

THE PRETTY WOMEN

WHO WILL CARRY THE QUEEN'S TRAIN

At the Coronation in June—A Description of the Beautiful Titled Ladies.

The young women who are to carry Queen Mary's train at the coronation are of the United Kingdom, and several of them are of families connected with the court.

Lady Dorothy Browne is the elder of the two very pretty daughters of the Earl and Countess of Kenmare. Again the title and family are Irish.

These are the six daughters of earls already chosen; the number may, of course, be made up to eight. At the last coronation, Queen Alexandra's train was borne by eight royal pages.

Clever—In Her Way. At a recent meeting held in the interest of woman's suffrage a woman who seemed to be deeply interested was pointed out as a visitor as a fine type of the class which "needs no assistance at the hands of men to get along."

Rheumatic Sympathy. Teacher—Willie, did you find your father easy for what you did in school yesterday? Pupil—No, ma'am; he said the licking would hurt him more than it would me.

Preposterous. "It is my policy," said the impulsive young candidate, "to send every law breaker and every law-evader to jail."

It is well to remember that so far as the Lord is concerned we are all on probation.

Nature's Cure for a Cough

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine is the Most Largely Imitated Medicine in the Country.

What to give the children for cough, and cold is the problem mothers now have to solve. Most of them finally decide on Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine, and make it a rule to always have some in the house.

In this medicine are limes, turpentine, and other well-known ingredients of unmistakable value in the cure of colds. It is pleasant to take, so much so that children delight to use it.

So generally is this great medicine used that several imitations have been put on the market. All alike in name only. They are not made from the same formula, nor do they bear the name of Dr. Chase.

You know what you can expect from the use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Turpentine, but you cannot put much faith in an imitation which sells on the reputation of the article it imitates.

On every bottle of the genuine will be found the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author. This is for your protection and for the protection of your children. Be sure to get the genuine, even if it costs a few cents more.

INSURING CORONATION

Lloyd's Betting Five to One That Ceremony Will Not be Postponed

A postponement of the Coronation would mean a heavy loss to many manufacturers and shopkeepers. Innumerable warehouses, particularly city warehouses, filled up with goods practically valueless if the Coronation did not take place on the appointed date.

Most people know that King Edward was heavily insured by tradespeople and commercial men. Even before the public learned how grave his last illness was the insurance premium had jumped to 30 per cent. When he died, over a million changed hands.

But neither King Edward nor King George, nor the young Prince of Wales has ever had so much money hanging on his life as had Queen Victoria. This sort of insurance was unheard of till her accession, but she looked so delicate that it soon became popular.

In each case an underwriter and his clerks. An insurance broker's clerk walks round the room. His firm may have had a commission to insure against the postponement of the Coronation for, say $25,000 at 20 per cent. He stops at one table and shows the "slip." The underwriter there jots his name down for $5,000 of the total.

Though underwriters have not the guarantee of the whole house behind them, as have members of the Stock Exchange, a bill in Parliament gives it to them. But even without that an underwriter can be counted on for before he is accepted as a member of "The Room," he has not only to undergo a searching examination into his career, but to make a deposit, the minimum being $25,000. So the Coronation money is pretty safe.

ROYAL VISIT TO WALES

The King Will Attend the Investiture of the Prince.

At a meeting of the representatives of the Bangor University College and the Bangor City Council, held at Bangor recently, Lord Kenyon, President of the College, announced that the dates of the Royal visit to North Wales had at last been definitely decided upon as follows:—On the 13th July His Majesty will leave Dublin in the Royal yacht "Hollyhead," whence the King and the Royal party will proceed by Royal train to Carnarvon for the investiture of the Prince of Wales, returning to the "Hollyhead" afterwards again for the ceremony. On the 14th the King will again leave Holyhead by train for Bangor, where in the afternoon he will formally open the new University College buildings, afterwards again returning to Holyhead. On the 15th His Majesty will proceed to Aberystwyth to lay the foundation of a new building there.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA AND THE FUTURE KING GEORGE

Souvenirs Are Being Sold in London From Continental Countries.

