GRAND LIGNER, QUE., Jan. 2nd, 1910.
 "I have been suffering from constipation and the painful consequence, Piles. I am now over 80 years of age and suffered for more than 10 years with Constipation and Piles. I tried all kinds of remedies, but nothing cured me.
 About four years ago, I received a sample of "Fruit-a-lives". After taking a few doses, I felt that "Fruit-a-lives" were doing me good. As "Fruit-a-lives" were not sold here then, I wrote to Ottawa for several boxes.

After taking four boxes, I felt well—my bowels were regular—and the Piles had disappeared. N. JOUBERT.

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, falling memory and lame back, brought on by excess, unnatural diet, or the failure of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of this prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.
 This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the most-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.
 I think I owe it to my fellow-men to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself, with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3311 Lusk Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $2.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entire free.

Tips For Farmer

BY UNCLE JOSE.

Too many people fail to reduce their feeding operation, especially for horses, to a system, says the Toronto Globe. They often leave the feeding to inexperienced help and the result is that horses are overfed at the wrong time, or underfed when doing severe work, and either lose flesh or get sick. Too often men who ought to know better carry economy to excess so far as the feeding of grain is concerned. On the other hand any farm employees seem to think that a horse's stomach is a sort of storehouse in which the animal can bottle up a reserve of energy for use in time of need. In times of idleness the horse is fed far too liberally. Then when the horse is required to work extremely hard, the care and attention he requires are not much more than when he is doing little or nothing. A good man with his horse can harness work out a system that will economize food and energy by taking into account the amount of work his horses are doing and feed them so they may maintain the requisite standard of efficiency.

The application of sound common sense to horse feeding and care is just as necessary and just as important as to apply it to any other branch of the business of the farm. The feeding in spring should be just liberal enough to keep the horses in even flesh. They should have clean hay and good clean grain in variety. Whole oats, or oats and barley chop, corn and beans ground or a mixture of corn, oats, barley and peas, or any variety or combination of grain, may be supplied. It is well to remember that corn-fed horses have not the stamina of oat-fed horses. The working horses require protein or nitrogen to build the muscle. They cannot get this from corn. Indian corn helps out in making up a ration, and is very good for horses during the winter but when spring comes they must have protein in their food. They can get it from the oats, barley, beans, peas, wheat, and from good clean clover or alfalfa hay.

In the spring the working horse can be fed heavily every working day with concentrated feeds, but care must be taken that his grain feed is reduced when he rests a day. He needs grooming, thorough grooming and extra grooming in the early spring. Grooming means as much to a working horse as a bath does to a working man. Both are essential and neither should be omitted from the daily schedule. Two thorough groomings daily are not too much for a hard-working horse. When a man has a comfortable bed, plenty of good food properly proportioned and well prepared, good water to drink; when he takes a daily bath and wears well-fitting boots and comfortable clothing he is capable of doing anything. Just so it is with a horse. His bed should be comfortable and his stable well ventilated. He should have the right kind of fodder and grain and good water to drink, thorough grooming and well-fitting collar and harness and proper shoes, and he will not fail to do his whole duty. It pays to treat one's horses well at all times, but especially in the spring.

A Milk Diet for Hens.
 Frank P. Butts has been experimenting with a milk diet for his Buff Leghorn pullets and the results have been so satisfactory that he thinks all poultry raisers should profit by it. During two months forty-two pullets produced eggs that sold for $26 and no record was kept of what was used at home. The two-months' trial ended Jan. 29th. Mr. Butts feeds the hens liberally with skim milk in a variety of ways. Mixed with the feed as curds, and in the drinking trough. Much of the grain feed is used when the milk is given the hens.—Dryden Herald.

Hogs and Alfalfa.
 Alfalfa, according to one of the most intelligent farmers in Kansas, is the best money making crop. The seed is not raised much in the eastern part of the state, as it grows better where there is drier weather. Where rains are frequent the crop will keep growing and does not run to seed so well as in the western and drier parts. In the western part farmers often have a seed crop that brings from $25 to $75 an acre. In the northeastern part alfalfa is grown on the hills as well as in the valleys. Hogs can be raised on it in Kansas, getting half of their growth from the alfalfa, then fattening on a mixed diet of that product and corn, for 24c a pound, gross. This allows for a fair return for the alfalfa pasture and the hay. Cases of hog cholera are rare where the farms are free from mud holes. When his hogship is dry he will drink the scum from the mud holes. Hogs need fresh water to keep them from burning up with a steady corn fed diet. They should have grass during the grass season.

From Many Farms.
 During the month of February, 199 homestead claims were taken out at Moose Jaw.

James McAvoy, a resident of Niagara Falls, was, last week, sentenced to two years penal servitude, for stealing oats.

A. E. Joeger, Virden, Man., sold a thoroughbred stallion, half brother of the $40,000 stallion, Halifax, to Edward Wark, of Minnedosa, Man.

Washington statistics state that the exports of eggs from Canada into the United States are about 35,000 dozen, per year, as compared with 750,000 dozen sent from the United States to Canada.

 The record for high rents paid for agricultural lands in Ontario was recently broken when thirty acres of land belonging to D. Samson, and situated within a mile of the town of Blenheim, was leased at $30 per acre. The land is to be sown with tobacco.
 A garter snake, one half inch in diameter, and about eighteen inches long, was reported to have been found imbedded in a Ben Davis apple. The apple, with snake in it, was found in a barrel of that fruit, which was being re-packed in a fruit house at Colborne.

The Jewish Agricultural and Industrial Aid Society enrolls a membership of 3,339 Jews who are farmers, in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, and North Dakota, and the claim is made that this is only a fractional part of the number of Jews now engaged in farming in America.

Increasing stringency in regard to enforcement of food laws in the old country is being complained of by meat shippers and representatives of foreign interests there. One of the regulations complained of is that regarding the use of borated preservatives. In regard to Canadian bacon, it is intimated that so long as the boric acid used is no greater than three grains to the pound, no prohibitory action will be taken.

Numerous experiments at the Ontario experimental farm have shown that better yields of grain are obtained where barley and oats are sown together than where either is sown alone. This combination is a very popular one in Ontario, and its use is increasing.

The Buckley Guarantees ensures Satisfaction—or a new hat free.

A hat needs a guarantee. More easily than any other article of apparel, a hat can deceive its purchaser—look right without being right. Clothes, or shoes, or ties, you can "size up"—a hat, you can not. For instance, almost everyone knows enough about tweeds to tell whether a suit will wear well. With hats it is different. Who can "size up" a hat? Who can tell whether it will wear three months, or "look seedy" after one month? Few can tell a hat's real worth without knowing what goes into its making. None can tell exactly but the manufacturer. He knows better than anyone how long his product will wear—and, if he believes in his hats he ought to be willing to guarantee them.

Buckley Hats are guaranteed. The men that make them believe they'll wear longer than any other hat that's made—and in proof of that belief the makers attach their guarantee for four months. If you buy a Buckley hat to-day, and, any time within the next four months, you find your hat losing color or showing signs of wear, take it to your dealer and he will cheerfully, unhesitatingly exchange it. The Buckley guarantee, moreover, assures you against hat accidents—it's as sweeping as to include even that contingency.

Union made, and of highest grade felt, it is produced in a wide variety of styles to suit all physical types and to conform to latest fashion tendencies. The price is only $2.50.

GUARANTEE
 The Color and Shape of these buckley hats is guaranteed, and are for which will not wear when they should otherwise wear. If you do not agree to exchange the hat, it must be changed by accident during the use of the hat.
