a provincial election may be held; therefore, this grand lodge places itself upon record on the following question, which, we hope, will become planks in the platform, namely:

(1) The entire abolition of all bilingual schools of this province.

(2) The elimination of all sectarian teaching, either before, during, or after any teaching session in the public schools, except as laid down in the curriculum prepared by the department of education.

"This grand lodge requests the provincial grand lodge of Ontario East to adopt the same so that all Orangemen in Ontario would have these matters definitely before them and that we support only such candidates for provincial honours as pledge themselves to carry out these matters."

TWO DIFFICULTIES

IN WAY OF TREATY WITH GREAT BRITAIN.

The Constitution of the United States Requires the Submission of Each Disputed Question.

Washington, March 17.—When congress assembles in regular session next December it is believed the president may be able to redeem his promise to submit a treaty with Great Britain providing for general and unlimited arbitration of all questions arising between Great Britain and the United States.

Attention having been directed to the subject by the remarkable speech of Sir Edward Grey in parliament, it is learned that negotiations for such a treaty have been proceeding informally for a long time, though neither side yet has submitted a final concrete proposition.

With the practical agreement upon the principle of arbitration all questions in controversy, even those involving national honor (expressly excluded by existing conventions of The Hague), only two practical difficulties have been encountered by the negotiators.

These are, first, the insistence of the American senate upon its constitutional right to pass upon each and every question to be submitted to arbitration, which, it is recognized, would involve a separate treaty in every case. The second obstacle is found in framing the declaration in favor of general arbitration so as to exclude questions involving national policy.

A BIG MERGER

Navigation Deal Will Be Put Through.

TWO FINE LINES

WILL HANDLE BUSINESS MONTH- REAL TO FORT WILLIAM.

Richelieu Company and Northern Navigation to Join Forces—Some of the Details—$5,000,000 Capitalization.

Montreal, March 17.—It is understood that final negotiations in the much-discussed navigation merger deal of several companies operating on the St. Lawrence river and Great Lakes are now in progress, and that an official announcement of the conclusion of the big project will be made within the next week or so.

When the merger is made public it will be shown that the two companies to join forces will be the Richelieu & Ontario and the Northern Navigation concerns.

The absorption of the Inland Navigation company was consummated some days ago by the purchase of a majority of the stock by the Northern Navigation company's crowd.

The capitalization of the new merger company will for the present be placed at $5,000,000, with a re-arrangement possibly of the directorates of both companies.

It is expected that certain other navigation interests will later on join the merger. No definite plans have been made as yet regarding a re-arrangement of the stock, but some predict much higher prices for Richelieu.

WRITE UP DIVORCE.

New York Woman Demands Apology of Editor.

Reno, Nev., March 17.—Because he would not apologize to a well-known New York divorcee for an article he is alleged to have written about her in a weekly publication, E. Ray Mackey, an editor and manager of the McKissick hotel, was shot and seriously wounded by "Dan" Edwards, a mining promoter.

Edwards and the woman, a familiar figure here, went to the McKissick and demanded to see Mackey. When the editor emerged from a telephone booth the woman demanded that he apologize for his alleged reference to her presence at a cafe garbled in a kimonos. Mackey refused and Edwards drew a revolver. The bullet pierced the hand. Edwards has eluded the police.

FOR A SHORT TIME.

The Railway Decision Will Not Damage Business.

Eibert Henry Gary.

New York, March 17.—Eibert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, and who has had some experience in railroads, doesn't think the railway rate decision is going to stagger business for more than a very brief time.

Judge Lovett, president of the Union Pacific and Stuyvesant Fish, of long experience in railroad matters, agree with him. Judge Gary says the business outlook is good, the adverse effect on the railroads only temporary, and he sees no ill-omen anywhere for the year.

OSWEGO MAN'S ACT

ARRESTED AFTER DEATH OF WOMAN IN HOTEL.

Couple Had Registered as "H. C. Williams and Wife"—Claims He Met Friend by Accident.

New York, March 17.—George A. Mandeville, who gave his address as No. 67 West Schuyler street, Oswego, N.Y., and who said he is the editor of the Oswego Palladium, of which he asserted, his father is owner, was arrested and locked up on the charge of homicide in connection with the death of Miss Harriet M. Fennell, thirty-seven years old, proprietor of a cloak and suit store in Oswego.

Mandeville told the police Miss Fennell lived on West First street, Oswego.

