For Constipation
A Medicine That Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Cures.

The active medicinal ingredients of Bissell's are odorless, tasteless, and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener. Bissell's are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience. Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.

We will refund your money without argument if they do not do as we say they will. Two sizes, 25c and 10c. Sold only at our store.—The Rexall store, G. W. Mahood.

DEMANDS REASON

SENATOR MUST TELL HOW HE LOST PAPER.

State's Attorney of Springfield, Ill., Obtains Subpoena for Him as Witness in Lorimer Case.

JOS. W. BAILEY.

Springfield, Ill., March 18.—State's Attorney Burke obtained a subpoena nunc tecum for United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, summoning him as a witness in the case against State Senator John S. Brodriek, of Chicago, who is charged by State Senator David H. Holstlaw, of Ill., with paying him $2,500 on July 16th, 1909, in Brodriek's election in Chicago for Holstlaw's vote for William Lorimer for United States Senator.

Holstlaw produced a deposit slip for that amount on the State Bank of Chicago, in which bank he said he deposited the money. The deposit slip was taken to Washington by the subcommittee investigating Lorimer's election, and the last knowledge of the whereabouts of the slip was when Senator Bailey had it in his hand during his speech in the senate in defence of Lorimer and denounced it as a forgery.

RICHEST TUNGSTEN MINE.
Controlling Interest Has Bought $250,000.

Halifax, N.S., March 18.—Controlling interest in the richest tungsten mine in the world, located at Scheelite near Moose River, Guysborough county, has been sold by A. A. Hayward to a syndicate composed of prominent Canadians. The price for the interest is about a quarter of a million dollars, and outside of the mill mines is the biggest mining enterprise made in Nova Scotia. Hayward retains an interest in the mine under second option to a French syndicate.

Sky-scraper Cracks Church Wall.

New York, March 18.—St. Peter's church, the oldest Roman Catholic church in the city, has been pronounced unsafe by the department of buildings because a part of the heavy granite wall at the south-west corner has cracked. This is said to be on account of the pressure of a new sky-scraper on the south side of the block. The skyscraper flanks the rear of the church and both rest on a sandy foundation.

C.P.R. New Guelph Line.

Hamilton, March 18.—The Canadian Pacific railway is preparing to let contracts for a line from Hamilton to Guelph, a junction, giving Hamilton connection with seven hundred miles of the C.P.R. road to the Goderich district. It is expected that the line will be completed by Christmas.

WHY YOU ARE THIN; HOW TO GET FLESHY.

Discusses Causes of Thinness and Gives New Method of Increasing Weight and Rounding Out the Form.

Prescription Accomplishes Wonders.

A treatment which anyone can prepare cheaply at home, has been found to increase weight, improve the health, round out scrawny figures, improve the bust, brighten the eyes and put new color into the cheeks and lips of anyone who is too thin and bloodless. It puts flesh on those who have been always thin, whether from disease or natural tendency on those who by heavy eating and diet have in vain tried to increase; on those who feel well but can't get fat; and on those who have tried every known method in vain. It is a powerful aid to digestion, nutrition and assimilation. It assists the blood and nerves to distribute all over the body the flesh elements contained in food, and gives the thin person the same absorbing qualities possessed by the naturally fleshy.

Everybody is about the same, but certain elements and organs of blood and nerves are deficient and until this is corrected, thin people will stay thin. The nutrition stays in the body after separation by the digestive functions instead of passing through unused when this valuable treatment of blood and medicines is used. Practically no one can remain thin who uses it, for it supplies the long needed need. Mix in a half pint bottle, three ounces of essence of nettle, and three ounces of syrup of thubarb. Then add one ounce compound essence cardui. Shake and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce of tincture cadomene compound (not cardamon). Shake well and take a teaspoonful before and after meals. Drink plenty of water between meals and when retiring. Weigh before beginning.

THE LATE MISS FLINDALL.

She Died at Brighton, Ont., on March 6th.

Brighton, Ont., March 18.—Miss Edith Pearl Flindall departed this life on March 6th, 1911. During the last week of her illness she called the family around her and asked them to meet her in heaven. She had told the neighbors for months past that she was only awaiting God's appointed time.

She joined the Methodist church under Rev. J. Garbutt's pastorate, about ten years ago and afterwards joined the Epworth League in connection with the same church.

Her experience in church work had taught her not to fear what lay beyond death, and in the last summer, she had said she did not want to get well even though she could. She would have been twenty-seven years old on May 30th, lacking twenty-two days of being the age at death of her brother, Wilbert, who died two years ago from the same disease, consumption. She was the third child born to Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Flindall.

