

M'KAY FURS

FUR Repairing

A Winter's Wear probably has left some repairs to be attended to. A rip, a new lining or perhaps you wish your garment entirely remodelled.

Now is the time.

By September our factory is usually so busy with orders we cannot undertake repair work for immediate attention. Designs for the coming season are out and decided upon, and we can remodel your Furs now. Better than later, we also store and take care of them until you want them.

Are You Well Insured?

Every time the fire bell rings you are given a startling reminder of the necessity of being insured.

Every newspaper you pick up, containing its numerous accounts of destructive conflagrations, is a forcible argument in the same direction.

The fire statistics of this country, compiled annually, showing the enormous yearly aggregate loss at the hands of the fire fiend, prove how dangerous it is to take any risk whatever.

Are you properly insured? If not, see us without delay. Let us explain the different kinds of policies we handle and the terms. We represent only the best of companies.

GO TO COLLIN'S BAY

TO MAKE THEIR SHIPMENTS OF IRON ORE.

Kingston Loses the Ontario Exploration Syndicate Pier and Concentrator—Delays of City Council Fatal.

For several days it has been known that the Ontario Exploration Syndicate had practically decided to ship its iron ore from the Wilbur mines via Collin's Bay, instead of Kingston, but this morning that Mayor Graham received an official communication from J. B. Hanna, of Cleveland, president of the company, to the effect that it could not jeopardize its interests by waiting longer on the city to carry out its promises in regard to the putting of a larger span in the Cataract bridge, and hence it had to look elsewhere for a shipping point. Mr. Hanna stated that Kingston was the natural point for shipping the ore, but the company could not afford to take the chance of losing all this season through the bridge not being adequate to pass large vessels through. If the by-law, to be voted on by the ratepayers on April 4th, was not carried, it would involve large financial loss to the company, and hence it had to act at once and secure another point of shipment so as to be ready for the opening of navigation. Kingston thus loses the shipping plant of the exploration syndicate. Whether it will be much of a loss is yet to be seen.

The company has purchased about 200 acres of land along the waterfront of Collin's Bay. At the city's shipping site it had three and a half acres, and less than one-third of the waterfront it will have at the Bay. What extra cost will be involved will be in the extra railway haul, as the shipments will have to be made over two railways.

Mr. Hanna, in his letter to the mayor, points out that his company has been dickering with the city for nearly three months, and politely intimates that the civic authorities might possibly treat the new agreement, upon which the people were to vote on April 4th, as if it did the first one—namely, refuse to sign it. The first agreement was for a sixty-foot span in the bridge. This was passed by the city council, and signed by Mr. Hanna, as president of the company, but when the company's solicitor, J. M. Farrell, went to the city buildings with $14,000 of the company's money to bind the agreement, the mayor, under instructions from the city solicitor, refused to sign the agreement. Mr. Hanna states that perhaps the mayor was acting according to law, but he points out that the information concerning the cost of the span and other matters should have been secured before the agreement was passed by the council and not afterwards. He points out that the company has done everything possible to make an agreement with the city, but it can wait no longer. It even started the construction of the $40,000 pier and has driven in most of the piles required. He states further that when he came here last week he thought that everything was ready to go ahead with the construction of the new span in the bridge, and was surprised to learn that a new agreement had been sent to the company's office in New York to be signed, and necessitating a vote of the people in April. When he learned this, he at once set about looking for another site, considering that it would be useless to hold further negotiations with the city.

Another matter stated by Mr. Hanna was with reference to the time of finishing the bridge span. He stated that the company was told the span could not be finished this year, or that the city would not guarantee to have it done before 1912. This view is somewhat incorrect. The city engineer says he informed the finance committee that if the work of constructing the span was started by May 1st, it could be completed by August 1st.

It seems that Collin's Bay was considered before by the company, but as Kingston was the most natural point of shipment, this city was chosen. If the bridge work had been started by this time, the company would have re-

WHY WAS THE FIRST

To Announce the Militia Command Changes.

The Whig was the first newspaper to announce the changes in the militia service and some of the command changes to be made. Even the Ottawa papers did not have the announcement till to-day.

