THE METHODS

Of Taking Census in Other Countries.

FIELDING'S VIEW

ANYTHING NOT IN AGREEMENT NOT IN EXISTENCE.

Many Questions Were Asked and Answered — The Reciprocity Agreement Was Again Under Debate—The Bank Act May Go Over.

Special to the Whig.

Ottawa, April 6.—The reciprocity ball was started rolling again in the House of Commons yesterday. The house went into committee of supply on ways and means and George H. Branbury, of Selkirk, resumed the debate for the opposition.

Before the orders of the day were called R. L. Borden asked the minister of agriculture if he would not lay on the table a report as to the method adopted by other countries in taking their census. Mr. Fisher replied that he would.

Mr. Jameson, of Digby, asked if it was the intention of the government to continue the bounties to fishermen in the event of reciprocity passing.

Mr. Brodeur replied they would.

Mr. Jameson—Will the United States do likewise and was this considered when the reciprocity negotiations were going on at Washington?

Mr. Fielding—The bounties to United States fishermen is a matter for Washington to decide, but as regards the reciprocity negotiations anything not embodied in the agreement is not in existence.

Hon. Mr. Foster asked if the Anglo-Saxon treaty had been signed and if so would a copy of the treaty be laid on the table. Mr. Fielding replied that Canada was not included in the treaty and it was a question whether we should adhere to the English treaty or arrange one for ourselves. If a copy of the treaty could be secured there would be no hesitation to lay it on the table.

R. L. Borden asked what about the discussion of the Bank Act this session.

Mr. Fielding—I gave an answer to this a few days ago to the effect that it may have to lay over until next session, and I have nothing further to add.

Mr. Rhodes, of Amherst, called the attention of the minister of railways and canals to the frequent accidents happening with great regularity on the Intercolonial railway. He pointed out that there had been some dispute between the superintendent and the traffic manager over the quality of the supplies, such as wheels, axles and tires used and the dispute went as far as to involve either of their resignations.

Mr. Graham said he had not heard of any such dispute or of any such difficulty amongst his staff and pointed out that there were a greater number of accidents happening every year on company owned roads than on state owned railways and the board of railway commissions reports would substantiate this. Where the whole trouble lies on a government owned road is that it is largely run on rumors, whereas on other roads everything is confined to "rail" facts. Then again whenever an accident occurs on a state owned railway it is reported in the newspapers under scare headlines, while a similar accident on other lines only gets a very small notice in some corner of the paper, unless there is a very great loss of life. He said he was buying the very best of material for the I.C.R. that was to be had, regardless of the lowest tender, and as a consequence avoided getting poor material from political friends, who might be successful in securing any special tender. However, he would make the fullest enquiry with the view of preventing, as much as possible, further accidents.

Hon. G. P. Graham announced that a contract was signed giving the task of the construction of the superstructure of the Quebec bridge to the St. Lawrence Bridge company, of Montreal. He stated that the bridge was designed exclusively by this company. It included provision for street railways and roadways as well as for the railway tracks. The cost would be $8,560,000 and the company had deposited a check for $1,297,500, fifteen per cent. of the contract price. The subsidies from Quebec city and the province of Quebec of $300,000 and $250,000 respectively are to be returned.

Suicided While Despondent.

Rochester, N.Y., April 6.—Gustave Knop, fifty years old, of 25 Bernard street, plunged over the East river bank at a point 150 feet south of Driving park avenue, bridge, and landed on the rocks 175 feet below. He was alive when picked up, but died within twenty minutes. It is believed to be a case of suicide, as Knop had been despondent for some time as the result of the death of his wife and daughter.

The man who publicly claims to be the sole boss in his family is generally bluffing.

SCHOOL LUNCHEONS.

Children Gain Weight and Better Dispositions on Meal.

Philadelphia, April 6.—After a month's test of serving a three-cent luncheon to fifty children in a public school here, the experiment has been declared a success. The Home and School League will continue to serve the luncheon until May.

