THE SPORT REVIEW

CANADIAN INDIAN IN BOSTON MARATHON.

And He May Run Away From the Field—Great Lacrosse Revival in the Western Provinces.

Vancouver may have a City Pro. Lacrosse League. There will be at least ten runners in the Boston Marathon.

The Winnipeg schools have all decided in favour of lacrosse. Alberta is leading in the revival of lacrosse in the North-West.

Hugh Gall, the Varsity football captain, will paddle with Parkdale. Ty Cobb may go into vaudeville at the close of the baseball season.

The Waseda University ball team of Tokio, Japan, is on its way to America. Owner Comiskey, of the Chicago Americans, has insured his players for $5,000 each.

Bad weather again interfered with most of the training baseball trip games in the south. There are 60,000 lady golfers in Britain, who are estimated to spend £300,000 annually on the game.

Toronto fans fear that their pitching staff will again be weak. Kelley's twirlers haven't shown much to date.

The Vancouver amateur lacrosse team will send an agent to England to try and arrange their European tour.

The Canadian Lacrosse Association will readopt the old amateur definition and affiliate with the Amateur Athletic Union.

The recent six-day bicycle race killed the game in Germany. The riders fought on the track and were credited with very slow time.

President David Starr Jordan, of Stanford University, California, has forbidden baseball this year, because of "systematic muckering" infecting the sport. The ban will likely be extended to football.

A San Francisco report says that Felipe, of Stanford University, cleared six feet four inches in the running high jump at a recent meet there, with Ward, of Los Angeles, second at six feet two inches.

Hugh Daly, one-armed pitcher of the Cleveland National League and Chicago Union Association teams, holds the world's season strike-out record. In 1907 he pitched fifty-four games and struck out 464 batters, an average of 8.59 a game.

Arthur Irwin, the Yankee scout, has been offered $5,000 a year by a Japanese university, to go to the Orient and teach the Japs some of the fine points of baseball. The offer guarantees Irwin five years' work.

The efforts to get a third team into the British Columbia Lacrosse League seems unavailing. At the annual meeting the Vancouver team wanted to see the old Maple Leafs back in the game, but New Westminster would not hear of it.

As a result of the reduction in the number of games to figure in the schedule of the British Columbia Lacrosse Association during the coming season, there is a strong probability that the Victoria Lacrosse Club will not import certain players from the east this year, as was intended.

Michael Thomas, the Mic-Mac Indian runner from Prince Edward Island, who has arrived at Boston for the Marathon race on April 19th, is accompanied by Rev. Father McDonald, of Grand River, P.E.I. Father McDonald has a great opinion of Thomas and thinks he will run away from the field.

Tax Reform. Hamilton Spectator. Once again Premier Whitney has killed the move, urged by municipalities, in all parts of the province, to have the assessment act changed so that it will be permissive to tax improvements at a lower rate than land.

Sir James seems to think there is a deep-laid scheme back of this movement to introduce single tax. He is surely frightened at shadows. If this system of assessment has been found to work advantageously in other provinces, as is the case, why should it be denied to Ontario, single tax or no single tax? One is almost forced to believe that pure stubbornness, rather than principle, is moving the premier in this matter.

Convention at Nanapanee. The annual convention of the Kingston Presbyterial Union, will be held in the Presbyterian church, at Nanapanee, Good Friday, and a number of Kingston delegates will attend. There will be an afternoon and evening session. At the afternoon session, D. A. Shaw, of Kingston, will lead the discussion on the topic, "What a Young People's Society Should Stand For." Rev. J. B. Boyd will conduct the devotional service in the evening. Rev. Dr. MacTavish will speak on the missionary programme for the young people.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

William Faversham's Production of "The Faun."

Kingston theatregoers would turn out en masse to see William Faversham, no matter what his play might be, and so a large audience greeted him at the Grand, last night, on his yearly visit here. Mr. Faversham was seen in a new role, that of a faun, in the play of that name. It is an unusual role to produce upon the stage—a creature of nature, understanding none of the conventionalities of society, being brought suddenly into direct contact with them. The faun makes painfully clear the unrealities of society. Mr. Faversham has never had a stronger character to present, for he had to ascend from comedy to highly dramatic periods, and there is no actor of this generation who can outdo Faversham in a delivery of the latter kind. Julie Opp, his beautiful wife, was as delightful as ever, in her role. Assisting, was a company of artists. The play staging was most effective.

The Private Secretary. Unquestionably "The Private Secretary," whose international success has been so great that it has been received by Mr. Gillette in Boston and New York, may well be christened the "prince of consistent humor." No play ever graced the dramatic stage that introduced more happy and original characters than does Mr. Gillette's famous comedy. This funny domestic sketch, describing the amusing incidents and misunderstandings that beset a household, has so many realistic touches, so natural in many features, that are at once recognized and duly appreciated by the looker on, that an audience is kept convulsed in boisterous laughter from the rise to the drop of the curtain. Gillette has a phenomenal idea of the quaint and ridiculous characteristics of the human family, and he has woven such an interesting story in his "Private Secretary" that yearly it is a welcome visitor. "The Private Secretary" will be seen at the Grand on Saturday, April 8th, matinee and night.

"The Joy Rider." The immitable and unique George Sidney (Busy Izzy), that comical caricaturist and fun purveyor, with his big musical company, including the clever comedienne, Miss Carrie Melzer, will be at the Grand Opera House next Tuesday night, in the second edition of that hurricane of fun, "The Joy Rider" for the further plotting of this clever fun maker's peculiar and popular comedy eccentricities. Without considering the big clever company that surrounds him, George Sidney himself holds a magnetic relation to the public, unlike that of any other fun maker. He has a droll, laughter-compelling personality, a modest yet suggestive make-up, and a quality of pure, unaffected humor, that seems a law unto himself. The apparent personal enjoyment of the topsy-turvy situation of which he is usually the victim, in the character of the busy one, becomes merriment in itself. In the comedy, full recognition of this natural humor possessed by Mr. Sidney is given, and the entire production has been constructed so that others of the cast have every opportunity.

A girl never has to coax a young man after he is married.