The first step will be the changing of the present system of "commands and districts in eastern Canada into six divisions, each of which will be in itself a complete military unit as to general organization and readiness for war. At the head of each division there will be an officer in charge of the administration, whose duties will be of a more practical and comprehensive nature than the duties now assigned to the district officers commanding. For the present, however, it is understood that there will be no change in the present commanding officers, the D.O.C.'s becoming in each instance head of the division.

Brig-Gen. W. H. Cotton, who now commands the western Ontario command, at Toronto, will have command of the second division.

Colonel W. E. Hodgins, D.O.C., M. B., No. 1, will command the first division.

A radical departure will be made in the appointment of an officer of the imperial army to each division to act as chief staff officer. The work of the deputy assistant adjutant-general for the second division at Toronto, which for many years has been performed by Lieut.-Col. James Galloway, will be divided between the chief staff officer and the D.A.Q.M.G. Lieut.-Col. Galloway on account of ill-health, is retiring.

Lieut.-Col. J. C. Langton, senior Army Service Corps officer, Toronto, who is retiring on account of the expiration of his term of office, will be succeeded by Captain A. de M. Bell, of Kingston.

An Ottawa despatch says: Canadian officers will have nothing to object to in changes in organization of militia, according to impression here. It is not intended to have British officers or chiefs of staff of six divisions. The British officers will be present merely for purposes of instruction, and instead of being annoyed, military men here are pleased with the change.

Military Change.

In the list of military changes given in the Whig, Tuesday night, it was stated that Col. J. A. G. Fages would return here from Halifax, as A.A.C. Col. George Hunter Ogilvie, of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, has been appointed for this post. Many Kingstonsians would have been pleased at the return of Col. Fages. Col. Ogilvie is well-known here as he was formerly a captain in the field artillery here.

WITH MOTOR BOAT MEN.

Are Anxiously Awaiting Opening of Navigation.

Motor boat men, and there are a great many of them in Kingston, are anxiously awaiting the opening of navigation, so that they can get their boats out again.

Several new boats will be seen in the harbor this year. A number of fine boats are being built at Coward's boat house for local parties and Mr. Coward is also building boats for outside parties.

Mr. Sterling, formerly manager of Knox's store, had a fine boat built for this summer, but his going away will compel him to sell it, and it is understood that it is now on the market. Mr. Sterling was transferred to Stratford but as there is no water in Stratford, just a small pond, he will have no need for a boat.

The street cars gave good service both at twelve and one o'clock and were packed to the limit.

WAS IN SAD PLIGHT

YOUNG MAN GATHERED IN BY POLICE.

Was Found in Helpless State on Roadway in Outskirts of the City—On "Prohibited List," and Was Remanded—Police Court Notes.

His love for strong drink came near costing Joshua Leach, his life on Tuesday night. Leach is a young man but he has been in the police court on more than one occasion, and just recently was placed on the "prohibited list." Tuesday night he got into a number of young men and started drinking. At one o'clock this morning he fell on the roadway near the overhead bridge on Rideau street and came within an ace of rolling into a pool of water, where he would have smothered to death had the men known he was coming to his assistance. He was in had shape when the men came along. He was helpless and a call was sent in to the police. Constable Arnie secured a cab and brought the unfortunate young man to the police station.

Leach was put through a cross-examination, as regards where he had been served with liquor, but he said he had not secured it himself. The other men secured the liquor. They had three bottles. He declared that he had had some of the liquor. "Prohibited list." One remarked to him "Now be sure and don't get drunk, whereupon he said "I don't want to, and will not if I can help it." But one drink gave him an appetite for others, with the result that he was knocked out.

The magistrate remanded Leach for a week.

James O'Brien came up from Gananoque and as he had not had a drink all winter he thought he would sample some of Kingston's liquor. It was too much for him, however, and he fell by the wayside. A police constable came to his rescue. He paid a fine of $1 and costs, with the option of ten days.

John Purcell, "also drunk," admitted that he had taken a little too much, but pleaded for a chance, stating that he would place himself on the "prohibited list." The case was remanded for a week in order to give him a chance to carry out his promise.

Coming to Kingston.