The children show an average gain of four pounds each in weight. Whether it was a bit of Hamburger steak or a bowl of bean soup that confronted them, whether it was a dish of prunes of a mound of rice pudding, they toiled faithfully until the plates and bowls were bare. And the inevitable consequences have followed in brightened eyes, heightened spirits and, what is most marvellous of all, angelic behaviour during the afternoon session, where bedlam was wont to reign.

CUDAHY ON HOG PRICES.

Five Cents in Summer and Four in Winter.

Chicago, April 6.—Patrick Cudahy predicts five-cent hogs next summer, and four-cent next winter, with corn from thirty-five to forty cents a bushel. Mr. Cudahy said: "Lard and ribs will decline another cent and a half. Heavy hog movement will continue. We have 100,000,000 lbs. more meat than a year ago. March increased about 60,000,000, as against a decrease of 13,000,000 a year ago. Hogs do not decline as rapidly as provisions, because eastern buyers buy hogs without prospective profit. There will be a large increase in corn acreage this year."

BROKE THE RECORD

RUINED THE PLANS OF A DEAD MAN.

Lawyer Broke Phonograph Record Telling Place of Buried Gold—An Unfortunate Occurrence.

Buchanan, Mich., April 6.—Shortly before the death of Hodson Burton, five years ago, he talked into a phonograph and had the record preserved, placing it in the hands of his lawyer with the request that it be kept in his safe. In his will Mr. Burton stated that he had buried a large sum of gold and that its exact location was recorded on a phonograph record which was not to be heard until after he had been dead five years. This week the time expired, and the heirs gathered at the family residence. Just as the lawyer stepped through the door into the room where they were he tripped over a footstool, fell, and broke the record into many pieces, rendering it useless.

TOOK AWAY FIGHT.

Pistol in Her Face She Uses Hatpin.

New York, April 6.—Miss Hanna Krothevil threw up her hands when a highwayman thrust a pistol in her face, but her action was not in token of surrender. On the contrary the young woman, who was held up on Lexington avenue, pulled out two wicked looking hatpins and began vigorously jabbing her assailant. One lunge that punctured the robber's arm evidently took the fight out of him, for he wheeled and took flight.

Miss Krothevil started in pursuit, screaming for help, but handicapped by a skirt built more or less on the lines of the hobble, was losing ground when others took up the chase and the hold-up man was caught.

A HORRID RECORD.

One Out of Every 275 is Insane in New York City.

New York, April 6.—One out of every 275 persons in New York city is insane, according to Dr. Albert W. Ferris, president of the state lunacy commission, who is delivering a course of lectures before the New York School of Philanthropy. The state hospitals for the insane now house 32,000 patients, the lecturer continued, and private institutions care for 11,000 more. New cases admitted to the state asylums average about 150 a week. The cost of caring for an insane patient is approximately $200 a year.

ROW AMID GLASS

BURGLAR CAPTURED BY BRAVE OLD PRIEST.

Fiercely Attacked by a Man With a Life Preserver, Abbe Successfully Uses a Bottle as a Weapon.

Paris, April 6.—A splendid exhibition of muscular Christianity was given early this morning by a French priest, the Abbe Loisean, who, although more than sixty years old, overcame a burglar who attacked him and, in spite of severe wounds, held him until the police came.

At one o'clock this morning the abbe, who lives alone in a little flat on the fifth floor near the Church of St. Sulpice, was awakened by the breaking open of his desk in the next room.

He jumped out of bed, rushed into the sitting room, and was immediately attacked by a big man, who had a lifepreserver in his hand. Though bruised and beaten, the priest laid hold of the burglar, and seizing in the dark a waterbottle, brought it down with a crash on the head of his assailant.

Then the two men closed and rolled over on the floor together, both being badly cut by the broken glass. The priest received several other wounds from a knife which the burglar had managed to open, but he never loosed his grip. The noise of the struggle aroused the house, and in a few minutes the police arrived and arrested the burglar.

HIS REVENGE

Former Convict Locked Boy in Box Car.

SEARCH BEING MADE

BOY HAS BEEN MISSING EIGHT DAYS.