The funeral was conducted by her pastor, Rev. E. Farnsworth, in Mount Carmel church, on 8th inst. He spoke in very hopeful terms of her religious life. Interment took place in Mount Carmel cemetery. It was her wish to lay beside her brother and this was granted, as only a walk divides one plot from the other. The bearers were all consorts, viz. Messrs. Frank, Frederick, Harry, Herbert and Charles Flindall, and Jay Langdon.

NAVAL ASSISTANCE.

London Times Discusses Position of Dominions.

London, March 20.—The Times editorially says: It is a curious coincidence that neither in Monday's debate on the defence of our empire, nor in the debate on the estimates, more than very brief reference to the assistance the dominions are prepared to give us by sea was made. The moment was surely appropriate for at least reference to the patriotism of our kinsfolk. While that assistance cannot be held to absolve this country from the duty of maintaining our supremacy on the seas, it is not less manifest in relieving us of part of the burden. The dominions are acting as much in their own interests as ours; nor will this lessen our appreciation of their assistance or detract from the warmth of our gratitude for their help. As Mr. Balfour put it in the speech he made in February, 1907, "We do not propose to deal with the dominions in the manner of a debtor or creditor account." It was in this spirit that the admiralty had devised the common plan for the provision of the eastern fleet, which was accepted by Australia and New Zealand, at the defence conference in July, 1909.

BIBLE IN HOTEL ROOM.

Story of Man Who Used One to Avul Purpose.

From Harper's Weekly.
It isn't a new thing to have Bibles in the hotel bedrooms. The hotels used to have them, but the hotels of twenty-five years ago are mostly gone, and their Bibles with them, and in the new hotels that give you hot and cold everything, telephone, press the button twice for Martin and three times for Manhattan, and all that, we don't remember to have noticed much provision of Bible. So the work of the Gideons is timely, especially in Boston, where the Bible is historical, and in San Francisco, that lately had an earthquake. The old hotel-bedroom Bibles were solid, good type, and shiny black covers. It is told—do the Gideons know the story?—that years ago a gallant soldier, a lieutenant at the time, but destined for high rank and great honor, was in his room, not in a perfectly responsible state, with a fellow officer, on the fifth floor of a Chicago hotel. There was one of those fine, solid, shiny Bibles on the table, and a hackman sleeping on the box of his carriage on the street below. And the lieutenant bet his fellow officer five dollars that he could knock the hackman off the box with the Bible, and did it; for he was a soldier of good purpose, and he shot. But that's only an incident, and a rare one, though awful. There were giants in those days, as the Bible says. In the end the lieutenant forswore sack and died heroic, the most lamented soldier, perhaps, since the civil war.

Call Again, Percy.

Percy Parkinson rose and brushed the dust from his knees. Then, drawing himself up to his full height, he gazed resentfully upon the form of Miss Muriel Muggins, who nonchalantly fanned herself the while.
"Very well, Miss Muggins," came in bitter tones from Percy, "Oh, very well! You have spurned me, it is true! Indeed, you have spurned me twice! But, though despise cats my heart I shall not die! I mean to go into the busy world, I will fight! I will win! My name shall become known, and my riches shall become envied."
"Pardon me for interrupting you, Mr. Parkinson," interjected Miss Muggins, "but where you shall have accomplished all that you may try me again."—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Call to Sacrifice.

The chieftain of the deleterious germs was come at length to one end of his resources. Apparently the game was up.
"We are discovered," he exclaimed dejectedly. "That is, if there are more than 500,000,000 of us in a millimeter of milk the stuff is thrown in the sewer, and we are foiled of our prey."
But suddenly a happy thought struck him.
"Why cannot a few million of us in each millimeter go disguised, and thus fool the bacteriologists?"
To think was to act. He sprang up on his feet. His voice rang out like a clarion:
"How many germs," he demanded, "will volunteer to wear silk hats and frock coats and try and look respectable for the common weal?"

INFANTILE PARALYSIS
A Germ Disease Which is Baffling the Doctors and Alarming the People Generally.
It may be said that doctors are only agreed on two points regarding this much-dreaded disease. First, that it is a germ disease, and second, like all germ diseases can only be fought with pure, rich blood. Prevention is always the better way and that is why we are always talking about the wisdom of keeping the blood pure and rich and the nerves healthy and strong by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
Rich, red blood is a deadly foe to disease germs whether they are germs of infantile paralysis, of colds, of consumption or any other disease. Don't let the blood get thin, and watery. Don't let the nerves get exhausted. The risk is too great. Every dose of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food goes to the formation of a certain amount of pure, rich blood. For this reason you are certain to benefit by this treatment.
You need not wait until you have some form of paralysis before testing this great medicine. Be warned by headaches, sleeplessness, irritability, failing memory and power of concentrating the mind. Restore the system while still you have something to build on.
Get new energy and vigor into the system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers or Edman, Bates & Co., Toronto.