The Ottawa Free Press says: Capt. Philip Prideaux, of the Ordnance Corps, has been transferred to Kingston and with Mrs. Prideaux will move to that city about the end of the month to take up his residence. Capt. and Mrs. Prideaux will be very much missed in many circles in Ottawa, where they have made a great many friends since coming here five years ago.

Skating Done This Year.

With the closing of the covered rink all thoughts of skating will be put away until next winter. Last year the covered rink closed on March 24th and this year on the 22nd. This season was longer on account of the fact that it started earlier, the rinks being open on Dec. 10th.

ADULTERATION OF MILK UNDER CONSIDERATION.

Directors Dairy School Re-appoint Inspectors to Look After Cases.—G. G. Publow to Look Into Cheese Trade in England—Better Raw Material Wanted.

The question of the adulteration of milk was before the directors of the Eastern Ontario Dairy School, at their meeting, held on Tuesday afternoon, at the dairy school, and it was decided to re-appoint the old inspectors, Messrs. Street and Whittton, to look after this part of the work. The directors are of the opinion that every-thing possible must be done, to put a stop to such a practice, and for this reason, they again appointed the inspectors for this duty. During the past year, there were several prosecutions, in Eastern Ontario, and if the practice is kept up, there will be more.

The directors felt that it would be wisdom on their part to assist in the paying of the expenses of C. C. Publow, of Kingston, chief inspector, for a trip to England, so that he might be able to study the cheese trade, and at the same time make an inspection. Mr. Publow will leave on this trip during the summer.

The directors felt, and Mr. Publow was also of the same opinion, that all the dairymen should be urged to put forth every effort possible, this summer, to send in a better quality of raw material. This will be pointed out to the dairymen. It is a most important point, and one which the dairymen should pay special attention to, as everything depends on the quality of the raw material.

IN SPORTING CIRCLES.

Ottawas Won Round From Montreal Wanderers.

At New York, last night, Montreal Wanderers, last year's champions, defeated the Ottawa Stanley cup holders by a score of 5 to 2. The Ottawas, however, win the series 12 to 10, having defeated Wanderers on Monday night, by 7 to 2.

Big Time Friday Night.

According to all accounts there will be big doings at the banquet Friday evening which is given by the Rooters' Club to the Frontenac hockey team. A number of parades are being written for the occasion and quite a few jobs on members of the club are under preparation.

Challenge Welcomed.

The baseball challenge received from Montreal, although a trifle early, has awakened interest in the hearts of fans here. Followers of sport here have had the privilege of witnessing outside teams play hockey, but very few baseball teams have dropped off here to play the local boys. A game between the champions of Quebec and a picked team from the city league would surely be a great drawing card for a celebration on a holiday, and no doubt would be a paying thing for the promoters.

Funeral of Late William Shea.

The remains of the late William Shea, the veteran member of the Rockwood staff, were laid to rest in Cataract cemetery this afternoon. Funeral services were conducted from his late residence, Arch street, by Rev. T. W. Savary, of St. James church. Many beautiful floral tributes were received showing the esteem in which he was held by all who knew him.

Stage on Wheels.

The Sydenham stage came in on wheels to-day for the first time this spring. The roads in the country since the thaw are in a terrible state and are neither easily traversed by sleighs or wheels. Undertakers are very uneasy when they go to Cataract cemetery with a funeral for fear the hearse will upset.

Many Police Court Sentences

Have done much to make "thirty-days" familiar, but the term really owes its notoriety, and certainly its popularity, to the Moon College, 222-226 Yonge street, Toronto. Their bona-fide offer of return fare paid and absolutely free tuition, if unable to verify every claim and qualify A1, first-class, strictly high-grade stenographers within thirty days, by their wonderful thirty-day syllabic method, has indeed made the term "thirty days" famous.

Real Spring Weather.

The first days of spring were ushered in with the real thing. Last evening about two inches of very soft snow fell between the hours of nine and twelve o'clock and this morning the snow on the walks was wetter and more penetrating than rain. A drizzling rain started during the forenoon and made the day most disagreeable.

Expect a Good Year.

The sporting goods dealers are looking forward to a good year again this season. Last summer with the organizing of two new baseball leagues, the Sunday school and Mercantile, they were nearly sold out of sporting goods.