A Card to a Philadelphia Lawyer's Brother Reveals the Deed—Convict Wanted Revenge on Assistant District Attorney.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 6.—To keep a vow of vengeance which he made against Assistant District Attorney Joseph P. Rogers, a former convict, who signs himself "8,643C353," enticed twelve-year-old Bernard Rogers, a nephew of the lawyer, to the Baltimore and Ohio yards here, over a week ago, and locked him in an empty car.

This is the statement on a postal card which presumably was written by the former jailbird, and which was received by Cornelius F. Rogers, a brother of the Assistant District Attorney, with whom the lad lived, to-day.

In it the writer expresses glee over the misery of the boy's relatives and hopes that the boy is dead. The police immediately began an investigation and every effort is being made to find the car.

The card is signed with prison numbers, "8543-C-352," and in it the writer expresses his glee over the misery which he has made the relatives of the boy feel, and says he hopes that the boy is now dead.

Every effort is being made to discover the car in which the boy was placed. There is reason to believe that the lad was placed on car No. 59496 of the Deleware, Lackawanna and Western railway.

FORTUNE IN STRAW CUSHION.

Ignores Relatives and Leaves Wealth to Comrades.

Paris, April 6.—A remarkable story comes from Sept-Saulx, on the Marne, of an old boatman, named Francois Didier, who died two days ago, leaving a fortune of $29,000.

Didier, who was sixty-six years of age, lived a hard-working life, and appeared to be utterly alone in the world.

He told two of his comrades on the river on Monday morning that he believed he was about to die, and he made them his heirs to all the money which was hidden in the bottom of his boat.

His relatives, he told them, were not to receive a penny, for he had long since ceased to have anything to do with them.

He died two hours afterward, and when the men turned out his boat they discovered $14,000 in gold, $10,000 in bank notes and $5,000 in coins of different values concealed in an old straw cushion.

The legatees informed the mayor and the money has been sequestrated until the rightful heirs are found.

WARNS CANADA.

The Question Promises Unexpected Type of Reciprocity.

New York, April 6.—The New York Commercial says:

It seems highly probable that the negro movement into Canada will lead to some legislation by parliament restricting immigration—or, at least to some effort at such restriction. The course of the Dominion government in the matter will be watched with much interest, for the present negro movement promises a sort of "reciprocity" that nobody on either side of the line had looked for.

These emigrating Oklahoma negroes assign, as their reasons for leaving, the "Jim-Crow-Car" law of the state and the provision of separate public schools for whites and blacks. They may be forced to face worse things than those, if once they precipitate the "race problem" in Canada.

LINCOLN'S LETTER SAVES JOB.

Woman Shows Note Written Forty-Seven Years Ago.

Washington, April 6.—Forty-seven years ago, April 13th, 1864, Abraham Lincoln paused in the cares of civil war for one of those kind acts which lived after him. It was to pen a personal letter to the postmaster, asking him to employ Miss Susan Dugger, a young belle of Carlinsville, Ill., who was the sole support of her brother, a Union soldier, crippled at Shiloh. Miss Dugger got a position and preserved the letter religiously.

Secretary MacVeagh, after reading the same letter, yesterday—though the paper had yellowed with age and the ink is dim—ordered that Miss Dugger's name be not dropped from the treasury's list of employees, though she has been ill more than a year.

INDIANS LEAVE VICTORIA.

British Government Pays $425,000 for Their Reserves.

Victoria, B.C., April 6.—The British Columbia government, yesterday, assembled the Songhees band of Indians on the reserve on the water front opposite the city of Victoria and paid over to the heads of the tribes sums ranging from $8,000 to $11,500 each, a total of $425,000, for the surrender of the reserve.

The government also supplies a new reserve on Esquimalt harbor, whither the Indians will move at once. The city has been endeavoring to secure the removal of the Indians for nearly thirty years.

QUEBEC BRIDGE CONTRACT.

The Cost of Superstructure Will be $9,000,000.

Montreal, April 6.—The contract for the superstructure of the Quebec bridge was signed at Ottawa. As previously announced the Dominion Bridge company and the Canadian Bridge company unite to form a construction company to do the work, this company being known as the St. Lawrence Bridge company.