How shall we know during the coming Coronation festivities that the Coronation medals we shall wear are not of the "made in Germany" variety? At the last Coronation these foreign souvenirs flooded the country, and, according to several English manufacturers, they are already being shipped into this country in large consignments again.

TO REPRESENT CANADA.

Members of House of Commons and Senate to be Imperial Guests.

The following members of the Canadian Parliament will represent the House of Commons at the Coronation:—Liberals—Ralph Smith, British Columbia; Geo. E. McCready, Saskatchewan; Dr. Clark, Alberta; Hugh Guthrie, Ontario; Dr. Beland, Quebec; F. B. Carroll, New Brunswick; J. H. Sinclair, Nova Scotia; A. B. Warburton, Prince Edward Island; Senator Findlay Young, Manitoba.

The following members will represent the Senate:—Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Senator Lougheed, Senator Watson, Senator Casgrain.

First Coronation Order.

It is historically interesting to note that the first Coronation Order was printed from an ancient manuscript, but it is also found in a manuscript said to be the Pontifical of Egbert, Archbishop of York from 732 to 766. A striking conservatism has characterized the Coronation services of all British Sovereigns. In spite of civil wars and the religious confusion of the sixteenth century, the service embodied in the Liber Regalis remained the same from 1307 till 1688, when it was altered to suit the religious views of James II. At the Coronation of William and Mary considerable changes were made so as to render it impossible for any Roman Catholic to be crowned King of England.

His Majesty's Theatre.

The gala performance at His Majesty's Theatre, during Coronation week, promises to be a brilliant affair. The programme is being arranged by Sir Herbert Tree and Mr. Arthur Bourchier, and will include a series of pieces in which Sir Charles Wyndham, Miss Ellen Terry, Sir John Hare, and all the leading actors and actresses of the day will appear.

Boy Scouts May Attend.

Arrangements are being made by the Dominion Council of the Boy Scouts towards sending a contingent of Canadian Boy Scouts, representing each Province, to England in June, either to attend the Coronation (if provision can be made for them) or to participate in a rally to be held at Windsor Park early in July.

It is just possible that random talk may do quite a bit of damage. "Did you ever stop and think how little it costs to say 'good morning' heartily?"

Did you ever know of a hat guarantee so strong as this? The Buckley creates styles where lesser makers are content to follow the beaten path. Another feature of the Buckley is that it is strictly a Union-made hat. Note the "accident clause" in the guarantee. Many have wondered at its insertion, claiming that it makes it too easy for a man to get a new hat. That feature of the guarantee was prompted by a strong belief in the inherent honesty of mankind and a desire to remove all possibility of quibbling or questioning on the part of the merchant. Backed with that clause, your hatter is in a position to hand you out a new hat without hesitation and without suspicion. Any good hat store can get you the Buckley—the price is no greater than for an ordinary hat. They sell for $2.50. Think of it—A new hat any time within four months, to any man who can show a Buckley hat that has succumbed to wear and tear, or to accident, within that length of time after date of purchase. The man who wears Buckley hats is sure of a reasonable hat-cost—because the makers of the Buckley guarantee that each Buckley hat shall be good for at least four months' wear. The man who is Buckley-hatted knows that he is "hat-right" not only as to quality, but also as to style—the style supremacy of the Buckley has long been recognized. English as to quality, it conforms to American style tendencies. BUCKLEY HATS

MUSIC FOR CORONATION

How Choir will be Made up—Anthems for Occasion.

Gratifying progress is reported in the preparation of the musical ritual of the Coronation service. The programme will follow closely that at the Coronation of Edward VII., with a few notable additions. There will be a larger choir and also a larger band than at the Coronation of the late King. The singers will number almost five hundred, and the instrumentalists probably one hundred.

The nucleus of the choir will naturally be the Westminster Abbey singers, who will be reinforced by the choirs of St. Paul's Cathedral, the Chapel Royal, St. George's Chapel at Windsor, and drafts from the choirs of Rochester Cathedral, and other sources in the Provinces. The orchestra in which the trumpets will have a conspicuous part, will be made up of musicians from the King's Private Band, the orchestra of the Royal Choral Society, and the Kneller Hall School of Military Music.

Keep family troubles if possible in cold storage on the premises. Sooner or later there will be a divorce of love from the bread and water diet.