Mandeville and his companion arrived at the Hotel Raymond, No. 42 East 28th street, Tuesday morning, and registered as "H. C. Williams and wife, Rochester, N.Y." They were assigned to a room on the fourth floor.

About four o'clock Wednesday morning Mandeville hurried down to the night clerk, Joseph Matini, and asked him to summon a physician, stating that his companion had been taken suddenly ill.

Dr. Williams, of No. 28 East Thirtieth street, was called, but before he arrived the woman was dead. Heart failure was given as the cause.

Mandeville appeared to be greatly affected by the death of the woman and made no effort to get away.

"I am greatly overcome by the sudden death of Miss Fennell," said Mr. Mandeville, "and I don't know what I shall do."

"When the trouble has been straightened out I think I will go west and try and forget it. The subject is too painful for me to dwell upon."

Miss Fennell was one of the leading business women of Oswego and Oswego old and handsome.

"I met her in the course of business for she was a liberal advertiser in the paper of which I am editor."

WILL BE NONE

Commission on Farmers' Bank Not Needed.

EDWARDS WAS HOT

AND HE TALKED IN HIS USUAL RECKLESS WAY.

The Time Has Come When Parliament Must Sit Later if the Blessings of Prorogation are to be Expected During 1911.

Special to the Whig. Ottawa, March 17.—After the long drawn out discussion on the Farmers' Bank situation on Wednesday, the prolonged debate yesterday proved somewhat of a fizzle. It was quite clear to all that Mr. Fielding in his short and decisive speech, had completely frustrated the opposition's move and once for all, proved conclusively, that if any one was to blame, it was the parliament of Canada and not the government.

Dr. Edwards, (Etonnac), resumed the debate and declared that the double liability clause in the banking act, was a fallacy, "a delusion and a snare." He thought that Mr. Fielding was not capable of handling such gigantic deals and his indifference toward them had aroused indignation, as a consequence this allowed people to be fooled. He pointed out that the Sovereign bank at the time of its collapse was in a far more solvent condition when it closed its doors, than were many other banks in Canada.

The appointment of a royal commission should go further than simply apply to an investigation of the Farmer's bank, its scope should be extended to making a thorough investigation of the banking laws of the Dominion. Mr. Edwards declared that there were over $500,000,000 of the people's money in Canada, only drawing three per cent interest, yet the government went to England on different occasions and borrowed money, at a rate of four per cent, or even higher.

He declared that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was simply juggling with the resolution before the house when he took exception to the appointment of a royal commission simply because Mr. Fielding had been deceived by Mr. Travers and his confederates.

E. W. Nesbitt, North Oxford, strongly supported Mr. Fielding, that a royal commission was unnecessary.

Richard Blain, Fred and Charles Jones Thornton, Durham, Ont., could only see blue rain for the government if they did not grant this commission.

M. Y. McLean, South Huron, declared that Travers was a scoundrel, but there was a bigger one than he at large and should be caught. However he could not see the advisability of appointing a royal commission at a big expense to the country.

There is more truth than fiction in the remarks of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, that the time has come when we shall have to sit a little later if we want to see the blessing of prorogation sometime during the year of 1911."

The prime minister's statement was evidently prompted by the conservative threat that the house would sit until this question was disposed of, yet Dr. Edwards, for the opposition, courageously adjourned the date!

During the debate a somewhat sensational statement was made by Mr. Martin, (Kegonsa) that the Ontario government had aided the escape of Dr. Beattie Nesbitt and this was born out by the fact that the Ontario authorities had only offered $200 for the delivrance of his live body in the city of Toronto. He would support the appointment of a commission to investigate the banking laws of Canada, but could not see the wisdom of appointing a royal commission, simply for the express purpose of investigating the Farmer's bank affair.

A Division Taken.

Ottawa, March 17.—The division was taken on the call for the commission at 1.30 a.m., the amendment being defeated by ninety-seven to sixty-two, a government majority of thirty-five.

The end came after the outpouring of much oratory on both sides, the opposition claiming that a royal commission would bring out all the facts leading up to the granting of the certificate to Travers by Mr. Fielding while the government speakers argued that the investigation now proceeding before the Toronto courts was quite sufficient for the purposes of justice.