The contractors of the new structure at Quebec agree to have the work completed by the 31st of December, 1911. The first thing to do is to purchase the land and erect new shops, the whole to cost $1,000,000, as no existing plant in the dominion is sufficient to carry on such an extensive contract. The shops will be in, or near, Montreal, and not in the neighborhood of the bridge site, as has been suggested. The contract for the steel has already been given to the United States Steel company of Pittsburg, as the material will be too long for ocean steamers.

ESCAPE FROM DEATH

AMID THE CANYONS OF FAR-OFF CALIFORNIA.

Philadelphia Capitalist Loses Way While Mountain Climbing and is Found by Rescuers After Several Hours' Wandering.

Los Angeles, April 6.—Lost amid the canyons in the mountains, twenty miles north of here during a rainstorm, Charles Beck, a Philadelphia capitalist, had a narrow escape from death Sunday night.

After having wandered aimlessly about for several hours and finally collapsing, Mr. Beck was found by a party of rescuers, yesterday.

Mr. Beck, in company with his daughter, Elsa, left the tavern, 5,000 feet up Mount Lowe, for the summit. He rode a burro while his daughter walked.

Upon returning late in the afternoon Mr. Beck insisted that Miss Beck ride while he started along the trail on foot. She left him behind. When he did not return, guests at the tavern organized a rescue party. After reaching the summit they were able to find his trail in a light fall of snow. This led to a point six miles from where he had left his daughter, and there he was found in a huddled heap on the brink of the San Gabriel canyon.

As he suffered mostly from exhaustion, it is not believed his experience will leave any ill effects.

BRITAIN BLIZZARD SWEPT.

London, April 6.—England and Wales were swept by a blizzard yesterday. Scores of villages and towns are cut off from the outside world. Wires are down and roads are impassable. Railroad and tram traffic is practically at a standstill.

$1,000,000 FOR OFFICERS.

Late Hon. H. H. Bourke Leave Money to Old Soldiers.

London, April 6.—The late Hon. Henry L. Bourke, a wealthy stockbroker and brother of Lord Mayo, who was assassinated while governor-general of India, left a million on the death of his wife to found a residential club for naval and military officers on the active or retired lists, whose income is between $250 and $750 a year. It is stipulated that the members will be elected by trustees and pay some rental, however small.

SECOND CHARGE LAID

AGAINST C. D. SHELDON AT PITTSBURG, PA.

The Grand Jury Threw Out One, and Chief McCaskill, of Montreal, Was Ready to Bring Sheldon to Canada.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 6.—The grand jury, yesterday afternoon, threw out the bill against Charles D. Sheldon, after considering it for several hours. The announcement threw the local officers into a flurry of excitement, as they confidently anticipated that the finding of the grand jury would be favorable to Mrs. McAdoo.

Chief McCaskill, however, had planned for a favorable decision and had everything ready for immediate action. Knowing that the first step of the prosecution here would be the laying of a new information against the man, he is so anxious to secure and bring to Canada, he had his grip packed, and also Sheldon's meagre belongings, and a change of clothing.

He had also the necessary papers all prepared and ready to hand; and with the object of avoiding service of further warrants, had decided that the best plan would be to make an immediate jump away for the border so as to get into another state before the local authorities could make any move, but this course was found to be unnecessary.

Another information has since been laid against Sheldon, charging false pretences, which may have the effect of delaying matters still longer.

Many Feel Sore.

London, Ont., April 6.—Merchants and food contractors, of London, are sore, this morning, about the announcement that the government intends to make a permanent camping ground for Western Ontario troops at Goderich, instead of the famous old Carling Heights. At militia headquarters, however, it is regarded as the best possible thing to get away from the big city.

LOWER RATES

For Canada on the Panama Canal.

FAVORED TREATMENT

IN RETURN FOR SOME CONCESSION.

Public Men of Washington Discuss the Matter—To Devise a Scheme to be of Advantage to Both Countries.

Washington, April 6.—A movement is on foot among some of the public men in Washington to come to an arrangement with Canada to give the dominion preferential treatment in the Panama canal in return for some concession. The engineers are making the dirt fly so rapidly that it is now expected the canal will be completed in 1913 instead of two years later, as has been expected. The United States proposes to charge other nations a higher toll than will be paid by vessels belonging to this country. Even American vessels that are the property of railroads, it is said, will be penalized in the rates.

So far as can be seen now, the general rate will be in the neighborhood of one dollar a ton net register. It will, therefore, be seen that the tolls on a large vessel will be a factor in the profits, especially for a foreign vessel competing with an American vessel paying one-half the tolls. Inasmuch as the canal will exist partly to regulate transcontinental railroad rates, its effect will be of vast importance to both Canada and the United States. No one has voiced a definite plan for an arrangement with Canada, but it has been suggested that, with the appointment of the international commission on waterways, some scheme may be devised to give an advantage to both countries.

SWALLOWED STEEL POINTS.

Placed Them in a Capsule for Safe Keeping.

Ithaca, N.Y., April 6.—Sixteen small steel compass points were removed by surgeons from the stomach and intestines of T. J. Williams, an instructor of the Cornell College of Civil Engineering. Although the points had pierced the intestinal walls, the surgeons believe that Prof. Williams will recover.

He had placed the points in a capsule for safe keeping some time ago and swallowed the capsule Sunday, without examining it closely, thinking it was medicine of the kind he had been in the habit of taking.

RETURNED OPEN VERDICT.

Feud Existed Between Two North Bay Families.

North Bay, April 6.—The coroner's jury, in the case of Laurent Morin, alleged to have been shot by a neighboring farmer, John McDougall, returned an open verdict expressing no opinion as to the cause of death. It was evident from witnesses that a family feud exists between the Morins and the McDougall's, and this is worse than ever since the old man's death. McDougall is being held by the police.

FEAR AN EPIDEMIC.

Germ Filled Goats Got Away From Hospital.

New York, April 6.—A score of police and health inspectors are on the hunt, this morning, for millions of small-pox and other contagious disease germs which were inoculated into four goats at a local hospital, last night. Somehow the goats got out and the authorities are fearful that the milk or meat is being eaten by poor East Side families. This would mean a serious epidemic.

Sheldon to be Held.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 6.—The appearance of Charles D. Sheldon, blind pool operator, wanted in Montreal before the magistrate this morning, was the signal for an heated outburst on the part of the district attorney to the effect that local claimants were endeavoring to hold up the Montreal authorities for the amount they had lost before surrendering Sheldon to the Canadian police. He said he would lay new informations. In the meantime the Canadian police must wait.

Later—At a late hour this afternoon it was announced that Sheldon would be returned to Montreal for trial.

Split on Party Lines.

Ottawa, April 6.—As expected, the privileges and elections committee split along party lines in the Adelard-Lanctot matter, the majority declaring that Lanctot did nothing wrong in having government labor work on his premises, and the minority declaring that he did. It will be heard of again in the commons.

They May Have Perished.

Halifax, April 6.—It is reported that a party of six men, the leader being one Labelle, who left their homes at West Cape, Magdalen Islands, Saturday last, hunting seals, are believed to have perished, as no trace has been heard of them since Saturday, when they were seen among the heavy ice trying to make shore against northerly gales.

With two thousand passengers and crew aboard the steamer Princess Irene from Southern Europe, is aground in New York harbor. Tugs and lighters have been sent out.

GOVERNOR OF AUSTRALIA.

Lord Denman Will Follow the Example of the King.

London, April 6.—Lord Denman, the new governor of Australia, speaking here, said, while going new to the work, he had the advantage of having been for four years in the personal service of King Edward, also having personally served King George, who knew the Britons overseas as no previous king knew them. Australia strongly believed in her own future as a nation, and, above all, was loyal in her attachment to the king and the empire.

MARRIED AT ELEVEN.

Tale of Fifteen-year-old Girl in Hull Police Court.