Died at Belleville. Belleville, Ont., March 17.—Rev. R. M. Pope aged sixty-four, a minister of the Methodist church, well-known in Eastern Ontario, died here, this morning. He had been in the ministry forty-three years previous to the union, being identified with the Methodist Episcopal church. Deceased had been pastor on prominent circuits in the Bay of Quinte conference. A widow and one son, the latter a resident of Madison, Wis., survive. His brothers, John L. and Thomas Pope, died at Kingston within the past year.

105 Years Old. London, March 17.—Henry Mitchell, a cattle drover, King George's oldest subject, died at Worlington, Cumberland, yesterday, aged 105. On his last birthday, December 26th, he attended a boxing display. It was his boast that in his mellow days he had walked seventy miles and drunk seventy half-pints of beer in a day.

The Eaton hockey club, of Toronto, not having been challenged for the Allen cup, claims it and have gone out of training.

CORONATION STAMPS.

The Same for Canada, as for the United Kingdom.

Special to the Whig. Ottawa, March 17.—Among the questions answered in the house, yesterday, was one by Gerald White, who asked: "Is the government aware that Australia and South-Africa have offered substantial prizes for the best design for new postage stamps emblematic and characteristic of their country for the coronation? If so will Canada do likewise? Will the opportunity be afforded for the members of the Canadian house of commons to inspect whatever designs may be submitted to the post office department before the selection is finally made?"

The postmaster-general replied, the government was not aware what the other British countries were doing. But they had authorized Lord Strathcona, Canadian high commissioner in London, to enter into correspondence with the home authorities in the matter with a view to having for Canada the same stamp as is to be issued for the coronation in the United Kingdom. The design has not yet been received but as soon as it is laid on the table of the house.

THE HAPPIEST DAY

THAT THE EMERALD ISLE HAS EVER SEEN.

Home Rule Declared to be Close at Hand—John Redmond Says Light of Victory Shines on Ireland.

London, March 17.—In honor of St. Patrick's day and the near approach of home rule for Ireland, several of the Irish leaders last night issued formal statements and greetings on the occasion of the national anniversary. These included John E. Redmond, chairman of the Irish parliamentary party and chairman of the United Irish League of Great Britain; William O'Brien, M.P., for Cork, and leader of the Independent nationalists; and Lord Dunraven, president of the Irish Reform Association.

H. H. Asquith, the prime minister, and A. J. Balfour, ex-premier and leader of the opposition in the House of Commons, declined to make any comment on the breaking of the ironclad tradition against cabinet ministers giving an interview.

In a speech at the St. Patrick's banquet in the Hotel Cecil, to-night, Mr. Redmond referred to how, amid a long list of valuable Irish reforms achieved by hard labor during the past twelve years, they had met year by year at this festival, almost despairing of achieving the great goal of their aspirations.

"Now, at last," he said, "we meet with the light of victory shining on our country and our cause. The struggle between England and Ireland is ended. England and Ireland have joined hands against the common foe of both in defence of the people's liberties and rights. All bitterness has left our souls. We want peace with England. We want friendship with the English people. We want our proper place in the British empire, and a bury fathoms deep in the ocean of oblivion and memory the wrongs, the miseries and the oppressions of the past."

St. Patrick's Day. Toronto, March 17.—St. Patrick's Day was celebrated, quietly, in most of the cities of Canada. Montreal had a procession of five thousand people. Irish banquets and festivals of the evening's programs all over the country. In Chicago the mayor declared it a public holiday.

NOT HUMAN BLOOD

ON THE COON COAT OF MISSING MAN.

W. F. Pope's Coat, Which Led to Murder Theory, Was Soaked Probably With Blood of His Horses.

Montreal, March 17.—Dr. McTaggart, medical expert at the morgue, has completed his scientific tests of the bloodstained overcoat found near Bromptonville at the spot where W. F. Pope was supposed to have been last seen alive. As the overcoat was soaked with blood, it was supposed that Mr. Pope had been murdered. The investigation of detectives however, cast doubt on the murder theory, and it was important, therefore, to ascertain whether the blood on the overcoat was human blood or not.

It has taken several weeks to make the test, but Dr. McTaggart is now in a position to state definitely that the stains found on the overcoat were not those of human blood. The belief is that it was horse's blood, probably that of the horse which Mr. Pope was last seen driving near Bromptonville as the horse's leg had been operated by some one who knew how to do it.

Since the supposed murder was committed, no trace of Pope's body has been discovered, and this convinces the detectives that no harm befell him.