Ottawa, April 6.—A young girl of fifteen appeared in the Hull police court, yesterday, on a charge of disorderly conduct. She gave the name of Mrs. A. Beaudin, and on inquiry the magistrate discovered that she was married at eleven years of age, and was deserted three months afterwards by her husband. The charge against the child was held over until Thursday, and in the meantime the police will investigate the circumstances surrounding her life.

Excited the Court.

Viterbo, Italy, April 6.—Ciro Vitoszi, a priest among the Cammorists, on trial here, was in the witness box, this morning. He told how he learned of the assassinations through the medium of the confessional. He strongly denounced the police and pleaded his own innocence, in such an emotional and tragic manner that the court went into an uproar and the sittings were adjourned peremptorily.

TO PROHIBIT EXPORT

OF PULPWOOD FROM NEW BRUNSWICK.

A Government Bill Introduced in Legislature—Provisions to Enforce Regulation.

Fredericton, N.B., April 6.—In the legislature, yesterday, Hon. Mr. Grimmer, surveyor-general, introduced a bill intended to prevent the export of pulpwood from the crown lands of the province. The act provides that every timber license or permit conferring authority to cut spruce or soft wood trees or timber, not being pine, suitable for manufacturing pulp or paper, on the ungranted lands of the crown, shall contain and be subject to the condition that all such timber cut under the authority or permission of such license or permit shall be manufactured in Canada, that is to say into merchantable pulp or paper, or into sawn lumber, woodenware utensils, or other articles of commerce or merchandise, as distinguished from the said spruce or other timber in its raw or unmanufactured state. There are provisions for the enforcement of the regulation, and also exempting such logs as may be required for fuel or building purposes. The regulation applies to all licenses or permits hereafter issued, whether for the first time or in the renewal of licenses or permits heretofore issued or granted, and the act comes in force when proclaimed by the governor in council.

SUFFRAGETTES AND CENSUS.

John Burns Says Their Opposition to Census Failed.

London, April 6.—"In the hours of success, mercy and magnanimity are becoming to us," declared John Burns, president of the local government board, when questioned in the House of Commons, as to whether or not the contumacious suffragettes who refused to be counted by the census enumerators were to be punished.

Mr. Burns added that the manouevres of the suffragettes in regard to the census had had no appreciable effect on the accuracy of the statistics that were being gathered.

Killed by Fall.

Ottawa, April 6.—R. R. Chisholm, a contractor from Alexandria, fell from a six-foot scaffold on Monday and his injuries terminated fatally on Monday. He will be buried at Alexandria.

WITH HIS THROAT CUT

A FARMER WALKED INTO WINNIPEG.

He Was Despondent Over the Loss of His Home by Fire—Lay Awaiting Death, Then Got Tired and Resumed Journey.

Winnipeg, Man., April 6.—Joseph Robertson, a farmer, of Transcona, Man., was found walking into the city last evening with his throat cut, and the constable who met him took him to the general hospital, where he may recover. He told a rambling story of having lost his place at Transcona by fire, the damage being $2,000. He says he started to walk to the city at eleven o'clock in the morning and on the way went into an empty house and tried to cut his throat with a pocket knife. He lay down for a couple of hours, expecting to die, but got tired of waiting and set out again for the city. He has a brother at 24 Gordon street, Manchester, Eng. He is forty years of age and unmarried.

George Ladd, aged twenty-eight, killed himself by cutting his throat with a razor yesterday afternoon, at his temporary residence at Ferry Lane, St. James, the western suburb of Winnipeg. He was a lumberjack in the employ of the Rat Portage Lumber Co. His parents reside at Holtsville, Ont.

Things Look Brighter.

Fernie, B.C., April 6.—Things look brighter all round for the striking miners in Alberta and British Columbia. Word was received, with cheers, this morning, that the international organization at Indianapolis, had sent a recognition of the strike and arranged for the strike pay. It is also believed that with the coming of J. R. Wilson, as new manager of the Crow's Nest Coal company, the operators' association will grant demands of strikers.

When peeling apples, pour boiling water over them, and the process will be more easily carried out.
